SUSPENSION ORDER, ORDER FOR HEARING (UNDER RULE 340 (A)) AND ORDER DESIGNATING TRIAL EXAMINER

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and therefore alleging, that the offering sheet described in the title hereof and filed by the respondent named therein is incomplete or inaccurate in the following material respects, to wit:

In that in the estimate given in Division III of the offering sheet the engineer seeks to attach value to the tract in question by estimating a certain number of barrels of oil recoverable from the tract; that the estimate made is considered incomplete for the reason that the basis of such estimate is not deemed sufficient to warrant the conclusion expressed and might, therefore, prove to be misleading because

(a) the method used in determining the recoverable oil from the Viola Lime is not only a method difficult of application to a lime formation but is also a method applied, in this particular case, by using factors based upon belief, assumption and indication; and

(b) the estimation of recoverable oil from the Simpson Dolomite and Wilcox is based upon expectation and assumption. Expectation and assumption are not subject to expression in terms of barrels of oil;

It is ordered, pursuant to Rule 340 (a) of the Commission's General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that the effectiveness of the filing of said offering sheet be, and hereby is, suspended until the 30th day of May, 1937, that an opportunity for hearing be given to the said respondent for the purpose of determining the material completeness or accuracy of the said offering sheet in the respects in which it is herein alleged to be incomplete or inaccurate, and whether the said order of suspension shall be revoked or continued; and

THE WHITE HOUSE,
Washington, May 1, 1937.

The Honorable HENRY MORGENTHAU, Jr.,
Secretary of the Treasury.

MY DEAR MR. SECRETARY: The Act to amend the Tariff Act of 1930, approved June 12, 1934 (48 Stat. 943), as extended by the Joint Resolution approved March 1, 1937 (Public Resolution No. 10, 75th Congress), provides in part that the duties proclaimed under its authority shall be applied to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of all foreign countries, whether imported directly or indirectly. The Act further provides that the President may suspend the application of the proclaimed duties to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of any country because of its discriminatory treatment of American commerce or because of other acts or policies which in his opinion tend to defeat the purposes set forth in the Act. Pursuant to these provisions of the Act, I hereby direct that the duties proclaimed on this date in connection with the trade agreement signed on February 19, 1937, with El Salvador, and all other duties heretofore proclaimed in connection with trade agreements signed under the authority of the Act (with the exception of the duties proclaimed in connection with the trade agreement signed on August 24, 1934, with Cuba) shall be applied from the effective date of such duties, or, as the case may be, shall continue to be applied on and from the date of this letter, only to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of the countries hereinafter designated and to such articles, in the case of each country, respectively, for the period indicated in the numbered section below in which such country is designated.

1. Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, payments will be made in connection with the effectuation of the purposes of section 7 (a) of said act for 1937, in accordance with the provisions of this Insular Region Bulletin 101 for Alaska and such modifications or other provisions as may hereafter be made.

The 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program has been developed in accordance with the provisions of sections 8, 15, and 16 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, but the payment of any benefits pursuant to the provisions of this announcement is contingent upon such appropriation, if any, as the Congress of the United States may hereafter make for such purpose, and the amounts of such payments will be finally determined by such appropriation and the extent of participation in the program. The rates of payment and the soil-building allowance set forth herein are computed upon the basis of an appropriation of $500,000,000 for the 1937 program for the Nation and 85 percent participation by farmers. Payments will be made to: (1) a sole operator; or (2) each operator of a group of two or more operators: Provided, That all operators of a farm signify in the application a percentum of the total payment under the application to be made to each operator; or (3) one operator of a group of two or more operators: Provided, That all operators of the farm designate such operator in the application as sole recipient, for their benefit, of the payment under the application, or (4) a person who is not an operator: Provided, That such person controls the land included within the farm with respect to which the application is made and is designated by the sole operator (or by all the operators) of the farm, as sole recipient for his (their) benefit, of the payment under the application.

In the event of the death, disappearance, or incompetency of an applicant for payment, any payment which has not been received by such applicant prior to his death, disappearance, or incompetency and which would otherwise be made to such applicant, shall be made to the person who, under rules prescribed by the Secretary, is determined to be eligible to receive such payment.

SECTION 2. Land to Be Designated in the Application.—There shall be designated in the application all land included within a farm and any other land which serves as a watershed for the supply of water for such farm and on which Practice No. 1 (a) is performed by the operator(s) of such farm.

SUSPENSION ORDER, ORDER FOR HEARING (UNDER RULE 340 (A)) AND ORDER DESIGNATING TRIAL EXAMINER

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and therefore alleging, that the offering sheet described in the title hereof and filed by the respondent named therein is incomplete or inaccurate in the following material respects, to wit:

(1) In that the date upon which the information contained in the offering sheet will be out of date, as set forth in Division I, paragraph 8, may not be correct;

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and therefore alleging, that the offering sheet described in the title hereof and filed by the respondent named therein is incomplete or inaccurate in the following material respects, to wit:

(1) In that the information given in Division II, Item 1, relative to the number of barrels of oil which must be produced before the smallest fractional interest proposed to be offered will be entitled to receive one barrel, does not appear to be set forth in the offering sheet in such a manner as to make the information therein given not misleading;

Attention is invited to the provisions of Public Resolution No. 16 of the Seventy-fifth Congress, approved March 27, 1937, which read as follows:

That all articles which shall be imported from foreign countries for the purpose of exhibition at the international exposition to be held at Dallas, Texas, beginning in June 1937, by the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition, a corporation, or for use in constructing, installing, or maintaining foreign buildings or exhibits at the said exhibition, upon which articles there shall be a tariff or customs duty, shall be admitted without payment of such tariff, customs duty, fees, or charges under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe; but it shall be lawful at any time during or within three months after the close of the said exposition to sell within the area of the exposition any articles provided for herein, subject to such regulations for the security of the revenue and for the collection of import duties as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe: Provided, That all such articles, when withdrawn for consumption or use in the United States, shall be subject to the duties, if any, imposed upon such articles by the revenue laws in force at the date of their withdrawal; and on such articles which shall have suffered diminution or deterioration from incidental handling or exposure, the duties, if payable, shall be assessed according to the appraised value at the time of withdrawal from entry hereunder for consumption or entry under the general tariff law: Provided further, That imported articles provided for herein shall not be subject to any marking requirements of the general tariff laws, except when such articles are withdrawn for consumption or use in the United States in which case they shall not be released from customs custody until properly marked, but no additional duty shall be assessed because such articles were not sufficiently marked when imported into the United States: Provided further, That at any time during or within three months after the close of the exposition, any article entered hereunder may be abandoned to the Government or destroyed under customs supervision, whereupon any duties on such article shall be remitted: Provided further, That articles which have been admitted without payment of duty for exhibition under any tariff law and which have remained in continuous customs custody or under a customs exhibition bond and imported articles in bonded warehouses under the general tariff law may be accorded the privilege of transfer to and entry for exhibition at the said exposition under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe: And provided further, That the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition shall be deemed, for customs purposes only, to be the sole consignee of all merchandise imported under the provisions of this Act, and that the actual and necessary customs charges for labor, services, and other expenses in connection with the entry, examination, appraisement, release, or custody, together with the necessary charges for salaries of customs officers and employees in connection with the supervision, custody of, and accounting for, articles imported under the provisions of this Act, shall be reimbursed by the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition to the Government of the United States under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, and that receipts from such reimbursements shall be deposited as refunds to the appropriation from which paid, in the manner provided for in section 524, Tariff Act of 1930.

(1) All packages containing imported merchandise to be entered under the provisions of the joint resolution shall be plainly marked "Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition" and with the name of the country of origin and shall bear separate serial numbers.

(2) All importations of articles of a class requiring a consular invoice, intended for exhibition under the provisions of the joint resolution and valued at more than $100, must be covered by consular invoices certified as provided in article 271 of the Customs Regulations of 1931. Such invoices shall contain the information prescribed under section 481 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., title 19, sec. 1481) and shall show that the articles covered thereby are destined to the port of Dallas and are intended for exhibition or use at the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition, Dallas, Texas.

(3) The Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition shall give to the deputy collector of customs at Dallas, Texas, such security for compliance with the joint resolution and these regulations as may be approved by the Commissioner of Customs.

(4) The collector of customs at Galveston shall detail an officer to act as his representative at the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition and shall station inside the exhibition buildings as many additional customs officers and employees as may be necessary to properly protect the revenue.

(5) All actual and necessary customs charges for labor, services, and other expenses in connection with the entry, examination, appraisement, release, or custody of imported articles, together with the necessary charges for salaries of customs officers and employees in connection with the supervision and custody of, and accounting for, articles imported for exhibition at the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition or transferred thereto for exhibition, shall be reimbursed by the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition to the Government, payment to be made monthly to the deputy collector of customs, Dallas, Texas, for deposit to the credit of the Treasurer of the United States as a refund to the appropriation "Collecting the revenue from customs."

(6) Articles to be entered under these regulations which arrive at ports other than Dallas shall be entered for immediate transportation without appraisement to the latter port in the manner provided by the general customs regulations.

(7) Articles which have been admitted without payment of duty for exhibition under any tariff law and which have remained in continuous customs custody or under a customs exhibition bond may be transferred to entry for exhibition at the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition in the manner prescribed in article 446 (c) of the Customs Regulations of 1931, except that in each case an entry under paragraph (8) of these regulations shall be filed, which shall supersede any previous entry, and no new bond other than that specified in paragraph (3) shall be required. Imported articles in bonded warehouses under the general tariff law may be transferred to entry for exhibition at the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition in the manner prescribed in article 318 of the Customs Regulations of 1931, as amended by (1934) T. D. 47021 and (1936) T. D. 48505.

(8) Upon the arrival at the port of Dallas of articles to be entered under these regulations the same should be entered on a special form of entry to read substantially as follows:

(9) Upon such entry being made, the deputy collector shall issue a special permit for the transfer of the articles covered thereby to the buildings in which they are to be exhibited or used, or, in the discretion of the deputy collector, to the appraiser's stores for examination and subsequent transfer to the buildings in which they are to be exhibited or used. Upon the receipt of the articles at such buildings or at the appraiser's stores, the same shall be given a tentative appraisal prior to their exhibition or use. All imported exhibits so received in such buildings shall be kept segregated from domestic articles and imported duty-paid articles and shall not be removed from the exhibition building except in accordance with paragraph (11) of these regulations.

(10) If for any reason articles imported for entry under these regulations are not upon their arrival to be delivered immediately at an exhibition building, the importer should so indicate to the deputy collector in writing, who will cause such articles to be placed in a bonded warehouse under a "general order permit" at the importer's risk and expense, and such articles may be entered at any time within one year from the date of importation for exhibition, as herein provided, or under the general tariff law, or for exportation. If not so entered within such period they will be regarded as abandoned to the Government.

(11) Any articles entered under these regulations may be withdrawn for exportation, for abandonment to the Government, destruction under customs supervision, or for consumption or entry under the general tariff law, but not otherwise, at any time during or within three months after the close of the exposition. Upon the withdrawal of such articles for consumption or for entry under the general tariff law, or at the expiration of three months after the close of the exposition in the case of articles not previously so withdrawn, they shall be appraised with due allowance made for diminution or deterioration from incidental handling or exposure. Such appraisal shall be final in the absence of an appeal to reappraisement, as provided in section 501 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., title 19, sec. 1501). In the case of such articles withdrawn for entry under the general tariff law under a warehouse bond or a bond conditioned upon exportation, the statutory period of the bond and any extension thereof shall be computed from the date of withdrawal.

(12) At any time during or within three months after the close of the exposition, any article entered hereunder may be abandoned to the Government or destroyed under customs supervision, as provided in article 810 of the Customs Regulations of 1931, as amended by (1936) T. D. 48099.

(13) Any articles entered under these regulations which have not been withdrawn for consumption, entry under the general tariff law, or exportation, or which have not been abandoned to the Government or destroyed under customs supervision, before the expiration of three months after the close of the exposition, shall be regarded as abandoned to the Government.

(14) All entries under these regulations shall be made in the name of the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition, which shall be deemed for customs purposes the sole consignee of the merchandise entered under the act and which shall be held responsible to the Government for all duties and/or charges due the United States on account of such entries; but, in the case of merchandise withdrawn from entry under these regulations, an entry under the general tariff law, in the name of any person duly authorized in writing by the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition to make such entry, may be accepted by the deputy collector, and the bond of the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition shall thereafter be considered as collateral security for any duties and/or charges accruing on the merchandise covered by any such entry, unless the entry is for permanent exhibition, in which case the liability of the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition under its bond with respect to the articles covered by such entry, shall be terminated when the security required by the general tariff law has been given.

(15) The marking requirements of the Tariff Act of 1930 and the regulations promulgated thereunder will not apply to articles imported under these regulations except when such articles are withdrawn for consumption or use in the United States, in which case they shall be released from customs custody only upon a full compliance with the marking requirements of the tariff act and the regulations promulgated thereunder. No additional duty shall be assessed because such articles were not properly marked when imported into the United States.

[Department Circular No. 530, Revised; First Amendment]

AMENDMENT OF REGULATIONS GOVERNING UNITED STATES SAVINGS BONDS

APRIL 23, 1937.

To Owners of United States Savings Bonds, and Others Concerned:

1. Section VI of Department Circular No. 530, Revised, Dated December 16, 1936, is hereby amended to read as follows:

VI. GENERAL PAYMENT PROVISIONS

1. Savings bonds will be payable at or after maturity at their full value, or, at the option of the owner, will be redeemed prior to maturity (but not within 60 days after the issue date) at the appropriate redemption value as shown on the face of each bond. In order to secure payment the owner should present and surrender the bond as hereinafter provided (see paragraphs 6, 7 and 8 of this section), with the request for payment appearing on the back of the bond properly executed in accordance with the succeeding paragraphs.

2. The request for payment must be signed in ink or indelible pencil by the person in whose name the savings bond is inscribed or by the person entitled to receive payment under the provisions hereof. No request signed in behalf of the owner by an agent or a person acting under a power of attorney will be recognized by the Treasury Department. If the name of the owner or person entitled to receive payment, as it appears in the inscription, has been changed by marriage, or in any other legal manner, the signature to the request for payment should show both names and in the manner in which the change was made, as, for example, "Miss Mary T. Jones, now by marriage Mrs. Mary T. Smith". In the case of a change of name through divorce or by order of court, the request must be supported by a certified copy of the divorce decree or order of court.

3. The request for payment must be signed in the presence of, and be certified by, one of the following officers:

(a) Any United States postmaster, acting postmaster, or inspector in charge of a post office, or—

(1) At any post office of the first class (main office), the assistant postmaster, the postal cashier, superintendent of money orders, money order cashier, assistant cashier, bookkeeper, or foreman;

(2) At any post office of the second or third class the assistant postmaster or, if there is none, the clerk temporarily in charge of the office;

(3) At any classified branch or station the superintendent, assistant superintendent, assistant cashier, bookkeeper, foreman, clerk in charge, or employee temporarily in charge.

If any of the above designated post office officials other than a postmaster, acting postmaster, or inspector in charge of an office certifies to a request for payment, he should certify in the name of the postmaster, acting postmaster, or inspector in charge, followed by his own signature and official title, as, for example, "John Doe, postmaster, by Richard Roe, postal cashier". In the case of a clerk in charge of an office, branch, or station, the official title should be followed by the name of such office, branch, or station, as, for example, "John Doe, postmaster, by Richard Roe, clerk in charge, Main Street Station". The certification of any post office official must be authenticated by a legible imprint of a dating stamp of his post office.

(b) Any executive officer of an incorporated bank or trust company, whose signature must be authenticated by a legible impression of the corporate seal of the bank or trust company.

(c) Any officer authorized generally to witness assignments of United States registered bonds (see paragraphs 33-35, Department Circular No. 300, as amended).

4. No person authorized to certify requests for payment may certify a request for payment of a bond of which he is the owner, or in which he has an interest, either in his own right or in any representative capacity.

5. Certifying officers should require positive identification of the person executing the request for payment as the person whose name appears on the face of the bond, or the person entitled to request payment under the provisions of these regulations, and will be held fully responsible therefor.

6. If a savings bond is registered in the name of a natural person in his own right (see Section I, paragraph 2 (a)), or in the name of an incorporated or unincorporated body in its own right (see Section I, paragraph 2 (c)), and payment is to be made to the registered owner, the bond, after the request for payment has been duly executed as above provided, should be presented and surrendered to a Federal Reserve bank, or to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C.

7. If a savings bond is registered in the name of a fiduciary (see Section I, paragraph 2 (b)), or if payment is to be made to any person other than the registered owner, the bond, after the request for payment has been duly executed as above provided, should be presented and surrendered to the Treasury Department, Division of Loans and Currency, Washington, D. C., either direct or through any Federal Reserve bank.

8. In all cases presentation will be at the expense and risk of the owner, and, for his protection, the bonds should be forwarded by registered mail if not presented in person. Payment will be made by issuance of a check drawn to the order of the owner or other person entitled to payment and mailed to him at the address given in his request for payment.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to withdraw or amend this amendment at any time.

1937 Acreage of Soil-Conserving Crops

Section 5 of Part I of East Central Region Bulletin No. 101—Virginia, is hereby amended by the addition of the following, at the end of the first paragraph thereof:

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section 5, in the event (1) that all of the cropland on the farm is used in 1937 for the production of soil-conserving or soil-depleting crops; (2) that the 1937 acreage of soil-conserving crops on the farm is less than the minimum acreage of soil-conserving crops for the farm; and (3) that the County Committee finds it is not practicable, because of the effects of flood, drouth, or other unfavorable weather conditions, for the 1937 acreage of soil-conserving crops to equal the minimum acreage of soil-conserving crops for the farm; no deduction will be made for such part of the deficiency as the County Committee finds is due to an increase in the acreage of soil-depleting crops grown to replace a shortage of feed crops on the farm caused by flood, drouth or other unfavorable weather conditions in 1936 or 1937.

In testimony whereof, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, has hereunto set his hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed in the City of Washington, District of Columbia, this 7th day of May, 1937.

In view of the purposes and special status of "The American National Red Cross" as set forth in the Act of Congress approved January 5, 1905, entitled "An Act to incorporate the American National Red Cross" (33 Stat. 599), and particularly in view of the fact that it is required by law to submit to the Secretary of War for audit "a full, complete, and itemized report of receipts and expenditures of whatever kind", so that the submission to the Secretary of State of reports of funds received and expended would constitute an unnecessary duplication, "The American National Red Cross" is not required to conform to the provisions of the regulations issued May 5, 1937, with respect to soliciting and receiving contributions for use in Spain.

BEPQ—Q. 48 Revision of Regulations 5 and 10

MODIFICATION OF JAPANESE BEETLE QUARANTINE REGULATIONS

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

An important change in the following amendment to the Japanese beetle quarantine regulations is the inclusion of additional territory in the regulated area (Regulation 5, Section A (1) (ii)) from which the movement by refrigerator car or motor truck of fruits and vegetables of any kind is restricted.

The amendment to regulation 5 also provides that the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine may by administrative instructions extend or reduce the areas specified therein when in his judgment such action is considered advisable.

An amendment to regulation 10, paragraph (e), specifies the conditions under which permits or certificates may be issued to authorize the movement of fruits and vegetables by truck or other road vehicle from a regulated area through a nonregulated area to another regulated area.

LEE A. STRONG,
Chief, Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine.

Amendment No. 1 to the Rules and Regulations (Fifteenth Revision) Supplemental to Notice of Quarantine No. 48

[Approved May 10, 1937; effective May 10, 1937]

Under authority conferred by the Plant Quarantine Act of August 20, 1912 (37 Stat. 315), as amended by the act of Congress approved March 4, 1917 (39 Stat. 1134, 1165), it is ordered that regulations 5 and 10 of the rules and regulations (fifteenth revision) supplemental to Notice of Quarantine No. 48, on account of the Japanese beetle, which were promulgated March 1, 1937, be and the same are hereby amended to read as follows:

REGULATION 5.—RESTRICTIONS ON THE MOVEMENT OF FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Delaware.—The entire State.

District of Columbia.—The entire District.

Maryland.—Counties of Cecil, Kent, Queen Annes, Somerset, and Worcester; the city of Baltimore; all of Caroline County except election districts of Hillsboro (No. 6), American Corners (No. 8) and Preston (No. 4); election district of Cambridge (No. 7), in Dorchester County; and election districts of Pittsburg (No. 4), Parsons (No. 5), Dennis (No. 6), Trappe (No. 7), Nutters (No. 8), Salisbury (No. 9), Delmar (No. 11), Camden (No. 13), Willards (No. 14), and Fruitland (No. 16), in Wicomico County.

New Jersey.—Counties of Atlantic, Burlington, Camden, Cape May, Cumberland, Gloucester, Hunterdon, Mercer, Middlesex, Monmouth, Ocean, Salem, Somerset, and Union.

Provided, That the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine may by administrative instructions extend or reduce the areas specified in this regulation when in his judgment such action is considered advisable.

(a) No restrictions are placed on the interstate movement of fruits and vegetables between October 16 and June 14, inclusive.

(b) No certificate will be required for the interstate movement of fruits and vegetables on a through bill of lading either from an area not under regulation through a regulated area to another nonregulated area, or from a regulated area through a nonregulated area to another regulated area, except that a certificate is required for interstate movement to Brewer and Waterville, Maine; Buffalo, N. Y., or to the other regulated parts of Erie County, N. Y.; Cleveland, Columbus, and Toledo, Ohio; Burlington, Vt.; and Parkersburg, W. Va. No restrictions are placed on the interstate movement of fruits and vegetables from Brewer and Waterville, Maine; Buffalo, N. Y.; or from other parts of Erie County, N. Y.; Cleveland, Columbus, and Toledo, Ohio; Burlington, Vt.; and Parkersburg, W. Va.

(c) No restrictions are placed on the interstate movement of fruits or vegetables when they shall have been manufactured or processed in such a manner that in the judgment of the inspector no infestation could be transmitted.

(d) No restrictions are placed on the interstate movement of any shipments of apples or peaches of less than 15 pounds to the shipment, or of bananas other than in entire bunches or in clusters of 25 or more.

(e) No restrictions are placed on the interstate movement of commercially packed apples in any quantity, except those moving via refrigerator cars or motor vehicles from the State, District, counties, election districts, or city listed in paragraph (1) (ii) of this section.

(2) No restrictions are placed on the interstate shipment from the regulated areas of fruits and vegetables other than those mentioned above, except that any such interstate shipments of fruits and vegetables may be inspected by inspectors at any time or place inside or outside the regulated areas and when actually found to involve danger of dissemination of Japanese beetle to uninfested localities, measures to eliminate infestation may be required as a condition of further transportation or delivery.

Section B. Conditions of certification

Certificates may be issued for the interstate movement of fruits and vegetables to points outside the regulated areas between June 15 and October 15, inclusive, under one of the following conditions:

(1) When the fruits and vegetables, moving from a point in the regulated area other than the State, District, counties, election districts, or city listed in paragraph 1, (ii), of this regulation, or moving from such designated State, District, counties, election districts, or city other than by refrigerator car, have actually been inspected by the United States Department of Agriculture and found free from infestation. The number of inspection points for such certification will be limited and their location determined by shipping needs and further conditioned on the establishment at such points of provisions satisfactory to the inspector for the handling and safeguarding of such shipments during inspection. Such inspection may be discontinued and certification withheld by the inspector during periods of general or unusual flight of the beetles.

(2) When the fruits and vegetables have been handled or treated under the supervision of an inspector in manner and by method to free them from any infestation.

(3) When the fruits and vegetables have originated outside of the regulated areas and are to be reshipped directly from freight yards, transfer points, or unloading docks within such areas, under provisions satisfactory to the inspector for the safeguarding of such shipments pending certification and reshipment. Certificates on this basis will be issued without inspection only in cases where, in the judgment of the inspector, the shipments concerned have not been exposed to infestation while within such freight yards, transfer points, or unloading docks.

(4) When the fruits and vegetables were grown in districts where the fact has been established to the satisfaction of the inspector that no infestation exists and are to be shipped directly from the farms where grown to points outside the regulated areas, or are shipped from infested districts where the fact has been established to the satisfaction of the inspector that the Japanese beetle has not begun or has ceased its flight.

(5) When the fruits and vegetables, other than onions and potatoes, moving via refrigerator car from the State, District, counties, election districts, or city listed in paragraph 1, (ii), of this regulation, have been inspected and loaded in a manner to prevent infestation, in a refrigerator car with closed or adequately screened doors and hatches, which car prior to loading has been determined by an inspector as thoroughly swept and cleaned by the common carrier in a manner to rid it of infestation. During the interval between cleaning and loading such refrigerator car must be tightly closed and sealed.

(6) When the onions or potatoes moving via refrigerator car from the State, District, counties, election districts, or city listed in this regulation have been fumigated in the car, when deemed necessary in the judgment of the inspector, and when the doors and hatches of the car have been tightly closed or adequately screened under the supervision of an inspector.

REGULATION 10. GENERAL CONDITIONS GOVERNING INSPECTION AND ISSUANCE OF CERTIFICATES AND PERMITS

(a) Persons intending to move or allow to be moved interstate any of the articles the movement of which is restricted in regulations 5, 6, and 7, shall make application for inspection and certification as far as possible in advance of the probable date of shipment, specifying in the application the article and quality to be shipped, method of shipment, name and address of the consignor, and name and address of the consignee.

(b) Applicants for inspection will be required to assemble the articles at such points as the inspector shall designate and so to place them that inspection may readily be made; if not so placed, inspection may be refused. All charges for storage, cartage, and labor incident to inspection, other than the services of the inspector, shall be paid by the shipper.

(c) Certificates and permits shall be used in connection with the transportation of only those articles intended to be covered thereby.

(d) Where the apparent absolute freedom from infestation of any of the articles enumerated cannot be determined by the inspector, certification will be refused.

(e) Permits may be issued for the interstate movement of restricted articles by truck or other road vehicle from a regulated area through a nonregulated area to another regulated area, except that permits issued for the movement of fruits and vegetables from the State, District, counties, election districts, or city listed in Regulation 5, Section A (1) (ii) shall be limited to green corn on the cob, beans in the pod, bananas in entire bunches or in clusters of 25 or more, apples, peaches, blackberries, blueberries, huckleberries, or raspberries. Fruits and vegetables other than the above named commodities may move from the State, District, counties, election districts, or city listed in Regulation 5, Section A, (1) (ii), only under certification.

FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK BOARD.

Home Owners' Loan Corporation.

SUBSTITUTION OF TRUSTEE—TEXAS

Whereas prior to the creation of the present three autonomous offices in the State of Texas, the trustee named in each loan made by Home Owners' Loan Corporation in Texas was James Shaw, then State Manager, who has since resigned from the service of the Corporation, necessitating the appointment of a substitute trustee in each such loan wherein foreclosure is directed; and whereas since the establishment of Division Offices in the State of Texas, the Managers thereof have been named trustees in all loans closed within their respective jurisdictions; and

Whereas under the law all foreclosure sales in Texas must be held on the same day of each month and the named trustees or duly designated substitutes must be in personal attendance at such sales in widely separated counties, making necessary the appointment of substitute trustees in a substantial number of foreclosure cases each month; and

Whereas under existing authority, certain Home Office and Regional Office officials alone are empowered to appoint substitute trustees and execute essential instruments in connection therewith, which necessitates the forwarding to the Regional Office and the return to Division Offices of all such instruments and results in added expense, confusion and frequent delay in completing foreclosures: Therefore,

Be it resolved, That pursuant to authority vested in the Board of Directors by the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933 (48 Stat. 128, 129) as amended by Sections 1 and 13 of the Act of April 27, 1934 (48 Stat. 643–647), and particularly by Sections 4 (a), 4 (d) and 4 (k) of said Act, as amended, the Division Manager, the Division Counsel, the Assistant Division Counsel, each of Texas Division No. 1, Dallas; the District Manager, the District Counsel, each of Texas Division No. 1, Amarillo; the Division Manager, the Assistant Division Manager, the Division Counsel, the Assistant Division Counsel, each of Texas Division No. 2, Houston; the Division Manager, the Division Counsel, the Assistant Division Counsel, each of Texas Division No. 3, San Antonio; and the District Manager of Texas Division No. 3, El Paso; and their successors in office are hereby authorized and empowered to execute, seal with the corporate seal, attest, acknowledge on behalf of the Corporation, and deliver or accept any instrument, and perform any and all acts necessary or appropriate in connection with the appointment of substitute trustees under deeds of trust or other instruments securing debt now or hereafter held by the Corporation; and

Be it further resolved, That the Secretary or any Assistant Secretary of the Corporation is authorized to certify and furnish such copies of this resolution as may be required and to authenticate, acknowledge, and do any other act necessary to entitle it to be recorded in any jurisdiction.

Adopted by the Board of Directors of Home Owners' Loan Corporation on May 10, 1937.

FOREIGN-TRADE ZONES BOARD.

[Public Notice No. 3 (Mobile)]

EXAMINERS COMMITTEE, MOBILE, ALABAMA

MAY 5, 1937.

To Whom It May Concern:

Pursuant to the provisions of the Act approved June 18, 1934, Public No. 397 (48 Stat. 998, 1001), and the Regulations Governing the Establishment, Operation, Maintenance, and Administration of Foreign-Trade Zones in the United States, promulgated in pursuance of said Act, a public hearing will be held by an Examiners Committee, beginning at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon, Central Standard Time, on Thursday, June 10, 1937, Room 420, Courthouse & Customhouse Building, Mobile, Alabama.

The subject of the hearing is an application by the Alabama State Docks Commission for a grant to establish a Foreign-Trade Zone at Mobile. General plans, showing the location of the project, may be examined at the office of the Examiners Committee, Room 420, Courthouse & Customhouse Building, Mobile, Alabama, or at the office of the Executive Secretary of the Foreign-Trade Zones Board, Room 3054, Commerce Building, Washington, D. C. In brief, these contemplate the utilization of Pier "A" south and certain adjoining structures and land area of the Alabama State Docks.

This public hearing is solely for the purpose of obtaining, in the most direct manner, the facts useful to the Foreign-Trade Zones Board. The immediate concern of the Examiners Committee is to determine whether or not the proposed plans are suitable for the accomplishment of the purpose of the foreign-trade zone under the Act, and whether or not the facilities and appurtenances which it is proposed to provide are sufficient. Particular attention is called to the fact that the instant application is the only one to be considered at this time. The question of the designated site is up for discussion, not the suitability of some other site.

A "foreign-trade zone" as provided in the Act is "an isolated, enclosed, and policed area, under the supervision of a designated board of Federal officials, operated as a public utility by a corporation, in or adjacent to a port of entry, without resident population, furnished with the necessary facilities for lading and unlading, for storing goods, and for reshipping them by land and water; an area into which goods may be bought, stored, and subjected to certain specified manipulation operations. If reshipped to foreign points the goods may leave the restricted trade zone without payment of duties and without the intervention of customs officials, except under certain conditions. Such products cannot, of course, leave the trade zone for domestic use or consumption without full compliance with existing customs laws. * * * Goods may not be manufactured or exhibited in such an area. The area is subject equally with adjacent regions to all laws relating to public health, vessel inspection, postal service, immigration, and to the supervision of Federal agencies having jurisdiction in ports of entry, including customs, to a limited extent."

All interested parties are invited to be present or represented at the hearing, particularly those who may be affected by the proposed grant. An opportunity to be heard (either in person or by duly appointed representative, either by appearance or by sending a written or telegraphic statement) will be given to persons or groups who have manifested their interest in this application by complying with the following requirements:

1. A written or telegraphic request for opportunity to be heard shall be filed before noon, Central Standard Time, on Saturday, June 5, 1937, at the office of the Examiners Committee, Room 420, Courthouse & Customhouse Building, Mobile, Alabama, or before noon, Eastern Standard Time, on Saturday, June 5, 1937, at the office of the Executive Secretary of the Foreign-Trade Zones Board, Room 3054, Commerce Building, Washington, D. C., and shall indicate the number of witnesses, the general character of evidence, and the approximate amount of time required.

2. Such request shall include (a) the name of any persons seeking to speak at the hearing, and (b) the persons or groups he represents.

In the discretion of the Examiners Committee, persons who have not complied with the foregoing may be permitted, at any time prior to the closing of the hearing, to file written statements regarding the application under consideration. Such written statements should be condensed as much as possible.

Representation of interested parties by attorneys or others is permissible but is not to be regarded as necessary. For accuracy of record, and for file with the report and recommendations of the Examiners Committee, all important facts and arguments should be submitted in writing, and these, together with the record, will be forwarded for consideration by the Foreign-Trade Zones Board in Washington.

You are requested to communicate the foregoing to any persons known by you to be interested in the matter, who, not being known to this Committee, do not receive a copy of this notice.

L. P. NICKELL,
JOSEPH H. LYONS,
Collector of Customs, Port of Mobile.
COLONEL RICHARD PARK,

The foregoing Public Notice is hereby certified to be a true copy of the original.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Seal of the Foreign-Trade Zones Board, in the City of Washington, this 5th day of May, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Thirty-Seven.

Executive Secretary, Foreign-Trade Zones Board.

EXCEPTIONS TO WESTERN CLASSIFICATION

Governing all rates named in this Tariff between points in Alaska except as otherwise provided in the Item.

MISCELLANEOUS

Item No. 2—Inflammable Liquids Having Flash Point Lower than 200° Fahrenheit.—Section 8, Rule 35 of Western Classification will not apply.

APPLICATION OF RATES

Item No. 5[1]—Commodity Rates Applicable to Intermediate Points.—Subject to the provisions of Notes 1, 2, 3 and 4 below, to any point of destination to which a commodity rate on a given article from a given point of origin and via a given route is not named in this tariff, which point is intermediate to a point to which a commodity rate on said article is published in this tariff via a route through the intermediate point over which such commodity rate applies from the same point of origin, apply to such intermediate point from such point of origin and via such route the commodity rate in this tariff on said article to the next point beyond to which a commodity rate is published herein on that article from the same point of origin via the same route.

NOTE 1.—When by reason of branch or diverging lines, there are two or more "next beyond" points, apply the rate to the next point beyond (in this tariff) which on that article from the same point of origin via the same route results in the lowest charge.

NOTE 2.—If the intermediate point is located between two points to which commodity rates on the same article via the same route are published in this tariff, apply via that route to the intermediate point the rate to the next point in either direction which results in the higher charge. In applying this note, if there are two or more next beyond points due to branch or diverging lines, eliminate all such next beyond points except the point to which the lowest charge is applicable.

NOTE 3.—If the class rate on the same article via the same route to the intermediate point produces a lower charge than would result from applying the commodity rate under this rule, such commodity rate will not apply.

NOTE 4.—If there is in any other tariff a commodity rate on the same article to the intermediate destination point applicable over the same route from the same point of origin the provisions of this rule are not applicable to such intermediate destination point.

All risk of loss and damage incident to transportation of freight by water must be assumed by shippers, owners or consignees, who may protect themselves against such loss by covering their shipments with marine insurance.

Item No. 25—Freight Destined to Points Served by Water Carriers.—(a) All freight to points served by Water Carriers must be packed in shape for safe and expeditious handling. When Tariff does not specify kind of package, it is understood that bags, boxes, crates or other suitable packages may be used; and when freight is offered in such packages as would endanger contents when handled with ordinary care, it shall be optional with the Carrier to refuse to transport it, or to accept it, with notation on shipping receipt fully releasing it from any and all damage which may occur.

(b) Freight which vessels are prohibited from carrying under governmental regulations, including shipments in tank cars, will not be accepted for transportation to points served by Water Carriers.

Item No. 30—Service Guarantee of Time.—The carrier does not agree to transport freight by any particular steamer or train or within any specified time, and the rates named herein to points served by Water Carriers are applicable only when the carrier has a suitable steamer sailing to or from the ports via which rates are named. If at any time, after having made reasonable effort, a steamer is unable to make delivery of a shipment owing to bad weather conditions or for any reason due to perils of navigation, the obligations imposed upon the Carrier by the terms of this Tariff shall be considered fulfilled and delivery accomplished and the charges due at rates named herein shall be considered earned, after which the Carrier shall have the privilege of delivering shipment at the nearest accessible port; or returning goods to the point of shipment; or making delivery on a subsequent voyage and collecting at Tariff rates for such additional service.

Forest Service.

RULES AND REGULATIONS TO GOVERN EXERCISE OF TIMBER RIGHTS RESERVED IN CONVEYANCES TO THE UNITED STATES

In conformity with the provisions of Section 9 of the Act approved March 1, 1911 (36 Stat. 961), as amended, I, Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, do hereby establish the following regulations, to govern the cutting and removal of timber (and timber products) from lands purchased by the United States under the authority of said Act of March 1, 1911, as amended, in cases where the right to cut and remove such timber and timber products is to be reserved by the vendor by stipulation in the deed of conveyance to the United States.

Whoever begins such operations must, on demand, exhibit to the Forest Officer in charge satisfactory evidence of authority from the grantor so to do, and must comply with the following requirements:

1. In the cutting and removal of timber and timber products and in the location or construction of mills, logging roads, railroads, chutes, landings, camps or other improvements, no unnecessary damage shall be done to any small growth or to trees left standing. No monument or witness trees shall be cut or destroyed.

2. All trees, timber or timber products cut, damaged or destroyed by the operator of species or sizes not specifically reserved shall be paid for at double the usual rates charged in the locality for sales of similar National Forest timber and timber products.

3. All slash resulting from the exercise of the reserved rights shall be disposed of as directed by the Forest Supervisor.

4. Location of buildings, camps, other structures, and of roads providing ingress or egress to or from the reserved timber, shall be approved by the Forest Supervisor prior to the beginning of construction. All buildings, camps, equipment, and other structures shall be removed from the land within one year from date of completion or abandonment of the operation. Otherwise such buildings, camps, equipment, and other structures shall become the property of the United States.

5. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to exempt the operator or the timber operations from any requirements of the laws of the State in which situated; nor from compliance with or conformity to any requirement of any law or regulation which later may be enacted or promulgated, and which otherwise would be applicable.

6. While operations are in progress, the operators, contractors, sub-contractors, and employees of contractors and sub-contractors at work on the National Forest, shall use due diligence in the prevention and suppression of fire, and shall be available for service in the extinguishment and suppression of all fires within two miles of said operation. Provided that if such fire does not originate through any negligence on the part of the operators, contractors, sub-contractors, or their employees and does not threaten their structures, improvements or property, that they shall be paid for their services at the current rate of pay of fire fighters employed by the United States.

7. Only one cutting shall be made on any portion of the area on which timber is reserved. Provided, that the Forest Supervisor may permit the cutting of special products, or products the cutting of which is seasonal, on any portion of the area in advance of the cutting of the chief products of the reserved timber. Each reservation of timber shall include a specific period of time within which material may be removed after the cutting for the chief products on any portion of the area, and any material remaining on a cut-over area shall, on the expiration of that period, become the property of the United States.

All regulations hitherto issued by the Secretary of Agriculture to govern the exercise of timber rights reserved in conveyances to the United States are hereby superseded as to timber rights hereafter reserved.

In testimony thereof, I have hereunto set my hand and official seal at the City of Washington this 12th day of May, 1937.

FARM CREDIT ADMINISTRATION.

APPROVAL OF SPECIAL INTEREST RATES FOR FIRST MORTGAGE LOANS ON FARMS IN THE THIRD FEDERAL LAND BANK DISTRICT ENGAGED PRIMARILY IN THE PRODUCTION OF NAVAL STORES

MAY 13, 1937.

Whereas, it is provided by paragraph Second of Section 12 of the Federal Farm Loan Act, as amended, (U. S. C., Title 12, Section 771), that except with the approval of the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration, the interest rate on first mortgage loans made by any Federal land bank through national farm loan associations shall not exceed by more than 1 per centum per annum the interest rate in the last series of farm loan bonds issued by said bank; and

Whereas, it appears to the satisfaction of the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration that loans upon farm lands in the Third Federal Land Bank District employed in the production of naval stores as defined by Section 2 of the Naval Stores Act (U. S. C., Title 7, Section 92) are subject to special hazards and that it is necessary that the security for such loans be inspected from time to time by qualified inspectors; and

Whereas, The Federal Land Bank of Columbia has requested approval of a rate of interest on such loans through national farm loan associations 1½ per centum per annum in excess of the interest rate in the last series of farm loan bonds issued by said bank; and

Whereas, by virtue of the provisions of paragraph (b) of Section 7 of the Federal Farm Loan Act, as amended, (U. S. C., Title 12, Section 723), upon approval of such request by the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration the rate of interest on such loans direct to borrowers will be 2 per centum per annum in excess of the interest rate of the last series of farm loan bonds issued by said bank,

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That a rate of interest 1½ per centum per annum in excess of the interest rate in the last series of farm-loan bonds issued by The Federal Land Bank of Columbia be and hereby is approved for mortgage loans made by said bank through national farm-loan associations after the effective date of this Order on the security of any farm land in the Third Federal Land Bank District that is employed primarily in the production of naval stores as defined by Section 2 of the Naval Stores Act (U. S C., Title 7, Section 92).

The provisions of this Order shall be effective as of the opening of business on the date above written and shall remain in full force and effect until amended or revoked.

AMENDMENT TO RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS

Be it resolved, that pursuant to authority vested in the Federal Home Loan Bank Board by subsection (a) of Section 5 of Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933 (12 U. S. C. 1464 (a)), Section 8 of the Rules and Regulations for Federal Savings and Loan Associations is hereby amended to read as follows:

SECTION 8. Upon receipt of a petition for charter, a hearing will be conducted in accordance with section 29 hereof, except as otherwise therein provided.

Be it further resolved, that pursuant to authority vested in the Federal Home Loan Bank Board by subsection (a) of Section 5 of Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933 (12 U. S. C. 1464 (a)), Section 29 of the Rules and Regulations for Federal Savings and Loan Associations is hereby amended to read as follows:

SECTION 29. (a) Any person (hereinafter referred to as an "applicant") who has made an application or petition to the Board may request a hearing, provided the application or petition has been denied or disapproved by the Board. At any time after the filing of an application or petition to the Board by any person and before consideration thereof by the Board in accordance with these rules and regulations, any interested person (hereinafter referred to as a "protestant") may request a hearing provided such protestant shall simultaneously file with the Board specific objections to the granting of the application or petition. Upon receipt of written request for such hearing, the Board or the Review Committee of the Board will fix a date for such hearing not earlier than 10 days nor later than 30 days after the date of the resolution of the Board or the order of the Review Committee fixing such hearing date. Unless the Board shall otherwise determine, such hearings will be conducted by the Review Committee at the offices of the Board at Washington, D. C. The Board may fix some other place, convenient to the parties, for conducting such hearing, in which event such hearing shall be conducted at such place and upon such conditions as the Board may prescribe. If the Board fixes such hearing date and the place of such hearing, a certified copy of such resolution shall be forwarded to the applicants and to the protestants by the Secretary or an Assistant Secretary to the Board. If the Review Committee fixes the date and place of such hearing, a copy of an order signed by the Chairman of the Review Committee shall be sent to the applicants and protestants by the Secretary or an Assistant Secretary to the Board. The Board may direct such other written or published notice of the time and place of such hearing as it may deem appropriate. At least 5 days before the date of the hearing, the person or persons requesting such hearing (either the applicants or the protestants) shall file with the Board a written statement of intention to appear and present testimony in person at such hearing. In the event no such statement of intention to appear in person at a hearing has been filed with the Board within such period, the Board may dispense with the hearing. At any such hearing any applicant or protestant or any other interested person may appear in person or by attorney and submit any evidence pertinent to the questions at issue. In lieu of such appearance, evidence may be submitted in writing. The Board may order a hearing in connection with its consideration of any matter, whether or not any request therefor has been made by any person. The Board may dispense with any hearing provided for by this section when, in its judgment, no need therefor exists. In the event that the Review Committee or other representative of the Board conducts any such hearing, such committee or representative shall cause a stenographic record of such hearing to be made and shall consider the evidence submitted thereat and make recommendations thereon to the Board. A representative of the Legal Department of the Board, selected as the General Counsel shall determine, shall attend each such hearing and be available to advise all persons appearing thereat regarding the pertinent provisions of the statutes and regulations so that, as fully as possible, all pertinent facts shall be adduced. Upon consideration of the law and the facts, the Board will take such action upon any such application or petition as it shall deem to be appropriate.

(b) Upon receipt of a petition for charter, the Board or the Review Committee will fix the hour, date and place of hearing upon such petition and will conduct such hearing in accordance with the provisions of subsection (a) of this section. The applicants shall promptly cause to be published in a newspaper printed in the English language of general circulation in the county in which the proposed Federal association will have its home office, a notice in the form prescribed in subsection (e) of this section. The applicants shall cause to be filed with the Board prior to said hearing an affidavit of publication as provided in subsection (e) of this section, subscribed by the chairman of the organization committee or by the petitioners. Unless such notice shall have been duly published by the applicants, no hearing upon the petition for charter shall be conducted and no action will be taken by the Board upon such petition until the requirements of this subsection have been complied with.

(c) At any time after the filing of an application for permission to organize a Federal association and before the approval of such application, any person may file with the Board specific written objections to the granting of permission to organize a Federal savings and loan association. In the event any such written objection is filed with the Board, and unless the Board determines to deny such application, a hearing on said application may, in its discretion, be conducted in accordance with the provisions of subsection (a) of this section. Such hearing may, in the discretion of the Board, be in lieu of the hearing provided in subsection (b) of this section. The applicants shall cause to be published in the manner specified in subsection (b) of this section a notice in the form prescribed in subsection (e) of this section, and shall file an affidavit of publication as provided in subsection (e) of this section. Such affidavit shall be sworn to by each of the applicants. Unless such notice shall have been duly published by the applicants, no hearing upon the application for permission to organize a Federal association shall be conducted and no action will be taken by the Board upon such application until the requirements of this subsection have been complied with.

(d) Upon receipt of an application from any Federal association for approval of the establishment of a branch office or the moving of any office from its immediate vicinity, the Board, unless it determines to deny such application, will cause a hearing to be conducted in accordance with subsection (a) of this section. The applicant shall cause to be published, in the county in which it proposes to establish a branch office or to which it intends to move the location of any office and in the manner specified in subsection (b) of this section, a notice in the form prescribed in subsection (e) of this section, and shall file an affidavit of publication as provided in subsection (e) of this section. Such affidavit shall be sworn to by the president or secretary of the applicant Federal association. Unless such notice shall be duly published by the applicant, no hearing upon any such application shall be conducted and no action will be taken by the Board upon such application until the requirements of this subsection have been complied with. The notice shall be signed by the Federal association. Upon receipt of an application from any Federal association for approval of the maintenance of a branch office the Board may, in its discretion, conduct a hearing in accordance with the provisions of subsection (a) of this section and may, in its discretion, require the applicant to cause to be published in the manner and in the form specified in subsection (e) of this section, a notice of such hearing and require an affidavit of publication of such notice to be filed with the Board.

(e) The form of notice required to be published pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be as follows:

Any interested person may appear in person or by attorney and submit any evidence at such hearing pertinent to the questions at issue. In lieu of such appearance evidence may be submitted in writing."

The hour and date fixed by resolution of the Board or by order of the Review Committee signed by the Chairman of the Review Committee shall be inserted in the notice as the hour and date of the hearing. The notice shall state that the hearing will be held at the offices of the Board at Washington, D. C., unless a resolution of the Board fix some other place, in which event the

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and therefore alleging, that the offering sheet described in the title hereof and filed by the respondent named therein is incomplete or inaccurate in the following material respects, to wit:

(1) In that the date upon which the information contained in the offering sheet will be out of date, as set forth in Division I, paragraph 8, is incorrect;

(2) In that the total production of oil from the tract, as set forth in Division II, Item 15, may not be correct by reason of the fact that the figures given in this item do not agree with those set forth in Division III, Item 4 (b);

(3) In that the figures given for the months of November and December, 1936, and January, 1937, in Division II, Item 16 (d), are not believed to be correct;

(4) In that the information given in Division III, Item 3, is not believed to be correct by reason of the fact it is stated that 260 acres are productive for the 4400 ft. sand, whereas in the tabulation contained therein 270 acres is used, thus the total shown for the estimated recovery in barrels is not the total of the three figures added. However, the total shown is the correct figure. The multiplication for the 4400 ft. sand should be corrected by using 260 acres instead of 270;

The "results" for the developed and undeveloped portions of the lease are not believed to be correct, and are not in accord with the total given in the tabulation;

It is ordered, pursuant to Rule 340 (a) of the Commission's General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that the effectiveness of the filing of said offering sheet be, and hereby is, suspended until the 11th day of June, 1937; that an opportunity for hearing be given to the said respondent for the purpose of determining the material completeness or accuracy of the said offering sheet in the respects in which it is herein alleged to be incomplete or inaccurate, and whether the said order of suspension shall be revoked or continued; and

It is further ordered that Charles S. Moore, an officer of the Commission be, and hereby is, designated as trial examiner to preside at such hearing, to continue or adjourn the said hearing from time to time, to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, consider any amendments to said offering sheet as may be filed prior to the conclusion of the hearing, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law; and

It is further ordered that the taking of testimony in this proceeding commence on the 27th day of May, 1937, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C., and continue thereafter at such times and places as said examiner may designate.

Upon the completion of testimony in this matter the examiner is directed to close the hearing and make his report to the Commission.

By the Commission.

Forest Service.

RULES AND REGULATIONS TO GOVERN EXERCISES OF MINERAL RIGHTS RESERVED IN CONVEYANCES TO THE UNITED STATES

In conformity with the provisions of the Act of February 28, 1925 (43 Stat. 1090), I, Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, do hereby establish the following regulations to govern ingress and egress and the use of the surface in the extraction of minerals, oil, gas and other inorganic resources, from lands acquired by the United States through exchange under authority of the Act of March 20, 1922 (42 Stat. 465), and acts amendatory thereof authorizing the acquisition, by exchange, of lands chiefly valuable for National Forest purposes, within the boundaries of National Forests or of specifically defined areas adjacent thereto, in cases where the right to extract such mineral resources is to be reserved by the vendor by stipulation to be expressed in and made a part of the deed of conveyance to the United States.

Whoever begins such operations must, on demand, exhibit to the Forest Officer in charge satisfactory evidence of authority from the grantor so to do, and must comply with the following requirements:

1. Only so much of the surface of the land shall be used or disturbed as is necessary in the bona fide prospecting, mining, drilling, or manufacturing of the minerals; but no right to so occupy, use, or disturb such land shall be recognized unless the recorded owner of the reserved mineral rights, or his legally authorized representative, shall have applied for and received from the Forest Supervisor a permit authorizing such use or occupancy, for which permit advance payment shall be made annually at the rate of $6 per acre or fraction thereof.

All buildings, camps, equipment, and other structures shall be removed from the land within one year from date of completion or abandonment of the operation, which shall be construed as being the date when payment of the permit charges for the land terminates. Otherwise such buildings, camps, equipment, and other structures shall become the property of the United States.

2. If the exercise of the rights herein reserved will result in the stripping, collapse, or other damage of the land or any improvements thereon, the recorded owner of the reserved rights, or his legally authorized representative, shall, upon written notification by the Forest Supervisor, pay to the designated fiscal officer of the United States, for deposit in a cooperative fund, the amount determined by the Forest Officer in charge of the area to be necessary to restore the land to a serviceable or safe condition or to repair or replace the improvements damaged or destroyed; such cooperative deposits to be available for expenditure by the United States for the purposes for which deposited.

3. All marketable timber and other timber products cut, destroyed, or damaged in prospecting, mining, drilling, or removing minerals, coal, oil, and gas, or in manufacturing products therefrom, and in the location and construction of buildings or works of any kind for use in connection therewith, shall be paid for at the usual rates charged in the locality for sales of similar National Forest timber and timber products.

All slash resulting from such cutting or destruction shall be disposed of as directed by the Forest Officer. No timber or reproduction shall be unnecessarily cut, destroyed, or damaged.

4. All mining operators shall in all developments and operations make all reasonable provisions for the disposal of tailings, dumpage, and other deleterious materials or substances in such manner as to prevent obstruction, pollution, or deterioration of the land, streams, ponds, lakes, or springs.

5. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to exempt the operator or the mining operations from any requirements of the laws of the State in which situated; nor from compliance with or conformity to any requirements of any law or regulation which later may be enacted or promulgated, and which otherwise would be applicable.

6. While operations are in progress the operators, contractors, subcontractors, and employees of contractors and subcontractors at work on the National Forest shall use due diligence in the prevention and suppression of fire, and shall be available for service in the extinguishment and suppression of all fires within two miles of said operation. Provided that if such fire does not originate through any negligence on the part of the operators, contractors, subcontractors, or their employees and does not threaten their structures, improvements, or property they shall be paid for their services at the current rate of pay of fire fighters employed by the United States.

All regulations hitherto issued by the Secretary of Agriculture to govern the exercise of mineral rights reserved in conveyances to the United States are hereby superseded as to mineral rights hereafter reserved.

In testimony thereof I have hereunto set my hand and official seal at the City of Washington this 13th day of May, 1937.

The Telegraph Division at its regular meeting on May 4, 1937, adopted the following policy:

"In general, aeronautical and aeronautical point-to-point stations in Alaska will be divided into two groups, the Orange Chain comprising the route now established from Fairbanks to Bethel together with any feeder routes that might eventually be established, and a Green Chain to include other routes now regularly established lying from Fairbanks to Cordova and Kennecott and from Anchorage to Dillingham; the growth of this route to be guided until eventually it may cover the air routes from Ketchikan to Fairbanks via Juneau, Cordova, and Anchorage, and from Tanana Crossing to Dillingham via Anchorage, together with miscellaneous feeder routes and a possible extension down the Aleutian Chain."

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and therefore alleging, that the offering sheet described in the title hereof and filed by the respondent named therein is incomplete or inacurate in the following material respects, to wit:

(1) In that the date upon which the information contained in the offering sheet will be out of date, as set forth in Division I, Paragraph 8, is not correct;

If the owner of an Adjusted Service Bond desires to have his request for payment thereof certified, and surrenders the bond, but wants payment withheld until June 15, when one year's interest will have accrued, the postmaster shall accept, certify, and cancel it following the usual procedure. POSTAGE STAMPS NOT TO BE COVERED WITH MUCILAGE OR PASTE

MAY 6, 1937.

It has come to attention that when affixing stamps (especially precanceled stamps) to mail matter, particularly fourth-class or parcel-post mail, it is the practice of some persons and concerns to cover the face of the stamps with mucilage or other adhesive material used in affixing the stamps and labels to the matter.

This is not permissible, as the stamps cannot be properly defaced and loss of revenue may result through the possible reuse of the stamps. Postmasters should, therefore, advise patrons who follow this objectionable practice that it must be discontinued.

SIRS: Section 15 of the act of June 28, 1934 (48 Stat. 1269), as amended by section 5 of the act of June 26, 1936 (49 Stat. 1976), provides that:

> The Secretary of the Interior is further authorized, in his discretion, where vacant, unappropriated, and unreserved lands of the public domain are so situated as not to justify their inclusion in any grazing district to be established pursuant to this Act, to lease any such lands for grazing purposes, upon such terms and conditions as the Secretary may prescribe: Provided, That preference shall be given to owners, homesteaders, lessees, or other lawful occupants of contiguous lands to the extent necessary to permit proper use of such contiguous lands, except, that when such isolated or disconnected tracts embrace seven hundred and sixty acres or less, the owners, homesteaders, lessees, or other lawful occupants of lands contiguous thereto or cornering thereon shall have a preference right to lease the whole of such tract, during a period of ninety days after such tract is offered for lease, upon the terms and conditions prescribed by the Secretary.

In general, the act, as amended, provides for the issuance of grazing leases to three classes of applicants, as follows:

I. Leases where no preference right is involved.

II. Preference right leases to applicants who are owners, homesteaders, lessees, or other lawful occupants of contiguous lands to the extent necessary to permit the proper use of such contiguous lands.

III. Where isolated or disconnected tracts embrace 760 acres or less, the owners, homesteaders, lessees, or other lawful occupants of lands contiguous thereto or cornering thereon shall have a preference right to lease the whole of such tract, during a period of 90 days after such tract is offered for lease upon the terms and conditions prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior.

The Registers of the district land offices will continue to adjudicate all applications for grazing leases received in their offices prior to the date of approval of these regulations in accordance with the instructions contained in Circular No. 1412.

(c) If the applicant is a corporation, a certified copy of the articles of incorporation must accompany the application, and if an association, a copy of the constitution and by-laws, and evidence of the citizenship of each member must be submitted.

(d) A description of the lands applied for must be furnished in terms of the legal subdivisions of the public land surveys, together with a statement as to whether the lands contain any springs or water holes, and whether the lands are occupied or used for any purpose and by whom.

(e) A complete description in terms of legal subdivisions of the public land surveys of the lands upon which a preference right to a lease is based, the nature of the claims thereto, and the dates initiated or acquired.

(f) A statement as to the number and kind of stock to be grazed upon the lands, seasons of contemplated use, and the manner in which the applicant plans to graze the lands applied for in connection with his general operations. Such statement shall not prejudice the application, and the applicant may amend it to conform to any objection or requirement made by the Secretary of the Interior as to the kind or number of stock, seasons of use or grazing plans.

(g) A statement as to what previous use, if any, the applicant has made of the lands applied for, and whether the lands have been used by anyone else. If so, by whom, for what purpose, and to what extent.

(6) The filing of an application under this section in conformity with these regulations will segregate the lands applied for from other disposition under the public land laws, subject to any prior valid adverse claim, except that at all times the mineral contents in the land shall be subject to prospecting, locating, developing, mining, entering, leasing, or patenting under the provisions of the applicable laws.

(7) The filing of an application will not segregate the land applied for from application by other applicants for grazing lease. Conflicting or junior grazing lease applications will be received, noted, and disposed of in the same manner as senior or prior grazing lease applications.

(8) As the issuance of a lease is within the discretion of the Secretary of the Interior, the filing of an application for a lease will not in any way create any right in the applicant to a lease, or to the exclusive use of the lands applied for, pending the execution of a lease by the Secretary of the Interior.

(9) Every applicant for a lease must pay to the Register of the district land office, at the time of filing an application, a fee of five dollars if his lease application is for 1,000 acres or less, and an additional five dollars for each additional 1,000 acres or fractional part thereof, which fee will be carried as unearned pending action on the application. If the application is rejected the fee will be returned. If a lease, based on the application, is offered the applicant, and he refuses to accept the same, the fee will be retained and earned, as a service charge.

(10) If a protestant against the issuance of a lease desires to lease all or part of the land embraced in the application against which a protest is filed, the protest should be accompanied by an application to lease.

(11) Any person receiving a temporary one-year lease based on an application filed prior to the date of approval of these regulations, who desires to continue to lease the lands involved, will not be required to file a new application for lease on form 4–721 but will be required to file a petition in triplicate for the renewal of his lease on a form to be furnished. No filing fee will be required in connection with petitions for such renewals.

(12) Action on petitions for renewals will be governed by the instructions contained in the following section II hereof except that new serial numbers will not be assigned to the same.

[1] Under the act of June 28, 1934 (48 Stat. 1269), as amended by the act of June 26, 1936 (49 Stat. 1976).

II

ACTION ON APPLICATIONS AND PETITIONS FOR RENEWALS

(13) Upon receipt of an application, the Register of the district land office will assign the current serial number thereto, note the same on his records, and if all is found to be regular, forward the original to this office, and the duplicate to the Special Agent in Charge of the Division of Investigations for the division in which the lands are situated. The original and duplicate applications should be accompanied with a status report by the Register of all the lands applied for.

(14) The triplicate copy will be retained by the Register for his files. In case the application embraces land in two land districts, the quadruplicate copy will be forwarded to the appropriate land office for notation and for a serial number.

(15) The register of the land office receiving the quadruplicate copy will furnish a report to this office and the Special Agent in Charge as to the status of the land in his district embraced in the application for lease. The balance of the administrative work up to the point of issuing the lease will be handled through the office in which the complete application was filed.

(16) All instructions heretofore issued regarding publication of notices offering lands for lease are hereby rescinded. A general order by this Department relative to the offering of all public lands, including those now embraced in temporary one-year leases, will be issued in due course.

(17) Upon receipt of the duplicate copy of an application or petition for renewal the Special Agent in Charge will have an investigation made and submit a report to this office as to the applicant's qualifications, the pertinent facts as to any and all conflicting applications especially as to those where the questions of preference rights and extent thereof are involved.

(18) The report of the Special Agent in Charge should also include a statement as to the carrying capacity of the lands applied for, the value of the lands for grazing purposes, due regard being given to the number and kind of livestock to be grazed. It should also recommend the rental value to be charged, the term of the lease to be granted, and any other recommendations which may be helpful in the adjudication of the application.

III

ISSUANCE OF OR RENEWAL OF LEASES

(19) If, after receipt of an application or petition for renewal and upon consideration of the facts presented, it is decided by this office that the applicant is entitled to a lease for all or any of the lands applied for, a proposed lease will be prepared, in quadruplicate, and copies will be sent to the district land office for execution by the applicant. At the same time, protests and conflicting applications will be disposed of, subject to the right of appeal to the Secretary of the Interior.

(20) If the proposed lease is properly executed and returned to this office, it will be transmitted, together with any appeals filed by the protestants or conflicting applicants, with appropriate recommendations, to the Secretary of the Interior for consideration. The same procedure will be followed where it is determined that more than one applicant is entitled to a lease and a division of the lands is necessary, except that such conflicting applicants will be afforded an opportunity to agree to the division of such lands. If an acceptable adjustment cannot be made by the parties in interest, the award of a lease, or leases, will be determined by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, on the basis of all the facts presented, subject to the approval of the lease, or leases, by the Secretary of the Interior.

IV

LEASED LANDS SUBJECT TO CLASSIFICATION

(21) Lands embraced in a grazing lease shall be subject to classification and disposal under the provisions of section 7 of the act of June 28, 1934 (48 Stat. 1269), as amended by the act of June 26, 1936 (49 Stat. 1976), provided that before the allowance of any entry, selection or location under said section 7 evidence must be furnished that the applicant has agreed to compensate the leases for any grazing improvements placed on the lands entered, selected or located, under the authority of the lease and for any injury caused to the lessee's greazing operations by reason of the loss of the leased lands from his lease-hold. If the interested parties are unable to reach an agreement as to the amount of such compensation the amount shall be fixed by the Commissioner of the General Land Office subject to the right of appeal to the Secretary of the Interior, whose decision shall be final. All such agreements, to be effective, must be approved by the Commissioner of the General Land Office. The failure of the applicant to pay the lessee in accordance with the agreement shall be just cause for cancellation of the entry, selection of location. All subsequent annual rental charges will be proportionately reduced for the loss of the lands from the lease-hold.

RENTAL

(22) Each lessee shall pay to the proper district land office, such annual rental as may be determined to be a fair compensation to be charged for the grazing of livestock on the leased land.

VI

DURATION OF LEASES

(23) When the necessary basic information has been secured by the Division of Investigations leases may be issued in the discretion of the Secretary of the Interior for periods of not more than ten years. However, when the facts and circumstances are such as to warrant limiting the leases to five years or less, the leases will be so limited. In the absence of necessary basic data the leases will be limited to one year. When a lease expires it may be renewed, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Interior, upon such terms and conditions as he may prescribe.

USE OF LANDS

(24) After the issuance of a lease, the lessee may fence the lands or any part thereof, develop water by wells, tanks, water holes, or otherwise, and make or erect other improvements for grazing and stock-raising purposes so long as such improvements do not impair the value of the lands. Upon cancellation of a lease for any reason or upon termination of a lease except when a renewal is requested, the Secretary of the Interior may, in his discretion and upon a written petition filed by the lessee within 30 days from date of the cancellation, require a subsequent lessee, prior to the execution of a new lease, to reimburse the former lessee a reasonable amount for any grazing improvements of a permanent nature that may have been placed upon the leased lands during the period of the lease. When an agreement cannot be reached between the interested parties as to the amount to be paid, the decision of the Secretary of the Interior shall be final and conclusive. As to any improvements not disposed of in the manner set forth above, the lessee will be allowed 3 months from the date of cancellation of the lease within which to remove such improvements, but, if not removed or other disposition made within the said period, such improvements shall become the property of the United States.

(a) The lessee will be required to comply with the provisions of the laws of the State in which the leased lands are located with respect to the cost and maintenance of partition fences.

VIII

CAUSES FOR CANCELLATION

(25) A lease may be canceled by the Secretary of the Interior:

(a) If the lessee persistently overgrazes the lands or uses them in any manner which causes soil erosion, or for any purposes detrimental to the lands or the livestock industry.

(b) If the lessee uses the leased premises, or any part thereof, for any purpose foreign to grazing or in violation of any terms of the lease.

(c) If the lessee shall fail to pay the annual rental, or any part thereof.

(d) If the lessee shall fail to comply with any part of these regulations or the terms of the lease.

(e) If a preference right lessee fails to retain ownership or control of the lands tendered as a basis for such preference right.

(f) If the lessee assigns or sub-leases all or any part of the leased area without obtaining the approval of the Secretary of the Interior.

Each lessee must accept as final any decision rendered by the Secretary of the Interior with reference to the violations of the terms of the lease, and, if required by the decision, must surrender the leased premises to the United States. No decision will, however, be rendered until the lessee has been formally advised of the cause for cancellation and afforded a timely opportunity to make a showing as to why the lease should not be canceled.

INSPECTION

(26) Representatives of the Secretary of the Interior shall at any time have the right to enter the leased premises for the purpose of inspection.

ASSIGNMENT

(27) Proposed assignments of a lease, in whole or in part, must be submitted to the Secretary of the Interior, on a form to be provided, for approval; must be accompanied by the same showing by the assignee as is required of applicants for a lease; and must be supported by a showing that the assignee agrees to be bound by the provisions of the lease. No assignment will be recognized unless and until approved by the Secretary of the Interior.

(28) These regulations shall be considered to be a part of every grazing lease issued pursuant to the provisions of this Act.

(29) These regulations supersede all instructions previously issued under said section 15 of the act approved June 28, 1934, as amended June 26, 1936.

(30) Forms of application and lease are attached and made a part hereof.

Very respectfully,

FRED W. JOHNSON, Commissioner.

I concur:

B. B. SMITH,
Director, Division of Investigations.

Approved, April 30, 1937.

T. A. WALTERS,
First Assistant Secretary.

(Post office address)

WITNESSETH:

That the lessor, in consideration of the rents to be paid and the covenants to be observed as herein set forth, does hereby grant and lease to the lessee an exclusive right and privilege of using for grazing purposes the following-described tract of land:
containing approximately _____ acres, together with the right to construct and maintain thereon all buildings or other improvements necessary to the full enjoyment thereof, for a period of _____ years, and if at the end of said period the Secretary of the Interior shall determine that a new lease should be granted, the lessee herein will be accorded a preference right thereto upon such terms and for such duration as may be fixed by the lessor.

In consideration of the foregoing, the lessee hereby agrees:

(a) To pay the lessor as annual rental the sum of $_____ for the first year of the lease and a like sum per year for the second and third years of the lease. The rental may be adjusted at the end of the third year of the lease and at three year intervals thereafter. If at the date of any adjustment of the rental, the lease will expire within less than three years, such adjustment shall be effective for the unexpired term of the lease. Annual rental shall reasonably conform to but in no case be in excess of the rental charged by the State or individuals for grazing privileges on lands of similar character in the immediate vicinity of the lease-hold. When the annual rental amounts to $10.00 or more, the lessee may elect to make payment in two equal installments. One-half of the first year's rental to be paid prior to the execution of the lease and the remaining one-half to be paid within six months after the date of execution. For the second and each succeeding year of the lease one-half of the rental to be paid on the anniversary of the lease and the unpaid balance to be paid within six months from said anniversary. When the annual rental is less than $10.00 it must be paid in full prior to the execution of the lease and annually thereafter on the anniversary of the lease.

(b) To observe the laws and regulations for the protection of game animals, game birds, and nongame birds, and not unnecessarily disturb such animals or birds.

(c) That neither he nor his employees will set fires that will result in damage to the range or to wild life, and to extinguish all camp fires started by him or any of his employees before leaving the vicinity thereof.

(d) To comply with the provisions of the laws of the State in which the leased lands are situated with respect to the cost and maintenance of partition fences.

The lessor expressly reserves:

(a) The right to permit prospecting, locating, developing, mining, entering, leasing or patenting the mineral resources, and to dispose of such resources under any laws applicable thereto; the right to permit the use and disposition of timber on the lands embraced in this lease, under existing laws and regulations; and nothing herein contained shall restrict the acquisition, granting, or use of permits or rights of way under existing law.

(b) The right to close portions of the leased area to grazing whenever, because of drought, epidemic of disease, incorrect handling of the stock, overgrazing, fire, or other cause, such action is deemed necessary to restore the range to its normal condition. However, such temporary closing of any area shall not operate to exclude such area from the boundaries of a lease.

(c) The right to reduce the leased area if it is excessive for the number of stock owned by the lessee, or if it is determined that such area is required for the protection of camping places, sources of water supply to communities, stock driveways, roads and trails, townsites, mining claims, and for feeding grounds near villages for the use of draft animals or near the slaughtering or shipping points for use of stock to be marketed. However, a proportionate reduction will be made in the annual rental charges.

(d) The right to classify and permit entry, selection or location under the provisions of section 7 of the act of June 28, 1934 (48 Stat. 1269), as amended by the act of June 26, 1936 (49 Stat. 1975), of any part or all of the leased lands, provided that before the allowance of any application therefor the applicant shall agree, subject to the approval of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, to compensate the lessee in accordance with paragraph (21) of these regulations.

It is further understood and agreed:

(a) That the lessee expressly agrees that authorized representatives of the Department of the Interior at any time shall have the right to enter the leased premises for the purpose of inspection, and that Federal agents, including game wardens, shall at all times have the right to enter the leased area on official business.

(b) That the lessee shall not sell or remove for use elsewhere any timber growing on the leased land but may take such timber thereon as may be necessary for the erection and maintenance of improvements required in the operation of this lease.

(c) That this lease is granted subject to valid existing rights and to all rules and regulations which the Secretary of the Interior has prescribed.

(d) That the lessee may construct, or maintain and utilize any fence, building, corral, reservoir, well, or other improvements needed for the exercise of the grazing privileges of this lease, but any such fence shall be so constructed as to permit ingress and egress for miners, prospectors for minerals, and other persons entitled to enter such area for lawful purposes.

(e) That the lessee shall take all reasonable precaution to prevent and suppress forest, brush, and grass fires.

(f) The lessee may fence the lands or any part thereof, develop water by wells, tanks, water holes, or otherwise, and make or erect other improvements for grazing and stock-raising purposes so long as such improvements do not impair the value of the lands. Upon cancellation of this lease for any reason or upon termination thereof except when a renewal is requested, the Secretary of the Interior may, in his discretion and upon a written petition filed by the lessee within 30 days from date of the cancellation, require a subsequent lessee, prior to the execution of a new lease, to reimburse the former lessee a reasonable amount for any grazing improvements of a permanent nature that may have been placed upon the leased lands during the period of the lease. When an agreement cannot be reached between the interested parties as to the amount to be paid, the decision of the Secretary of the Interior shall be final and conclusive. As to any improvements not disposed of in the manner set forth above, the lessee will be allowed 3 months from the date of cancellation of the lease within which to remove such improvements, but, if not removed or other disposition made within the said period, such improvements shall become the property of the United States.

(g) That the lessee agrees to comply with all Federal and local laws regarding sanitation and such other sanitary measures as may be necessary.

(h) That the lessee will not enclose roads or trails commonly used for public travel so as to interfere with the traveling of persons who do not molest grazing animals.

(i) If the lessee shall fail to pay the rental as herein specified, or shall fail to comply with the provisions of the act, or make default in the performance or observance of any of the terms, covenants, and stipulations hereof or of the general regulations promulgated and in force at the date hereof, and such default shall continue 60 days after service of written notice thereof by the lessor, then the lessor may, in his discretion, terminate and cancel this lease.

(j) That the lessee shall not assign this lease or any interest therein, nor sublet any portion of the lease premises without the written consent of the Secretary of the Interior.

It is further covenanted and agreed that each obligation hereunder shall extend to and be binding upon, and every benefit hereof shall inure to, the heirs, executors, administrators, successors and assigns of the respective parties hereto.

In witness whereof:

VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION.

REGULATIONS AND PROCEDURE

ADDITION OF PARAGRAPHS 80, 82, 84 AND 86

Delegations of Authority [1]

80. Delegations of authority to Veterans' Administration personnel.—(A) Employees who are assigned duties which may be determined as necessitating delegated authority will be given such authority in writing through the medium of appropriate numerical series of authorization orders before being permitted to perform such duties. Any employee receiving delegated power to act, will be without authority to have any other person perform any of the duties under his delegation of authority or to sign for him, any paper covered under such authority. The Administrator will sign all delegations of authority to individuals, which, under the provisions of the Acts governing the Veterans' Administration, require that specific legal authority to perform such duties be directly delegated by the Administrator. The Administrator will also sign such other authorities as he may determine necessary. All delegations of authority, not requiring direct authority from the Administrator, will be signed either by the solicitor or by the assistant administrator concerned.

(B) When it is necessary to amend the authority already delegated to an employee, the amendment will be made by the issuance of a new authorization order which will be prepared to contain a statement of the complete authority delegated to him and will cancel the old order so that no employee will have more than one authorization order of the same series in effect at any one time. Upon receipt of the new order, the employee will immediately return his old order for cancelation. Each employee will have available a copy of his delegated authority and a copy will be placed in his personnel file.

(C) When an employee to whom an authorization order has been issued leaves the service, is transferred from one station to another, or his duties are modified so as to make unnecessary the authority, his delegated authority is thereupon terminated and his authorization order will be returned for cancelation. Termination of delegated authority will be through the medium of an appropriate cancelation order in the same series and will bear the same number as the original authorization order with the added letter "A". The Administrator will sign all cancelation orders of the Administrator's authorization order series. All other series of cancelation orders will be signed by the solicitor or assistant administrator for the employees under their charge. Each office or service will maintain a complete set of copies of the active authorization orders and cancelation orders issued to employees under its charge.

(D) All authorization and cancelation orders referred to in R. & P. 80 to 86 inclusive, after being signed, will be sent to the regulations and procedure division for photostating, appropriate distribution in central office, and the maintenance of the file of original orders. The director of finance will forward copies to other Government agencies when necessary.

(E) Any employee, who is performing duties under a delegation of authority which may have been issued by memorandum, letter, or otherwise, but which should be and is not a part of any of the numerical authorization order series, will be reissued a delegation of authority covering such duties under the proper authorization order series. On and after June 30, 1937, all delegations of authority of the kind referred to herein, issued to employees of central office at any time, which are not within one of the numerical series of authorization orders, will be null and void. (May 15, 1937.)

82. Delegations of authority to central office personnel.—(A) All delegations of authority to employees of central office will be made a part of an authorization order series either of the Administrator, the solicitor, any assistant administrator, or of one of the several services, as may be applicable. All orders in the various series will be prepared naming the employee, the title of his position and his organizational assignment, and specifying exactly the authority thereby delegated to him, and will be signed in the manner specified herein. Authorization orders will be issued in numerical sequence within the series applicable to the organizational assignment of the employee and in the manner specified herein. Once a delegation of authority has been issued to an employee, it will remain in effect only so long as the employee's duties require performance under the authority, or until it is superseded by an amended order or is canceled.

(B) The Authorization Order Series of the Adiministrator. Delegations of authority in the "Administrator's Authorization Order" series will be issued to the assistant administrators; to the solicitor; to the chairman, board of veterans appeals; to the executive assistant to the administrator; to the employees under the chairman, board of veterans appeals; to the employees under the executive assistant; and to such other employees as may be especially determined. All such authorization orders and cancelation orders will be signed by the Administrator. For employees under the chairman, board of veterans appeals, or under the executive assistant, the orders will be signed as being recommended by the officer concerned before submission to the Administrator for approval and signature.

(C) The Authorization Order Series of the Solicitor, of the Assistant Administrators, and of the Services. Delegations of authority in these series will be issued to employees under the solicitor, the assistant administrator concerned, or the service concerned, as applicable. If it is necessary that the authority be delegated to any of these employees by the Administrator as provided in R. & P. 80 (A), the order will be signed as being recommended by the solicitor or by the assistant administrator concerned before submission to the Administrator for approval and signature. If it is not necessary that the authority be delegated by the Administrator, the order will be signed by the solicitor for his employees and for employees in a service by the director of such service as being recommended by him before submission to the assistant administrator for approval and signature. All cancelation orders in the respective series will be signed by the solicitor or by the assistant administrator upon recommendation of the director of service for their respective series. (May 15, 1937.)

84. Delegation of authority to employees to issue subpenas, etc.—(A) Managers of regional offices and facilities having regional office activities, and such other employees to whom such authority is delegated by the Administrator, shall have the power to issue subpenas for (by countersigning Form 4003 revised), and compel the attendance of witnesses within a radius of 100 miles from the place of hearing and to require the production of books, papers, documents and other evidence.

(B) Any person required by such subpena to attend as a witness shall be allowed and paid the same fees and mileage as are paid witnesses in the District Courts of the United States. In case of disobedience to any such subpena, the aid of any District Court of the United States or the District Court of the United States in and for the District of Columbia may be invoked in requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of documentary evidence, and such court within the jurisdiction of which the inquiry is carried on may, in case of contumacy or refusal to obey a subpena issued to any officer, agent, or employee of any corporation or to any other person, issue an order requiring such corporation or other person to appear or to give evidence touching the matter in question; and any failure to obey such order of the court may be punished by such court as a contempt thereof.

(C) Recommendations for the delegation of authority to an employee to issue subpenas shall be made to the Administrator and such authority will be granted through "Administrator's Authorization Orders".

(D) Discretion will be used in the exercise of this power which will not be used except when necessary or when the evidence can not be obtained efficiently in any other way. (May 15, 1937.)

86. Delegation of authority to employees in central office and the field to make findings of fact, etc.—(A) Employees in the field by virtue of the authority delegated to them by the Administrator will have the power to make findings of fact, determinations of existing law, Veterans Administration regulations and precedents established thereunder as applicable to pension and compensation cases, and to make decisions as to the rights of claimants to benefits and awards under the laws relating to the Veterans Administration.

(B) Recommendations for the delegation of authority to a field employee to make such findings of fact, etc., will be made through the manager to the assistant administrator, compensation and pensions, who will cause to be prepared an appropriate authorization order with recommendation thereon, over his signature for approval by the Administrator. This delegated authority will be made through the medium of a numerical series of orders known as "Pension Field Authorization Orders." When an employee is relieved of the duties requiring the delegated authority, the manager will immediately return his authorization order to the assistant administrator, compensation and pensions. The assistant administrator thereupon will issue a cancelation order over his own signature, sending the original copy to the regulations and procedure division for photostating and distribution in central office.

(C) Delegations of authority to employees in central office to make findings of fact, etc., will be in accordance with R. & P. 82 (A) and (C). (May 15, 1937.)

TRANSFER OF TAXPAID RECTIFIED SPIRITS BY PIPE LINE FROM RECTIFYING PLANTS TO CONTIGUOUS TAXPAID BOTTLING HOUSES

To District Supervisors and Others Concerned:

Pursuant to the authority conferred by Section 605 of the Revenue Act of 1918, (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, sec. 1151), as amended by Section 319 of the Liquor Tax Administration Act, (U. S. C., 1934 ed., Supp. II, title 26, sec. 1151 (2)), the following regulations are prescribed:

Where a rectifying plant and a taxpaid bottling house are operated on contiguous premises by a distiller or proprietor of an internal revenue bonded warehouse, the Commissioner may, in his discretion, authorize the transfer of rectified spirits on which the rectification tax has been paid from the bottling tanks in the rectifying plant to the bottling tanks in the taxpaid bottling house by means of pipe line.

A separate and permanent pipe line shall be installed to connect the rectifying plant with each bottling tank in the taxpaid bottling house. The pipe lines shall be exposed to view throughout their entire length, and all connections, valves, flanges, etc., shall be brazed or welded from the point where they leave the rectifying plant premises, provided, however, that the termination of such pipe lines in the rectifying plant may remain open to permit hose connection with the bottling tanks. There shall be painted on each such pipe line, on that portion extending into the rectifying plant, a number corresponding with the serial number of the tank in the taxpaid bottling house to which it connects.

When taxpaid rectified spirits are authorized to be transferred as above provided, the procedure for taxpaying rectified spirits in the bottling tank in the rectifying plant will be the same as provided by Regulations 15, except that at the time of taxpayment an extra copy of Form 237 will be executed and certified by the Collector. The extra copy of Form 237 will be attached to Form 230 on the bottling tank in the taxpaid bottling house as evidence that the proper tax on the spirits therein has been paid.

Upon completion of transfer of the rectified spirits to the taxpaid bottling house, there shall be entered under Part 7, "Certificate of Cases Filled", on all copies of Form 237, a statement that the spirits described on the reverse side of this form have been transferred by pipe line to Bottling Tank No. ---------- in the contiguous taxpaid bottling house operated by ----------, and the date of such transfer. This statement shall also include the serial number of Form 230 to which the extra copy of Form 237 is to be attached in the bottling house. Upon completion of bottling the extra copy of Form 237 will remain attached to the appropriate Form 230 and be transmitted to the District Supervisor in the manner prescribed by T. D. 4561.

Rectifiers who transfer their entire production by pipe line, pursuant to the provisions of this Treasury Decision, will not be required to provide a Finished Products Room as prescribed by Regulations 15.

Regulations 15, as amended, and T. D. 4561 are hereby amended accordingly.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

Division of Grazing.

AMENDMENT TO THE RULES FOR ADMINISTRATION OF GRAZING DISTRICTS [1]

MAY 10, 1937.

The Rules for Administration of Grazing Districts approved March 2, 1936, as amended January 28, 1937, are hereby amended by substituting the following for the portion beginning with the heading "Hearings and Appeals", on page 7:

APPLICATIONS, HEARINGS, AND APPEALS

1. Consideration of applications; recommendation; notice.—An application for grazing privileges will be considered in the first instance by the advisory board of the district in which privileges are sought. The advisory board will make its recommendation to the Division of Grazing. If such recommendation is favorable, the Division will so notify the applicant by ordinary mail. If the recommendation is adverse, notice thereof will be served on the applicant either personally by the regional grazier, or such person as may have been by him designated, or by registered letter sent to the address given by the applicant in his application for grazing license. Such notice will name a place and date, not less than ten (10) days thereafter, when protests against the recommendation of the advisory board will be heard. At the conclusion of the first meeting held for the purpose of considering applications, a list of all recommendations and a notice showing the dates and places at which protests will be heard shall be posted at the board's place of meeting.

2. Hearing of protests; reconsideration by advisory board; notice.—At the dates and places fixed for hearing protests any party may appear, either in person or by attorney or other representative, or may file a written protest with the advisory board, which thereupon will reconsider its previous recommendation in the light of the protest and make a final recommendation to the Division of Grazing. If such recommendation is favorable to the applicant, the Division will so notify him by ordinary mail. If the recommendation is adverse, notice thereof will be served on the applicant either personally by the regional grazier, or someone designated by the regional grazier for that purpose, or by registered letter sent to the address given by the applicant in his application for grazing license.

At the conclusion of the meeting held for the purpose of considering protests, a list of all recommendations which are different from the first recommendations of the advisory board shall be posted at the board's place of meeting.

3. Allowance or rejection of application by regional grazier; modification; notice; appeal to examiner.—The regional grazier is vested with authority, in his discretion and in the light of all facts and circumstances, to issue or refuse to issue a grazing license. If a license is refused or issued in modified form, a notice, including a recital of specific reasons for the action taken, will be served on the applicant either personally by the regional grazier, or by such person as may have been by him designated, or by registered letter sent to the address given by the applicant in his application for grazing license. Such notice will advise the applicant of his privilege to file an appeal to an examiner of the Division of Grazing in the local office of the Division within fifteen (15) days following receipt of notice. Such appeal shall be accompanied by specifications of error setting forth in a clear and concise manner the matters upon which it is based. Any other interested party, including local organizations of stockmen, may file a request for permission to be heard in the appeal and shall serve the appellant with a copy of such request. Such a party shall be known and designated as an intervenor.

4. Fixing of place and date for hearing before examiner on appeal; notice.—Upon the filing of the appeal and specifications of error, the regional grazier will fix a place within or near the district and a date at which a hearing will be held by one of such representatives of the Division of Grazing as may have been designated by the Director of Grazing to conduct hearings. Such representative, however, shall be one other than the regional grazier from whose decision the appeal is taken. For the purpose of the hearing, such representative of the Division of Grazing shall be known and designated as an examiner. The date for such hearing shall be ten (10) days or more after the date of filing of the appeal. Notice of the place and date of hearing will be given to the appellant and to all intervenors of record at the time of notice.

5. Authority of examiner.—The examiner is vested with general authority to conduct the hearing in an orderly and judicial manner, including authority to subpoena witnesses and to administer oaths, to call and question witnesses, and to make a finding of fact and a decision.

6. Conduct of hearing before examiner.—The appellant, the regional grazier, and recognized intervenors may stipulate the issue or issues involved in the case and so far as possible all material facts. Documentary evidence also may be entered by stipulation. The regional grazier, or his representative, will then state the grounds of the decision from which the appeal has been taken, together with such explanation as may be deemed necessary, and will call and examine such witnesses on the issues involved as the examiner may request. Upon the conclusion of this testimony the appellant shall present his case, following which intervenors, in the discretion of the examiner, may present evidence. All oral testimony shall be under oath, and witnesses will be subject to cross-examination by any party. The examiner will himself question any witness whenever it appears necessary. Objections to evidence will be duly noted, but not ruled upon, by the examiner, and such objections will be considered upon an appeal from the decision of the examiner. The examiner will, however, summarily stop examination which is obviously irrelevant and may summarize objections for the record and limit their repetition.

7. Finding and recommendation of examiner; notice.—Within ten (10) days following the conclusion of the hearing the examiner will make a finding of fact and a decision, which shall become a part of the record on appeal, and a copy of which shall be sent by registered mail to the appellant and to all the intervenors.

8. Notices of appeal; furnishing copies of record.—Within ten (10) days after the receipt of the decision of the examiner any party desiring to appeal shall file a written notice of his intention to appeal and may request a copy of the transcript of testimony. Such transcript shall be furnished without charge to the appellant, and one copy may also be furnished to the intervenors. The intervenors' copy will be delivered to whosoever is designated by them or, in the event of disagreement, to the intervenor designated by the examiner. Such notice of appeal and request for a copy of the transcript shall be filed in the office of the chief examiner, Division of Grazing, Department of the Interior, Salt Lake City, Utah.

9. Appeals to the Secretary of the Interior.—An appeal from the decision of the examiner to the Secretary of the Interior shall be filed, together with any brief desired in support thereof, within 30 days after date of receipt of the transcript of the testimony, in the office of the chief examiner, Division of Grazing, Department of the Interior, Salt Lake City, Utah. The appeal in other respects shall be made in accordance with the Rules of Practice of the Department of the Interior in effect at the time such appeal is taken.

Bureau of Animal Industry.

[Amendment 3 to B. A. I. Order 357]

AMENDMENT TO RULES AND REGULATIONS WITH RESPECT TO STOCKYARD OWNERS, MARKET AGENCIES, DEALERS, AND LICENSEES

REGISTRATION BY MARKET DEALERS; APPLICATIONS FOR LICENSES

MAY 17, 1937.

Under authority of the act of Congress approved August 15, 1921 (U. S. C., title 7, secs. 181–229), as amended by the act approved August 14, 1935 (U. S. C., sup. I, title 7, secs. 218–218d), the general rules and regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture with respect to stockyard owners, market agencies, dealers, and licensees (B. A. I. Order 357), issued November 9, 1935, effective November 25, 1935, are hereby amended as hereinafter set forth.

Amendment 2 to B. A. I. Order 357 is hereby revoked and in lieu thereof the following regulation to be designated as regulation 3 is prescribed:

3. (a) Registration (sec. 303, title III) by market agencies and dealers shall be accomplished by properly filling out and delivering to the Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington, D. C., by mail or otherwise, a form which will be furnished on request for the purpose.

(b) Applications for licenses (sec. 502 (b) title V) may be made by persons subject to the licensing provisions of the amendment by properly filling out and delivering to the Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington, D. C., by mail or otherwise, a form of application, which will be furnished by said Bureau upon request. The Secretary will issue a license to any applicant furnishing the required information unless he finds after opportunity for a hearing that such applicant is unfit to engage in the activity for which he has made application, or that he is financially unable to fulfill the obligations that he would incur as a licensee. If, after a hearing, it appears that the applicant is financially unable to fulfill his obligations as a licensee, the Secretary may grant applicant a license upon his executing and maintaining a surety bond or satisfactory equivalent thereof, provided such bond or equivalent meets the following standards:

Such bond or equivalent shall be conditioned to secure the performance of the obligations of the licensee incurred as such and may contain such other terms and conditions, not inconsistent with the requirements of these regulations, as may be agreed on between the parties thereto. If a bond is maintained, the surety on such bond shall be a surety company approved by the Treasury Department of the United States for bonds executed to the United States. However, any other form of indemnity which is found by the Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington, D. C., to afford substantially equivalent protection may be accepted in lieu of a bond. Whenever, in the judgment of the Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington, D. C., the condition of the business of any licensee is such as to render his bond or equivalent inadequate, the same shall, upon notice, be adjusted to meet the requirements of this regulation.

Any surety bond or equivalent shall contain a provision requiring that at least 10 days prior notice in writing be given to the Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington, D. C., by the party terminating such bond or equivalent in order to effect such termination.

Fully executed duplicates of bonds or equivalents shall be filed with the Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington, D. C.

This amendment, which is designated as Amendment 3 to B. A. I. Order 357, shall become and be effective on May 18, 1937.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 17th day of May, 1937. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION.

INSTRUCTIONS GOVERNING PROCEEDINGS UNDER THE MOTOR CARRIER ACT, 1935

MAY 10, 1937.

The Commission has adopted the following special instructions governing proceedings under the Motor Carrier Act, 1935.

1. Except as indicated in these special instructions, proceedings under the Motor Carrier Act, 1935, are governed by the applicable or analogous provisions of the Commission's Rules of Practice.

2. When, in the Rules of Practice, reference is made to commissioners or examiners, it will be understood that the reference also includes a special board composed of State representatives (herein called "joint board") to whom matters have been referred pursuant to section 205 of the act for hearing, consideration, and recommendation of an appropriate order thereon (herein called "referred matter"). Those to whom matters are so referred will be called referees.

3. A referee may not grant leave to amend or file any pleadings, or to intervene, in a referred matter, upon application tendered at the hearing, if thereby the issues would be unduly broadened, or if thereby the issues would be so narrowed as to make the referred matter one which should properly be referred to a different referee.

4. Formal complaints must be filed with the Commission at Washington and should be accompanied by a statement of the point at which hearing is desired. They should specifically name the States in which the assailed rates, fares, or charges apply. Addresses of all defendants should be shown in order to insure proper service. Sufficient copies must accompany each formal complaint to enable the Commission to serve one upon each defendant, to supply one to the State board of each State included within the scope of the complaint, and to retain three for its own use.

5. Informal complaints may be communicated to the Commission at Washington or at the nearest district office of the Bureau of Motor Carriers of the Commission.[1]

6. Protests against applications under any provisions of the Motor Carrier act, 1935, or any requirement established pursuant thereto, must conform to the requirements of rule XXI of the Rules of Practice. They must contain a concise statement of the interest of the protestant in the proceeding and the grounds upon which the protest is based, and when practicable each ground of protest should be set up in separately numbered paragraphs.

7. In shortened procedure cases sufficient copies of memoranda should be submitted to enable the Commission to retain five copies, in addition to the original, for use by itself and the referees, and to make service upon each party previously designated to receive copies.

[1] District offices, numbered as follows, are maintained at the following points: 1, Boston, Mass.; 2, New York, N. Y.; 3, Philadelphia, Pa.; 4, Pittsburgh, Pa.; 5, Charlotte, N. C.; 6, Atlanta, Ga.; 7, Nashville, Tenn.; 8, Chicago, Ill.; 9 Minneapolis Minn.; 10, Kansas City, Mo.; 11, Little Rock, Ark.; 12, Fort Worth, Tex.; 13, Denver Colo.; 14, Salt Lake City, Utah; 15, Portland, Oreg.; 16, San Francisco, Calif.

8. In referred matters, which are governed so far as applicable by the usual procedure of the Commission as to "proposed report" cases (Rule XIV of the Rules of Practice), the referee will fix the time for the simultaneous filing of briefs; and after the expiration of such time will file with the Commission a report and recommended order containing the statement of the issues and facts and the findings and recommended conclusions, which will be served by the Commission. Exceptions may be taken as provided by Rule XIV (d) 4 of the Rules of Practice. If no exceptions are filed within the period allowed the referee's recommended order shall become the order of the Commission and become effective unless within such period it is stayed or postponed by the Commission. If exceptions are filed within the period allowed the Commission will grant such review or make such orders or hold or authorize such further hearings or proceedings in the premises as may be necessary or proper. In all cases where an order becomes effective within the meaning of this rule a notice to that effect will be served on the parties.

9. A petition for rehearing, reargument, or reconsideration of an order entered in proceedings under the provisions of sections 206, 209, or 211 of the act, whereby applicants, after formal hearing, have been granted a certificate, permit, or license, must be filed within 30 days after service of the final report therein, or after service of notice that the recommended order of the referee has become effective, and the date of mailing of the report or notice to the parties shall be considered as the date of the service.

10. Whenever the Commission orders, without hearing, that a certificate of public convenience and necessity or a permit, under sections 206 or 209 of the act shall be issued and become effective on a designated date unless on the Commission's own motion or for good cause shown it is otherwise ordered, petitions for the staying of the order or for the withholding of the issuance of such certificate or permit, or other objection thereto, must be in writing, which shall contain a statement of the grounds relied upon, and be verified by one having knowledge of the facts therein stated. Such petition or objection shall be filed at the office of the Commission in Washington at least 10 days prior to the date designated in the order for the issuance of such certificate or permit.

11. Applications under the Motor Carrier Act, 1935, for certificates, permits, and licenses, for substitution of prospective purchaser, for transfer of certificates and permits, for determination of status, and for authority to consolidate, merge, acquire control, and to issue or assume obligation with respect to securities (including the reporting of action taken pursuant to authority granted), shall be in the form and contain the information called for on the appropriate form for each purpose as provided in the appendix hereto, and shall be filed and served, and shall otherwise conform to the instructions contained on the pertinent form.

APPLICATION OF RATES

Item No. 5 [2]—Commodity Rates Applicable to Intermediate Points.—Subject to the provisions of Notes 1, 2, 3 and 4 below, to any point of destination to which a commodity rate on a given article from a given point of origin and via a given route is not named in this tariff, which point is intermediate to a point to which a commodity rate on said article is published in this tariff via a route through the intermediate point over which such commodity rate applies from the same point of origin, apply to such intermediate point from such point of origin and via such route the commodity rate in this tariff on said article to the next point beyond to which a commodity rate is published herein on that article from the same point of origin via the same route.

NOTE 1.—When by reason of branch or diverging lines, there are two or more "next beyond" points, apply the rate to the next point beyond (in this tariff) which on that article from the same point of origin via the same route results in the lowest charge.

NOTE 2.—If the intermediate point is located between two points to which commodity rates on the same article via the same route are published in this tariff, apply via that route to the intermediate point the rate to the next point in either direction which results in the higher charge. In applying this note, if there are two or more next beyond points due to branch or diverging lines, eliminate all such next beyond points except the point to which the lowest charge is applicable.

NOTE 3.—If the class rate on the same article via the same route to the intermediate point produces a lower charge than would result from applying the commodity rate under this rule, such commodity rate will not apply.

NOTE 4.—If there is in any other tariff a commodity rate on the same article to the intermediate destination point applicable over the same route from the same point of origin the provisions of this rule are not applicable to such intermediate destination point.

IN THE MATTER OF AN OFFERING SHEET OF A ROYALTY INTEREST IN THE TIDEWATER-SHAFFER FARM, FILED ON MAY 11, 1937, BY LEIGH J. SESSIONS CORPORATION, RESPONDENT

SUSPENSION ORDER, ORDER FOR HEARING (UNDER RULE 340 (A)) AND ORDER DESIGNATING TRIAL EXAMINER

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and therefore alleging, that the offering sheet described in the title hereof and filed by the respondent named therein is incomplete or inaccurate in the following material respects, to wit:

(1) In that the date upon which the information contained in the offering sheet will be out of date, as set forth in Division I, paragraph 8, is not correct;

(2) In that the number of barrels of oil which must be produced before the smallest fractional interest proposed to be offered will be entitled to receive one barrel does not appear to be correctly set forth in the statement made in Division II, Item 1;

(3) In that the statement made in Division II, Item 8 (a), may not be correct by reason of the fact that the Tidewater Oil Company appears to be the operator of the lease and might, therefore, not be the purchaser of the oil produced from the tract involved; and for that reason it appears that all payments made by the purchaser of the oil are paid to the investor in an indirect manner, which condition, if true, necessitates the inclusion in the offering sheet of the text and statements required to be given in Division II, Item 8 (d), (i) to (v) inclusive;

(4) In that the information given in Division II, Item 18 (a) (iv), is not believed to be correct by reason of the fact that the plat shows well #2 is a drilling well;

It is ordered, pursuant to Rule 340 (a) of the Commission's General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that the effectiveness of the filing of said offering sheet be, and hereby is, suspended until the 17th day of June, 1937; that an opportunity for hearing be given to the said respondent for the purpose of determining the material completeness or accuracy of the said offering sheet in the respects in which it is herein alleged to be incomplete or inaccurate, and whether the said order of suspension shall be revoked or continued; and

It is further ordered that Charles S. Lobingier, an officer of the Commission be, and hereby is, designated as trial examiner to preside at such hearing, to continue or adjourn the said hearing from time to time, to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, consider any amendments to said offering sheet as may be filed prior to the conclusion of the hearing, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law; and

It is further ordered that the taking of testimony in this proceeding commence on the 2nd day of June, 1937, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon, at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C., and continue thereafter at such times and places as said examiner may designate.

Upon the completion of testimony in this matter the examiner is directed to close the hearing and make his report to the Commission.

SUSPENSION ORDER, ORDER FOR HEARING (UNDER RULE 340 (A)) AND ORDER DESIGNATING TRIAL EXAMINER

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and therefore alleging, that the offering sheet described in the title hereof and filed by the respondent named therein is incomplete or inaccurate in the following material respects, to wit:

(1) In that portions of three of the copies of the offering sheet filed with the Commission are illegible, and for that reason it is impossible to determine whether the statements therein made are in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Commission;

(2) In that because of the conflicting information given by the figures set forth in Division II, Items 16 (c) and (d), and the note thereunder, it is not possible to determine that the smallest fractional interest proposed to be offered, as set forth in Division II, Item 1, is correct;

(3) In that the information given in Division II, Item 13, relative to the approximate number of producing wells in the field, may not be correct;

(4) In that the total production of oil from the tract, as set forth in Division II, Item 15, may not be correct by reason of the fact that the figures given in this item do not agree with the gross production, by months, as disclosed by Division II, Item 16 (a);

(5) In that the text and statement required to be given in Division II, Item 19, if a Division III is not included as a part of the offering sheet, are omitted; nor is a Division III included;

(6) In that the date as of which the information is given by Exhibit A is omitted; nor is the scale of the property included as a part of said Exhibit A;

It is ordered, pursuant to Rule 340 (a) of the Commission's General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that the effectiveness of the filing of said offering sheet be, and hereby is, suspended until the 17th day of June, 1937; that an opportunity for hearing be given to the said respondent for the purpose of determining the material completeness or accuracy of the said offering sheet in the respects in which it is herein alleged to be incomplete or inaccurate, and whether the said order of suspension shall be revoked or continued; and

It is further ordered that the taking of testimony in this proceeding commence on the 2nd day of June, 1937, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon, at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. ## DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

NEGOTIATION OF TRADE AGREEMENT WITH CZECHOSLOVAKIA CONTEMPLATED

MAY 7, 1937.

Pursuant to section 4 of an act of Congress approved June 12, 1934, entitled "An Act to Amend the Tariff Act of 1930", as amended, and Executive Order No. 6750, of June 27, 1934, the Secretary of State announced today that this Government contemplates the negotiation of a trade agreement with Czechoslovakia, and invited interested persons to submit suggestions as to the products that should be considered.

This preliminary announcement, which is made with a view to obtaining suggestions from interested persons in the early stages of the discussions, should not be confused with notice of intention to negotiate. Notice of intention to negotiate will be issued at a later date, after receipt of the proposals of the Government of Czechoslovakia, at which time there will also be made public a list of products on which the United States will consider granting concessions to Czechoslovakia (whether in the form of reductions in import duties or binding of existing tariff treatment).

Suggestions as to products to be considered in the negotiations with Czechoslovakia may concern either exports or imports. Exact technical descriptions of the products in question should be given, including, so far as possible, their nomenclature in the tariff laws of the importing country. These suggestions may be submitted in any form, and need not be under oath. They should be addressed to the Chairman of the Committee for Reciprocity Information, 7th and F Streets, N. W., Washington, D. C., and should reach the Committee not later than June 6, 1937.

Suggestions received by the Committee for Reciprocity Information will be distributed promptly to all agencies of the trade-agreements organization for use in the preparation of lists of commodities that may be involved in the negotiations. The list of products upon which the United States will consider the granting of concessions to Czechoslovakia will be published as part of the notice of intention to negotiate. Notice of intention to negotiate, as has been done in the case of other countries, will also indicate dates for the submission of briefs and applications for oral hearings, and the dates on which the customary open hearings will be held. The listing of products will indicate to American producers and importers whether or not particular tariff rates in which they are interested are under consideration. They will thus be saved the trouble of preparing briefs on products of interest to them but which are not expected to be involved in the negotiations.

A detailed compilation showing the merchandise involved in the trade between the United States and Czechoslovakia in 1929 and 1935, prepared in the Division of Foreign Trade Statistics and the Division of Regional Information of the Department of Commerce, may be obtained from the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, or from any of the District Offices of the Department of Commerce, as well as from the Committee for Reciprocity Information or from the Department of State.

To all production credit associations in the states of Oregon, Washington, Montana and Idaho:

Conversion of Class A to Class B stock by Holder.—Your attention is invited to Section 26 (d) of the bylaws adopted by the production credit associations of this district, and to the first paragraph of Section 104 (j) 1 of the Rules and Regulations for Production Credit Associations, both sections reading as follows:

Class A Stock.—Upon the authorization of a loan to a holder of class A stock, the board of directors may permit the conversion of any or all such class A stock at the fair book value thereof (not to exceed par) into class B stock in accordance with such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the corporation so long as it is the holder of any stock of the association.

Instances have been brought to our attention where Class A stockholders have been permitted to convert their class A stockholdings into Class B stock at the time of obtaining a loan although the borrower did not require the full amount of the Class B stock so held after the conversion in connection with his loan. As the corporation is required to prescribe such terms and conditions under which this type of conversion is effected, the conversion of class A stock into class B stock should be limited to the amount necessary to enable the holder to obtain sufficient class B stock for his loan.

There may be cases, of course, in which proper compliance with this principle would result in the ownership by the stockholder borrower of, for example, only one or a fractional share of class A stock and in instances of this kind it is permissible to allow the conversion of the full amount of his class A stockholdings.

Transfer of Class A Stock to Individual Desiring to Become Borrower.—In instances where a class A stockholder arranges to sell and transfer his stock to another individual who intends to convert it into class B stock for use in obtaining an association loan, it is not necessary for the association to request the corporation to issue a class A stock certificate to the transferee-purchaser. Such a class A stock certificate, if it were issued, would be subject to immediate cancelation for the purpose of converting the class A stock to class B stock.

It is only necessary for the transferee of the original class A stock certificate to submit it to the association from which he desires to obtain a loan with an order to convert it into class B stock of the association. The association will thereupon forward such order and certificate to the corporation with a request for cancelation accompanied by proper evidence of the consent of the Board of Directors to the conversion.

The Corporation will record the transaction as transfer agent and the Secretary of the association will issue the Class B stock to the new borrower and make the necessary entries on the association's records. Advice of Stock Transfer, Retirement, or Conversion, Form PCA 112B, will be used covering a transaction of this kind. The transaction will be considered a conversion and the description of the class A stock certificate will be entered in the section headed, "Stock Canceled." In the space provided for stockholder, the association will show the name of the transferee or purchaser of the stock, and immediately underneath the new stockholder's name, the following will be noted "Acquired by Purchase from (original stockholder)". A purchaser of class A stock under the above procedure would be limited to the conversion to Class B stock of only the amount necessary to cover his loan as outlined above.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

National Bituminous Coal Commission.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO PROMULGATE THE BITUMINOUS COAL CODE

Pursuant to act of Congress, entitled "An Act to regulate interstate commerce in bituminous coal, and for other purposes" (Public, No. 48, 75th Cong., 1st Sess.), known as the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, the National Bituminous Coal Commission, by said Act duly established, does hereby give notice of its intention to promulgate and make effective on June 21, 1937, pursuant to section 5 (a) of said Act, the Bituminous Coal Code as provided for in section 4 of said Act.

The Commission finds and hereby declares that the promulgation of said Bituminous Coal Code cannot be accomplished at a date earlier than June 21, 1937, for the reason that the intervening period of time is required:

(a) To permit the preparation and printing of copies of said Bituminous Coal Code and forms of acceptance thereof.

(b) To permit distribution by the Commission of the copies of said code and of the forms of acceptance thereof, as required by said Act, to bituminous coal producers throughout the United States.

(c) To afford the said producers a reasonable opportunity for the consideration of said Bituminous Coal Code and of their acceptance of membership therein, to take such action as may be necessary to authorize the acceptance of such membership in the code, and to execute and file with the Commission such forms of acceptance in the manner hereinafter provided.

The Commission further finds and declares that promulgation of the code at a date earlier than June 21, 1937, would result in undue hardship to producers who might become liable to the tax imposed by subsection (b) of section 3 of the Act without having had a reasonable opportunity to accept the code.

The Bituminous Coal Code to be promulgated by the Commission on June 21, 1937, and to be effective from and after said date, will contain the following conditions and provisions required to be contained therein by section 4 of the Act, and no others, such provisions being intended to regulate interstate commerce in bituminous coal and which shall be applicable only to matters and transactions in or directly affecting interstate commerce in bituminous coal and to be effective as provided in said Act:

BITUMINOUS COAL CODE

Part 1. Organization

(a) Twenty-three district boards of code members shall be organized. Each district board shall consist of not less than three nor more than seventeen members. The number of members of the District board shall, subject to the approval of the Commission, be determined by the majority vote of the district tonnage during the calendar year 1936 represented at a meeting of the code members of the district called for the purpose of such determination and for the election of such district board; and all code members within the district shall be given notice of the time and place of the meeting. All but one of the members of the district board shall be code members or representatives of code members truly representative of all the mines of the district. The number of such producer members shall be an even number. One-half of such producer members shall be elected by the majority in number of the code members of the district represented at the aforesaid meeting. The other producer members shall be elected by votes cast in the proportion of the annual tonnage output of the code members in the district, for the calendar year preceding the date of the election: Provided, That not more than one officer or employee of any code member within a district shall be a member of the district board at the same time. The remaining member of each district board shall be selected by the organization of employees representing the preponderant number of employees in the industry of the district in question. The term of district board members shall be two years and until their successors are elected. The Commission shall have power to remove any member of any district board upon its finding, after due notice and hearing, that said member is guilty of inefficiency, willful neglect of duty, or malfeasance in office.

The district boards shall have power to adopt bylaws and rules of procedure, subject to approval of the Commission, and to appoint officers from within or without their own membership, to fix their terms and compensation, to provide for reports, and to employ such committees, employees, arbitrators, and other persons necessary to effectuate their purposes. Members of the district board shall serve, as such, without compensation but may be reimbursed for their reasonable expenses. The territorial boundaries or limits of the twenty-three districts are set forth in the schedule entitled "Schedule of Districts" and annexed to this code.

Whenever the Commission upon investigation instituted upon its own motion or upon petition of any code member, district board, State or political subdivision thereof, or the consumers' counsel, after hearing finds that the territorial boundaries or limits of any district or minimum-price area are such as to make it substantially impracticable to establish minimum prices in accordance wth all the standards set forth in subsections (a) and (b) of part II of this code, and that a change in such territorial boundaries or limits or a division or consolidation of such districts or minimum-price areas would render the establishment of minimum prices in accordance with all such standards more practicable, it shall by order make such changes, divisions, and consolidations as it finds will substantially aid in such establishment of minimum prices.

(b) The expense of administering this code by the respective district boards shall be borne by the code members in the respective districts, each paying his proportionate share, as assessed, computed on a tonnage basis, in accordance with regulations prescribed by such boards with the approval of the Commission. Such assessments may be collected by the district board by action in any court of competent jurisdiction.

(c) Nothing contained in the Act shall constitute the members of a district board partners for any purpose. Nor shall any member of a district board or officer thereof be liable in any manner to anyone for any act of any other member, officer, agent, or employee of the district board. Nor shall any member or officer of a district board, exercising reasonable diligence in the conduct of his duties under the Act, be liable to anyone for any action or omission to act under the Act except for his own willful misfeasance or for nonfeasance involving moral turpitude.

(d) No action complying with the provisions of this code taken while the Act is in effect, or within sixty days thereafter, by any code member or by any district board, or officer thereof shall be construed to be within the prohibitions of the antitrust laws of the United States.

Part II. Marketing

The Commission shall have power to prescribe for code members minimum and maximum prices, and marketing rules and regulations, as follows:

(a) All code members shall report all spot orders to such statistical bureau hereinafter provided for as may be designated by the Commission and shall file with it copies of all contracts for the sale of coal, copies of all invoices, copies of all credit memoranda, and such other information concerning the preparation, cost, sale, and distribution of coal as the Commission may authorize or require. All such records shall be held by the statistical bureau as the confidential records of the code member filing such information.

For each district there shall be established by the Commission a statistical bureau which shall be operated and maintained as an agency of the Commission. Each statistical bureau shall be under the direction of a manager, who shall be appointed by the Commission. No producer, employee, or representative of a producer, and, except as the Commission may specifically approve, no member of a district board or employee or representative thereof shall be an employee of any statistical bureau.

Each district board shall, from time to time on its own motion or when directed by the Commission, propose minimum prices free on board transportation facilities at the mines for kinds, qualities, and sizes of coal produced in said district, and classifications of coal and price variations as to mines, consuming market areas, values as to uses and seasonal demand. Said prices shall be proposed so as to yield a return per net ton for each district in a minimum price area, as such districts are identified and such area is defined in the subjoined table designated "minimum-price-area table", equal as nearly as may be to the weighted average of the total costs, per net ton, determined as hereinafter provided, of the tonnage of such minimum price area. The computation of the total costs shall include the cost of labor, supplies, power, taxes, insurance, workmen's compensation, royalties, depreciation and depletion (as determined by the Bureau of Internal Revenue in the computation of the Federal income tax) and all other direct expenses of production, coal operators' association dues, district board assessments for Board operating expenses only levied under this code, and reasonable costs of selling and the cost of administration.

MINIMUM-PRICE-AREA TABLE

Area 1: Eastern Pennsylvania, district 1; western Pennsylvania, district 2; northern West Virginia, district 3; Ohio, district 4; Michigan, district 5; Panhandle, district 6; Southern numbered 1, district 7; Southern numbered 2, district 8; that part of Southeastern district 13, comprising Van Buren, Warren, and McMinn Counties in Tennessee.

Area 2: West Kentucky, district 9; Illinois, district 10; Indiana, district 11; Iowa, district 12.

Area 3: Southeastern, district 13, except Van Buren, Warren, and McMinn Counties in Tennessee.

Area 4: Arkansas-Oklahoma, district 14.

Area 5: Southwestern, district 15.

Area 6: Northern Colorado, district 16; southern Colorado, district 17; New Mexico, district 18.

Area 7: Wyoming, district 19; Utah, district 20.

Area 8: North Dakota and South Dakota, district 21.

Area 9: Montana, district 22.

Area 10: Washington and Alaska, district 23.

The minimum prices so proposed shall reflect, as nearly as possible, the relative market value of the various kinds, qualities, and sizes of coal, shall be just and equitable as between producers within the district, and shall have due regard to the interests of the consuming public. The procedure for proposal of minimum prices shall be in accordance with rules and regulations to be approved by the Commission.

A schedule of such proposed minimum prices, together with the data upon which they are computed, including, but without limitation, the factors considered in determining the price relationship, shall be submitted by the district board to the Commission, which may approve, disapprove, or modify such proposed minimum prices to conform to the requirements of this subsection, which shall serve as the basis for the coordination provided for in the succeeding subsection (b): Provided, That all minimum prices proposed for any kind, quality, or size of coal for shipment into any consuming market area shall be just and equitable, as between producers within the district: And provided further, That no minimum price shall be proposed that permits dumping.

As soon as possible after its creation, each district board shall determine, from cost data submitted by the proper statistical bureau of the Commission, the weighted average of the total costs of the ascertainable tonnage produced in the district in the calendar year 1936. The district board shall adjust the average costs so determined, as may be necessary to give effect to any changes in wage rates, hours of employment, or other factors substantially affecting costs, exclusive of seasonal changes, so as to reflect as accurately as possible any change or changes which may have been established since January 1, 1936. Such determination and the computations upon which it is based shall be promptly submitted to the Commission by each district board in the respective minimum-price area. The Commission shall thereupon determine the weighted average of the total costs of the tonnage for each minimum-price area in the calendar year 1936, adjusted as aforesaid, and transmit it to all the district boards within such minimum-price area. Said weighted average of the total costs shall be taken as the basis, to be effective until changed by the Commission, for the proposal and establishment of minimum prices. Thereafter, upon satisfactory proof made at any time by any district board of a change in excess of 2 cents per net ton of two thousand pounds in the weighted average of the total costs in the minimum-price area, exclusive of seasonal changes, the Commission shall increase or decrease the minimum prices accordingly. The weighted average figures of total cost determined as aforesaid shall be available to the public.

Each district board shall, on its own motion or when directed by the Commission, propose reasonable rules and regulations incidental to the sale and distribution, by code members within the district, of coal. Such rules and regulations shall not be inconsistent with the requirements of this code and shall conform to the standards of fair competition hereinafter established. Such rules and regulations shall be submitted by the district board to the Commission with a statement of the reasons therefor, and the Commission may approve, disapprove, or modify the same, for the purpose of coordination.

(b) District boards shall, under rules and regulations established by the Commission, coordinate in common consuming market areas upon a fair competitive basis the minimum prices and the rules and regulations proposed by them, respectively, under subsection (a) of part II of this code. Such coordination, among other factors, but without limitation, shall take into account the various kinds, qualities, and sizes of coal, and transportation charges upon coal. All minimum prices proposed for any kind, quality, or size of coal for shipment into any common consuming market area shall be just and equitable, and not unduly prejudicial or preferential, as between and among districts, shall reflect as nearly as possible, the relative market values, at points of delivery in each common consuming market area, of the various kinds, qualities, and sizes of coal produced in the various districts, taking into account values as to uses, seasonal demand, transportation methods and charges and their effect upon a reasonable opportunity to compete on a fair basis, and the competitive relationships between coal and other forms of fuel and energy; and shall preserve as nearly as may be existing fair competitive opportunities. The minimum prices proposed as a result of such coordination shall not, as to any district, reduce or increase the return per net ton upon all the coal produced therein below or above the minimum return as provided in subsection (a) of part II of this code by an amount greater than necessary to accomplish such coordination, to the end that the return per net ton upon the entire tonnage of the minimum price area shall approximate the weighted average of the total cost per net ton of the tonnage of such minimum price area. Such coordinated prices and rules and regulations, together with the data upon which they are predicated, shall be submitted to the Commission. The Commission shall thereupon establish, and from time to time, upon complaint or upon its own motion, review and revise the effective minimum prices and rules and regulations in accordance with the standards set forth in subsections (a) and (b) of part II of this code.

(c) When, in the public interest, the Commission deems it necessary to establish maximum prices for coal in order to protect the consumer of coal against unreasonably high prices therefor, the Commission shall have the power to establish maximum prices free on board transportation facilities for coal in any district. Such maximum prices shall be established at a uniform increase above the minimum prices in effect within the district at the time, so that in the aggregate the maximum prices shall yield a reasonable return above the weighted average total cost of the district: Provided, That no maximum price shall be established for any mine which shall not yield a fair return on the fair value of the property.

(d) If any code member or district board or member thereof, or any State or political subdivision of a State, or the consumers' counsel, shall be dissatisfied with such coordination of prices or rules and regulations, or by a failure to establish such coordination of prices or rules and regulations, or by any minimum or maximum prices established pursuant to subsections (b) or (c) of part II of this code, he or it shall have the right, by petition, to make complaint to the Commission, and the Commission shall, under rules and regulations established by it, and after notice and hearing, make such order as may be required to effectuate the purpose of subsections (b) and (c) of part II of this code. Pending final disposition of such petition, and upon reasonable showing of necessity therefor, the Commission may make such preliminary or temporary order as in its judgment may be appropriate, and not inconsistent with the provisions of the Act.

(e) No coal subject to the provisions of this code shall be sold or delivered or offered for sale at a price below the minimum or above the maximum therefor established by the Commission, and the sale or delivery or offer for sale of coal at a price below such minimum or above such maximum shall constitute a violation of this code: Provided, That the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to a lawful and bona fide written contract entered into prior to June 16, 1933.

The making of a contract for the sale of coal at a price below the minimum or above the maximum therefor established by the Commission at the time of the making of the contract shall constitute a violation of this code, and such contract shall be invalid and unenforceable.

From and after the date of approval of the Act, until prices shall have been established pursuant to subsections (a) and (b) of part II of this code, no contract for the sale of coal shall be made providing for delivery for a period longer than thirty days from the date of the contract.

No contract shall be made for the sale of coal for delivery after the expiration date of the Act at a price below the minimum or above the maximum therefor established by the Commission and in effect at the time of making the contract.

The minimum prices established in accordance with the provisions of this code shall not apply to coal sold and shipped outside the domestic market. The domestic market shall include all points within the continental United States and Canada, and car-ferry shipments to the island of Cuba. Bunker coal delivered to steamships for consumption thereon shall be regarded as shipped within the domestic market. Maximum prices established in accordance with the provisions of this code shall not apply to coal sold and shipped outside the continental United States.

(f) All data, reports, and other information in the possession of any agency of the United States in relation to coal shall be available to the Commission and to the office of the consumers' counsel for the administration of the Act.

(g) The price provisions of the Act shall not be evaded or violated by or through the use of docks or other storage facilities or transportation facilities, or by or through the use of subsidiaries, affiliated sales or transportation companies or other intermediaries or instrumentalities, or by or through the absorption, directly or indirectly, of any transportation or incidental charge of whatsoever kind or character, or any part thereof. The Commission is hereby authorized, after investigation and hearing, and upon notice to the interested parties, to make and issue rules and regulations to make this subsection effective.

(h) The Commission shall, by order, prescribe due and reasonable maximum discounts or price allowances that may be made by code members to persons (whether or not code members), herein referred to as "distributors", who purchase coal for resale and resell it in not less than cargo or railroad carload lots; and shall require the maintenance and observance by such persons, in the resale of such coal, of the prices and marketing rules and regulations established under this code.

UNFAIR METHODS OF COMPETITION

(i) The following practices with respect to coal shall be unfair methods of competition and shall constitute violations of this code:

1. The consignment of unordered coal, or the forwarding of coal which has not actually been sold, consigned to the producer or his agent: Provided however, That coal which has not actually been sold may be forwarded, consigned to the producer or his agent at rail or track yards, tidewater ports, river ports, or lake ports, or docks beyond such ports, when for application to any of the following classes: Bunker coal, coal applicable against existing contracts, coal for storage (other than in railroad cars) by the producer or his agent in rail or track yards or on docks, wharves, or other yards for resale by the producer or his agent.

2. The adjustment of claims with purchasers of coal in such manner as to grant secret allowances, secret rebates, or secret concessions, or other price discrimination.

3. The prepayment of freight charges with intent to or having the effect of granting a discriminatory credit allowance.

4. The granting in any form of adjustments, allowances, discounts, credits, or refunds to purchasers or sellers of coal, for the purposes or with the effect of altering retroactively a price previously agreed upon, in such manner as to create price discrimination.

5. The predating or postdating of any invoice or contract for the purchase or sale of coal, except to conform to a bona-fide agreement for the purchase or sale entered into on the predate.

6. The payment or allowance in any form or by any device of rebates, refunds, credits, or unearned discounts, or the extension to certain purchasers of services or privileges not extended to all purchasers under like terms and conditions, or under similar circumstances.

7. The attempt to purchase business, or to obtain information concerning a competitor's business by concession, gifts, or bribes.

8. The intentional misrepresentation of any analysis or of analyses, or of sizes, or the intentional making, causing, or permitting to be made, or publishing, of any false, untrue, misleading, or deceptive statement by way of advertising, invoicing, or otherwise concerning the size, quality, character, nature, preparation, or origin of any coal bought, sold, or consigned.

9. The unauthorized use, whether in written or oral form, of trade-marks, trade names, slogans, or advertising matter already adopted by a competitor, or any deceptive approximation thereof.

10. Inducing or attempting to induce, by any means or device whatsoever, a breach of contract between a competitor and his customer during the term of such contract.

11. Splitting or dividing commissions, brokers' fees, or brokerage discounts, or otherwise in any manner directly or indirectly using brokerage commissions or jobbers' arrangements or sales agencies for making discounts, allowances, or rebates, or prices other than those determined under the Act, to any industrial consumer or to any retailers, or to others, whether of a like or different class.

12. Selling to, or through, any broker, jobber, commission account, or sales agency, which is in fact or in effect an agency or an instrumentality of a retailer or an industrial consumer or of an organization of retailers or industrial consumers, whereby they are[1] any of them secure either directly or indirectly a discount, dividend, allowance, or rebates, or a price other than that determined in the manner prescribed by the Act.

13. Employing any person or appointing any sales agent, at a compensation obviously disproportionate to the ordinary value of the service or services rendered, and whose employment or appointment is made with the primary intention and purpose of securing preferment with a purchaser or purchasers of coal.

It shall not be an unfair method of competition or a violation of this code or any requirement of the Act (1) to sell to or through any bona-fide and legitimate farmers' cooperative organization duly organized under the laws of any State, Territory, the District of Columbia, or the United States whether or not such organization grants rebates, discounts, patronage dividends, or other similar benefits to its members; (2) to sell through any intervening agency to any such cooperative organization; or (3) to pay or allow to any such cooperative organization or to any such intervening agency any discount, commission, rebate, or dividend ordinarily paid or allowed, or permitted by this code to be paid or allowed, to other purchasers for purchases in wholesale or middleman quantities.

(j) The Commission shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine written complaints made by any code member, district board, or member thereof, State or political subdivision of a State, or the consumers' counsel, which charge any violation of this code specified in part II thereof. It shall make and publish rules and regulations for the consideration and hearing of any such complaint, and all interested parties shall be required to conform thereto. The Commission shall make due effort toward adjustment of such complaints and shall endeavor to compose the differences of the parties, and shall make such order or orders in the premises, from time to time, as the facts and the circumstances warrant. Any such order shall be subject to review as are other orders of the Commission.

[1] So in original act.

(k) In the investigation of any complaint or violation of this code, or of any rule or regulation the observance of which is required under the terms hereof, the Commission shall have power by order to require such reports from, and shall be given access to inspect the books and records of, code members to the extent deemed necessary for the purpose of determining the complaint. Any such order shall be subject to review as are other orders of the Commission.

(l) The provisions of this code shall not apply to coal consumed by the producer or to coal transported by the producer to himself for consumption by him.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

ADOPTION OF ORDER NO. 29

ORDER NO. 29

The Telegraph Division having under consideration the provisions of Public No. 97, an Act to amend the Communications Act of 1934 for the purpose of promoting safety of life and property at sea through the use of wire and radio communications, to make more effective the International Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea, 1929, and for other purposes, approved by the President on May 20, 1937, which Act became effective upon approval; and having been authorized and directed as set forth in Minute No. 512 of the Federal Communications Commission of May 12, 1937; and

Whereas, Public No. 97 has for one of its purposes "to make more effective the International Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea, 1929", and authorizes the Commission to make rules and regulations and prescribe restrictions and conditions to carry out the provisions of the Act and the Safety Convention; and

Whereas, pursuant to said Convention the Commission has heretofore issued its Ship Radiotelegraph Safety Instructions of October 1, 1936, as amended March 10, 1937; and

Whereas, pursuant to Article 28 of said Convention, the Commission on March 10, 1937, granted an extension of exemption from the requirements of a continuous watch on cargo ships of the United States, subject to said Convention, of 5500 gross tons or over, to and including August 6, 1937, provided that such ships maintain during that period a radio watch, by means of a licensed operator of the proper grade, or at least eight hours per day in the aggregate; and without removing or altering the requirements of the Ship Act of 1910, as amended, with regard to such vessels; and

Whereas, Public No. 97 extends to all cargo ships of 1600 gross tons or over continuous radio watch requirements as imposed by the Safety Convention on cargo vessels of 5500 gross tons or over, provided, however, that such vessels if fitted with an auto-alarm approved by the Commission shall maintain, by means of a licensed operator of the proper grade, a watch of at least eight hours per day in the aggregate; and

Whereas, the Telegraph Division on March 10, 1937, entered its Order No. 28 conditionally approving certain automatic alarm devices, being Radiomarine Corporation of America "Model AR-8600 auto-alarm" and "Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company auto-alarm Type 101-A manufactured by Federal Telegraph Company", subject to certain restrictions, said Order being made effective as of July 10, 1937; and

Whereas, Public No. 97 provides that subject to certain conditions the Commission may defer any or all the requirements of installation and operation of ship radio equipment, maintenance of watches by means of operators and installations on life boats for a period not to exceed six months after approval in regard to any classes of ships of the United States not subject to the provisions of the Safety Convention if it is found impracticable to obtain the necessary equipment or make the required installations; and

Whereas, the Commission finds that it is not impracticable for all passenger vessels or for those cargo vessels of 1600 gross tons or over which engage in intercoastal voyages through the Panama Canal or in voyages between the United States and any of its possessions, over-seas territories, protectorates or territories under suzerainty or mandate to obtain the necessary equipment or to make the required installations; and

Whereas, the Commission finds that it is impracticable for certain other cargo vessels of 1600 gross tons or over to obtain the necessary equipment or to make the required installations immediately; and

Whereas, some cargo vessels of 1600 gross tons or over have been required by law to maintain or have voluntarily maintained radio equipment, hours of radio watch and other safety measures and the Commission is of the opinion that it is not impracticable or unreasonable for such vessels to continue to maintain such equipment, watches, or other safety measures, if such vessels desire to take advantage of the exemption; and

Whereas, Public No. 97 repeals such part or parts of the Ship Act of 1910 as amended as relate to the ocean and steamers navigating thereon, but in all other respects said Act is continued in full force and effect;

It is therefore ordered that the Ship Radiotelegraph Safety Instructions of October 1, 1936, as amended March 10, 1937, are hereby superseded by the Ship Radiotelegraph Safety Rules, a copy of these Rules being attached to and made a part of this Order, and being applicable to all vessels which are subject to the requirements of Public No. 97, or the Safety Convention, subject, however, to the exemption hereinafter ordered; and

It is further ordered that the exemption from the requirement of a continuous radio watch to and including August 6, 1937, heretofore granted by this Commission to cargo vessels of 5500 gross tons or over subject to the requirements of the Safety Convention shall remain in effect, subject to the same terms and conditions imposed by the Commission in granting the extension of exemption of March 10, 1937, and said exemption is hereby extended to all cargo ships of 1600 gross tons or over, subject to the same terms and conditions as those heretofore prescribed for cargo vessels of 5500 goss tons or over, for the period to and including August 6, 1937;

Provided, however, that such exemption from the requirement of a continuous radio watch in the case of each vessel to which it may apply, shall be conditioned upon the continued maintenance by such vessel of all radio equipment, hours of watch, and other safety measures in effect or in operation on board same either by law or voluntary action on the date of the approval of Public No. 97;

Provided further, that all ships not subject to the provisions of the Safety Convention except passenger ships are hereby exempted from such requirements of Sections 351 to 355, inclusive of Public No. 97 as relate to the obtaining of equipment or making the required installations, until August 6, 1937;

Provided further, that the limitations as to vessels coming within the requirements of the Ship Act contained in the extension of exemption granted on March 10, 1937, which exemption is hereinabove continued in effect, are no longer in effect in so far as they relate to the ocean and steamers navigating thereon, but are continued in force with regard to vessels navigating the Great Lakes;

Provided further, that no exemption hereinabove provided for shall apply to any passenger ship as defined in Public No. 97; and Provided further, that the exemption from maintaining a continuous watch shall not be construed as exempting any vessel engaged in intercoastal voyages through the Panama Canal or engaged in voyages between the United States and any of its possessions, over-seas territories, protectorates or territories under suzerainty or mandate from making the required installations or from maintaining a radio watch, by means of a licensed operator of the proper grade, of at least eight hours per day in the aggregate."

By order of the Commission, Telegraph Division.

SHIP RADIOTELEGRAPH SAFETY RULES

(Adopted pursuant to the Communications Act of 1934 as amended, and as further amended by Public No. 97, approved May 20, 1937)

MAY 21, 1937.

1. Effective Date.—These rules, exclusive of the rules contained in Appendix I, may be cited as the "Ship Radiotelegraph Safety Rules", and became effective on May 21, 1937. These rules supersede the Ship Radiotelegraph Safety Instructions of October 1, 1936, and amendments thereto of March 10, 1937, and May 4, 1937.

2. Ships to Which These Rules Apply.—Except as provided in paragraph 3, these Ship Radiotelegraph Safety Rules apply to all United States ships navigated in the open sea outside of a harbor or port, and all United States and foreign ships which leave or attempt to leave any harbor or port of the United States for a voyage in the open sea, other than a cargo ship of less than 1600 gross tons. Owners, operating agencies, and masters of such ships shall comply with the requirements hereinafter specified.

3. Exceptions.—The provisions of these Rules shall not apply to:

(a) A ship of war;

(b) A ship of the United States belonging to and operated by the Government, except a ship of the United States Maritime Commission, the Inland and Coastwise Waterways Service, or the Panama Railroad Company;

(c) A foreign ship belonging to a country which is a party to the Safety Convention and which ship carries a valid certificate exempting said ship from the radio provisions of that Convention, or which ship conforms to the radio requirements of such Convention or Regulations and has on board a valid certificate to that effect;

(d) Yachts of less than six-hundred gross tons not subject to the radio provisions of the Safety Convention;

(e) Vessels in tow;

(f) A vessel navigating solely on the Great Lakes,[1] or on any bays, sounds, rivers, or protected waters within the jurisdiction of the United States, or to a vessel leaving or attempting to leave any harbor or port of the United States for a voyage solely on the Great Lakes, or on any bays, sounds, rivers, or protected waters within the jurisdiction of the United States.

4. Definitions.—Unless the context otherwise requires, the expressions used herein have the meaning hereby assigned to them:

(a) "Safety Convention" means the International Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea, London, 1929, and the regulations referred to therein.

(b) "Passenger" is any person carried on board a ship or vessel except

(1) the officers and crew actually employed to man and operate the ship,

(2) persons employed to carry on the business of the ship, and

(3) persons on board a ship when they are carried, either because of the obligation laid upon the master to carry shipwrecked, distress, or other persons in like or similar situations or by reason of any circumstances over which neither the master, the owner, nor the charterer (if any) has control.

(c) The term "person" as used in these rules means any person carried on board a ship, including officers and crew.

(d) A "ship" or "vessel" includes every description of watercraft or other artificial contrivance, except aircraft, used or capable of being used as a means of transportation on water, whether or not it is actually afloat.

(e) A ship shall be considered a passenger ship if it carries or is licensed or certificated to carry more than twelve passengers.

(f) "Cargo ship" means any ship which is not a passenger ship.

(g) The term "radio watch" or "watch" as used in these Safety Rules means the service performed by a qualified operator when on duty in the radio room of a vessel listening continuously for signals of other stations transmitting on the international calling and distress frequency,[2] 500 kc, except when such operator, subject to authority of the master, is engaged in transmitting or receiving signals or messages on any authorized frequency, to or from any station in the maritime mobile service. Regardless of message traffic and signals, however, (except distress, urgent, or safety signals and messages) the operator shall listen on 500 kc at least twice per hour during the international silent period for three minutes, beginning at 15 minutes and at 45 minutes past each hour, Greenwich mean time, as specified by Article 19, paragraph 2, of the General Radio Regulations annexed to the International Telecommunication Convention, Madrid, 1932.

(h) A "qualified operator" or "operator" on a ship of the United States means a person holding a radio operator's license of the proper class, as prescribed and issued by the Commission.[3]

(i) A "qualified operator" or "operator" on a foreign ship means a person holding a certificate as such complying with the provisions of the General Radio Regulations annexed to the International Telecommunication Convention, Madrid, 1932, or complying with an agreement or treaty between the United States and the country to which the ship belongs.

(j) "Harbor" or "port" means any place to which ships may resort for shelter or to load or unload passengers or goods, or to obtain fuel, water, or supplies. This term shall apply to such places whether proclaimed public or not and whether natural or artificial.

(k) An "international voyage" is a voyage from a country to which the Safety Convention applies to a port outside such country, or conversely; and for this purpose every colony, overseas territory, protectorate or territory under suzerainty or mandate, is regarded as a separate country.

(l) "Commission" means the Federal Communications Commission.

(m) 1. "Auto-alarm"[4] on a foreign ship means an automatic alarm receiver which has been approved by the country to which the ship belongs, provided the United States and the country to which the ship belongs are both parties to the same treaty, convention, or agreement prescribing the requirements for such apparatus.

2. "Auto-alarm" on a ship of the United States subject to the provisions of these rules means an automatic alarm receiver complying with law and approved by the Commission.

[1] Such part or parts of the Act entitled "An Act to require apparatus and operators for radio communication on certain ocean steamers" approved June 24, 1910, as amended, (generally known as the "Ship Act") as relate to the ocean and to steamers navigating thereon, were repealed by Section 602 (e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended by Public No. 97 approved May 20, 1937. In all other respects said Act is continued in full force and effect. See also Rule 284 (d) in Appendix I.

[2] The distress frequency on the Great Lakes is 410 kc.

[3] Rules 420 to 448 of the general rules of the Commission relate to the qualifications of radio operators.

[4] Section 3 (x) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended by Public No. 97 approved May 20, 1937, reads in part as follows: "Nothing in this Act, or in any other provision of law shall be construed to require the recognition of an auto-alarm as complying with Part II of Title III of this Act on a foreign ship subject to such part, whose country of origin is not a party to a treaty, convention, or agreement with the United States in regard to such apparatus."

5. Certificates[5].—

(a) Every ship of the United States to which the Safety Convention applies[6] shall comply with the radio and communications provisions of said Convention at all times while the vessel is in use, in addition to all other requirements of law, and shall have on board an appropriate certificate as prescribed herein.

(b) The Safety Certificate (for passenger ships) and the Safety Radiotelegraphy Certificate (for cargo ships) showing compliance with the radio provisions of the Safety Convention will be issued by the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, Department of Commerce.

(c) The issuance of these certificates will be contingent upon compliance with the provisions of these rules as determined by an inspection by the Commission of the radiotelegraph installation on the ship in question. Following the inspection, the radio particulars will be certified by the Commission to the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation for insertion in the Certificate.

(d) An Exemption Certificate granting to a particular ship an exemption from the radio requirements of the Safety Convention will be issued by the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation upon certification to the Bureau by the Commission after determination by the Commission as hereinafter specified.

(e) The decision of the Commission in all matters affecting the use of radio on board ships subject to the provisions hereof will be final subject to review only in accordance with law.

(f) If the holder of a Safety Certificate or a Safety Radiotelegraphy Certificate violates the provisions of the Safety Convention, or of the Communications Act, or the rules, regulations, or conditions prescribed by the Commission, and if the effective administration of the Safety Convention or of the Communications Act so requires, the Commission, after hearing in accordance with law, may request the modification or cancellation of such Certificate by the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation of the Department of Commerce.

(g) The responsibility for initiating action preliminary to obtaining a Safety, Safety Radiotelegraphy, or Exemption Certificate, rests upon the ship owner, ship operating agency, licensee of the ship station, and master.

[5] Instructions governing procedure when in foreign ports—

(a) Ships of the United States subject to the Safety Convention in ports of any of the foreign countries parties to the Safety Convention (See Appendix I) may expect to be required by local authorities to exhibit a Safety Certificate, a Safety Radiotelegraphy Certificate, or an Exemption Certificate relating to radio issued by the Government of the United States. Lacking a Certificate, or if the local authorities, upon inspection, find that the ship does not comply with the terms of the Certificate or the Safety Convention, the ship will then be subject to the laws of the country concerned applicable to such a case.

(b) In the event any ship owner or ship operating agency has a cargo vessel in foreign waters, for which a Safety Radiotelegraphy Certificate is desired and which cannot be made available to the Commission for inspection, a letter outlining the circumstances should be directed to the Commission. Appropriate instructions will be issued upon receipt of such letter. If circumstances will not permit of this procedure while the ship is in a port of one of the countries parties to the Safety Convention, the Master of the ship may apply to a United States consul in that country to request the appropriate local Government authorities to make the required inspection and issue a Safety Radiotelegraphy Certificate, or, in case of a passenger vessel, complete the radio particulars on the Safety Certificate. The consul should request that the Certificate contain the following clause: "Good only until this vessel reaches a port of the continental United States, but in any event for a period not exceeding five months." Such certificates issued under the authority of the foreign government will be accorded the same force as certificates issued by the United States.

(c) If a ship at the time a certificate expires is not in a port of the United States, the certificate may be extended by applying to a United States consul but such extension will be granted only for the purpose of allowing the ship to complete its return voyage to its own country. No certificate will be extended for a longer period than five months.

[6] All ships of American registry engaged on international voyages, other than cargo vessels of less than 1600 gross tons, except vessels navigating solely on the Great Lakes or on any bays, sounds, rivers, or protected waters within the jurisdiction of the United States.

6. Inspections.[7]—

(a) Every ship of the United States, to which these Safety Rules apply, shall have its radiotelegraph installation inspected by the Commission at least once each year.

(b) Upon receipt of an application in proper form, the Commission will make the annual inspection, prescribed by paragraph 6 (a) hereof, of the radiotelegraph installation aboard a vessel of the United States subject to these rules. The responsibility for initiating action, preliminary to this inspection, rests upon the ship owner, ship operating agency, ship station licensee, and master.

(c) If, after inspection of a ship station subject to these rules, the Commission is satisfied that all relevant provisions of law, rules and regulations, and the station license, have been complied with, that fact will be certified to on the station license.

(d) In addition to the annual inspection and the inspection preliminary to issuance of a Safety Certificate or a Safety Radiotelegraphy Certificate, other inspections may be made by radio inspectors of the Commission or other authorized Government representatives at frequent intervals, to insure compliance with these provisions.

(e) The radio installation aboard a ship shall be available for inspection by authorized Government representatives at any reasonable time.

7. Station License.—

(a) The Safety Certificate, Safety Radiotelegraphy Certificate, and the Exemption Certificate discussed herein and the procedure for obtaining such certificates are in addition to, and entirely separate and apart from, the ship radio station licenses required under the Communications Act of 1934, as amended. Ships not heretofore required to be equipped with radio installations but which are subject to the present rules must apply for ship radio station licenses in accordance with the existing procedure.

(b) In addition to the provisions normally included in a ship radio station license, the station license of each ship of the United States subject to these Rules will include particulars with reference to the items specifically required thereby.

8. Laws and Treaties.—Nothing herein contained is to be construed as relieving any ship subject to the "Act to require apparatus and operators for radio communication on certain ocean steamers" approved June 24, 1910, as amended by an Act approved July 23, 1912 (the Ship Act), the Communications Act of 1934 as amended, the International Telecommunication Convention, Madrid, 1932, the General Radio Regulations annexed thereto, or any additional Rules and Regulations of the Commission, from full compliance therewith. The Communications Act, the Safety Convention and [7] Instructions Relative to Applications for Inspection of Ship Stations.

Application forms for inspection may be obtained from any office of the Commission, or any office of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, Department of Commerce, and upon completion should be returned to the office of the Inspector-in-Charge of the radio district embracing the port at which it is desired that the inspection be made. A list of the radio districts, giving the address of each Inspector-in-Charge and the ports embraced by each district is attached as Appendix III.

To avoid delays and obviate the necessity for reinspection, the owner should have his radio representative make a preliminary inspection and make such repairs, replacements, additions, and adjustments of the radio installation as may be necessary to insure compliance with these requirements. Failure to comply with this procedure may result in considerable delay ensuing before a ship station license can be endorsed or a recommendation for Safety or Safety Radiotelegraphy Certificate can be forwarded by the Commission to the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation. This possibility of delay arises from the fact that the Commission's ship inspection force is relatively small at the present time and because such inspections are planned in accordance with a definite schedule.

On the date determined upon for inspection by the Commission, the owner must have, in addition to his radio representative, at least one operator, preferably the chief operator, in attendance. In addition, there must be such members of the crew, or other persons as may be necessary to launch the radio-equipped lifeboat(s) and to lower and hoist the ship's antennae. Proper power must be available to operate the equipment.

all present rules are to be construed as supplementing the General Radio Regulations annexed to the International Telecommunication Convention, Madrid, 1932, designated above, in all matters governed by both. However, the provisions of the "Ship Act" now are applicable to vessels only when they are navigated on the Great Lakes.

9. Applications for Exemption.—

(a) An application under oath may be made direct to the Federal Communications Commission at Washington, D. C., requesting that a particular ship be exempt from the provisions of the Safety of Life at Sea Convention; Title III, Part II, of the Communications Act of 1934 as amended, and these Rules. It should describe the ship, or ships, to which it applies, the nature and extent of the voyages for which exemption is claimed, the maximum distance from land the ship is expected to be navigated and should specify in detail the reasons for exemption. Certified copies of the log of a number of voyages made (over periods of time which may be specified by the Commission) by the subject ship over the waters in question should be submitted. In case any accidents have occurred recently on the route in question, full particulars regarding the facts should be submitted, including a statement of the communication facilities which were available.

(b) Consideration will be given to requests for exemption in the following cases only and upon the bases that the route and conditions of the voyage, or voyages, are such as to render a radio installation (as specified herein) unreasonable or unnecessary:

(1) Individual passenger ships which, in the course of their voyage, do not go more than

A. 20 miles from the nearest land; or

B. 200 miles in the open sea between two consecutive ports.

(2) Passenger ships less than one-hundred gross tons not subject to the radio provisions of the Safety Convention.

(3) Sailing Ships.

(4) Individual cargo ships which, in the course of their voyage, do not go more than 150 miles from the nearest land.

(c) If the Commission shall determine that an exemption is warranted, the Commission will approve the issuance of an Exemption Certificate to such ships on international voyages, which will then be issued by the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation of the Department of Commerce.

(d) With regard to United States ships not subject to the Safety Convention, an appropriate certification will be issued by the Commission.

(e) The determination of the Commission in respect to exemptions provided for herein will be final, subject only to the right of review by the courts.

10. Location of Radio Station.—The ship's radio operating room and the emergency or reserve installation shall be placed in the upper part of the ship in a position of the greatest possible safety and as high as practicable above the deepest load water line, and the location of such room or rooms will be approved by the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation of the Department of Commerce.

11. Radiotelegraph Equipment.[8]—

(a) The radiotelegraph installation shall comprise a main and an emergency or reserve installation; provided, however, that on a cargo ship, if the main installation complies with all the requirements of an emergency or reserve installation, the emergency or reserve installation may be omitted.

(b) The main and emergency installation shall be so arranged that change from transmission to reception and vice versa can be made as rapidly as possible.

(c) Approval of the radio installation within the radio room of a ship of the United States to which these rules apply, including the electrical wiring interconnecting the various components of the installation, will be within the jurisdiction of the Commission.

12. Transmitters.—

(a) The main and emergency or reserve transmitters shall be capable of transmitting on the distress frequency. 500 kilocycles; the direction finder frequency, 375 kilocycles; and also at least one working frequency in the band 350–485 kilocycles, and be capable of changing from any one of the frequencies to any one of the others as rapidly as possible. They must be capable of types A–2 or B (spark)" emission, and must have a note frequency of not less than 100 cycles per second.

(b) The main transmitter shall have a normal range of at least 200 nautical miles; that is to say, it must be capable of tarnsmitting clearly perceptible signals from ship to ship over a range of 200 nautical miles by day under normal conditions and circumstances. The normal range of the emergency or reserve transmitter as defined above must be at least 100 nautical miles.

(c) The minimum allowable power rating of transmitters which may be installed for the purpose of compliance with the terms of paragraph 13 (b), shall be as follows:

For Main Transmitters

| Radio Frequency | Type of Emission | Rated Power |
|---|---|---|
| 500 kc.500 kc. | BA–2 | 1,000 watts input to transformer.200 watts into the antenna circuit or 400 watts into the plate circuit of the last radio stage. |

For Emergency Transmitters

| Radio Frequency | Type of Emission | Rated Power |
|---|---|---|
| 500 kc.500 kc. | BA–2 | 500 watts input to transformer.50 watts into antenna circuit or 100 watts into the plate circuit of the last radio stage. |

(d) For operation on 375 kc and the one working frequency required, the rated power shall not be less than one-half of the rated power specified herein for operation on 500 kc.

(e) A transmitter installed for the purpose of compliance with the terms of paragraph 13 (b) having a rated power of less than that specified may be tentatively approved subject to a practical demonstration of its represented performance if such proof is deemed necessary by the Commission.

(f) A record shall be kept of the adjustments of the transmitters for the frequencies 375 and 500 kilocycles. The adjustments may be recorded on the transmitters or posted in the radio room.

13. Receivers.—

(a) Two complete radio receivers shall be provided, one to be associated with the main transmitter and one to be located in close proximity to the emergency transmitter, provided that if the emergency transmitter is in close proximity to and operated from the same position as the main receiver, the emergency receiver may be omitted.

(b) Each receiver shall be capable of radiotelegraph reception, types A–1, A–2, and B, in the band 350 to 515 kilocycles and in addition the main receiver shall be capable of reception in the band 100–200 kilocycles (time signals, etc.).

(c) The receiver associated with the emergency transmitter shall be arranged so as to be capable of reception in the band 350–515 kilocycles by means of a rectifier of the crystal type or a receiver may be provided using a crystal rectifier.

(d) These requirements do not preclude the use of receivers also capable of reception in bands outside those specified herein.

14. Power.—

(a) Sufficient power shall be available at the ship station at all times to operate the main radiotelegraph installation efficiently at full power and at the same time to charge, at their required rates, all storage batteries used in connection with the radiotelegraph installations. The emergency or reserve installation shall include a source of power which when energizing this installation shall be independent of the propelling power of the ship and of any other electrical system, and shall be capable of being put into operation rapidly and of operating the emergency installation so as to provide a normal transmitting and receiving range of at least 100 nautical miles continuously for at least six consecutive hours.

(b) The ship owner, operating agency, or station licensee shall, if requested, prove to the satisfaction of the Commission's inspector that the emergency power supply is of sufficient capacity to satisfy the requirements stipulated in the preceding paragraph.

(c) In the case of an oil or gas driven engine generator used for an emergency power supply, proof of capacity may be established by using as a basis the fuel consumption during the period of one hour when supplying a load equivalent to 70% of the key-locked demand of the emergency radio transmitter and radio station emergency light(s).

(d) In the case of a storage battery emergency power supply, its capability may be determined by a six-hour discharge test when supplying a load equivalent to 70% of the key-locked demand of the emergency radio transmitter and radio station emergency light(s).

(e) At the conclusion of the tests outlined above, no part of the emergency source of power shall have an excessive temperature rise, as defined and measured in accord with standard engineering practice, nor shall the specific gravity or voltage of the storage battery be below the standard for 90% discharge for the battery involved.

(f) No electrical load circuit(s) other than the emergency radio installation and emergency radio light(s) shall be connected directly or indirectly to the emergency source of power. Emergency batteries, when employed, shall be located in close proximity to the emergency transmitter and receiver, subject, however, to the provisions of the following paragraph.

(g) Approval of the exact point and method of location, on board a vessel, of a storage battery or engine-driven generator and fuel tank, used as a source of power for any component of a licensed ship radio station, and the method of ventilating the battery compartment will be within the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation of the Department of Commerce. The approval of the battery or engine-driven generator from the standpoint of its electrical specifications and its ability to produce the required power, will be within the jurisdiction of the Commission.

(h) The emergency source of power shall be maintained in readiness to operate at its full efficiency at all times while the vessel is in active service.

(i) Prior to the vessel's departure from each port (but not necessarily more than once each day) and on each day the vessel is at sea, the condition of the emergency power supply and emergency radio installation shall be determined by actual operation.

(j) If batteries are used as the emergency transmitter power supply, or are used for the purpose of starting a gas or oil driven emergency generator, tests shall be made of the charging circuits for polarity and correct charging rate. Hydrometer readings of the electrolyte of a pilot cell and such other cells as are necessary to determine the state of charge of the emergency battery shall be taken daily. In the case of an oil or gas driven emergency generator, a daily check shall be made of the quantity of fuel in the supply tank.

(k) A statement that the duties required by paragraphs 15 (i) and (j) hereof have been fulfilled, including a statement of the hydrometer reading and amount of fuel, must be inserted in the ship's radio log each day. During severe weather at sea these duties need not be performed if it is impracticable or dangerous to do so, provided an appropriate entry to this effect is made in the radio station log.

(l) The power leads from the main power supply to the main radio installation and from the emergency power supply to the emergency installation shall be encased and routed in the manner best suited to protect them from injury due to damage to the ship and shall be properly protected with fuses. All conductors shall be kept clear of electrical grounds. In the event that, due to the ship's structure, a long indirect routing is necessary, an alternate circuit shall be provided over another route. In all cases, the Rules and Regulations of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation of the Department of Commerce relating to the installation of these circuits shall be complied with.

(m) The cooling system of all auxiliary engine units driving the emergency power supply shall be adequately protected or treated to prevent freezing or overheating consistent with the season and route to be traveled by the vessel.

15. Auto-Alarm.[10]—

(a) An "Auto-alarm" is defined by paragraphs 4 (m), (1) and (2) hereof. Radiomarine Corporation of America "Model AR–8600 Auto-Alarm" and "Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company Auto-Alarm Type 101–A manufactured by Federal Telegraph Company" are the only auto-alarms approved by the Commission in accordance with Telegraph Order No. 28 for installation aboard United States cargo vessels in compliance with law.

(b) On ships aboard which an automatic alarm receiver is installed in accordance with the provisions of these rules, a means of giving an audible warning in the radiotelegraph operating room, in the radio operator's cabin, and on the navigating bridge shall be provided, which shall operate continuously after the receipt of an alarm signal or a failure of the auto-alarm system, until stopped. Only one switch for stopping the warning shall be provided and this shall be located in the radiotelegraph operating room. In addition, a failure of the alarm to function normally resulting from prolonged static or any type of prolonged electrical input, or both, shall operate a visual indicator on the bridge. The type and method of installation of such visual indicator will be within the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation of the Department of Commerce.

(c) Each auto-alarm of the type designated above, when first installed aboard a vessel of the United States, must bear an identifying serial number. Two or more principal components of one complete installation shall bear the same number. After the initial installation, if any principal component is entirely replaced, the substitute unit shall bear the serial number of the initial unit but must be identified in addition as a replacement. For this purpose the principal components are designated as follows:

"Radiomarine Corporation of America Model AR–8600 Auto-Alarm"

1 Combined receiver and selector unit, without regard to container.
1 Control and terminal box.

"Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company Auto-Alarm Type 101–A manufactured by Federal Telegraph Company"

1 Selector unit, without regard to container.
1 Receiver unit, without regard to container.

[8] See Commission Order No. 29 of May 21, 1937, for provisions relating to certain temporary exemptions from these rules.

[9] See Rule 293 of the Commission, included in Appendix I.

[10] See Telegraph Order No. 28 of March 10, 1937.

(d) The Commission shall be informed in writing on the prescribed form immediately upon completion of each auto-alarm installation aboard any vessel of the United States. Each report shall specify the type and serial number of the alarm, the name of the vessel, the date of completion of installation, the call letters and name of licensee of the ship radio station and the name of the owner and operating company of the vessel.

(e) Upon completion of each auto-alarm installation, the electron tubes and dry batteries shall be dated to coincide with the date of completion of the installation. Only new electron tubes and new dry batteries shall be installed. The Commission may require the replacement of these electron tubes and dry batteries with new tubes and new batteries if and when such replacement is deemed necessary.

(f) Each installation of an auto-alarm shall include at least two sets of written instructions for the guidance of the ship station radio operator and ship's officers relative to the auto-alarm, which shall include:

(1) A general technical description of the auto-alarm, including a circuit diagram of the auto-alarm receiver and a wiring diagram of its complete installation on shipboard.

(2) A general explanation of its principles of operation.

(3) A list of faults which may be indicated by the sounding of the audible alarm.

(4) Explanation of how to correct faults, remove and replace defective parts and perform limited repairs at sea.

(5) Explanation of how to test the alarm and adjust the sensitivity control to the "optimum" setting.

(6) Explanation of the effect of various sensitivity control settings upon the operation of the alarm.

(7) Description of procedure to be followed with respect to operator making adjustments when alarm bell sounds and also in making log entries.

In addition, the instructions stipulated under items 5 and 6 above shall be summarized upon a card and permanently attached to the front of the alarm in a conspicuous position.

(g) The testing device of each individual auto-alarm shall be permanently adjusted upon installation to produce a test signal of the correct value. This adjustment shall be considered satisfactory when it becomes necessary to turn the sensitivity control from its position of lowest sensitivity (zero dial position) to its position of approximately one-third maximum sensitivity before the alarm can be actuated.

(h) While the ship is at sea the auto-alarm shall be tested at least once every twenty-four hours by means of the testing device supplied as part of the alarm, the timing of the dashes to be made by reference to the seconds hand of the station's clock. A statement that the foregoing has been fulfilled must be inserted in the ship's official log and the radio log daily.

(i) Adequate records shall be maintained according to the prescribed forms covering operation of the auto-alarm. These forms shall be mailed to the Commission at Washington, D. C., on the first day of each month, covering the month preceding, beginning January 1, 1938. These reports are for the information of the Commission and the contents thereof will not be disclosed.

(j) An entry shall be made in the ship's official log and the radio log when the warning light installed on the bridge, (to indicate when the alarm becomes inoperative), remains lighted for a continuous period of five minutes. A statement shall be included giving particulars as to the time the operator was called to make the necessary repairs or adjustments; the reason for the failure; the names of any parts removed, added, or substituted; repairs effected; and the time the alarm was restored to proper operating condition.

(k) An entry shall be made in the radio log whenever the auto-alarm becomes inoperative due to causes not indicated by the warning light, or whenever an auto-alarm bell rings. The entry shall include a statement giving particulars as to the time the operator was called to make necessary repairs or adjustments; the reason for the bell ringing or failure to operate; the parts removed, added, or substituted; repairs effected; and the time the alarm was restored to proper operating condition.

16. Communication Between Radiotelegraph Station and Bridge.—Where the radio room does not adjoin or open onto the navigating bridge structure of the ship, there shall be provided, between the bridge and the radio room, an efficient means of communication independent of any other communication system of the ship. Where the operating position of the emergency installation is not in the same compartment with the main radiotelegraph station, a similar means of communication also shall be provided between that position and the bridge of the ship. Determination of the necessity for these communication systems will be within the jurisdiction of the Commission. Determination of the type and location of these systems (except their point of termination in the radio room) and their ability to provide efficient communication shall be within the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation of the Department of Commerce.

17. Clock.—

(a) Each ship fitted with an auto-alarm shall be provided with a reliable clock with a sweep seconds hand, securely fastened in such a position that the seconds dial can be easily and accurately read by the operator from his normal receiving position, from the operating position at which he would transmit the auto-alarm signal and from the operating position in the radio room used in testing the auto-alarm for response to signals from the testing device. The clock shall have an hour dial not less than 5" in diameter and it shall be capable of operation for at least eight days on one winding; provided, however, that deviations from these specifications may be authorized by the Commission if such deviation does not adversely affect the reliability of the clock or the ability of the ship radio operator to transmit by hand the international auto-alarm signal when using the clock for timing these signals. A request for approval of any deviation from these specifications must be accompanied by a sample of the proposed clock face.

(b) Each ship station not fitted with an auto-alarm shall be provided with a reliable clock in conformity with the specifications of the preceding paragraph 19 (a); provided, however, that such ship station shall be exempt from the requirement of a sweep seconds hand until on and after January 1, 1939. A request for any other deviation from these specifications must be accompanied by a sample of the proposed clock face.

18. Emergency Lights.—

(a) There shall be provided in both the main radiotelegraph operating room and the main radiotelegraph transmitter room(s) emergency electric lighting operated from the ship's emergency power supply or the power supply of the emergency radio installation, independent of the ship's main electrical system, and so arranged as to provide satisfactory illumination to the operating controls, clock, and meters.

(b) In case the emergency transmitter or receiver is not located in any of the rooms associated with the main radio installation, a similar emergency lighting arrangement also shall be provided in the room or rooms containing such emergency apparatus.

(c) A spare electric light bulb shall be provided in an accessible location in each room.

19. Lifeboats.—The radiotelegraph installation on motor lifeboats designated by the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation as requiring a radio installation shall be in efficient operating condition at all times while the ship is under way and shall comply with the following:

(a) Frequency of operation of transmitters: 500 kc.

(b) Type of emission of transmitter: A–2.

(c) Frequency tolerance of transmitter: 0.5 per cent.

(d) Power of transmitter.—Not less than 75 watts into the plate circuit of the stage supplying power to the antenna.

(g) Power Supply.—For transmitter, storage battery; for receiver, dry battery, storage battery, or dynamotor operated from transmitter power supply. The power supply shall at all times be capable of operating the entire radio installation for a continuous period of at least six hours. If the power supply is also used to operate electrical equipment other than radio, its capacity must be sufficient so as not to affect adversely its ability to fulfill the foregoing requirement.

(h) Installation.—The component parts and assembly of entire installation shall primarily insure the utmost dependable operation, the design shall be such that heavy vibration and physical shocks to which a lifeboat is subject will cause no damage, and they shall be so housed and treated as to withstand saline dampness for extended period without damage and to minimize the adverse effect of prolonged exposure to salt water or salt spray. Storage batteries shall be mounted in cabinets which will provide protection from salt water spray and also allow proper ventilation. Provision shall be made to protect the operator from the elements when the lifeboat is afloat. Provision shall also be made for the expeditious erection of the antenna system under adverse weather and sea condition. The use of metal masts and stays, unless broken by insulators, or of any structure of ground potential at the mastheads is not permitted.

(i) Inspection.—

(1) The lifeboat radio installation shall be inspected and tested by a qualified representative of the licensee of the ship radio station within 24 hours prior to departure to sea from each port (except not necessarily more than once each week) and at least once each year with the lifeboat afloat in the water. The results of the inspection and tests shall be noted in the ship's radio station log and the master informed. The test shall include an actual test of the transmitter connected to the regular antenna (erected) and receiver to determine that both are in effective operating condition; provided that, when testing with the lifeboat not afloat in the water, the transmitter may be tested on an artificial antenna, in lieu of the regular lifeboat antenna, having electrical characteristics equal to the regular antenna. Transmission tests shall be conducted under the same procedure as prescribed for testing of the ship's radio station transmitters to avoid interference. Transmission tests shall not be made during the silent period.

(2) When the vessel is under way, provision shall be made for the charging of storage batteries and the routing inspection of all batteries, without removing them from the lifeboat. Examination shall be made at least once every seven days by the operator on the vessel and a statement as to the condition and specific gravity, in the case of a lead-acid battery, or voltage, in the case of dry or Edison batteries, shall be entered in the ship's radio station log. Dry batteries shall be replaced when it is found that the voltage under load has fallen 20 per cent below the rated voltage of the battery.

(j) Spare parts and tools.—In addition to spare parts and tools kept elsewhere, there shall be kept in the lifeboat at least one vacuum tube of each type used, a supply of insulated wire of such length and nature as to be suitable as an emergency antenna, and such tools as may be necessary.

(k) Instructions.—Instructions shall be plainly marked on the apparatus in sufficient detail to permit uninstructed personnel to place equipment in operation and to transmit signals which are suitable for use in obtaining direction finder bearings.

20. Direction Finder.—

(a) Each passenger ship of 5,000 gross tonnage and over subject to the provisions of these rules shall be equipped with an efficient radio direction finding apparatus (radio compass) properly adjusted in operating condition, which apparatus is approved by the Commission. This apparatus shall be efficient and capable of receiving clearly perceptible radio signals and of taking bearings from which the true bearing and direction may be determined. It shall be capable of receiving signals on any frequency between 285 and 515 kilocycles.

(b) An efficient means of communication independent of any other communication system of the ship shall be provided between the direction finding apparatus and the bridge if this apparatus, in the opinion of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation of the Department of Commerce, is located elsewhere than on the bridge. Determination of the type and location of this system and its ability to provide efficient communication will be within the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation of the Department of Commerce.

(c) For the issuance of an initial certificate and endorsement of station license and pending issuance of specifications and type approval of direction finding apparatus, the Commission will approve temporarily any make of direction finder in operating condition within the frequency range noted above, and on board at time of inspection. Satisfactory evidence must be given to the Inspector that it complies with sub-paragraph (a) above. In the case of a new installation which has not been in use, approval of instrument on board may be given pending calibration or determination, at the first opportunity, of capability of determining true bearings.

(d) Standard specifications for direction finding apparatus and instructions as to the procedure for obtaining type approval will be issued at a later date.

21. Spare Parts and Tools.—

(a) Sufficient tools to make any minor adjustments of the installation shall be provided, together with spare apparatus and spare parts sufficient to maintain the installations, required by these rules, in efficient working condition, which shall be securely stowed and readily accessible to the operator in case of emergency.

(b) The following items are considered indispensable for the maintenance of the appropriate installation:

(1) Not less than 300 feet of antenna wire of sufficient length for the erection of a single wire emergency antenna. This should be equal to the length of the horizontal portion and lead-in of the main antenna.

(2) Two appropriate antenna insulators for use in the erection of an emergency transmitting and receiving antenna.

(a) During the time a watch is maintained by an operator, an entry shall be made at least every 15 minutes. All calls or replies made shall be entered giving time, stations heard or worked, and frequency involved. In general, a positive entry must be made consisting of calls heard, traffic observed, and a specific statement as to the conduct of communication during the international silent periods.

[11] See also paragraph 21 (c).
[12] See also Rule No. 21 (c).
[13] See also Rule No. 15 (f).

(b) The entry "on watch" shall be made by the operator assuming a watch or opening a station for service, followed by his signature. The entry "off watch" shall be made by the operator when terminating his watch or closing a station, followed by his signature.

(c) Entries shall be made of:

(1) All distress,[14] automatic alarm, urgent and safety signals intercepted, the full text of distress messages and distress communications, and incidents or occurrences which may appear to be of importance to safety of life or property at sea;

(2) Unusual interference observed, breakdown of apparatus, failure of power supply, noises or disturbances tending to delay traffic;

(g) Ship station logs shall be fully completed at the end of each trip or voyage, and before the operators responsible leave the ship. Completed logs shall be kept under proper custody either aboard the ship upon which the station is located or at an established shore office of the licensee of the ship station, or his authorized agent. If logs are permanently filed ashore, they must be retained aboard ship for at least twenty-four hours after the vessel's arrival in a port of the United States (unless sailing in the meantime). Logs shall not be removed from the ship's radio station, during a voyage or when in a foreign port.

(h) Logs shall be made available for inspection upon the request of an authorized Government representative.

(i) Routine logs shall be retained for a period of one year. Logs involving distress messages or communications shall be retained until destruction is specifically authorized by the Commission.

Rough logs may be transcribed into smooth logs (condensed form), but in such case the original log or memoranda thereof shall be preserved, and made a part of the complete log.

23. Operators and Watches.[16]—

(a) Each cargo ship required by these Rules to be fitted with a radio installation and which is not fitted with an auto-alarm, and each passenger ship required by these Rules to be fitted with a radio installation, shall, for safety purposes, carry at least two qualified operators.

(b) A cargo ship required by these Rules to be fitted with a radio installation, which is fitted with an auto-alarm in accordance with these Rules, shall, for safety purposes, carry at least one qualified[17] operator. In the case of a United States cargo vessel, this operator shall have had at least six months previous service in the aggregate as a qualified operator in a station on board a ship or ships of the United States.

(c) Each ship of the United States required by these Rules to be fitted with a radio installation shall, while being navigated outside a harbor or port, keep a continuous watch by means of qualified operators: provided, however, that in lieu thereof on a cargo ship fitted with an auto-alarm in proper operating condition, a watch of at least eight hours per day, in the aggregate, shall be maintained by means of a qualified operator, upon the express condition that the auto-alarm shall be in operation whenever the operator is not on watch and the ship is being navigated outside of a harbor or port, including periods when the direction finder is in use.

(e) In the event of the failure of the auto-alarm and satisfactory repairs cannot be made on board at sea, the master shall endeavor to have it repaired at the first port of call where repair facilities are obtainable. The ship must not again proceed to sea until the auto-alarm is satisfactorily repaired or unless the appropriate number of operators are on board to carry on the hours of watch required of the vessel when not fitted with an auto-alarm.

(f) The operator, or operators, employed for such an emergency may hold a certificate as an operator issued by another country.[18] However, in such case, the operator or operators must be replaced as soon as possible by an operator holding a certificate of the proper class, as prescribed and issued by the Commission, pending restoration of the auto-alarm to service.

24. Forfeitures.—

(a) Any ship that leaves or attempts to leave any harbor or port of the United States in violation of the provisions of Title III, Part II of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, or in violation of any rules of the Commission promulgated thereunder or any ship of the United States that is navigated outside of any harbor or port in violation of any of the provisions thereof, shall forfeit to the United States the sum of $500, recoverable by way of suit or libel subject, however, to remission or mitigation by the Commission. Each such departure or attempted departure, and in the case of a ship of the United States, each day during which such navigation occurs, shall constitute a separate offense.

(b) Every wilful failure on the part of the master of a ship of the United States to enforce or to comply with the provisions of Title III, Part II of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, or in violation of any rules of the Commission promulgated thereunder, as to equipment, operators, watches, or radio service shall cause him to forfeit to the United States the sum of $100 subject, however, to remission or mitigation by the Commission.

(c) In addition to the forfeitures specified by the preceding paragraphs (a) and (b), the penalties and forfeitures provided by Title V of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, are also applicable to violations of the provisions of Title III, Part II of that Act.

[14] See also paragraph No. 15 (h), (j), and (k).
[15] See also paragraph No. 17 (h), (j), and (k).
[16] Nothing contained in Public No. 97 or in these rules specifies what shall be the hours of labor for any radio operator. Nothing in Public No. 97 or in these rules is to be construed as affecting or limiting in any way the jurisdiction or powers of the Department of Commerce in that regard under any other laws or under the Rules or Regulations of that Department.

[17] For vessels of the United States, operator's qualifications are specified by Commission Rules 420 to 448, inclusive.
[18] Art. 10. par. 1 (2) of the General Radio Regulations Annexed to the International Telecommunication Convention of Madrid, 1932, reads as follows:
"(2) In case of absolute unavailability of the operator in the course of a crossing, flight, or voyage, the Master or the person responsible for the mobile station may authorize, but only temporarily, an operator holding a certificate issued by another contracting government to carry on the radio service. When it becomes necessary to employ, as temporary operator, a person not holding an adequate certificate, this service must be limited to emergencies. In any case, the operator or the above-mentioned person must be replaced as soon as possible by an operator holding the certificate prescribed in par. 1 (1) above."

Extracts from the rules and regulations of the Federal Communications Commission

SHIP SERVICE

Revised May 21, 1937.

NOTE.—These extracts are taken from the ship station chapter of the general rules of the Commission which apply to all licensed ship stations of the United States and to such foreign ship stations as are specified therein.

281. The Ship Acts of July 23, 1912, and June 24, 1910, are reprinted for convenient reference: [1]

An act approved July 23, 1912, amending section 1 of an act entitled "An act to require apparatus and operators for radio communication on certain ocean steamers", approved June 24, 1910.[2]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. That from and after October first, nineteen hundred and twelve, it shall be unlawful for any steamer of the United States or of any foreign country navigating the ocean or the Great Lakes and licensed to carry, or carrying, fifty or more persons, including passengers or crew or both, to leave or attempt to leave any port of the United States unless such steamer shall be equipped with an efficient apparatus for radio communication, in good working order, capable of transmitting and receiving messages over a distance of at least one hundred miles, day or night. An auxiliary power supply, independent of the vessel's main electric power plant, must be provided which will enable the sending set for at least four hours to send messages over a distance of at least one hundred miles, day or night, and efficient communication between the operator in the radio room and the bridge shall be maintained at all times.

The radio equipment must be in charge of two or more persons skilled in the use of such apparatus, one or the other of whom shall be on duty at all times while the vessel is being navigated. Such equipment, operators, the regulation of their watches, and the transmission and receipt of messages, except as may be regulated by law or international agreement, shall be under the control of the master, in the case of a vessel of the United States; and every willful failure on the part of the master to enforce at sea the provision of this paragraph as to equipment, operators, and watches, shall subject him to a penalty of one hundred dollars.

That the provisions of this section shall not apply to steamers plying between ports, or places, less than two hundred miles apart.

SECTION 2. That this act, so far as it relates to the Great Lakes, shall take effect on and after April first, nineteen hundred and thirteen, and so far as it relates to ocean cargo steamers shall take effect on and after July first, nineteen hundred and thirteen: Provided, That on cargo steamers, in lieu of the second operator provided for in this act, there may be substituted a member of the crew or other person who shall be duly certified and entered in the ship's log as competent to receive and understand distress calls or other usual calls indicating danger, and to aid in maintaining a constant wireless watch so far as required for the safety of life.

The remaining sections of the act of June 24, 1910, which are unchanged, read as follows:

SECTION 2. That for the purpose of this act apparatus for radio communication shall not be deemed to be efficient unless the company installing it shall contract in writing to exchange, and shall, in fact, exchange, as far as may be physically practicable, to be determined by the master of the vessel, messages with shore or ship stations using other systems of radio communication.

SECTION 3. That the master or other person being in charge of any such vessel which leaves or attempts to leave any port of the United States in violation of any of the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction, be fined in a sum not more than five thousand dollars, and any such fine shall be a lien upon such vessel, and such vessels may be libeled therefor in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which such vessel shall arrive or depart, and the leaving or attempting to leave each and every port of the United States shall constitute a separate offense.

[1] Such part or parts of the Act entitled "An Act to require apparatus and operators for radio communication on certain ocean steamers" approved June 24, 1910, as amended, (generally known as the "Ship Act") as relate to the ocean and to steamers navigating thereon, were repealed by section 602 (e) of the Communications Act of 1934 as amended by Public 97 approved May 20, 1937. In all other respects said Act is continued in full force and effect. See also Rule 284 (d) herein.
[2] The amended Act applies to vessels licensed to carry as well as those actually carrying 50 or more persons, etc.

SECTION 4. That the Secretary of Commerce shall make such regulations as may be necessary to secure the proper execution of this act by collectors of customs and other officers of the Government.

282. The term "ship service" means a radiocommunication service carried on between ship stations and coastal stations or between ship stations and other maritime mobile stations.

Upon application being made, the Commission may grant authority for a radio station operated on board a pleasure vessel or a yacht, or on board a vessel or other mobile unit, undertaking scientific expedition, to transmit on ship frequencies above 3000 kilocycles designated in the license of such ship station, for the secondary purpose of communicating directly with licensed amateur stations, on condition that such transmission shall not interfere with the primary use of these frequencies for regular commercial maritime communication, and provided the applicant makes a satisfactory showing that:

a. The messages to be exchanged with amateur stations will contain no material savoring of a commercial transaction.

b. Unusual circumstances will obtain during the contemplated voyage(s) making it extremely beneficial to the applicant to communicate direct with amateur stations, rather than indirectly through other maritime mobile stations or directly through authorized or coastal stations connecting landwire systems.

283. The term "ship station" means a station on board a vessel not permanently moored.

284. Ship stations shall be classified as follows:

a. First Class.—Stations whose duration of service is continuous while the vessel is being navigated.

b. Second Class.—Stations carrying on a designated service of limited duration.

c. Third Class.—Stations of which the duration of service is less than that specified for the stations in the second class and stations whose duration of service is undetermined.

d. The licensee of a ship radio station on board a vessel of the United States licensed to carry, or carrying, fifty or more persons, including passengers or crew, or both, shall maintain continuous hours of service in accordance with the rules governing first class ship radio stations at all times while the vessel is being navigated on the Great Lakes between ports or places more than two hundred miles apart, provided, however, that vessels which are also licensed to carry less than 50 persons and/or ply less than 200 miles between ports or places may be granted radio station licenses specifying more than one class.

e. Provided the transmitting equipment to be used in lifeboats is described in the application for license and in the license for the ship to which the lifeboat(s) is attached, such equipment may be operated for maintenance tests and emergency communication under the regular license of the ship stations without a separate license posted in the lifeboat(s). The call signals to be used by a lifeboat operating under this rule shall be the regularly assigned call of the ship station to which the lifeboat is attached, to be followed by the international break sign, BT, and the number of the lifeboat.

f. Provided the transmitting equipment to be used on a cable marker—buoy is described in the application for license and in the license for the ship with which the buoy is associated, such equipment may be operated on the frequency 278 kilocycles for direction finding purposes, under the regular license of the ship station, with A–1 or A–2 emission and a maximum power of 10 watts. The call signals to be used for a transmitter operating under this rule shall be the regularly assigned call of the ship station with which the buoy is associated, to be followed by the international break sign, BT, and the identifying number of the buoy. The transmitter shall be continuously monitored by a regularly licensed operator aboard the associated cable repair ship. Should a frequency deviation in excess of 0.5 per cent or interference to the service of any other station be reported or observed, the radiation of the transmitter shall be suspended until the deviation is corrected or until the transmitter can be operated without causing interference.

285. The following frequencies are allocated for the following types of ship service; in assigning any frequency designed under (b) and (c) below, the use of that frequency may be restricted to communication with a specified coastal telephone or coastal harbor station:

d. For telephone or telegraph communication primarily between ship harbor stations:

286. The international calling and distress frequency is 500 kilocycles. In the Great Lakes region the frequency 410 kilocycles shall be used for calling and distress purposes in lieu of the international calling and distress frequency 500 kilocycles.

287. The international calling and distress frequency 500 kilocycles (410 kilocycles on the Great Lakes only) and all other radiotelegraph calling frequencies herein allocated may be used for the transmission of operating signals and a single short radiotelegram, provided no interference is caused to distress, urgent, safety, or call signals.

288. In no case shall the calling frequency 500 kilocycles (410 kilocycles on the Great Lakes) be used for working purposes except as provided in Rule 287 and as may be necessary for the handling of distress, urgent, or safety messages. Other calling frequencies may be used for working purposes, provided no interference is caused to calls from mobile stations.

289. Frequencies designated in a ship station license as "working" may be used for all purposes for which calling frequencies are authorized and in addition may be used for the handling of regular message traffic.

289a. The operation of radio stations on frequencies below 28000 kilocycles on board any vessel in the territorial waters and inland waters of the United States shall be in accordance with the following limitations:

(1) The frequencies used shall be those allocated for use by mobile stations by the existing International Regulations.

(2) The use of radio equipment shall not interfere with the normal communication of other radio services.

(3) Only messages originating on ships with passengers or members of the crew may be transmitted; i. e., no message shall be handled unless it is one that would be normally routed in the mobile service.

(4) Except for the handling of emergency communications, damped wave transmitting apparatus shall not be used on board a ship alongside the dock or at anchor in a harbor of the United States.

289b. Except for the handling of emergency communications relating to the safe navigation of the vessel, and the handling of messages relating to ships in distress, the privileges granted by Rule 289a are extended only to those foreign ships which belong to countries granting similar privileges to American ships in their territorial and inland waters.

289c. The use of radio by foreign men-of-war in United States ports and territorial waters may be authorized on frequencies allocated to the mobile service by the International Regulations in force, upon condition that no interference will result to the service carried on by other stations. Normally, requests from foreign men-of-war to use their radio equipment for communications while in United States ports and territorial waters shall be made to one of the Naval District Commandants, or, after arrival in port, to the Senior U. S. Naval Officer present. The headquarters of District Commandants concerned are located at Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Norfolk, Charleston, (South Carolina) San Diego, San Francisco, Seattle, Pearl Harbor, T. H., Balboa, Canal Zone, and Cavite, P. I. In addition to having senior naval officers stationed at these places, the Navy has officers performing various duties at practically all other important United States ports. When a Naval officer is not present, requests shall be made to the port authorities, or to the Navy Department, Washington, D. C. The authority to grant such requests is lodged in the official who is authorized to receive the request.

290. The frequency 375 kilocycles shall be used only for communication relative to obtaining or furnishing position reports by means of radio direction-finding stations.

291. In addition to the frequencies designated in the license of a ship station, such station may transmit:

a. On any frequency between 110 and 194 kilocycles when directed to do so by a coast station operating in this band, provided no interference results to the service of any other coast station. The operating frequency of the ship station shall be designated by the coast station.

b. On a frequency above 385 kilocycles used by a coast station when directed to do so by the coast station to which the frequency is assigned.

292. Except in case of signals or messages relating to vessels in distress, all ship stations shall use the minimum amount of energy necessary to carry out any communication desired.

293. Except under the following condition no license will be issued for the operation of any radio station, or proposing to use, transmitting apparatus employing damped-wave emission. If such apparatus was installed on board a ship prior to January 1, 1930, license will be issued for the operation of damped-wave transmitters on the following frequencies only:

|---|---|
| 375 kilocycles | 454 kilocycles |
| 410 kilocycles | 500 kilocycles |
| 425 kilocycles | |

294. The logarithmic decrement per complete oscillation in the wave trains emitted by the transmitter of a ship station using damped-waves shall not exceed two-tenths, except when sending distress signals or signals and messages relating thereto.

295.[2] The licensee of each ship station shall maintain an accurate log of the operation of such station on the international calling and distress frequency, 500 kilocycles (410 kilocycles on the Great Lakes), as follows:

a. At stations were continuous watch is maintained an entry shall be made at least every 15 minutes. At stations having limited hours of operation similar entry shall be made during the time the station is active. All calls or answers made shall be entered, giving time and call letters of station worked. Stations may be designated by their call letters in all log entries.

b. Entry shall be made of any unlawful interference from other stations.

c. Distress calls and any unusual and special incidents shall be duly entered.

d. Notations shall be made of any breakdowns of apparatus, failure of power supply, noises or disturbances tending to delay traffic.

e. When a change in the watch is made, the operator relieved shall sign his name with the indication "off watch", and the relieving operator shall sign his name showing that he is "on watch."

f. Each sheet of the log shall be numbered and dated. The time used for making an entry in the radio log shall be expressed in conformity with European practice in four figures, starting at midnight of the time at the Meridian of Greenwich, that is, 12:01 A. M. is to be shown as "0001"; 1:00 A. M. as "0100"; 1:00 P. M. as "1300"; 6:30 P. M. as "1830"; 12:00 midnight as "2400"; etc. (This method of expression is equivalent to that denominated in this country as "Greenwich Civil Time.") The abbreviation "G. M. T." shall be stated at the heading of the column in which the time is entered.

g. Time of arrival at and departure from ports, giving names of each.

h. Approximate position of vessel showing miles and direction from some given point each day. Latitude and longitude may be used (noon position is preferred).

i. These logs shall be made available upon request by authorized Government representatives. These logs shall be filed either aboard the ship on which the station is located or at established offices of the licensee where they shall be made available upon request by authorized Government representatives.

296. A marine transmitter operated by its individual storage battery of at least 4 hours continuous capacity will meet the requirements of the Ship Act (Rule 281) as a proper auxiliary power supply when this transmitter is licensed for emergency service, or for both routine and emergency service under the following conditions:

a. Where such transmitter is used only for emergency service it shall be operated by a storage battery having at least 4 hours continuous capacity or other auxiliary power supply, independent of the vessel's main electric power plant, capable of continuously operating this set for at least 4 hours.

b. Where such transmitter is used for both routine and emergency service, in addition to the power supply specified in Section I, an entirely separate source of power shall be provided for the routine service. This separate power supply may consist of an additional battery or other source of power.

The term "emergency service" as used herein means the transmission of distress, alarm, urgent or safety signals, or messages relating thereto, or any matter relating to the safety of life or property, or any transmission for determining that the apparatus is in good working condition.

The term "routine service" as used herein means all other transmissions authorized for ship stations.

c. A reliable clock with a seconds hand, preferably sweep seconds hand, shall be provided in the radio room.

APPENDIX I

PART 2

Extracts from the General Rules and Regulations of the Commission which Relate to the Operation of Ship Stations

189. The term "mobile station" means a station that is capable of being moved and ordinarily does move.

191. The term "land station" means a station not capable of being moved, carrying on a mobile service.

193. The term "mobile service" means a radiocommunication service carried on between mobile and land stations and by mobile stations, communicating among themselves, special services being excluded.

195. The term "special service" means a radiocommunication service carried on especially for the needs of a specific service of general interest and not open to public correspondence, such as a service of radiobeacons, radio direction finding, time signals, regular meteorological bulletins, notices to navigators, press messages addressed to all, medical notices (medical consultation by radio), standard frequencies, emissions for scientific purposes, etc.

196. The term "international service" means a radiocommunication service between offices or stations under the jurisdiction of different countries, or between stations of the mobile service, except when the latter are of the same nationality and are within the limits of the country to which they belong. An internal or national radiocommunication service which is likely to cause interference with other services beyond the limits of the country in which it operates, shall be considered as an international service from the standpoint of interference.

198. The term "public service" means a service for the use of the public in general.

199. The term "public correspondence" means any radio communication where the offices and stations, by reason of their being at the disposal of the public, must accept for transmission.

200. The term "private service" means a radiocommunication service which is not open to public correspondence and which may be used only by specified persons for either general or specific purposes.

201. The term "private enterprise" means any person, company, or corporation which operates one or more stations for radio communication.

202. The term "limited service" means a service which can be used only by specified persons or for special purposes.

203. The term "radio operating signals" means a letter, figure, or combination of letters and figures, or both, designed to facilitate the conduct of communications; for example, the list of abbreviations to be used in Radio Transmission, appendix I to the General Regulations annexed to the International Radiotelegraph Convention.

204. Allocations of bands of frequencies to services, such as mobile, fixed, broadcast, amateur, etc., are set forth in article 5 of the General Regulations annexed to the International Radiotelegraph Convention and in the North American Radio Agreement. These allocations will be adhered to in all assignments to stations capable of causing international interference.

205. The national standard of radio-frequency maintained by the Bureau of Standards, Department of Commerce, shall be the basis for all frequency measurements and assignments will be made on the basis of this standard.

206. The licensee of each station, except amateur, shall provide for measurement of the station frequency and establish procedure for checking it regularly. These measurements of station frequency shall be made by means independent [1] of the frequency control of the transmitter and shall be of such an accuracy that the limit of error is within the frequency tolerance allowed the station.

207. Licensees shall use radio transmitters, the emissions of which do not cause interference, outside the authorized band, that is detrimental to traffic and programs of other authorized stations.

210. Radio communications or signals relating to ships or aircraft in distress shall be given absolute priority. Upon notice from any station, Government or commercial, all other transmission shall cease on such frequencies and for such time as may, in any way, interfere with the reception of distress signals or related traffic.

211. No station shall resume operation until the need for distress traffic no longer exists, or it is determined that said station will not interfere with distress traffic as it is then being routed and said station shall again discontinue if the routing of distress traffic is so changed that said station will interfere. The status of distress traffic may be ascertained by communication with Government and commercial stations.

214. Only an operator holding a radiotelegraph class of operator's license may manipulate the transmitting key of a manually operated coastal telegraph or mobile telegraph station in the international service; and only a licensed amateur operator may manipulate the transmitting key at a manually operated amateur station. The licensees of other stations operated under the constant supervision of duly licensed operators may permit any person or persons, whether licensed or not, to transmit by voice or otherwise, in accordance with the types of emission specified by the respective licenses.

220. Licensees of stations other than broadcast stations are authorized to carry on such routine tests as may be required for the proper maintenance of the stations, provided, however, that these tests shall be so conducted as not to cause interference with the service of other stations.

221. The original of each station license, except amateur, portable, and portable-mobile stations, shall be posted by the licensee in a conspicuous place in the room in which the transmitter is located. In the case of amateur, portable, and portable-mobile stations, the original license, or a photostat copy thereof, shall be similarly posted or kept in the personal possession of the operator on duty.

a. The original license of each station operator, except amateur and aircraft radio station operators, and operators of portable and portable-mobile stations, shall be posted in a conspicuous place in the room occupied by such operator while on duty. In the case of an amateur or aircraft radio operator, and operators of portable or portable-mobile stations, the original operator's license shall be similarly posted or kept in his personal possession and available for inspection at all times while the operator is on duty.

b. When an operator's license cannot be posted because it has been mailed to an office of the Federal Radio Commission for endorsement or other change, such operator may continue to operate stations in accordance with the class of license held, for a period not to exceed 60 days, but in no case beyond the date of expiration of the license.

[1] Paragraph 5 (3), Article 9 of the General Radio Regulations annexed to the International Telecommunication Convention of Madrid, 1932, provides that all ship stations transmitting on frequencies in the band 100 to 160 kilocycles and on frequencies above 4000 kilocycles must be equipped with a wavemeter (frequency meter) or equivalent device. However, in the case of ship stations which are equipped with a properly stabilized and calibrated master-oscillator, the Commission will recognize a master-oscillator of this type as coming within the meaning of "equivalent device", provided the calibration of the said transmitter and of the circuit as a whole is such as to permit the convenient adjustment of the transmitter to its licensed frequencies within the tolerance for mobile stations specified by Rule 227.

224. a. Except for an amateur station, each radio station license or other instrument of authorization shall designate the type of emission which the station is authorized to employ, shall specify the center frequency of the frequency band of emission of such width as is authorized for the type of emission, and shall specify the frequency tolerance in accordance with which the assigned frequency shall be maintained.

b. The term "frequency band of emission" means that the frequency band of an emission is the frequency band actually occupied by the emission for the type of emission and for the signaling speed used.

c. The term "frequency tolerance" means the maximum permissible separation between the frequency assigned to a station and the actual frequency of emission.

227.[2] The licensee of each station, except amateur, shall maintain the assigned frequency within the tolerance as set out in the following table:

Tolerance Table

| Frequency Range (kilocycles) | Frequency Tolerance | |
|---|---|---|
| | AApplicable to stations licensed or authorized by construction permits prior to September 3, 1931 | BApplicable to all equipment authorized subsequent to September 3, 1931 |
| A. 10 to 550 kilocycles: | Per cent, plus or minus | Per cent, plus or minus |
| (c) Mobile stations except those using damped waves or simple oscillator transmitters | .5 | .5 |
| (d) Mobile stations using damped waves or simple oscillator transmitters | [1] 1.0 | .5 |
| C. 1,500 to 6,000 kilocycles: | | |
| (c) Mobile stations using frequencies not normally used for ship radiotelegraph transmissions | .05 | .04 |
| (d) Other mobile stations | .1 | .1 |
| D. 6,000 to 28,000 kilocycles: | | |
| (c) Mobile stations using frequencies not normally used for ship radiotelegraph transmissions | .05 | .04 |
| (d) Other mobile stations | .1 | .1 |

[1] This tolerance is applicable to previously licensed simple oscillator transmitters transferred to other mobile stations.

INTERNATIONAL FISHERIES COMMISSION.

REGULATIONS OF THE INTERNATIONAL FISHERIES COMMISSION ADOPTED PURSUANT TO THE PACIFIC HALIBUT FISHERY CONVENTION BETWEEN THE DOMINION OF CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, SIGNED MAY 9, 1930

1. The convention waters shall be divided into the following areas, all directions given being magnetic.

(a) Area 1 shall include all convention waters southeast of a line running northeast and southwest through Willapa Bay light on Cape Shoalwater, as shown on Chart 6185 published in May, 1926, by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, which light is approximately in latitude 46°43'07" N., longitude 124°04'18" W.

(b) Area 2 shall include all convention waters off the coasts of the United States of America and of Alaska and of the Dominion of Canada between Area 1 and a line running through the most westerly point of Glacier Bay, Alaska, to Cape Spencer Light as shown on Chart 8304 published in September, 1923, by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, which light is approximately latitude 58°11'48" N., longitude 136°38'24" W., thence south one-quarter east.

(c) Area 3 shall include all the convention waters off the coast of Alaska that are between Area 2 and a straight line running south from the southwestern extremity of Cape Sagak on Umnak Island, at a point approximately latitude 52°41'25" N., longitude 168°58'05" W., and that are south of the Alaska Peninsula and of the Aleutian Islands including the intervening straits or passes.

(d) Area 4 shall include all convention waters not included in Areas 1, 2, and 3.

2. The catch of halibut to be taken during the fishing season of 1937 from Area 2 shall be limited to approximately 21,700,000 pounds of salable halibut, and from Area 3 to approximately 24,300,000 pounds of salable halibut, or, if the International Fisheries Commission shall at any time so decide, the catch shall not be limited separately in Areas 2 and 3, but shall be limited to 46,000,000 pounds of salable halibut from the combined Areas 2 and 3, the weights in each or any such limit to be computed as with heads off and entrails removed. The International Fisheries Commission shall as early in the said year as is practicable determine and announce to the respective Governments the date on which it deems each such limit of catch will be attained, and the limit of each such catch shall then be that which shall be taken prior to said date, and the area or areas to which such limit applies shall at that date be closed to all halibut fishing for the duration of the close season as defined and modified in Section 5 of these regulations provided that if it shall at any time become evident to the International Fisheries Commission that the limit will not be reached by such date it may substitute another date, provided also that the International Fisheries Commission may fix any date subsequent to November 1 as the commencement of the close season regardless of the catch which it deems will be attained by such date, and provided further that nothing in this regulation shall prohibit the fishing for other species of fish and fishing by the International Fisheries Commission as provided for in Article 1 of the Treaty.

3. (a) All vessels of five tons net or over which shall fish halibut with set lines or bottom nets or trawls and all vessels which shall fish for halibut in any manner and which shall transport the same from one area as defined by these regulations to another such area for landing or for sale, must be licensed by the International Fisheries Commission prior to such fishing operations. This license shall be issued without fee by the customs officers of either Government or by the International Fisheries Commission representatives, and each such vessel shall at all times carry this license, which license shall at all times be subject to inspection by authorized officers of either Government or by representatives of the International Fisheries Commission.

(b) The license shall not be valid unless validated before departure is allowed from the port of last clearance prior to each fishing operation for which statistical returns are required, and such validation shall be void within 45 days thereafter unless renewed within that period. The area or areas as defined in Section 1 in which fishing operations are to be carried on during the next succeeding voyage must be entered on the face of the license prior to said validation. This validation shall be by customs officers or International Fisheries Commission representatives and shall not be made unless the provisions of Section 3 (c) and 3 (d) of these regulations have been complied with for all landings and all fishing operations since issue of the license provided that if the master or operator of any vessel shall fail to comply with the provisions of Section 3 (c) and 3 (d) the license of such vessel may be validated by authorized representatives of the International Fisheries Commission upon evidence either that there has been a judicial determination of the offense or that the said master or operator is no longer responsible for, nor sharing in, the operations of the vessel licensed. A new license may be issued by the officer accepting statistical return at any time to vessels which shall have furnished proof of loss of the license form previously issued, or when there shall be no further space for record of validation thereon, providing the receipt of statistical return shall be shown on the new form for any halibut taken during or after the voyage upon which loss has occurred. The old license form shall be forwarded in each case to the International Fisheries Commission.

The statistical return must state the port of landing, the amount taken within each area defined in Section 1 of these regulations, and the dates of operation in each such area. The total return must include all halibut landed or transferred to other vessels and must be full, true, and correct in all respects herein required. The master, operator, and/or any other person engaged on shares in the operation of any vessel licensed under these regulations may be required by the International Fisheries Commission or by any officer receiving such return to certify to its correctness to the best of his information and belief and to support the certificate by a sworn statement. A copy of such return must be forwarded by the customs officer to the International Fisheries Commission at such times as the latter shall require.

(d) The master or operator of any vessel licensed under these regulations shall keep an accurate log of all fishing operations including therein date, locality, amount of gear used, and amount of halibut taken daily in each such locality. This log record shall be open to inspection of authorized representatives of the International Fisheries Commission. The master, operator, and/or any other person engaged on shares in the operation of any vessel licensed under these regulations may be required by the International Fisheries Commission or by any officer of either Government to certify to the correctness of such log record to the best of his information and belief and to support the certificate by a sworn statement.

(e) When required for purposes of the Treaty all persons, firms, or corporations that shall buy halibut from fishing or transporting vessels shall keep and on request furnish to the International Fisheries Commission records of each purchase of halibut, showing date, locality of purchase, name of vessel purchased from, and the amount in pounds according to trade categories. Such persons, firms, or corporations may be required to certify to the correctness of such records and to support the certificate by a sworn statement.

I hereby amend Administrative Order No. 4, dated July 28, 1936, by reducing the allotment of $133,000 on the project Missouri 19 Boone to read $116,000. (5) Containers of distilled spirits exported in bond shall not be subject to these regulations, and the manufacture, and the shipment or delivery, of containers for packaging such spirits, as well as the manufacture for exportation, and the exportation to foreign countries, of empty containers for packaging distilled spirits for sale at retail may, upon application, in the discretion of the supervisor of the district in which such manufacture is carried on, be authorized under permit.

(6) Wherever in these regulations the name of any city or country is required to be blown in any bottle, the name may be either in the language of such country or in English.

(7) Liquor bottles, and other containers, authorized by this article, in which distilled spirits are imported for sale at retail shall also bear labels with the following marks and brands thereon:

ART. 6. Permits, revocation proceedings.—(1) Permits shall be issued only upon application therefor, filed with the supervisor in such form and in accordance with such rules as may be prescribed by the Commissioner.

(2) The supervisor shall make a thorough investigation of each application and all material facts ascertained shall be taken into account by him in acting thereon.

(3) (a) If, after considering an application, together with all material facts ascertained by investigation, the supervisor is of the opinion that the applicant is entitled to a permit under the law and regulations, the supervisor shall issue the permit as applied for.

(b) If the applicant is not entitled under subsection (a) to a permit, the supervisor shall disapprove the application and shall forthwith advise the applicant of such disapproval and of the grounds therefor.

(4) (a) Within 15 days after notice of disapproval, the applicant may file with the supervisor a request, in writing, for a hearing upon the application. If no request for hearing is received within such period, the disapproval shall be final. If request for hearing is received within such period, the supervisor shall designate a place and date of hearing and shall notify the applicant thereof. Notice of place and date of hearing shall be given not less than 15 days in advance of the date of hearing. Following the hearing, which may be held by the supervisor or his duly authorized agent, the supervisor shall make findings on the basis of the record, and shall thereupon, in accordance with the findings, affirm or reverse the disapproval of the application. If the original disapproval is reversed, the supervisor shall promptly issue the permit applied for. If the original disapproval is affirmed, the supervisor shall forthwith notify the applicant, who may, within 15 days of such notification, file with the supervisor a request for review of the record by the Commissioner. The supervisor shall forward such request to the Commissioner, together with a copy of the record.

(b) If the Commissioner shall grant such review and shall, upon the record of the hearing before the supervisor, reverse the findings of the supervisor, he shall remand the record for further proceedings in accordance with his findings. If he affirms the findings of the supervisor, he shall so notify the applicant and his action thereon shall be final.

(c) Should the supervisor or Commissioner deem a rehearing necessary he may, upon application by the permittee, or on his own motion, order the same, and such rehearing shall be held before the supervisor, or his duly authorized agent, and shall otherwise conform to the requirements of this section, including findings and decision by the supervisor and review by the Commissioner. The testimony of the previous hearing may be made a part of the rehearing record.

(5) (a) All applicable provisions of these regulations, and all statements, conditions, and stipulations contained in an application for a permit, and all statements, evidence, affidavits, and other documents filed in support thereof, shall be considered as part of the terms and conditions of the permit.

(b) Each permit will specifically designate and limit the acts authorized by it and the time and place where such acts may be performed. Such permit may be issued for any specified period of time, not exceeding one year.

(6) If the supervisor has reason to believe that the permittee has violated, or is violating, any of the provisions of the Act, the regulations thereunder, or any of the terms or conditions of the permit, he shall serve a citation upon such permittee, ordering him to appear at a time and place designated in the citation, and show cause why his permit should not be suspended or revoked. The hearing date shall not be earlier than 15 days after the date of service of the citation. The permittee may appear at such hearing in person, or by attorney, and he and the attorney for the Government may offer such evidence, including affidavits, and submit such arguments and briefs with respect to the permit as may be deemed appropriate. The supervisor shall cause the testimony to be duly recorded, and, upon completion of the hearing, shall make a finding and order suspending or revoking the permit, or dismissing the proceedings, as in his judgment the evidence may warrant. He shall then promptly notify the permittee of his action. Should the permittee desire a review of the finding and order by the Commissioner, the procedure in such case shall conform to that prescribed in section 4 hereof for applicants for permits, except that the order of the Commissioner shall be for a rehearing or for the reversal and remanding of the proceeding or for the final revocation of the permit.

(7) The citation in revocation and suspension proceedings shall contain a statement of the acts charged as having been committed by the permittee and constituting grounds upon which suspension or revocation of his permit is sought. Service of such citation shall be made by mailing an original copy thereof to the permittee, by registered mail (with request for registry return receipt card), at the address stated in the permit, or by delivery of such original copy to such permittee personally by an officer or agent of the Commissioner. A certificate of mailing and the registry return card, or certificate of the officer or agent making personal service shall be filed as part of the record in the case and shall be prima facie evidence of valid service of the citation.

(8) When any permit is suspended, revoked, or surrendered, stocks of liquor bottles on hand or in process may be disposed of by the permittee in accordance with directions of the Commissioner. If such stocks are not so disposed of, they shall be seized and forfeited as provided in the Act.

ART. 7. Purchase, sale, and possession of used bottles.—(1) The purchase or sale of used liquor bottles, except as herein provided, and the reuse thereof for packaging distilled spirits, are prohibited.

(2) The possession of used liquor bottles by any person other than the person who empties the contents thereof is prohibited. This shall not prevent the owner or occupant of any premises upon which such bottles may lawfully be emptied from assembling the same in reasonable quantities upon such premises for the purposes of destruction.

ART. 8. General provisions.—The Deputy Commissioner in Charge of the Alcohol Tax Unit, Bureau of Internal Revenue, and his assistants, agents, and inspectors, are, under the direction of the Commissioner, charged with the administration and enforcement of the Act and these regulations.

ART. 9. Regulations 13 superseded; application of new regulations.—These regulations shall, on and after the date upon which they take effect, supersede Regulations 13 of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, and all amendments and modifications thereof. But these regulations shall not affect or limit any act done or any liability incurred under any regulations superseded hereby, or any suit, action, or proceeding had or commenced in any civil, administrative, or criminal cause or proceeding prior to such date, nor shall these regulations release, acquit, affect, or limit any offense committed in violation of previously existing regulations, or any penalty, liability, or forfeiture incurred prior to such date.

RESCISSION OF EXISTING REGULATION B AND ADOPTION OF WHOLLY NEW REGULATION B RELATING TO EXEMPTION OF FRACTIONAL UNDIVIDED INTERESTS IN OIL OR GAS RIGHTS

The Securities and Exchange Commission, acting pursuant to authority conferred upon it by the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and particularly Sections 3 (b) and 19 (a) thereof, finding (a) that registration of fractional undivided interests in oil or gas rights is not necessary in the public interest, or for the protection of investors, by reason of the small amounts involved and the limited character of the public offerings thereof, if such securities are sold in conformity with the terms and conditions of Regulation B, as hereinafter adopted; (b) that it is, however, necessary in the public interest and for the protection of investors that such exemption from registration be conditioned upon compliance with the provisions of Regulation B, as hereinafter adopted; and (c) that such action is necessary to carry out the provisions of the Act, hereby takes the following action:

I. The articles and rules now comprising Regulation B of the General Rules and Regulations promulgated by the Commission under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, are hereby rescinded, such rescission to become and be effective June 1, 1937; and

REGULATION B

EXEMPTIONS RELATING TO FRACTIONAL UNDIVIDED INTERESTS IN OIL OR GAS RIGHTS

Article 1. Definitions

Rule 300. Definitions of Terms Used in Regulation B.

When used in Regulation B:

(a) The term "fractional undivided interests in oil or gas rights" includes landowners' royalty interests, overriding royalty interests, working interests, participating royalty interests, oil payments, gas payments, and oil and gas payments, as defined in Subdivisions (b) to (f), inclusive, of this rule.

(b) The term "landowners' royalty interests" means fractional undivided landowners' oil or gas royalty interests.

(c) The term "overriding royalty interests" means fractional undivided interests in an oil or gas leasehold, or fractional undivided rights of participation in the oil or gas, or in the proceeds of the sale of the oil or gas, produced from specified tracts of land (excluding landowners' royalty interests), which interests or rights are unlimited as to the amount ultimately to be received, but which do not share in any part of the expense of development, operation, or production.

(d) The term "working interests" means fractional undivided interests in an oil or gas leasehold, the holder of which interests shares in any part of the expense of development, operation, or production.

(e) The term "participating royalty interests" means fractional undivided rights of participation in the oil or gas, or in the proceeds of the sale of the oil or gas, produced from specified tracts of land (excluding landowners' royalty interests and working interests), which interests or rights are unlimited as to the amount ultimately to be received, but which share in any part of the expense of development, operation, or production.

(f) The terms "oil payments", "gas payments", and "oil and gas payments", mean fractional undivided interests in, or rights of participation in, the oil or gas, or in the proceeds of the sale of oil or gas, produced by another (excluding landowners' royalty interests), which are limited to the amount fixed in barrels of oil, cubic feet of gas, or dollars.

(g) The term "offeror" means any issuer of, underwriter of, or dealer in, any of the interests or rights defined in Subdivisions (b) to (f), inclusive, of this rule, or any other person who issues, offers, or sells, any such interests or rights.

(h) The term "offering sheet" means any of the schedules from A to F, inclusive, the form of which is prescribed by the Commission, when appropriately completed so as to comply with the requirements of Regulation B, and particularly Rule 330 thereof.

Article 2. Exemptions Available to Fractional Undivided Interests in Oil or Gas Rights Under Section 3 (b) of the Act

Rule 310. Limitation upon Exemption.

Pursuant to Section 3 (b) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, but subject to the terms and conditions prescribed by Regulation B and the rules contained therein, fractional undivided interests in oil or gas rights, as defined in Rule 300, are added to the classes of securities exempted as provided in Section 3 (a) of such Act; but no issue or offering, of which any interests sought to be exempted hereunder is a part, shall be exempted under Regulation B where the aggregate amount at which such issue or offering is issued, offered, or sold, exceeds $100,000.

Rule 312. Exemption not Available to Offeror, if Unregistered Dealer.

If any offeror of any of the fractional undivided interests in oil or gas rights defined in Rule 300 is, in fact, a "dealer", as such term is defined in the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the exemption provided by Regulation B shall not be available, and, such offeror shall not be relieved from the liability which, in the absence of the exemption provided by Regulation B, would be imposed upon him because the security offered for sale, or sold, was unregistered, unless such offeror is, at the time of each offer to sell, and at the time of each sale, duly registered as a dealer under Section 15 of said Act.

Rule 314. Exception to Availability of Exemption.

Notwithstanding any provision of Regulation B, or any rule thereunder, no exemption shall be available for any issue, offering, or sale, of overriding royalty interests, working interests, participating royalty interests, oil payments, gas payments, or oil and gas payments, if the operating lessee or lessees then own, unencumbered, or if it appears that the operating lessee or lessees will own, unencumbered, in his, or their, name, or names, upon completion of the sale of the issue or offering sought to be exempted hereunder, less than a 40 per cent working interest in the tract, or tracts, of land involved, or less than 40 per cent of 100 per cent of all oil, gas, and other hydrocarbon substances produced, or to be produced, from the tract, or tracts, of land involved.

As used in this rule, the term "operating lessee or lessees" shall include the lessee of record actually engaged in developing and operating the tract, or tracts, involved, and all other owners of working interests who are regularly engaged in the business of exploring for, or producing, oil or gas, and who have consented in writing to the development and operation of said tract, or tracts, by such lessee of record.

Article 3. Requirements for Offeror Seeking Exemption

Rule 320. Conditions to Exemption and Relief from Liability for Non-registration.

The exemption provided by Regulation B shall be available, and, an offeror of any of the fractional undivided interests in oil or gas rights defined in Rule 300 shall be relieved from the liability which, in the absence of the exemption provided by Regulation B, would be imposed upon him because the security offered for sale, or sold, was unregistered, only upon condition:

(a) That prior to any offer to sell any security sought to be exempted hereunder, the offeror, or some person acting on his behalf, shall file with the Commission four copies of an offering sheet accurately describing such security and complying with the requirements of Rule 330.

(b) That the offeror, at the time of the initial offer to sell any security sought to be exempted hereunder, shall deliver, or cause to be delivered, to every person solicited to buy, a copy of the offering sheet then on file with the Commission (as amended, if amended) accurately describing such security and complying with the requirements of Rule 330.

The term "offer to sell", as used in Subdivision (b) of this rule, shall not be deemed to include a notice, circular, advertisement, letter, or communication published in any newspaper, or sent through the mails, or by means of any instrument of transportation, or communication in interstate commerce, or broadcast by radio, if such notice, circular, advertisement, letter, communication, or radio broadcast states only from whom an offering sheet may be obtained, and, in addition, does no more than identify the security, state the price thereof, and state by whom orders will be executed.

(c) That the offering sheet referred to in Subdivisions (a) and (b) of this rule is fully effective in all respects at the time of each initial offer to sell and at the time of the making of each contract for the sale of any security described therein.

(d) That prior to the making of each contract of sale with, and prior to the payment of any part of the consideration by, the purchaser of any security sought to be exempted hereunder, the offeror shall deliver to each purchaser evidence satisfactory to each such purchaser of the validity of the title which he is to receive and upon which the value of his interest depends.

(e) That not later than fifteen days after the making of each contract for the sale of any interest sought to be exempted hereunder, the offeror making such sale shall file with the Commission a written report of such sale on Form 1–G,[1] which shall be kept confidential, unless the Commission shall order otherwise.

Rule 322. Transactions Conditionally Excepted.

Compliance with Rule 320 shall not be required in any of the following types of transactions, provided exact copies of any prospectus, notice, circular letter, or circular communication sent through the mails, or by means of any instrument of transportation or communication in interstate commerce, to any of the persons, corporations, or trusts designated in Subdivisions (b), (c), and (d) of this rule, preliminary to the delivery of, or in lieu of, an offering sheet, or designed to communicate any of the information required in any offering sheet, are simultaneously filed with the Commission:

(b) Offers or sales to a person duly registered as a dealer under Section 15 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, who is resident, or, if a partnership or corporation, maintains a bona fide place of business within the same state or territory within which the oil or gas property involved in such sale is located.

(c) Offers or sales to a person duly registered as a dealer under Section 15 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, who is not resident, or, if a partnership or corporation, does not maintain a bona fide place of business within the same state or territory within which the oil or gas property involved in such sale is located, provided and upon condition that the offeror making the sale in question shall, not later than fifteen days after making the sale of the interest, file with the Commission a written report of such sale on Form 2–G,[1] which shall be kept confidential unless the Commission shall order otherwise.

(d) Offers or sales to a corporation or trust, not registered as a dealer under Section 15 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, the assets of which consist principally of oil or gas rights, and stock of which, or certificates of interest or participation in which, are at the time registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, provided and upon condition that the offeror making the sale in question shall, not later than fifteen days after making the sale of the interest, file with the Commission a written report of such sale on Form 2–G, which shall be kept confidential unless the Commission shall order otherwise.

Rule 324. Filing of Offering Sheets on Behalf of Other Persons.

An offering sheet may be filed with the Commission for, and on behalf of, other persons, provided all such other persons are duly registered as dealers under Section 15 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and upon condition that signed lists containing the names and addresses of all such persons are filed with the Commission in duplicate prior to any use of such offering sheet by such other persons; and the Commission may refuse to accept for filing any list which contains the name of any person who is not so registered.

Rule 326. Liability for Unauthorized Use of Offering Sheet.

Any person using an offering sheet in connection with an offer to sell any security described therein shall not be entitled to the exemption provided by Regulation B, and, shall not be relieved from any liability which, in the absence of the exemption provided by Regulation B, would be imposed upon such person because such security was unregistered, unless such offering sheet has previously been filed with the Commission by, or for, and on behalf of, such person, and is at the time of its use fully effective.

Rule 328. Restricting Use of Estimations not Included in Offering Sheets.

A person using any estimation of the amount of oil or gas recoverable from the tract involved, or from any other tract for comparative purposes, in connection with an offer to sell any fractional undivided interest in oil or gas rights, defined in Rule 300, shall not be entitled to the exemption provided by Regulation B, and, shall not be relieved from any liability which, in the absence of the exemption provided by Regulation B, would be imposed upon such person because such security was unregistered, unless such estimation is included in, and furnished as part of, an offering sheet accurately describing such security: Provided, however, That the provisions of this rule shall not be applicable in the case of a sale to a person regularly engaged in the business of exploring for, or producing, oil or gas.

Article 4. Form of Offering Sheets

(a) The offering sheet shall contain in substance, in the prescribed sequence, the statements, information, and factual data required by the appropriate schedule and shall be responsive to the requirements of each and every item and exhibit of the appropriate schedule.

(b) If an item of required information cannot be furnished, or there is reason to doubt the accuracy of all the information which has been acquired with regard thereto, the answer to the item may be omitted, but a full explanation of the reason for the omission must be given. In no case, however, may there be omitted on this ground information which is a matter of public record in the state or territory in which the tract is located.

(c) All information contained in an offering sheet, including exhibits, shall be as of a date not more than 110 days prior to the delivery of the offering sheet to the purchaser, and also as of a date not more than 110 days prior to the making of each contract for the sale of any security described therein.

(d) Each offering sheet filed with the Commission shall be executed in the manner prescribed by the Commission and shall bear the original signature of the person making the filing.

(e) Each offering sheet used, distributed, or delivered by the person making the filing shall be a copy of the offering sheet filed with the Commission (as amended, if amended).

(f) Each offering sheet used, distributed, or delivered by a person other than the person filing same with the Commission shall be a copy of the offering sheet filed with the Commission (as amended, if amended). It shall also be executed in the manner prescribed by the Commission, and shall bear the original signature of the person so using, distributing, or delivering same.

(g) The schedules hereinbefore referred to, and which are, by reference, hereby incorporated in, and made a part of, this rule, are as follows: [1]

Rule 332. Representations in Offering Sheets.

Every offering sheet, whether it does, or does not, comply with the requirements of Rule 330, shall be deemed to have been filed or used or distributed or delivered upon the express condition that:

(a) All statements or information contained in Divisions I and II of any offering sheet, or in any exhibit attached thereto or incorporated therein, shall constitute continuing representations, by the person filing such offering sheet to any person who may, in reliance upon a copy of such offering sheet, purchase any interest described therein, that the statements contained in Divisions I and II thereof and in the exhibits attached thereto are substantially correct and that no material fact has been omitted, the inclusion of which would reasonably appear necessary, in the light of the circumstances, to make the information contained therein not misleading to the purchaser.

(b) All statments or information contained in any offering sheet, or in any exhibit attached thereto or incorporated therein, shall constitute continuing representations by any offeror who shall deliver, or cause such offering sheet to be delivered, to any person who may, in reliance upon a copy of such offering sheet, purchase any interest described therein from, or through, such offeror, that such offering sheet is a true copy of an offering sheet filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission in compliance with the Rules and Regulations of the Commission on behalf of such offeror, that such offeror has reasonable grounds to believe, and does believe, that the statements contained therein are substantially correct, and, that no material fact known to the offeror has been omitted, the inclusion of which would reasonably appear necessary, in the light of the circumstances, to make the information contained therein not misleading to the purchaser.

(c) If an estimation of recoverable oil or gas, or a geological report made by someone other than the person filing the offering sheet, is included in the offering sheet, the contents thereof shall not be regarded as a representation by the person filing the offering sheet, provided the person filing the offering sheet has reason to believe, and does believe, that the author of such estimation or report possesses the qualifications and integrity necessary to make such estimation or report, and provided the person filing the offering sheet does not know or believe the estimation or report to be untrue or misleading in any respect.

Rule 334. Interests Involving Non-contiguous Tracts.

Oil or gas interests involving non-contiguous tracts of land may be included in the same offering sheet only upon condition that:

(a) All interests hereby offered for sale are producing landowners' royalty interests.

(b) All tracts so involved are currently producing oil or gas and are located wholly within the limits of the same oil or gas pool.

(c) All tracts so involved are being currently operated by the same operator under an oil and gas lease executed by one or more landowners, each of whom was, at the time of the execution of said oil and gas lease, the owner of a fee or mineral interest in each of the tracts involved.

(d) The purchaser of any such interest is entitled to the same fractional portion of the oil and gas produced from each tract covered by said lease, irrespective of the specific tract to which such purchaser may receive a conveyance and irrespective of the specific tract from which such production may be obtained.

[1] Schedules A to F were filed with the Division of the Federal Register, The National Archives.

Article 5. Suspension Orders and Their Effect

Rule 340. Suspension Orders.

(a) If, at any time within seven days after the date upon which an offering sheet is received by the Commission for filing, the Commission has reasonable grounds to believe that such offering sheet is incomplete or inaccurate in any material respect, or includes an untrue statement of a material fact, or omits to state any material fact necessary to make the statements therein contained not misleading, or fails to comply with any of the requirements of Regulation B, the Commission may enter an order temporarily suspending the effectiveness of the filing of such offering sheet pending a final hearing thereon. The Commission shall, promptly upon the entry of any such order, give notice to the person filing such offering sheet: (1) that such order has been entered, and (2) that the Commission will, upon receipt of a written request from the person filing such offering sheet, set the matter for hearing, within twenty days after the receipt of such request, at a place to be designated by the Commission. Upon receipt of any such request the Commission will forthwith set the matter for hearing accordingly, and will promptly give notice of the time and place thereof. If the Commission does not set the matter for hearing upon a date within such twenty-day period, the order for suspension then in effect shall, upon expiration of said twenty-day period, expire and be of no further force or effect. Such hearing may be continued from time to time for cause, but if the Commission does not enter an order permanently suspending the effectiveness of such offering sheet within sixty days after such hearing is finally closed, the suspension order then in effect shall, upon expiration of said sixty-day period, likewise expire and be of no further force or effect.

(b) If, at any time after notice and opportunity for hearing, either at the written request of a person filing an offering sheet or upon motion of the Commission, the Commission finds that an offering sheet is incomplete or inaccurate in any material respect, or includes an untrue statement of a material fact, or omits to state any material fact necessary to make the statements therein contained not misleading, or fails to comply with any of the requirements of Regulation B, the Commission may enter an order permanently suspending the effectiveness of the filing of such offering sheet, or, if an order has been entered pursuant to Subdivision (a) of this rule, and is still in effect, may make the suspension effected by such order permanent.

(c) If, before the hearing with respect thereto is finally closed, the Commission finds that an offering sheet has been amended to cure the objections specified in any temporary suspension order entered pursuant to Subdivision (a) of this rule, or specified in any notice given pursuant to Subdivision (b) of this rule, the Commission will thereupon terminate the proceeding which may have been instituted by any such temporary suspension order, or by any such notice, and give notice of such action to the person who filed the offering sheet.

(d) All notices required by this rule shall be given to the person who filed the offering sheet, and shall be given either by personal service, or by registered mail, or confirmed telegraphic notice, addressed to such person at the address given in the offering sheet.

Rule 342. Effect of Suspension Order.

An offering sheet complying with the requirements of Regulation B, and particularly Rule 330, shall become effective on the eighth day after the day upon which it is received by the Commission for filing, except that:

(a) If the Commission shall enter an order under Rule 340 (a) suspending the effectiveness of the filing of such offering sheet within seven days after the date upon which it is received by the Commission for filing, the filing thereof shall not become effective for any purpose whatever until such proceeding is terminated, or such order for suspension expires.

(b) If the Commission shall at any time give notice of a hearing or enter an order under Rule 340 (b) suspending the effectiveness of the filing of such offering sheet, said offering sheet shall not be effective for any purpose whatever subsequent to the giving of such notice or during the period of such suspension.

Article 6. Withdrawal, Amendment, and Termination of Offering Sheets

Rule 350. Withdrawal of Offering Sheet.

Any person who has filed an offering sheet may apply to the Commission for an order consenting to the withdrawal of same, provided none of the securities described in said offering sheet have been sold, and such person shall so represent to the Commission in writing. The Commission will enter an order consenting thereto unless it shall find that sales of the securities described in said offering sheet have, in fact, been made.

Rule 352. When Offering Sheet may be Amended.

Any person who has filed an offering sheet may, subject to the provisions of Rule 354, file amendments thereto, but only under the following conditions and in the following instances:

(a) In the event none of the securities referred to in said offering sheet have been sold and the person filing the offering sheet shall so represent to the Commission in writing.

(b) In the event a suspension order is in effect and the hearing with respect thereto has not been finally closed.

(c) In the event no suspension order is in effect, but notice has been given by the Commission pursuant to Rule 340 (b), and the hearing with respect thereto has not been finally closed.

Rule 354. How Offering Sheet may be Amended.

Any amendment to an offering sheet shall be filed in accordance with this rule and shall become and be effective only as hereinafter provided:

(a) The amendment shall be filed with the Commission, in quadruplicate, and each copy shall bear the signature of the person who filed the offering sheet as well as every other person whose estimations or statements are modified or affected by such amendment.

(b) An amendment shall be made either by filing or substituting a wholly corrected offering sheet, or by filing or substituting entire exhibits or pages, as amended.

(c) Any amendment complying with the requirements of this rule shall become effective at such time as the Commission may order.

Rule 13–21. Subsidiaries Authorized to Perform Services or Construction or to Sell Goods.

(6) such transaction consists of a sale of goods produced by the seller.

(c) This rule shall not be applicable to a subsidiary which is itself a registered holding company. Such company may perform services or construction for, or sell goods to, associate companies as provided in Rule 13–11.

Acting pursuant to the authority conferred upon it by the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, and particularly Sections 17 (c) and 20 (a) thereof, and finding that certain amendments to Rule 17C–9 are necessary and appropriate and will not adversely affect the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers, the Securities and Exchange Commission hereby amends Rule 17C–9 so that the same shall read as follows:

Rule 17C–9. Filing of Statements with Respect to Certain Rules.

Each registered holding company or subsidiary of a registered holding company which has as an officer or director any person who has any financial connection which would make it unlawful for him to hold such position except for Rules 17C–4, 17C–7, or 17C–8 shall within 30 days after registration of such holding company (or if such person is not then such an officer or director, within 30 days after he becomes such) file with the Commission a statement signed by such person, setting forth the facts by virtue of which it is deemed that such rule or rules are applicable. Similar statements shall also be filed within 30 days subsequent to each annual meeting of such company thereafter while such person remains an officer or director and continues such financial connection. SUSPENSION ORDER, ORDER FOR HEARING (UNDER RULE 340 (A)) AND ORDER DESIGNATING TRIAL EXAMINER

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and therefore alleging, that the offering sheet described in the title hereof and filed by the respondent named therein is incomplete or inaccurate in the following material respects, to wit:

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and therefore alleging, that the offering sheet described in the title hereof and filed by the respondent named therein is incomplete or inaccurate in the following material respects, to wit:

(1) In that the number of barrels of oil which must be produced before the smallest fractional interest proposed to be offered will be entitled to receive one barrel, as set forth in Division II, Item 1, is not correct;

(2) In that the statement made in Division II, Item 9 (b), relative to whether or not the royalty is perpetual, may not be correct, and does not appear to agree with information disclosed by Exhibit B;

(3) In that in Division II, Item 11 (c), the amount of taxes required to be given is omitted;

(4) In that the statement contained in Division II, Item 13, that "there are practically no dry holes within the producing area, which has resulted in a closer development than is ordinarily found", is not believed to be correct by reason of the fact that there are comparatively large areas within the field that have not been drilled, and therefore the statement made may be misleading;

(5) In that the statement relative to the number of producing wells in the north extension of the Oklahoma City field, as set forth in Division II, Item 13, is not believed to be correct; nor is the legal description of the property, as contained in this item, believed to be correct by reason of the fact that it is in conflict with the legal description contained in Exhibit B, and does not agree with the information given in Exhibit A;

(6) In that the date as of which the gross production of oil is disclosed in Division II, Item 16 (a), is omitted;

(7) In that the figures given in Division II, Items 16 (c) and (d), are not believed to be correct;

(8) In that the statement made in Division II, Item 16 (f), is not correct;

(9) In that the statement made in Division II, Item 19, is not intelligible, and for that reason may prove to be misleading.

It is ordered, pursuant to Rule 340 (a) of the Commission's General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that the effectiveness of the filing of said offering sheet be, and hereby is, suspended until the 24th day of June, 1937; that an opportunity for hearing be given to the said respondent for the purpose of determining the material completeness or accuracy of the said offering sheet in the respects in which it is herein alleged to be incomplete or inaccurate, and whether the said order of suspension shall be revoked or continued; and

It is further ordered that Charles S. Lobingier, an officer of the Commission be, and hereby is, designated as trial examiner to preside at such hearing, to continue or adjourn the said hearing from time to time, to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, consider any amendments to said offering sheet as may be filed prior to the conclusion of the hearing, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law; and

It is further ordered that the taking of testimony in this proceeding commence on the 9th day of June, 1937, at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon, at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th Street and Pennsylvania, Avenue, Washington, D. C., and continue thereafter at such times and places as said examiner may designate.

Upon the completion of testimony in this matter the examiner is directed to close the hearing and make his report to the Commission.

By the Commission.

Division of Grazing.

AMENDMENT OF RULES FOR ADMINISTRATION OF GRAZING DISTRICTS APPROVED MARCH 2, 1936, AS AMENDED JANUARY 28, 1937

Under the heading "Licenses", after the last paragraph on page 3 of the said amendment add the following:

Licenses will be issued in the above-named order of classes until the carrying capacity of the public range shall be attained. If a class more than exhausts the capacity of the range, all junior classes will be eliminated, and cuts within the last-recognized class shall be made by reduction of numbers or limitation of seasonal use until the number equal to the fixed carrying capacity of the public range is reached.

Nonuse licenses for which no fee will be charged will be issued to holders of licenses who apply for them, within the discretion of the regional grazier.

When nonuse licenses are issued to applicants for reasons other than range conservation purposes, the regional grazier may issue temporary licenses for an equivalent number of stock for the period for which the nonuse licenses are issued.

On page 3 of said rules of March 2, 1936, under the heading "Fees", add the following paragraphs:

CHARGE FOR WATER

All except those having a license to graze in the district wherein the water is located will be charged a service fee for watering livestock at wells operated and maintained by the Division of Grazing at the rate of one-tenth (1/10) of a cent per head of sheep and goats and one-half (1/2) of a cent per head of cattle and horses.

CROSSING PERMITS

A fee of one-twentieth (1/20) of a cent per head per day for sheep or goats and one-fourth (1/4) of a cent per head per day for cattle or horses will be charged for crossing permits, but no charge will be made for permits on stock driveways established under the provision of section 10 of the act of December 29, 1916 (39 Stat. 862), or on limited and defined trails over public lands within a grazing district where the purpose is proper and lawful.

REFUNDS

During periods of range depletion due to severe drought or other natural causes, or in case of a general epidemic of disease, during the life of the permit, the Secretary of the Interior will in his discretion remit, reduce, refund in whole or in part, or postpone payment of grazing fees for such depletion period so long as the emergency exists.

The failure to utilize grazing rights after a license is issued will not entitle a licensee to a refund of fees properly paid. However, where fees have been paid which are not required by law or in excess of lawful requirements, an application for refund may be made under the provisions of the act of June 27, 1930 (46 Stat. 822).

On page 3 of the rules of March 2, 1936, under the heading "Election of District Advisors", amend the fourth paragraph to read as follows:

Notice of the time and place of said election shall be published in some newspaper of general circulation in the locality by the regional grazier for the area or areas affected. The notice will also be posted in the office of the regional grazier and in the principal post office in the locality involved.

ORDER

At a General Session of the Interstate Commerce Commission held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 24th day of May, A. D. 1937.

PETITION OF CARRIERS FOR AUTHORITY TO WAIVE DEMURRAGE CHARGES WHICH ACCRUED ON ACCOUNT OF RECENT FLOOD CONDITIONS

It appearing, That by Supplement No. 6 to Agent Jones' tariff I. C. C. No. 2944 Paragraph 4 was added to Section A of Rule 8 thereof effective April 1, 1937, which new paragraph reads as follows:

When, because of floods, earthquakes, hurricanes or tornadoes, and conditions in the devastated area resulting therefrom, it is impossible for a Consignor or Consignee to get to or to load or unload a car, the detention directly chargeable thereto will be eliminated in computing demurrage.

That Paragraph 2 of Section B, Rule 8, and Section E of Rule 9 were amended effective April 1, 1937, to read as follows, the italicized matter being added to the former rules:

Cars for unloading or reconsigning. When, as the result of the act or neglect of any carrier, floods, earthquakes, hurricanes or tornadoes and conditions in the devastated area resulting therefrom, cars originating at the same point, moving via the same route and consigned to one consignee at one point, are bunched or when cars originating at different points and transported via the same route from an intermediate common point to destination are bunched after arriving at the common point (in which event the dates of arrival of the cars at common point will govern in determining the bunching instead of the dates of shipments), and are tendered for delivery by this railroad in accumulated number in excess of daily shipments, the consignee shall be allowed such free time as he would have been entitled to had the cars not been bunched, but when any car is released before the expiration of such free time, the free time on the next car will be computed from the first 7:00 a. m. following such release; provided, however, no allowance will be made unless claim is presented in writing to this railroad's agent within thirty days, exclusive of Sundays and legal holidays, after the date on which bill for demurrage is rendered, supported by a statement showing date and point of shipments of each car involved in the bunching claim.

NOTE.—Under this rule, cars moving from different points and/or via different routes to destination and arriving on different dates will be considered bunched if tendered for delivery on one day and such free time shall be allowed as the consignee would have been entitled to, had the cars been placed or tendered for delivery in the order of their arrival.

Section E of Rule 9:

A party who enters into this average agreement shall not be entitled to include therein cars subject to Rule 2, Sections B and C, page 43 of tariff, as amended, Rule 3, Section B, Paragraph 2 (f)–1, page 44 of tariff, as amended, nor Rule 6, Sections B and C, page 48 of tariff, nor shall he be entitled to cancellation or refund of demurrage charges under Section A, Paragraph 1, of Rule 8, page 49 of tariff, as amended, nor under Section B of Rule 8, page 49 of tariff, as amended, except when bunching has been caused by floods, earthquakes, hurricanes or tornadoes, and conditions in the devastated area resulting therefrom, strike of carrier's employes, or when shipments of coal, withheld by the carrier to protect its fuel supply, are subsequently delivered to consignee in accumulated numbers.

And it further appearing, That during the period January 2, 1937, to March 31, 1937, both dates inclusive, demurrage charges accrued on cars detained in the Mississippi and Ohio River valleys as a result of flood conditions, which demurrage charges would not have accrued under the rules effective April 1, 1937, referred to above, and that petition having been filed with the Commission on behalf of carriers party to said tariff requesting authority to adjust demurrage charges on cars so detained to the basis effective April 1, 1937,

It is ordered, That the carriers party to Agent Jones' tariff I. C. C. No. 2944 be, and they are hereby, authorized and directed to refund amounts collected under the provisions of said tariff for demurrage charges which accrued during the period from January 2, 1937, to March 31, 1937, both dates inclusive, and to waive collection of any outstanding amounts assessed under the provisions of the rules in those instances where demurrage charges would not have accrued under the rules which became effective on April 1, 1937.

It is further ordered, That the carriers party to Agent Jones' tariff I. C. C. No. 2944 promptly file with the Commission statements definitely and clearly describing the cars upon which adjustments shall have been made under authority of this order.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

SPECIAL PACKING REQUIREMENTS FOR INTERNATIONAL PARCEL-POST PACKAGES CONTAINING LIQUIDS AND SUBSTANCES WHICH EASILY LIQUEFY

MAY 24, 1937.

Claims for indemnity are still being received in connection with parcels addressed to foreign countries containing liquids and substances which easily liquefy, showing that the parcels were not prepared for mailing in accordance with the special packing requirements for such parcels.

As provided in the fourth paragraph, Page 256, of the July, 1936, Postal Guide, liquids and substances which easily liquefy must be packed in two receptacles. Between the first (bottle, flash, etc.) and the second (box of metal, strong wood, strong corrugated cardboard, strong fibreboard, or receptacle of equal strength) there shall be left a space to be filled with sawdust, bran or other absorbent material in sufficient quantity to absorb all the liquid contents in the case of breakage. However, in the case of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and those countries receiving parcels via Great Britain, Federated Malay States, Irish Free State, Leeward Islands, Straits Settlements and Windward Islands, the outer receptacle should be of strong wood or metal.

Failure to observe the foregoing not only deprives claimants of the right to any indemnity which might otherwise have been payable, but, as pointed out in previous notices, also renders other parcels included in the same dispatch liable to damage in case of breakage. Therefore, postmasters are directed to have accepting employees use more care to see that parcels containing liquids and substances which easily liquefy are packed as required before acceptance for mailing. In case of doubt, inquiry should be made as to the nature of the contents and packing.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION.

NOTICE

MINIMUM RATES, CHARGES, AND TARIFFS

To All Motor Carriers Subject to Sections 216 and 218 of the Motor Carrier Act, 1935:

MAY 28 1937.

In the Commission's Notice of February 13, 1936, all motor carriers were admonished to file, effective April 1, 1936, schedules of minimum rates and charges, if contract carriers, and tariffs, if common carriers. It was further stated that each carrier who was in doubt at that time as to whether it was a contract or a common carrier should file schedules of minimum rates and charges, or tariffs, or both, according to its best judgment of the status of its operation under the Motor Carrier Act, 1935.

Some motor carriers have recently attempted under the authority of the Notice of February 13, 1936, to file with the Commission, rates and charges for both common and contract carrier operation. The Notice of February 13, 1936 was issued because of the emergency resulting from the requirements of the Motor Carrier Act, 1935, relating to the initial filing of carriers' rates and charges. That emergency no longer exists. Any carrier who elected to file initial rates and charges either as a common carrier or as a contract carrier only, may not now engage in dual operation and file charges both as a contract and a common carrier.

If the carrier now desires to begin dual operation it will be necessary for it to file a formal application and await the action of the Commission thereon before beginning such operation.

The Notice of February 13, 1936, is hereby withdrawn and rescinded in its entirety.

SUSPENSION ORDER, ORDER FOR HEARING (UNDER RULE 340 (A)) AND ORDER DESIGNATING TRIAL EXAMINER

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and therefore alleging, that the offering sheet described in the title hereof and filed by the respondent named therein is incomplete or inaccurate in the following material respects, to wit:

(1) In that the information disclosed by Division II, Item 16 (a) (iii), relative to the gross production by water from the tract involved may be misleading by reason of the fact that it is believed the tract in question has, since February, 1937, begun to produce water, and that such information is not disclosed in the offering sheet although such facts were available to the offeror;

(2) In that the information contained in Items 17 (b) and 18 (a), (iv) and (v), does not agree with similar information given in the plat attached to the offering sheet as "Exhibit A";

(3) In that the legend required to be given as a part of Exhibit A is incomplete by reason of the fact that the symbol for a "dry hole" is omitted;

It is ordered, pursuant to rule 340 (a) of the Commission's General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that the effectiveness of the filing of said offering sheet be, and hereby is, suspended until the 27th day of June, 1937; that an opportunity for hearing be given to the said respondent for the purpose of determining the material completeness or accuracy of the said offering sheet in the respects in which it is herein alleged to be incomplete or inaccurate, and whether the said order of suspension shall be revoked or continued; and

It is further ordered that John H. Small, an officer of the Commission be, and hereby is, designated as trial examiner to preside at such hearing, to continue or adjourn the said hearing from time to time, to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, consider any amendments to said offering sheet as may be filed prior to the conclusion of the hearing, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law; and

It is further ordered that the taking of testimony in this proceeding commence on the 11th day of June, 1937, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon, at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C., and continue thereafter at such times and places as said examiner may designate.

Upon the completion of testimony in this matter the examiner is directed to close the hearing and make his report to the Commission.

REVISION OF REGULATIONS

DEDUCTION OF INSURANCE PREMIUMS FROM DISABILITY COMPENSATION, RETIREMENT PAY, OR PENSION

R-3020. The insured under a United States Government life insurance policy; or under yearly renewable term insurance, may authorize the monthly deduction of premiums from disability compensation, retirement pay, or pension that may be due and payable to him under any laws administered by the Veterans Administration, in accordance with the following provisions:

(A) The authorization must be in writing over the signature of the insured, and whenever practicable on such forms as may be prescribed by the Veterans Administration.

(B) The monthly disability compensation, retirement pay, or pension so due and payable must be equal to, or in excess of, the amount of the insurance premium figured on a monthly basis.

(C) The authorization will be effective on the first day of the month next following the month in which it is received by the Veterans Administration, unless the insured elects to have the authorization become effective on the first day of a succeeding month.

(D) The authorization may be canceled by the insured at any time by notice in writing to the Veterans Administration. Such cancelation will be effective on the first day of the month following the month in which it is received by the Veterans Administration.

(E) If the benefits payable to the insured are apportioned under the regulations of the Veterans Administration now in effect or hereafter issued, the deduction authorized by the insured shall be from that portion awarded to the insured under such regulations. (May 28, 1937.) (Section 5, World War Veterans Act, 1924.)

EFFECTIVE DATE OF AUTHORIZATION FOR DEDUCTION OF INSURANCE PREMIUMS FROM DISABILITY COMPENSATION, RETIREMENT PAY, OR PENSION

R–3021. When premium deductions are authorized by the insured under United States Government life insurance or under yearly renewable term insurance, in accordance with the provisions of Veterans Administration regulations, the Veterans Administration will make monthly deductions from the disability compensation, retirement pay, or pension, due and payable to the insured, of an amount sufficient to pay the monthly premium on the insurance. Such deductions shall begin with the month in which the authorization is effective and continue so long as the disability compensation, retirement pay, or pension due and payable to the insured is sufficient to pay the monthly insurance premium, unless the authorization is sooner canceled or otherwise terminated. (May 28, 1937.) (Section 5, World War Veterans Act, 1924.)

PREMIUMS TO BE DEDUCTED FROM DISABILITY COMPENSATION, RETIREMENT PAY, OR PENSION, TREATED AS PAID, FOR PURPOSE OF PREVENTING LAPSE

R–3022. When premium deductions are authorized by the insured under United States Government life insurance or under yearly renewable term insurance, in accordance with the provisions of Veterans Administration regulations, the insurance premium will be treated as paid for the purpose only of preventing lapse of the insurance, although such deduction is not in fact made, if upon the due date of the premium there is due and payable to the insured an amount of disability compensation, retirement pay, or pension sufficient to provide the payment. Any premium authorized to be deducted from disability compensation, retirement pay, or pension due and payable to the insured and not actually paid, shall be deducted from any amount of current disability compensation, retirement pay, or pension that may become due and payable to the insured. The amounts so deducted for premiums shall be deposited and covered into the Treasury to the credit of the military and naval insurance appropriation or the United States Government life insurance fund, as may be proper. (May 28, 1937.) (Section 5, World War Veterans Act, 1924.)

TERMINATION OF THE AUTHORIZATION TO DEDUCT INSURANCE PREMIUMS FROM DISABILITY COMPENSATION, RETIREMENT PAY, OR PENSION

R–3023. Deduction of insurance premiums on United States Government life insurance or on yearly renewable term insurance shall cease and the authorization shall terminate if the disability compensation, retirement pay, or pension becomes insufficient to provide the premium, or if disability compensation, retirement pay, or pension is no longer due and payable to the insured. The insurance shall lapse after the termination or cancelation of the authorization to deduct premiums from disability compensation, retirement pay, or pension, unless the premium be otherwise paid within the grace period. The insured will be notified, by letter directed to his last address of record, of the termination of the authorization to deduct premiums; but the failure to give such notice or the failure to receive such notice, shall not prevent lapse of the insurance. (May 28, 1937.) (Section 5, World War Veterans Act, 1924.)

DEDUCTION OF PREMIUMS ON TOTAL DISABILITY INSURANCE

R–3024. An authorization to deduct premiums on a contract of United States Government life insurance in accordance with the provisions of R. & P. R–3020, R–3021, R–3022, and R–3023 will be deemed to include the premiums on any contract of total disability insurance that may be attached to said contract of United States Government life insurance, and the provisions of said paragraphs shall be applicable jointly and inseparably to both contracts as though they were one contract. (May 28, 1937.) (Section 5, World War Veterans Act, 1924.)

PART I

Section 5 of the Joint Resolution Approved by the President May 1, 1937, Amending the Joint Resolution of August 31, 1935

Section 5 of the joint resolution approved by the President on May 1, 1937, amending the joint resolution of August 31, 1935, reads as follows:

"SEC. 5. (a) There is hereby established a National Munitions Control Board (hereinafter referred to as the 'Board') to carry out the provisions of this Act. The Board shall consist of the Secretary of State, who shall be chairman and executive officer of the Board, the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, and the Secretary of Commerce. Except as otherwise provided in this Act, or by other law, the administration of this Act is vested in the Department of State. The Secretary of State shall promulgate such rules and regulations with regard to the enforcement of this section as he may deem necessary to carry out its provisions. The Board shall be convened by the chairman and shall hold at least one meeting a year.

"(b) Every person who engages in the business of manufacturing, exporting, or importing any of the arms, ammunition, or implements of war referred to in this Act, whether as an exporter, importer, manufacturer, or dealer, shall register with the Secretary of State his name, or business name, principal place of business, and places of business in the United States, and a list of the arms, ammunition, and implements of war which he manufactures, imports, or exports.

"(c) Every person required to register under this section shall notify the Secretary of State of any change in the arms, ammunition, or implements of war which he exports, imports, or manufactures; and upon such notification the Secretary of State shall issue to such person an amended certificate of registration, free of charge, which shall remain valid until the date of expiration of the original certificate. Every person required to register under the provisions of this section shall pay a registration fee of $500, unless he manufactured, exported, or imported arms, ammunition, and implements of war to a total sales value of less than $50,000 during the twelve months immediately preceding his registration, in which case he shall pay a registration fee of $100. Upon receipt of the required registration fee, the Secretary of State shall issue a registration certificate valid for five years, which shall be renewable for further periods of five years upon the payment for each renewal of a fee of $500 in the case of persons who manufactured, exported, or imported arms, ammunition, and implements of war to a total sales value of more than $50,000 during the twelve months immediately preceding the renewal, or a fee of $100 in the case of persons who manufactured, exported, or imported arms, ammunition, and implements of war to a total sales value of less than $50,000 during the twelve months immediately preceding the renewal. The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby directed to refund, out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of $400 to every person who shall have paid a registration fee of $500 pursuant to this Act, who manufactured, exported, or imported arms, ammunition, and implements of war to a total sales value of less than $50,000 during the twelve months immediately preceding his registration.

"(d) It shall be unlawful for any person to export, or attempt to export, from the United States to any other state, any of the arms, ammunition, or implements of war referred to in this Act, or to import, or attempt to import, to the United States from any other state, any of the arms, ammunition, or implements of war referred to in this Act, without first having obtained a license therefor.

"(e) All persons required to register under this section shall maintain, subject to the inspection of the Secretary of State, or any person or persons designated by him, such permanent records of manufacture for export, importation, and exportation of arms, ammunition, and implements of war as the Secretary of State shall prescribe.

"(f) Licenses shall be issued to persons who have registered as herein provided for, except in cases of export or import licenses where the export of arms, ammunition, or implements of war would be in violation of this Act or any other law of the United States, or of a treaty to which the United States is a party, in which cases such licenses shall not be issued.

"(g) Whenever the President shall have issued a proclamation under the authority of section 1 of this Act, all licenses theretofore issued under this Act shall ipso facto and immediately upon the issuance of such proclamation, cease to grant authority to export arms, ammunition, or implements of war from any place in the United States to any belligerent state, or to any state wherein civil strife exists, named in such proclamation, or to any neutral state for transshipment to, or for the use of, any such belligerent state or any such state wherein civil strife exists; and said licenses, insofar as the grant of authority to export to the state or states named in such proclamation is concerned, shall be null and void.

"(h) No purchase of arms, ammunition, or implements of war shall be made on behalf of the United States by any officer, executive department, or independent establishment of the Government from any person who shall have failed to register under the provisions of this Act.

"(i) The provisions of the Act of August 29, 1916, relating to the sale of ordnance and stores to the Government of Cuba (39 Stat. 619, 643; U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 50, sec. 72), are hereby repealed as of December 31, 1937.

"(j) The Board shall make an annual report to Congress, copies of which shall be distributed as are other reports transmitted to Congress. Such reports shall contain such information and data collected by the Board as may be considered of value in the determination of questions connected with the control of trade in arms, ammunition, and implements of war. The Board shall include in such reports a list of all persons required to register under the provisions of this Act, and full information concerning the licenses issued hereunder.

"(k) The President is hereby authorized to proclaim upon recommendation of the Board from time to time a list of articles which shall be considered arms, ammunition, and implements of war for the purposes of this section."

Section 1 of the same joint resolution reads in part as follows:

"(e) Whoever, in violation of any of the provisions of this Act, shall export, or attempt to export, or cause to be exported, arms, ammunition, or implements of war from the United States shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both, and the property, vessel, or vehicle containing the same shall be subject to the provisions of sections 1 to 8, inclusive, title 6, chapter 30, of the Act approved June 15, 1917 (40 Stat. 223–225; U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 22, secs. 238–245).

"(f) In the case of the forfeiture of any arms, ammunition, or implements of war by reason of a violation of this Act, no public or private sale shall be required; but such arms, ammunition, or implements of war shall be delivered to the Secretary of War for such use or disposal thereof as shall be approved by the President of the United States.

Section 12 of the same joint resolution reads as follows:

"SEC. 12. In every case of the violation of any of the provisions of this Act or of any rule or regulation issued pursuant thereto where a specific penalty is not herein provided, such violator or violators, upon conviction, shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both."

"SEC. 13. For the purposes of this Act—

"(a) The term 'United States', when used in a geographical sense, includes the several States and Territories, the insular possessions of the United States (including the Philippine Islands), the Canal Zone, and the District of Columbia.

"(b) The term 'person' includes a partnership, company, association, or corporation, as well as a natural person.

"(c) The term 'vessel' means every description of watercraft (including aircraft) or other contrivance used, or capable of being used, as a means of transportation on, under, or over water.

"(d) The term 'American vessel' means any vessel (including aircraft) documented under the laws of the United States.

"(e) The term 'vehicle' means every description of carriage (including aircraft) or other contrivance used, or capable of being used, as a means of transportation on or over land.

(2) Applications for registration transmitted to the Secretary of State must be accompanied by a registration fee in the form of money orders or a certified check. This fee is in the amount of $100 for persons who have not manufactured, exported, or imported arms, ammunition, or implements of war, as enumerated in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937, to a total sales value of more than $50,000 during the 12 months immediately preceding their application for registration, and in the amount of $500 for persons who have manufactured, exported, or imported arms, ammunition, or implements of war, as enumerated, to a total sales value of more than $50,000 during the 12 months immediately preceding their application. Persons paying a fee of $100 shall submit with their application for registration an affidavit, signed and sworn to before a notary public by a responsible officer of the company, stating that the company did not manufacture, export, or import arms, ammunition, or implements of war, as enumerated in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937, to a total sales value of more than $50,000 during the 12 months immediately preceding the application for registration and setting forth such evidence in substantiation of this affirmation as may seem appropriate.

(3) Upon receipt of an application for registration and the appended certificate of registration, duly filled out and accompanied by a registration fee of $100 or $500, as the case may be, and by a satisfactory affidavit as described above in the case of persons paying a fee of $100, the Secretary of State will return to the applicant, as a receipt, the certificate of registration, duly signed and sealed. (5) The production for experimental or scientific purposes, when such production is not followed by sale, of the appliances and substances included in category VI, or of single units of other arms, ammunition, and implements of war, is not considered as manufacture for the purposes of section 5 of the joint resolution.

(6) Persons who are not engaged in the business of exporting or importing arms, ammunition, or implements of war, but who, either for their own personal use or as forwarding agents for persons who are engaged in this business, or, in exceptional circumstances, in other capacities, may make or receive occasional shipments of such articles, will not be considered as exporters or importers of arms, ammunition, and implements of war within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution.

This act imposes certain taxes and restrictions upon the manufacture of, importation of, and commerce in certain firearms which are defined as "a shotgun or rifle having a barrel of less than eighteen inches in length, or any other weapon, except a pistol or revolver, from which a shot is discharged by an explosive if such weapon is capable of being concealed on the person, or a machine gun, and includes a muffler or silencer for any firearm whether or not such firearm is included within the foregoing definition." For the Secretary of State:

[For official use only]

(9) The Secretary of State will issue import licenses to all applicants who have duly filled out an application for license, provided that, in case the articles to be imported are firearms, as enumerated in the National Firearms Act of June 26, 1934, referred to under (7) above, the importer has conformed to the pertinent regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

(10) The Secretary of State will issue export licenses to all applicants who have duly filled out an application for license, unless the exportation of arms, ammunition, or implements of war for which a license is applied for would be in violation of a law of the United States or of a treaty to which the United States is a party. (See parts V, VI, and VII, below.)

(11) Export and import licenses are not transferable and are subject to revocation without notice, if the exportation or the importation authorized by the license becomes illegal before the shipment is made. If not revoked, licenses are valid for 1 year from the date of issuance.

(12) No alterations may be made except by the Department of State, or by collectors of customs acting under the specific instructions of the Department of State, in export or import licenses which have been issued under the seal of the Secretary of State.

(13) Export or import licenses which have expired must be returned immediately to the Secretary of State.

(14) The country designated on the application for license to export as the country of destination should, in each case, be the country of ultimate destination. If the goods to be exported are consigned to one country, with the intention that they be transshipped thence to another country, the latter country should be named as the country of destination. If the country of ultimate destination cannot be ascertained at the time the application for export license is made, the country of initial destination may be named on the application as the country of destination. In such a case, however, the facts must be clearly explained and the Secretary of State must be informed of the ultimate destination by the exporter as soon as the latter has learned the country of ultimate destination of the shipment. The Secretary of State may refuse to grant an application for an export license until he is informed of the country of ultimate destination in order that he may assure himself that the license may be legally issued.

(15) The shipper's export declaration (customs form 7525) covering arms, ammunition, or implements of war for which an export license is required must contain the same information in regard to the nature and the value of the articles to be exported as that which appears on the application for license. If the person designated on the export declaration as the actual shipper of the goods is not the person to whom the export license has been issued by the Secretary of State, the name of this shipper should appear on the export license as that of the consignor in the United States.

(16) The originals of licenses for the export and the import of arms, ammunition, and implements of war must be presented to the collector of customs at the port through which the shipment authorized by the license is being made. Export licenses and export declarations covering arms, ammunition, and implements of war must be filed with the appropriate collector of customs at least 24 hours before the proposed departure of the shipment from the United States, and, in the case of a shipment by a sea-going vessel, 24 hours before the lading of the vessel.

(17) Arms, ammunition, and implements of war covered by an export license must, when exported, be packed separately from all other goods.

(18) Export licenses for arms, ammunition, and implements of war which are shipped by parcel post must be presented to the postmaster at the post office at which the parcel is mailed.

(19) Articles entering or leaving a port of the United States, in transit through the territory of the United States to a foreign country, will not be considered as imported or exported within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution, unless they are destined to a country to which the exportation of arms, ammunition, and implements of war is subjected to special restrictions other than the requirement that an export license be obtained.

(20) Persons who are registered as exporters or importers of arms, ammunition, or implements of war under section 5 of the joint resolution may make application for export or import licenses on behalf of persons who are not required to register under the joint resolution but who may, in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (6) above, desire to make or receive occasional shipments of arms, ammunition, or implements of war.

(21) Arms, ammunition, and implements of war which are more than 100 years old will not be considered as arms, ammunition, or implements of war within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution.

(22) Rifles, carbines, revolvers, and pistols entering the United States in single units for the individual use of the person to whom consigned will not be considered as imported within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution. (This does not relieve the consignee from the obligation to comply with such of the regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury under the National Firearms Act of June 26, 1934, referred to in (7) above, as may be applicable in the premises.)

(23) Arms and ammunition intended exclusively for sporting or scientific purposes or for personal protection, when entering or leaving the United States carried on the person of an individual or in his baggage, will not be considered as imported or exported within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution.

(24) Arms, ammunition, and implements of war which are shipped or transported from a port of the United States for the exclusive use of the armed forces of the United States will not be considered as exported within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution.

(25) Arms and implements of war which have been legally exported from the United States, and which are returned to the United States worn or damaged for repair and reexport, will not be considered as imported within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution. An export license must be obtained, however, before such articles are reexported.

(26) Licenses are required for the export or the import of those articles only which are specifically mentioned in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937. No license is required for the export or the import of the component parts of the articles or units enumerated in that proclamation, unless those parts are shipped in such a manner as to constitute, in fact, a complete unit or article in unassembled form. The only exceptions to this ruling are in the case of aircraft wheels and aircraft propeller blades, which are considered as constituting to such an unusual degree the main body of aircraft undercarriage units and aircraft propellers that a license is required for the export of wheels and propeller blades, even when they are shipped alone.

(27) Forgings and castings for any of the arms, ammunition, or implements of war enumerated in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937, which have reached such a stage in manufacture that they are clearly identifiable as forgings or castings for arms, ammunition, and implements of war, are considered as constituting arms, ammunition, and implements of war for the purposes of section 5 of the joint resolution, and licenses will be required for their export or import.

(28) A license is required for the export of all articles listed in subsection (5) of category I of the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937, which are intended or adapted for war purposes. The fact that such an article, when exported, is filled with a nonlethal gas or fluid having a common nonmilitary use will be considered as prima-facie evidence that the article is not intended for war purposes. No license is required for the export of articles listed under subsection (5), even if exported empty, which are adapted and intended solely for nonmilitary use. Articles listed in subsection (5) will be considered ipso facto as intended or adapted for war purposes, unless when exported they either contain a nonlethal gas or fluid or can be proven to be adapted and intended solely for a specific nonmilitary use.

(29) The term "propellant powders", as used in paragraph (1) of category VII of the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937, applies to propellant powders in bulk form. It does not apply to such powders when enclosed in cartridges of types not enumerated in the proclamation, in pyrotechnics, in safety fuse, or in other similar devices. Licenses will not, therefore, be required for the export or import of such cartridges or devices, even though they may contain propellant powder.

(30) Airplanes flown or shipped from the United States will not be considered as exported within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution when it is the intention of their owners that they shall remain under United States registry and shall be operated by a United States licensed pilot during the entire period of their sojourn abroad, and, further, when there is no intention on the part of their owners to dispose of them or of any of their essential parts listed in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937, in any foreign country. Should the owners, after the departure of a plane flown or shipped from the United States without an export license, propose to place the plane under foreign registry or to have it operated by a pilot not holding a United States license, or to dispose of the plane or any of the essential parts referred to in any foreign country, the plane, or the part in question, must be returned to the United States and a license obtained for its export to the country concerned. Airplanes of American registry returning to the United States from foreign countries will not be considered as imported within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution. Airplanes of foreign registry entering the United States for a temporary sojourn or leaving the United States after such a sojourn will not be considered as imported or exported within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution.

PART IV

Records of Manufacture, Export, and Import

The Secretary of State prescribes that all persons required to register under section 5 of the joint resolution approved May 1, 1937, amending the joint resolution of August 31, 1935, shall maintain, subject to the inspection of the duly authorized agents of the Secretary of State or of any other enforcement agency of the Government of the United States, and distinct from all other records, special permanent records in which shall be recorded the amounts and estimated values of the arms, ammunition, and implements of war manufactured by them for export, and similar records of all arms, ammunition, and implements of war imported or exported by them. The records of articles imported shall, in addition, contain information as to the consignors of articles imported and the port of origin of each shipment. The records of articles exported shall, in addition, contain information as to the consignees and the destination of each shipment.

PART V

Special Provisions in Regard to Military Secrets

Title I of the Espionage Act, approved June 15, 1917, reads in part as follows:

"Whoever, with intent or reason to believe that it is to be used to the injury of the United States or to the advantage of a foreign nation, communicates, delivers, or transmits, or attempts to, or aids or induces another to, communicate, deliver, or transmit, to any foreign government, or to any faction or party or military or naval force within a foreign country, whether recognized or unrecognized by the United States, or to any representative, officer, agent, employee, subject, or citizen thereof, either directly or indirectly, any document, writing, code book, signal book, sketch, photograph, photographic negative, blue print, plan, map, model, note, instrument, appliance, or information relating to the national defense, shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than twenty years . . ."

The Secretary of State will not issue a license authorizing the exportation of any arms, ammunition, or implements of war considered by the Secretary of War or by the Secretary of the Navy as instruments or appliances included among the articles covered by those terms as used in this act if, in their opinion, they involve military secrets of interest to the national defense. The articles which may be so considered are articles falling within one of the following categories:

"(a) Articles, the whole or any features of which have been or are being developed or manufactured by or for the War Department or the Navy Department or with the participation of either of those Departments; and

"(b) Articles, the whole or any features of which have been used or are being used by the War Department or the Navy Department or which either Department has contracted to procure."

Included among articles developed by or for the War Department or the Navy Department are articles the development of which has been contracted for by either of those departments, or which have been developed in accordance with Army or Navy specifications and submitted to either department for evaluation for procurement.

Prospective exporters of arms, ammunition, and implements of war should, before applying for a license to authorize the exportation of any article falling within the above categories which may possibly involve military secrets of interest to the national defense, communicate with the Secretary of State in advance of the proposed shipment in order that he may be in a position to ascertain for the prospective exporter whether or not military secrets are, in fact, involved therein.

PART VI

Special Provisions in Regard to Exportation to China, Cuba, Honduras, and Nicaragua

A joint resolution of Congress approved January 31, 1922, reads in part as follows:

". . . That whenever the President finds that in any American country, or in any country in which the United States exercises extraterritorial jurisdiction, conditions of domestic violence exist, which are or may be promoted by the use of arms or munitions of war procured from the United States, and makes proclamation thereof, it shall be unlawful to export, except under such limitations and exceptions as the President prescribes, any arms or munitions of war from any place in the United States to such country until otherwise ordered by the President or by Congress.

"SEC. 2. Whoever exports any arms or munitions of war in violation of section 1 shall, on conviction, be punished by fine not exceeding $10,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding two years, or both."

A convention between the United States of America and other American republics in regard to the duties and rights of states in the event of civil strife, signed at Habana, February 20, 1928, and ratified by the United States on May 21, 1930, reads in part as follows:

"ARTICLE 1

"The contracting states bind themselves to observe the following rules with regard to civil strife in another one of them:

". . . . . .

"3. To forbid the traffic in arms and war material, except when intended for the government, while the belligerency of the rebels has not been recognized, in which latter case the rules of neutrality shall be applied."

Pursuant to the authority conferred by the joint resolution of January 31, 1922, a Presidential proclamation, which is still in effect, was issued on March 4, 1922, in respect to China, as follows:

By the President of the United States of America

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Section I of a Joint Resolution of Congress, entitled a "Joint Resolution To prohibit the exportation of arms or munitions of war from the United States to certain countries, and for other purposes," approved January 31, 1922, provides as follows:

"That whenever the President finds that in any American country, or in any country in which the United States exercises extraterritorial jurisdiction, conditions of domestic violence exist, which are or may be promoted by the use of arms or munitions of war procured from the United States, and makes proclamation thereof, it shall be unlawful to export, except under such limitations and exceptions as the President prescribes, any arms or munitions of war from any place in the United States to such country until otherwise ordered by the President or by Congress."

And whereas, it is provided by Section II of the said Joint Resolution that "Whoever exports any arms or munitions of war in violation of section 1 shall on conviction, be punished by fine not exceeding $10,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding two years, or both."

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WARREN G. HARDING, President of the United States of America, acting under and by virtue of the authority conferred in me by the said Joint Resolution of Congress, do hereby declare and proclaim that I have found that there exist in China such conditions of domestic violence which are or may be promoted by the use of arms or munitions of war procured from the United States as contemplated by the said Joint Resolution; and I do hereby admonish all citizens of the United States and every person to abstain from every violation of the provisions of the Joint Resolution above set forth, hereby made applicable to China, and I do hereby warn them that all violations of such provisions will be rigorously prosecuted.

And I do hereby enjoin upon all officers of the United States, charged with the execution of the laws thereof, the utmost diligence in preventing violations of the said Joint Resolution and this my Proclamation issued thereunder, and in bringing to trial and punishment any offenders against the same.

And I do hereby delegate to the Secretary of State the Power of prescribing exceptions and limitations to the application of the said Joint Resolution of January 31, 1922, as made effective by this my Proclamation issued thereunder.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this fourth day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two and of the Independence of the [SEAL] United States of America the one hundred and forty-sixth.

WARREN G HARDING

By the President:
HENRY P. FLETCHER
Acting Secretary of State.

Similar Presidential proclamations, which are still in effect, were issued on March 22, 1924, in respect of Honduras; on September 15, 1926, in respect of Nicaragua; and on June 29, 1934, in respect of Cuba.

In accordance with the authority conferred upon him in these proclamations, the Secretary of State will permit the exportation to China, Cuba, Honduras, and Nicaragua of the arms, ammunition, and implements of war listed in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937, only when the Department of State has been informed by the Chinese Embassy in Washington, the Cuban Embassy in Washington, the Honduran Legation in Washington, or the Nicaraguan Legation in Washington, as the case may be, that it is the desire of the government of the country into which the arms, ammunition, or implements of war are to be imported, that the exportation of the shipment be authorized.

The bringing about of notification to the Department of State through the appropriate embassy or legation that the government of an importing state desires that the exportation of a shipment be authorized is a matter with regard to which the initiative and responsibility lie with the importing government and the potential shipper.

In compliance with article II of the convention between the United States and Cuba to suppress smuggling, signed at Habana, March 11, 1926, which reads in part as follows:

"The High Contracting Parties agree that clearance of shipments of merchandise by water, air, or land, from any of the ports of either country to a port of entry of the other country, shall be denied when such shipment comprises articles the importation of which is prohibited or restricted in the country to which such shipment is destined, unless in this last case there has been a compliance with the requisites demanded by the laws of both countries."

and in compliance with the laws of Cuba which restrict the importation of arms, ammunition, and implements of war of all kinds by requiring an import permit for each shipment, export licenses for shipments of arms, ammunition, and implements of war to Cuba are required for the articles enumerated below in addition to the articles enumerated in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937:

(1) Arms and small arms using ammunition of caliber .22 or less, other than those classed as toys.

(2) Spare parts of arms and small arms of all kinds and calibers, other than those classed as toys, and of guns and machine guns.

(3) Ammunition for the arms and small arms under (1) above.

(4) Sabers, swords, and military machetes with cross-guard hilts.

(5) Explosives as follows: Explosive powders of all kinds for all purposes; nitrocellulose having a nitrogen content of 12 percent or less; diphenylamine; dynamite of all kinds; nitroglycerine; alkaline nitrates (ammonium, potassium, and sodium nitrate); nitric acid; nitrobenzene (essence or oil of mirbane); sulphur; sulphuric acid; chlorate of potash; and acetones.

(6) Tear gas ($C_6H_5COCH_2Cl$) and other similar nontoxic gases and apparatus designed for the storage or the projection of such gases.

No export licenses will be issued for shipments destined to China, Cuba, Honduras, or Nicaragua of the appliances and substances listed under category VI in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937.

In the case of shipments of arms, ammunition, or implements of war from the United States not ostensibly destined to China, Cuba, Honduras, or Nicaragua, the Secretary of State may require exporters to present convincing evidence that they are not destined to any of those countries and may refuse to issue an export license for the same until such convincing evidence has been presented to him.

PART VII

Special Provisions in Regard to Exportation to Spain

A joint resolution of Congress approved January 8, 1937, reads as follows:

"JOINT RESOLUTION

"To Prohibit the Exportation of Arms, Ammunition, and Implements of War from the United States to Spain.

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That during the existence of the state of civil strife now obtaining in Spain it shall, from and after the approval of this Resolution be unlawful to export arms, ammunition, or implements of war from any place in the United States, or possessions of the United States, to Spain or to any other foreign country for transshipment to Spain or for use of either of the opposing forces in Spain. Arms, ammunition, or implements of war, the exportation of which is prohibited by this Resolution, are those enumerated in the President's Proclamation No. 2163 of April 10, 1936.

"Licenses heretofore issued under existing law for the exportation of arms, ammunition, or implements of war to Spain shall, as to all future exportations thereunder, ipso facto be deemed to be cancelled.

"Whoever in violation of any of the provisions of this Resolution shall export, or attempt to export, or cause to be exported either directly or indirectly, arms, ammunition, or implements of war from the United States or any of its possessions, shall be fined not more than ten thousand dollars or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

"When in the judgment of the President the conditions described in this Resolution have ceased to exist, he shall proclaim such fact, and the provisions hereof shall thereupon cease to apply.

"Approved, January 8, 1937, at 12.30 p. m."

Section 1 of the joint resolution of Congress approved May 1, 1937, amending the joint resolution approved August 31, 1935, reads as follows:

"SECTION 1. (a) Whenever the President shall find that there exists a state of war between, or among, two or more foreign states, the President shall proclaim such fact, and it shall thereafter be unlawful to export, or attempt to export, or cause to be exported, arms, ammunition, or implements of war from any place in the United States to any belligerent state named in such proclamation, or to any neutral state for transshipment to, or for the use of, any such belligerent state.

"(b) The President shall, from time to time, by proclamation, extend such embargo upon the export of arms, ammunition, or implements of war to other states as and when they may become involved in such war.

"(c) Whenever the President shall find that a state of civil strife exists in a foreign state and that such civil strife is of a magnitude or is being conducted under such conditions that the export of arms, ammunition, or implements of war from the United States to such foreign state would threaten or endanger the peace of the United States, the President shall proclaim such fact, and it shall thereafter be unlawful to export, or attempt to export, or cause to be exported, arms, ammunition, or implements of war from any place in the United States to such foreign state, or to any neutral state for transshipment to, or for the use of, such foreign state.

"(d) The President shall, from time to time by proclamation, definitely enumerate the arms, ammunition, and implements of war, the export of which is prohibited by this section. The arms, ammunition, and implements of war so enumerated shall include those enumerated in the President's proclamation Numbered 2163, of April 10, 1936, but shall not include raw materials or any other articles or materials not of the same general character as those enumerated in the said proclamation, and in the Convention for the Supervision of the International Trade in Arms and Ammunition and in Implements of War, signed at Geneva June 17, 1925.

"(e) Whoever, in violation of any of the provisions of this Act, shall export, or attempt to export, or cause to be exported, arms, ammunition, or implements of war from the United States shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both, and the property, vessel, or vehicle containing the same shall be subject to the provisions of sections 1 to 8, inclusive, title 6, chapter 30, of the Act approved June 15, 1917 (40 Stat. 223–225; U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 22, secs. 238–245).

"(f) In the case of the forfeiture of any arms, ammunition, or implements of war by reason of a violation of this Act, no public or private sale shall be required; but such arms, ammunition, or implements of war shall be delivered to the Secretary of War for such use or disposal thereof as shall be approved by the President of the United States.

"(g) Whenever, in the judgment of the President, the conditions which have caused him to issue any proclamation under the authority of this section have ceased to exist, he shall revoke the same, and the provisions of this section shall thereupon cease to apply with respect to the state or states named in such proclamation, except with respect to offenses committed, or forfeitures incurred, prior to such revocation."

Pursuant to the provisions of subsections (c) and (d) of this section, the President, on May 1, 1937, issued a proclamation as follows:

By the President of the United States of America

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS section 1 of the joint resolution of Congress approved May 1, 1937, amending the joint resolution entitled "Joint resolution providing for the prohibition of the export of arms, ammunition, and implements of war to belligerent countries; the prohibition of the transportation of arms, ammunition, and implements of war by vessels of the United States for the use of belligerent states; for the registration and licensing of persons engaged in the business of manufacturing, exporting, or importing arms, ammunition, or implements of war; and restricting travel by American citizens on belligerent ships during war", approved August 31, 1935, as amended February 29, 1936, provides in part as follows:

"Whenever the President shall find that a state of civil strife exists in a foreign state and that such civil strife is of a magnitude or is being conducted under such conditions that the export of arms, ammunition, or implements of war from the United States to such foreign state would threaten or endanger the peace of the United States, the President shall proclaim such fact, and it shall thereafter be unlawful to export, or attempt to export, or cause to be exported, arms, ammunition, or implements of war from any place in the United States to such foreign state, or to any neutral state for transshipment to, or for the use of, such foreign state."

AND WHEREAS it is further provided by section 1 of the said joint resolution that

"The President shall, from time to time by proclamation, definitely enumerate the arms, ammunition, and implements of war, the export of which is prohibited by this section. The arms, ammunition, and implements of war so enumerated shall include those enumerated in the President's proclamation Numbered 2163, of April 10, 1936, but shall not include raw materials or any other articles or materials not of the same general character as those enumerated in the said proclamation, and in the Convention for the Supervision of the International Trade in Arms and Ammunition and in Implements of War, signed at Geneva June 17, 1925."

AND WHEREAS it is further provided by section 1 of the said joint resolution that

"Whoever, in violation of any of the provisions of this Act, shall export, or attempt to export, or cause to be exported, arms, ammunition, or implements of war from the United States shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both, and the property, vessel, or vehicle containing the same shall be subject to the provisions of sections 1 to 8, inclusive, title 6, chapter 30, of the Act approved June 15, 1917 (40 Stat. 223–225; U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 22, secs. 238–245)."

AND WHEREAS it is further provided by section 1 of the said joint resolution that

"In the case of the forfeiture of any arms, ammunition, or implements of war by reason of a violation of this Act, no public or private sale shall be required; but such arms, ammunition, or implements of war shall be delivered to the Secretary of War for such use or disposal thereof as shall be approved by the President of the United States."

AND WHEREAS it is further provided by section 11 of the said joint resolution that

"The President may, from time to time, promulgate such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, as may be necessary and proper to carry out any of the provisions of this Act; and he may exercise any power or authority conferred on him by this Act through such officer or officers, or agency or agencies, as he shall direct."

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, acting under and by virtue of the authority conferred on me by the said joint resolution, do hereby proclaim that a state of civil strife unhappily exists in Spain and that such civil strife is of a magnitude and is being conducted under such conditions that the export of arms, ammunition, or implements of war from the United States to Spain would threaten and endanger the peace of the United States, and I do hereby admonish all citizens of the United States, or any of its possessions, and all persons residing or being within the territory or jurisdiction of the United States, or its possessions, to abstain from every violation of the provisions of the joint resolution above set forth, hereby made effective and applicable to the export of arms, ammunition, or implements of war from any place in the United States to Spain or to any other state for transshipment to, or for the use of, Spain.

[SEAL] seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-first.

FRANKLIN D ROOSEVELT

By the President:
CORDELL HULL
Secretary of State.

No export licenses will be issued for shipments destined to Spain of any of the arms, ammunition, or implements of war enumerated in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937.

By virtue of the power delegated to the Secretary of State by this proclamation of May 1, 1937, to promulgate such rules and regulations not inconsistent with law as may be necessary to carry out any of the provisions of the joint resolution of Congress approved May 1, 1937, as made effective by this proclamation, the Secretary of State may require exporters of any of the arms, ammunition, or implements of war enumerated in the proclamation to present convincing evidence that they are not destined to Spain and may refuse to issue an export license for the same until such convincing evidence has been presented to him.

Section 6 of the joint resolution of Congress approved May 1, 1937, reads as follows:

"SEC. 6. (a) Whenever the President shall have issued a proclamation under the authority of section 1 of this Act, it shall thereafter be unlawful, until such proclamation is revoked, for any American vessel to carry any arms, ammunition, or implements of war to any belligerent state, or to any state wherein civil strife exists, named in such proclamation, or to any neutral state for transshipment to, or for the use of, any such belligerent state or any such state wherein civil strife exists.

"(b) Whoever, in violation of the provisions of this section, shall take, or attempt to take, or shall authorize, hire, or solicit another to take, any American vessel carrying such cargo out of port or from the jurisdiction of the United States shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both; and, in addition, such vessel, and her tackle, apparel, furniture, and equipment, and the arms, ammunition, and implements of war on board, shall be forfeited to the United States."

Section 10 of the same joint resolution reads as follows:

"SEC. 10. Whenever the President shall have issued a proclamation under the authority of section 1, it shall thereafter be unlawful, until such proclamation is revoked, for any American vessel engaged in commerce with any belligerent state, or any state wherein civil strife exists, named in such proclamation, to be armed or to carry any armament, arms, ammunition, or implements of war, except small arms and ammunition therefor which the President may deem necessary and shall publicly designate for the preservation of discipline aboard such vessels."

Under the provisions of this section and by virtue of the power delegated to the Secretary of State by this proclamation of May 1, 1937, to promulgate such rules and regulations not inconsistent with law as may be necessary to carry out any of the provisions of the joint resolution of Congress approved May 1, 1937, the Secretary of State on May 1, 1937, announced that American vessels engaged in commerce with Spain might carry such small arms and ammunition as the masters of these vessels might deem indispensable for the preservation of discipline aboard the vessels.

Part VIII

Special Provisions in Regard to the Exportation of Tin-Plate Scrap

The Secretary of State, pursuant to the authority vested in him by Executive Order No. 7297, of February 16, 1936, prescribed, on December 7, 1936, by and with the advice and consent of the National Munitions Control Board, the following regulations to govern the exportation of tin-plate scrap under the provisions of the act of Congress approved February 15, 1936, entitled "An act to provide for the protection and preservation of the domestic sources of tin":

"(1) For the purpose of the act the term 'tin-plate scrap' is construed, provisionally, to mean tin-plate clippings, cuttings, stampings, trimmings, skeleton sheets, and all other miscellaneous pieces of discarded tin plate, which result from (1) the manufacture of tin plate, or (2) the manufacture of tin-bearing articles from tin plate. As thus defined, the term 'tin-plate scrap' does not include tin-plate waste, tin-plate circles, tin-plate strips, tin-plate cobbles, and tin-plate scroll shear butts, when packed separately and sold as such, and when not intermingled with tin-plate scrap.

"(2) Blank forms of application for export licenses similar to that printed below will be furnished by the Secretary of State on request.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

LETTERS ATTACHED TO PARCELS

APRIL 28, 1937.

It is frequently desirable or necessary when mailing parcels at the fourth-class rates of postage to send therewith written instructions or communications which, if inclosed in the parcels, would subject the entire parcels to postage at the first-class rate.

In order to enable mailers to meet this need, provision has been made under which a letter may be placed in an envelope, fully prepaid at the first-class rate and addressed to correspond with the address on the parcel, and then be tied to or otherwise securely attached to the outside of the parcel in such manner as to prevent separation therefrom and not to interfere with the address on the parcel.

The stamps to cover the postage on the parcel must be affixed to the wrapper of the parcel, and those to pay the postage on the letter must be affixed to the envelope of the letter. Postage may also be paid on such matter by permit holders by means of precanceled stamps or in money on metered or nonmetered matter, the same method of paying postage being used on both classes of matter, except that permit indicia and precanceled stamps may be used on the different portions of such a combination parcel.

Combination envelopes or containers having two compartments may be used for this purpose. When the two portions or compartments of a combination container are inseparable the matter will be accepted with the sender's and addressee's names and addresses on one portion only if the sender so desires.

The postage on such combination parcels is computed on the exact weight of each class of matter, including the weight of the portion of the container in which the respective class of matter is inclosed.

Parcels to which letters are so attached are treated as fourth-class matter. Only one special delivery fee is required when such parcels are sent as special delivery matter. The stamps for the fee should be affixed to the parcels.

In every instance, the letter must be placed on the address side of the parcel and not on the back. The placing of the letter on the back or the placing of the name and address of the sender or addressee on two or more sides of the parcel causes confusion and delay in ascertaining whether proper postage has been prepaid and may result in postal indorsements, such as "Special Handling," "Special Delivery," etc., appearing on one side only being overlooked. Any instructions as to the return of a parcel of this kind appearing on the two portions must be consistent.

Letters may be attached to second or third-class matter under the same conditions.

It is contemplated under the provisions for attaching a communication to a parcel that the communication shall be inclosed in an envelope and prepaid at the letter rate, 3 cents an ounce or fraction thereof. There is no objection, however, to attaching to a parcel prepaid at the third- or fourth-class rate a card bearing a communication, provided postage at the letter rate, that is, 3 cents, is prepaid on the card and affixed thereto.

When a piece of third-class matter of no obvious value and not bearing the pledge of the sender to pay return postage, to which is attached a letter prepaid at the first-class rate, is undeliverable and the third-class matter is of such character that it may be disposed of as waste by the postmaster in accordance with the regulations governing the disposition of undeliverable matter of that class, the letter is detached, indorsed to show that fact and then sent to the Division of Dead Letters and Dead Parcel Post or proper branch thereof. The third-class matter is then disposed of as waste. This procedure is followed in all such cases regardless of whether the letter bears the sender's return card. In the case of undeliverable matter of the third or fourth class of obvious value, to which a letter is attached, the letter may not be detached and handled separately, but the entire parcel should be treated in accordance with sections 808 to 811, Postal Laws and Regulations. It would not be permissible in the case of a combination parcel which is refused by the addressee to separate the letter prepaid at the first-class rate from the parcel and deliver the letter to the addressee.

Third-class matter fully prepaid at the third-class rate of postage may be attached to or mailed with matter of the second or fourth class fully prepaid at the rate applicable to matter of the respective class, in the manner and under the conditions set forth above, provided the envelope or portion of the container in which the third-class matter is inclosed is prominently indorsed "Third Class" and left unsealed.

8. That every domestic carrier required under the terms of any permit signed, or license granted, by the President of the United States to transmit messages for the Government of the United States or any of its possessions, free of charge, shall file schedules in accordance with paragraph 7 above, and with the terms of such permit or license.

9. That in every case where during the period stated any schedule containing charges applicable to commercial messages shall be changed, or the charges made by the foreign carriers or administrations shall be changed, the schedule containing the charges applicable to Government messages shall be correspondingly changed, effective on the same date, provided, however, that this provision shall not apply where, under the terms of the permit or license, a domestic carrier is required to transmit Government messages free of charge, nor with respect to charges to and from the Philippine Islands and the Canal Zone the specific amounts of which are fixed and stated in the second ordering paragraph above.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

WR—B-101—Arizona, Supplement 1. Issued June 3, 1937

BULLETIN NO. 101—ARIZONA, SUPPLEMENT 1

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under Section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, Western Region Bulletin No. 101—Arizona is amended by this supplement as follows:

The definition of "Range Land" in part I is amended to read as follows:

Range Land means any land other than that owned or controlled by the United States Government, or any agency thereof, in which a ranch operator has such a legal estate or interest as to give him control thereof which produces forage for range livestock without cultivation or general irrigation ten acres or more of which, on the average for the ranching unit, are required to graze one animal unit.

Part II, Section 1, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. General Diversion Payments.—With respect to diversion farms, payment will be made for each acre diverted in 1937 from the general soil-depleting base established for the farm, not in excess of fifteen percent of such base, at an average rate for the United States of $6.00 per acre, varying among individual farms as the productivity of the cropland on the farm varies from the average productivity of all such cropland in the United States.[1]

Part IV, Section 1, first paragraph, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. Range-Building Practices and Rates.—Payment will be made for carrying out on range land in 1937 such of the following range-building practices as are approved by the county committee for the ranching unit prior to their institution, provided that the range-building payment with respect to any ranching unit shall not exceed the range-building allowance for such ranching unit.

Part IV, Section 1, Practice F, is amended to read as follows:

F. Range Fences.—For building cross fences or drift fences, constructed as follows: (a) not fewer than three tightly stretched wires, attached to posts set not more than 20 feet apart, with corner posts well braced, or (b) not fewer than three poles, or rails, nailed, with nails not smaller than 40-penny spikes, to posts or jacks spaced not more than 18 feet apart; all posts, poles, rails, and jacks to be good and sound. $0.30 per rod.

Part IV, Section 1, is amended by adding the following range-building practices at the end thereof.

J. Natural Reseeding by Deferred Grazing.—Payment will be made for withholding range land from grazing for the period (from the start of forage growth to seed maturity) established by the State Committee, at the rate of 35 cents per full month of such period for each animal unit of that number of animal units, not in excess of 25 percent of the grazing capacity, which is the same percentage of the grazing capacity of the ranching unit as the acreage upon which grazing is deferred is of the total acreage of range land in the ranching unit. Payment will not be made for this practice (1) if the operator permits the remainder of the range land in the ranching unit to be grazed to an extent that causes deterioration of such range land, and (2) if the deferred grazing is carried out on range land in the ranching unit which normally is not used for grazing during such period. $0.35 per animal unit for each full month.

K. Mountain Meadow Land Practices in Counties Designated under Section 2 of this Part IV.

1. Reseeding Mountain Meadow Land.—For reseeding mountain meadow land with good seed of adapted varieties of the following perennial grasses and legumes or mixtures thereof, brome grass, red top, timothy, alsike clover, meadow fescue, medium red clover, and such other perennial grasses and legumes, except alfalfa, or mixtures thereof as are recommended by the State committee and approved by the Director of the Western Division. $0.20 per pound of seed sown, but not in excess of $2.00 per acre.

2. Earthen Dams for Erosion Control on Mountain Meadows.—For constructing, according to specifications recommended by the State committee and approved by the Director of the Western Division, earthen dams for the exclusive purpose of diverting flood water of intermittent streams to prevent soil erosion on mountain meadow land. $0.15 per cubic yard of fill but not in excess of $50.00 for each dam.

Part IV, Section 2, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 2. Range-Building Allowance.—The range-building allowance for any ranching unit shall be equal to $1.50 times the grazing capacity thereof, plus, in the case of certain mountain counties designated by the Director of the Western Division, 40¢ times the number of acres of mountain meadow land in the ranching unit from which hay is normally harvested for feeding on the ranching unit to range livestock owned by the operator of the ranching unit. The mountain counties designated by the Director of the Western Division for the purposes of this section shall be those counties for which, upon the basis of the recommendations of the county and State committees, he determines the mountain meadow land practices specified in Part IV of this bulletin to be necessary and effective in promoting land conservation. In determining the grazing capacity of any ranching unit with respect to which an acreage allowance for mountain meadow land may be made, the grazing capacity of such acreage of mountain meadow land shall not be considered.

Part VI, Section 4, Subsection A, is amended to read as follows:

A. If the 1937 acreage of soil-depleting crops, except cotton, on any farm is in excess of the general soil-depleting base for the farm, a deduction shall be made from the payment which otherwise would be made with respect to such farm in an amount computed by multiplying the number of such excess acres by the rate per acre determined for the farm under section 1, Part II; Provided, however, That if the general soil-depleting base on any nondiversion farm is less than 20 acres, such deduction shall be computed only with respect to the 1937 acreage of soil-depleting crops, except cotton, in excess of 20 acres.

Part VI, Section 4, Subsection C, is amended to read as follows:

C. If the total acreage of soil-depleting crops on any farm upon which an acreage of cotton is diverted for payment in 1937 does not equal or exceed the sum of (1) the normal soil-conserving acreage established for the farm, and (2) the acreage diverted for payment from the cotton soil-depleting base, a deduction shall be made from any payment which otherwise would be made with respect to the farm at the rate of $3.00 for each acre by which the total acreage of soil-conserving crops on the farm in 1937 is less than such sum.

Part VI, Section 8, Paragraph B, is amended to read as follows:

B. An application for payment may be made by an owner, share-tenant, share-cropper, ranch operator, or such other person as may be designated by the Secretary. In the event of the death, disappearance or legal incompetency of an applicant for payment, any payment which has not been received by such applicant prior to his death, disappearance or legal incompetency and which would otherwise be made to such applicant, shall be made to the person who, under rules prescribed by the Secretary, is determined to be eligible to receive such payment.

Part VII, Section 3, is amended by adding the following at the end thereof:

E. The County Committee shall not establish a cotton soil-depleting base for any farm which is no longer a cotton farm and shall adjust downward the cotton soil-depleting base which might otherwise be established for any farm if it is determined that because of a change in the production practices on such farm the acreage adapted to the production of cotton is less than the cotton soil-depleting base which might otherwise have been established for such farm.

F. 1. The normal yield per acre of lint cotton for the farm shall be designated by the appropriate community committee, subject to such adjustment by the county committee as is necessary in order that the weighted average yield for all cotton farms in the county or other area shall not exceed the yield established for such county or other specified area by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, unless a variance therefrom is recommended by the State Committee and approved by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

2. Each cotton farm covered by a work sheet shall be inspected by at least one member of the community committee, serving for the community in which the farm is located, who shall report his observations to the community committee before the yield is designated for the farm.

3. The normal yield designated for any farm shall be that yield, subject to necessary adjustments by the county committee, which the community committee finds from available facts to be the yield which could have been reasonably expected from the land devoted to the production of cotton on the farm as an average yield during the 5-year period 1928–1932. Such findings shall be examined by the county committee in the light of all available facts and recommended or modified by it accordingly. In reviewing the yields designated by the community committee the county committee shall give due consideration to the trend of yields per acre, type of soil, drainage, irrigation, erosion, production practices, general fertility of the land, and abnormal weather conditions, but the weighted average yield for all farms in the county shall not exceed the limitations prescribed.

Part VII is amended by the addition of Section 6 as follows:

SECTION 6. Normal Soil-Conserving Acreage.—There shall be established for each farm for which a cotton soil-depleting base is established a normal soil-conserving acreage which shall represent the acreage of all soil-conserving crops grown on the farm under normal conditions. The sum of the normal soil conserving acreages, established for all cotton farms in the county, shall not be greater than nor less than their proportionate share of the total soil conserving acreage quota for the county. The state committee shall review the total normal soil conserving acreage established for all cotton farms in the county and shall, if necessary, recommend that further adjustments be made to properly correlate the recommendations of the county committee with available statistical information.

Part VIII, Section 1, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. Soil-Depleting Crops.—Land devoted to any of the following crops shall be regarded as used for the production of a soil-depleting crop for the year in which such crop would normally be harvested; except as provided in Section 2 of this Part VIII with respect to nurse crops and green manure crops and as provided in Section 3 of this Part VIII with respect to nurse crops and emergency forage crops:

The definition of "Range Land" in part I is amended to read as follows:

Range Land means any other land than that owned or controlled by the United States Government, or any agency thereof, in which a ranch operator has such a legal estate or interest as to give him control thereof which produces forage for range livestock without cultivation or general irrigation ten acres or more of which, on the average for the ranching unit, are required to graze one animal unit.

Part I, definition of "Diversion Farm" is amended to read as follows:

Diversion Farm means any general diversion farm or any farm with respect to which a cotton soil-depleting base is established, and, for the purpose of computing the soil-building allowance but for no other purpose, any farm with respect to which a rice soil-depleting base is established.

SECTION 1. General Diversion Payments.—With respect to diversion farms, payment will be made for each acre diverted in 1937 from the general soil-depleting base established for the farm, not in excess of fifteen percent of such base, at an average rate for the United States of $6.00 per acre, varying among individual farms as the productivity of the cropland on the farm varies from the average productivity of all such cropland in the United States.[1]

Part III, Section 1, Practice H, Items 3, 4, and 5 are amended and Item 6 is added, to read as follows:

3. Volunteer cover and green manure crops when grown in 1937 on cropland which was seeded to a soil-depleting crop for harvest in 1936 if a stand equivalent to a seeded cover crop is turned under after attaining height and growth equivalent to a seeded cover crop; provided, the crop is not pastured and no soil-depleting crop is seeded for harvest in 1937 on such cropland. $1.00 per acre.

4. Volunteer cover and green manure crops when grown in 1937 in grain stubble, if a good stand and growth equivalent to a seeded cover crop is turned under in 1937; provided, the stubble may have been pastured but not plowed or burned following the harvest of the soil-depleting crop, and no soil-depleting crop is seeded in 1937 on such cropland. $0.50 per acre.

6. Small grains, including rye, oats, barley and grain mixtures, and such other small grains as are approved by the Director of the Western Division, (a) when seeded on cropland or interplanted in orchards or vineyards if turned under in 1937 during or prior to the blooming stage without pasturing or, if pastured and turned under, shall have attained at least 60 days' growth before pasturing and 30 days' growth after pasturing before turned under, or (b) when interplanted in orchards or vineyards if clipped provided the clippings are not raked or removed from the land where grown, either mechanically or by pasture. $1.00 per acre.

Part IV, Section 2, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 2. Range-Building Allowance.—The range-building allowance for any ranching unit shall be equal to $1.50 times the grazing capacity thereof, plus, in the case of certain mountain counties designated by the Director of the Western Division, 40¢ times the number of acres of mountain meadow land in the ranching unit from which hay is normally harvested for feeding on the ranching unit to range livestock owned by the operator of the ranching unit. The mountain counties designated by the Director of the Western Division for the purposes of this section shall be those counties for which, upon the basis of the recommendations of the county and State committees, he determines the mountain meadow land practices specified in Part IV of this bulletin to be necessary and effective in promoting land conservation. In determining the grazing capacity of any ranching unit with respect to which an acreage allowance for mountain meadow land may be made, the grazing capacity of such acreage of mountain meadow land shall not be considered.

Part VI, Section 4, Subsection A, is amended to read as follows:

A. If the 1937 acreage of soil-depleting crops, except cotton and rice, on any farm is in excess of the general soil-depleting base for the farm, a deduction shall be made from the payment which otherwise would be made with respect to such farm in an amount computed by multiplying the number of such excess acres by the rate per acre determined for the farm under Section 1, Part II; Provided, however, That if the general soil-depleting base on any nondiversion farm is less than 20 acres, such deduction shall be computed only with respect to the 1937 acreage of soil-depleting crops, except cotton and rice, in excess of 20 acres.

Part VI, Section 4, Subsection C, is amended to read as follows:

C. If the total acreage of soil-conserving crops on any farm upon which cotton is diverted for payment in 1937 does not equal or exceed the sum of (1) the normal soil-conserving acreage established for the farm, and (2) the acreage diverted for payment from the cotton soil-depleting base, a deduction shall be made from any payment which otherwise would be made with respect to the farm at the rate of $3.00 for each acre by which the total acreage of soil-conserving crops on the farm in 1937 is less than such sum.

Part VI, Section 8, Subsection B, is amended to read as follows:

B. An application for payment may be made by an owner, share-tenant, share-cropper, ranch operator, or such other person as may be designated by the Secretary. In the event of the death, disappearance or legal incompetency of an applicant for payment, any payment which has not been received by such applicant prior to his death, disappearance or legal incompetency and which would otherwise be made to such applicant, shall be made to the person who, under rules prescribed by the Secretary, is determined to be eligible to receive such payment.

Part VII, Section 2, is amended by adding the following at the end thereof:

E. The County Committee shall not establish a cotton soil-depleting base for any farm which is no longer a cotton farm and shall adjust downward the cotton soil-depleting base which might otherwise be established for any farm if it is determined that because of a change in the production practices on such farm the acreage adapted to the production of cotton is less than the cotton soil-depleting base which might otherwise have been established for such farm.

F. 1. The normal yield per acre of lint cotton for the farm shall be designated by the appropriate community committee, subject to such adjustment by the county committee as is necessary in order that the weighted average yield for all cotton farms in the county or other area shall not exceed the yield established for such county or other specified area by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, unless a variance therefrom is recommended by the State Committee and approved by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

2. Each cotton farm covered by a work sheet shall be inspected by at least one member of the community committee, serving for the community in which the farm is located, who shall report his observations to the community committee before the yield is designated for the farm.

3. The normal yield designated for any farm shall be that yield, subject to necessary adjustments by the county committee, which the community committee finds from available facts to be the yield which could have been reasonably expected from the land devoted to the production of cotton on the farm as an average yield during the 5-year period 1928–1932. Such findings shall be examined by the county committee in the light of all available facts and recommended or modified by it accordingly. In reviewing the yields designated by the community committee the county committee shall give due consideration to the trend of yields per acre, type of soil, drainage, irrigation, erosion, production practices, general fertility of the land, and abnormal weather conditions, but the weighted average yield for all farms in the county shall not exceed the limitations prescribed.

Part VII is amended by adding the following new sections:

SECTION 7. Normal Soil-Conserving Acreage.—There shall be established for each farm for which a cotton soil-depleting base is established a normal soil-conserving acreage which shall represent the acreage of all soil-conserving crops grown on the farm under normal conditions. The sum of the normal soil-conserving acreages, established for all cotton farms in the county, shall not be greater than nor less than their proportionate share of the total soil-conserving acreage quota for the county. The state committee shall review the total normal soil-conserving acreage established for all cotton farms in the county and shall, if necessary, recommend that further adjustments be made to properly correlate the recommendations of the county committee with available statistical information.

SECTION 8. Rice Base Acreage, Base Production, and Domestic Consumption Quota.—The total rice base acreage, rice base production and domestic consumption quota for all farms in California shall not exceed 103,000 acres, 2,928,765 bags, and 2,833,311 bags, respectively. The rice base acreage and the rice base production of any producer in 1937 shall be the rice base acreage and the rice base production, respectively, which was established or which could have been established for such producer under the procedure prescribed with reference to the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program, and shall be subject to such adjustments as are provided for therein. The domestic consumption quota for any producer shall be 96.73 percent of such producer's rice base production.

Part VIII, Section 1, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. Soil-Depleting Crops.—Land devoted to any of the following uses or crops shall be regarded as used for the production of a soil-depleting crop for the year in which such crop would normally be harvested, except as provided in Section 2 of this Part VIII with respect to nurse crops, cover and green manure crops and volunteer grain for pasture:

a. Corn (field, sweet, and popcorn).
b. Potatoes.
c. Sweetpotatoes and yams.

m. Cotton.
n. Rice.
o. Fiber plants including hemp.
p. Commercial mustard.
q. Tobacco.
r. Annual cut flowers and their seeds.
s. Peanuts.
t. Volunteer grains when cut for hay or grain.

Part VIII, Section 2 is amended by striking out the word "Land" immediately following the title, "Soil-Conserving Crops", and by substituting in lieu thereof the word "Cropland".

Part XI, Section 4, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 4. Determination of Class II Payments.—The amount of class II payment to be made to any person for carrying out approved soil-building practices shall be computed on all diversion and nondiversion farms owned or operated by such person in the county as follows:

A. For each farm multiply the number of acres devoted to an approved soil-building practice by the rate specified for such practice; multiply this result by the percentage to which the applicant is entitled, and total the amounts thus obtained.

B. Compute the applicant's share of the soil-building allowance as follows:

1. Multiply the class I payment to the applicant for diversion from the general soil-depleting base, determined in accordance with the provisions of Section 1, Subsection D, of this part XI, by 66.7 percent;

2. On each farm individually, determine the applicant's share of the soil-building allowance (without regard to the minimum soil-building allowance) computed in accordance with the provisions of part III, Section 2, except that, item 2 in Subsection A of said part and Section shall not be used in such computation;

3. To the amount obtained under item 1, above, add the amount obtained under item 2, above, and the result shall be the soil-building allowance for all farms owned or operated by the applicant in the county.

The definition of "Range Land" in part I is amended to read as follows:

Range Land means any land other than that owned or controlled by the United States Government, or any agency thereof, in which a ranch operator has such a legal estate or interest as to give him control thereof which produces forage for range livestock without cultivation or general irrigation ten acres or more of which, on the average for the ranching unit, are required to graze one animal unit.

SECTION 1. Soil-Building Practices and Rates.—Payment will be made for carrying out on cropland or on non-crop pasture land in 1937 any of the soil-building practices listed below, provided that the soil-building payment with respect to any farm shall not exceed the soil-building allowance for the farm. The soil-building practices prescribed in this section shall not be eligible for payment unless such practices are carried out in a locality where, in the determination of the State committee, such practices are desirable from the standpoint of agricultural conservation and are carried out in conformity with methods generally recognized as desirable for the locality, and which tend to effectuate the purposes of the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program. Payments will not be made for more than one practice carried out on the same acreage except that payments will be made for practices prescribed in Item A, Item B, Item C, Item D, or Item E of Section 1, in addition to the practices prescribed in Item G, or Item K.

Part III, Section 1, Practice J, is amended to read as follows:

J. Addition of organic material in the form of hay or straw, in commercial orchards and vineyards at a rate of not less than 5 tons per acre, between February 1, 1937, and October 31, 1937, provided such organic material is mechanically incorporated into the soil. $5.00 per acre.

Part III, Section 1, is amended by changing Practice M–1 and M–2 to read as follows:

Controlled summer fallowing when tilled in such manner and with such implements as will result in minimum of wind and water erosion, by creating and maintaining a rough-cloddy surface reasonably free from volunteer growth. First tillage operation to be performed prior to June 15, 1937. $1.00 per acre.

b. Controlled summer fallow, in accordance with the provisions of Item M–1–a, when listed on the contour with lister furrows not more than 4 feet apart nor less than 4 inches in depth or when listed with dams in the lister furrows not more than 16 feet apart, and in accordance with specifications recommended by the State committee and approved by the Director of the Western Division. $1.50 per acre.

a. Fallow strips (two or more strips of fallow) shall be not less than five rods nor more than 20 rods in width, with intervening strips of small grain crops, sorghum or Sudan grass broadcast or in rows not more than 28 inches apart, or small grain stubble, provided, however, at least one-third the area is covered by strips of crop or small grain stubble. Payment will not be made for this practice if there is planted in 1937 a fall seeded crop of rye or wheat on the strips devoted in 1937 to crops or small grain stubble. The first tillage operation must be completed before June 15, 1937, strips to be approximately at right angles to the prevailing winds. Payment will be made on the acreage of fallow or the acreage devoted to crop (or stubble), whichever is the smaller, and only with respect to the acreage of strip cropping and fallow which is in addition to the acreage used for that practice in 1936. $1.00 per acre.

3. To the amount obtained under item 1, above, add the amount obtained under item 2, above, and the result shall be the soil-building allowance for all farms owned or operated by the applicant in the county.

C. The amount obtained under subsection A of this section 3, not in excess of the soil-building allowance obtained under subsection B of this section 3 shall, subject to the applicable provisions of this part XI, be the amount of the class II payment to the applicant.

Part II, Section 1, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. General Diversion Payments.—With respect to diversion farms, payment will be made for each acre diverted in 1937 from the general soil-depleting base established for the farm, not in excess of fifteen percent of such base, at an average rate for the United States of $6.00 per acre, varying among individual farms as the productivity of the cropland on the farm varies from the average productivity of all such cropland in the United States.[1]

Part III, Section 1, Practice J, is amended to read as follows:

J. Winter Cover Crops—Non-Legumes.—When winter small grains are grown on cropland preceding or following a 1937 vegetable crop or in commercial orchards in 1937 and turned under after attaining at least two months' growth. $1.00 per acre.

Part III, Section 1, Practice K, is amended to read as follows:

K. Addition of organic material, consisting of hay or straw, in commercial orchards at a rate of not less than five tons per acre, between February 1, 1937, and October 31, 1937, provided such organic material is mechanically incorporated into the soil. $5.00 per acre.

Part III, Section 1, is amended by adding Practice L–3 to read as follows:

3. When drilled in rows in 1937 at a rate of not less than 400 pounds per acre. Such limestone is to be ground to such fineness that 30 percent will pass through a 100 mesh sieve. $0.50 per acre.

Part III, Section 1, Practice O, is amended to read as follows:

O. Contour farming on cropland in 1937, when small grain or intertilled crops are planted or seeded on the contour; provided, however, the slopes are in excess of one percent. $0.50 per acre.

Part III, Section 1, Practice Q–1, is amended to read as follows:

1. Controlled summer fallowing when tilled in such manner and with such implements as will result in minimum of wind and water erosion, by creating and maintaining a rough-cloddy surface, reasonably free from volunteer growth. First tillage operation must be performed prior to June 15, 1937. $1.00 per acre.

Part III, Section 1, Practice Q–2, is amended to read as follows:

2. Establishment of strip cropping and fallow, the fallow strips (two or more strips of fallow) to be not less than five rods nor more than 20 rods in width, with intervening strips of small grain crops, sorghum or Sudan grass, close drilled or broadcast, or listed in rows not more than 28 inches apart, or small grain stubble, provided, however, at least one-third the area is covered by strips of crop or small grain stubble. Payment will not be made for this practice if there is planted in 1937, a fall seeded crop of rye or wheat on the strips devoted in 1937 to crops or small grain stubble. The first tillage operation must be completed before June 15, 1937, strips to be approximately at right angles to the prevailing winds. Payment will be made on the acreage of fallow or the acreage devoted to crops or stubble, whichever is the smaller, and only with respect to the acreage of strip cropping and fallow which is in addition to the acreage used for that practice in 1936. $1.00 per acre.

Part III, Section 1, is amended by adding items Q–5 and Q–6 to read as follows:

5. Controlled summer fallow: the summer fallow to be controlled in accordance with the provisions of Practice Q–1, and listed on the contour with lister furrows not more than 4 feet apart nor less than 4 inches in depth or when listed with dams in the listed furrows not more than 16 feet apart, and in accordance with specifications recommended by the State committee and approved by the Director of the Western Division. $1.50 per acre.

F. Range Fences.—For building cross fences or drift fences, constructed as follows: (a) not fewer than three tightly stretched wires, attached to posts set not more than 20 feet apart, with corner posts well braced, or (b) not fewer than three poles, or rails, nailed with nails not smaller than 40-penny spikes, to posts or jacks spaced not more than 18 feet apart; all posts, poles, rails, and jacks to be good and sound. $0.30 per rod.

Part VI, Section 4, Subsection A, is amended to read as follows:

A. If the 1937 acreage of soil-depleting crops, except cotton and tobacco, on any farm is in excess of the general soil-depleting base for the farm, a deduction shall be made from the payment which otherwise would be made with respect to such farm in an amount computed by multiplying the number of such excess acres by the rate per acre determined for the farm under section 1, part II: Provided, however, That if the general soil-depleting base on any non-diversion farm is less than 20 acres, such deduction shall be computed only with respect to the 1937 acreage of soil-depleting crops, except cotton and tobacco, in excess of 20 acres.

Part VI, Section 4, Subsection D is amended to read as follows:

D. If the total acreage of soil-conserving crops on any farm upon which an acreage of cotton and tobacco is diverted for payment in 1937 does not equal or exceed the sum of (1) the normal soil-conserving acreage established for the farm, and (2) the acreage diverted for payment from the cotton and tobacco soil-depleting bases, a deduction shall be made from any payment which otherwise would be made with respect to the farm at the rate of $3.00 for each acre by which the total acreage of soil-conserving crops on the farm in 1937 is less than such sum.

Part VI, Section 8, Paragraph B, is amended to read as follows:

B. An application for payment may be made by an owner, share-tenant, share-cropper, ranch operator, or such other person as may be designated by the Secretary. In the event of the death, disappearance or legal incompetency of an applicant for payment, any payment which has not been received by such applicant prior to his death, disappearance or legal incompetency and which would otherwise be made to such applicant, shall be made to the person who, under rules prescribed by the Secretary, is determined to be eligible to receive such payment.

Part VII, Section 3, Subsection A, is amended by adding the following Item 5 at the end thereof.

5. The county committee shall not establish a cotton soil-depleting base for any farm which is no longer a cotton farm and shall adjust downward the cotton soil-depleting base which might otherwise be established for any farm if it is determined that because of a change in the production practices on such farm the acreage adapted to the production of cotton is less than the cotton soil-depleting base which might otherwise have been established for such farm.

Part VII, Section 3, Subsection B, is amended by adding thereto the following paragraph:

The sum of the tobacco soil-depleting bases for all farms covered by work sheets in any County, or other specified area, shall not exceed their proportionate share of the quota of tobacco acreage established for such county, or other specified area, by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Part VII, Section 3, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new sub-section C:

C. 1. The normal yield per acre of lint cotton or tobacco for the farm shall be designated by the appropriate community committee, subject to such adjustment by the county committee as is necessary in order that the weighted average yield for all cotton or tobacco farms in the county or other area shall not exceed the yield established for such county or other specified area by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, unless a variance therefrom is recommended by the State Committee and approved by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

2. Each cotton or tobacco farm covered by a work sheet shall be inspected by at least one member of the community committee, serving for the community in which the farm is located, who shall report his observations to the community committee before the yield is designated for the farm.

3. The normal yield designated for any farm shall be that yield, subject to necessary adjustments by the county committee, which the community committee finds from available facts to be the yield which could have been reasonably expected from the land devoted to the production of cotton or tobacco on the farm as an average yield during the 5-year period 1928–1932. Such findings shall be examined by the county committee in the light of all available facts and recommended or modified by it accordingly. In reviewing the yields designated by the community committee the county committee shall give due consideration to the trend of yields per acre, type of soil, drainage, irrigation, erosion, production practices, general fertility of the land, and abnormal weather conditions, but the weighted average yield for all cotton or tobacco farms in the county shall not exceed the limitations prescribed.

Part VII is amended by adding the following new section at the end thereof:

SECTION 6. Normal Soil-Conserving Acreage.—There will be established for each farm for which a cotton or tobacco soil-depleting base is established a normal soil-conserving acreage which shall represent the acreage of all soil-conserving crops grown on the farm under normal conditions. The sum of the normal soil-conserving acreages, established for such farms in the county, shall not be greater than nor less than their proportionate share of the total soil-conserving acreage quota for the county. The state committee shall review the total normal soil-conserving acreage established in the county and shall, if necessary, recommend that further adjustments be made to properly correlate the recommendations of the county committee with available statistical information.

Part VIII, Section 1, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. Soil-Depleting Crops.—Land devoted to any of the following uses or crops shall be regarded as used for the production of a soil-depleting crop for the year in which such crop would normally be harvested; except as provided in Section 2 of this Part VIII with respect to nurse crops, and as provided in Section 3 of this Part VIII with respect to emergency forage crops, and winter cover crops, and sorghums, Sudan grass, or millets grown in 1937 on designated wind erosion acreage.

a. Small grains, including flax.
b. Corn (field, sweet, and popcorn).
c. Cotton.
d. Tobacco.
e. Potatoes and sweet potatoes.
f. Sugar beets and root crops grown for feed.
g. Cultivated sunflowers.

j. Grain sorghums, sweet sorghums, broom corn and Sudan grass, harvested for seed, grain, hay, or pastured.
k. Rape and millets.
l. Soybeans, field beans, canning beans, cowpeas, field peas, seed peas, and canning peas, harvested for grain, seed and hay.

Part VIII, Section 2 is amended by striking out the word "Land" immediately following the title, "Soil-Conserving Crops", and by substituting in lieu thereof the word "Cropland."

Part VIII, Section 3, Subsection d, is amended to read as follows:

d. Any acreage devoted in 1937 to the production of emergency forage crops consisting of millets, Sudan grass, rape, oats, barley, and annual legumes or mixtures of such crops which the county committee determines is equivalent to the acreage of soil-conserving crops on the farm which was winter-killed or destroyed by drouth in the period beginning July 1, 1936; provided, such use of land shall have been approved by the county committee prior to May 1, 1937.

Part VIII, Section 3, is amended by adding item g to read as follows:

g. Sorghums, Sudan grass, or millets grown in 1937 on designated wind erosion acreage in accordance with the provisions for carrying out approved wind erosion control practices on such acreage.

[2] Pursuant to Subsection A–2, Section 3, Part III of WR Bulletin—101—Kansas.

Part X, Section 1, Footnote 3, is amended to read as follows:

[3] Pursuant to Subsection A–3 and B–1 of Section 3, Part III of WR Bulletin—101—Kansas.

Part XI, Section 4, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 4. Determination of Class II Payments.—The amount of class II payment to be made to any person for carrying out approved soil-building practices shall be computed on all diversion and nondiversion farms owned or operated by such person in the county as follows:

A. For each farm multiply the number of acres devoted to an approved soil-building practice by the rate specified for such practice; multiply this result by the percentage to which the applicant is entitled, and total the amounts thus obtained.

B. Compute the applicant's share of the soil-building allowance as follows:

1. Multiply the Class I payment to the applicant for diversion from the general soil-depleting base, determined in accordance with the provisions of Section 1, Subsection D, of this Part XI, by 66.7 percent.

2. On each farm individually, determine the applicant's share of the soil-building allowance (without regard to the minimum soil-building allowance) computed in accordance with the provisions of Part III, Section 3, except that, item 2 in subsection A of said Part and Section shall not be used in such computation.

3. To the amount obtained under item 1, above, add the amount obtained under item 2, above, and the result shall be the soil-building allowance for all farms owned or operated by the applicant in the county.

1937 AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM—WESTERN REGION

BULLETIN NO. 101—MONTANA, SUPPLEMENT 1

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under Section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, Western Region Bulletin No. 101—Montana is amended by this supplement as follows:

The definition of "Range Land" in part I is amended to read as follows:

Range Land means any land other than that owned or controlled by the United States Government, or any agency thereof, in which a ranch operator has such a legal estate or interest as to give him control thereof which produces forage for range livestock without cultivation or general irrigation ten acres or more of which, on the average for the ranching unit, are required to graze one animal unit.

Part III, Section 1, second paragraph, is amended to read as follows:

The soil-building practices prescribed in this section shall not be eligible for payment unless such practices are carried out in a locality where, in the determination of the State Committee, such practices are desirable from the standpoint of agricultural conservation and are carried out in conformity with methods generally recognized as desirable for the locality, and which tend to effectuate the purposes of the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program. Payments will not be made for more than one practice carried out on the same acreage except that payments will be made for the practice prescribed in item F in addition to any one of the practices prescribed in items K. N, and P, and payment will be made for the practice prescribed in item J in addition to the practice prescribed in item K.

Part III, Section 1, Practice K, is amended to read as follows:

K. Plowless Fallow.—First tillage to be completed by June 1, 1937, and subsequent tillage frequently enough to prevent weed growth. All tillage to be done by implements that leave the surface rough and planted growth near the surface. Approved implements to be field cultivator, lister, or any one way disc where one way disc is used only for initial cultivation. $1.00 per acre.

Part III, Section 1, is amended by adding the following Practice S:

S. 1. Controlled Summer Fallow.—The summer fallow shall be controlled in accordance with the provisions of Practice K and listed on the contour with lister furrows not more than four feet apart nor less than four inches in depth or listed with dams in the lister furrows not more than sixteen feet apart, and in accordance with specifications recommended by the State Committee and approved by the Director of the Western Division. $1.50 per acre.

2. Combination of Practices J and S, 1. $2.00 per acre.

Part IV, Section 1, first paragraph, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. Range-Building Practices and Rates.—Payment will be made for carrying out on range land in 1937 such of the following range-building practices as are approved by the county committee for the ranching unit prior to their institution, provided that the range-building payment with respect to any ranching unit shall not exceed the range-building allowance for such ranching unit.

Part IV, Section 1, Practice F, is amended to read as follows:

F. Range Fences.—For building cross fences or drift fences, constructed as follows: (a) not fewer than three tightly stretched wires, attached to posts set not more than 20 feet apart, with corner posts well braced, or (b) not fewer than three poles, or rails, nailed, with nails not smaller than 40-penny spikes, to posts or jacks spaced not more than 18 feet apart; all posts, poles, rails, and jacks to be good and sound. $0.30 per rod.

Payment will not be made for this practice (1) if the operator permits the remainder of the range land in the ranching unit to be grazed to an extent that causes deterioration of such range land, and (2) if the deferred grazing is carried out on range land in the ranching unit which normally is not used for grazing during such period. $0.35 per animal unit for each full month.

K. Mountain Meadow Land Practices in Counties Designated under Section 2 of this Part IV.

1. Reseeding Mountain Meadow Land.—For reseeding mountain meadow land with good seed of adapted varieties of the following perennial grasses and legumes or mixtures thereof: brome grass, red top, timothy, alsike clover, meadow fescue, medium red clover, and such other perennial grasses and legumes, except alfalfa, or mixtures thereof as are recommended by the State Committee and approved by the Director of the Western Division. $0.20 per pound of seed sown, but not in excess of $2.00 per acre.

2. Earthen Dams for Erosion Control on Mountain Meadows.—For constructing, according to specifications recommended by the State Committee and approved by the Director of the Western Division, earthen dams for the exclusive purpose of diverting flood water of intermittent streams to prevent soil erosion on mountain meadow land. $0.15 per cubic yard of fill, but not in excess of $50.00 for each dam.

Part IV, Section 2, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 2. Range-Building Allowance.—

The range building allowance for any ranching unit shall be equal to $1.50 times the grazing capacity thereof, plus, in the case of certain mountain counties designated by the Director of the Western Division, 40¢ times the number of acres of mountain meadow land in the ranching unit from which hay is normally harvested for feeding on the ranching unit to range livestock owned by the operator of the ranching unit. The mountain counties designated by the Director of the Western Division for the purposes of this section shall be those counties for which, upon the basis of the recommendations of the county and State committees, he determines the mountain meadow land practices specified in Part IV of this bulletin to be necessary and effective in promoting land conservation. In determining the grazing capacity of any ranching unit with respect to which an acreage allowance for mountain meadow land may be made, the grazing capacity of such acreage of mountain meadow land shall not be considered.

Part VI, Section 8, Subsection B, is amended to read as follows:

B. An application for payment may be made by an owner, share-tenant, share-cropper, ranch operator, or such other person as may be designated by the Secretary. In the event of the death, disappearance, or legal incompetency of an applicant for payment, any payment which has not been received by such applicant prior to his death, disappearance or legal incompetency and which would otherwise be made to such applicant, shall be made to the person who, under rules prescribed by the Secretary, is determined to be eligible to receive such payment.

The definition of "Range land" in part I is amended to read as follows:

Range land means any land other than that owned or controlled by the United States Government, or any agency thereof, in which a ranch operator has such a legal estate or interest as to give him control thereof which produces forage for range livestock without cultivation or general irrigation ten acres or more of which, on the average for the ranching unit, are required to graze one animal unit.

Part II, Section 1, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. General Diversion Payments.—With respect to diversion farms, payment will be made for each acre diverted in 1937 from the general soil-depleting base established for the farm, not in excess of 15 percent of such base, at an average rate for the United States of $6.00 per acre, varying among individual farms as the productivity of the cropland on the farm varies from the average productivity of all such cropland in the United States.

Part III, Section 1, Practice J, is amended to read as follows:

J. Contour Listing of Non-Irrigated Cropland.—For cultivation on the contour with a regular double mold-bored lister, basin lister, or chisel; provided, the furrows shall be approximately from 2 feet to 4 feet apart and shall, if listed, be not less than 8 inches in width and 6 inches in depth, or if chiseled, be approximately 4 inches in width and 6 inches in depth; and provided, also that no soil-depleting crop is planted for harvest in 1937 on such cropland. $1.00 per acre.

Part III, Section 1, Practice K, is amended to read as follows:

K. Border Planting on Non-Irrigated Cropland.—Border Planting on fields where planted borders are 100 feet wide or more, and the crop is not pastured or cut for hay or gain; provided, however, that payment shall be made with respect to the area so planted not in excess of 300 feet in width. $1.00 per acre.

Part III, Section 1, is amended by changing Practices N and O to read as follows:

N. Controller Summer Fallow on Non-Irrigated Cropland.—1. Controlled summer fallowing when tilled in such manner and with such implements as will result in a minimum of wind and water erosion, by creating and maintaining a rough, clodd surface, reasonably free from volunteer growth, first tillage operation to be performed prior to June 15, 1937. $1.00 per acre.

2. Controlled summer fallowing, in accordance with the provisions of N, 1, when listed on the contour with lister furrows not more than 4 feet apart nor less than 4 inches in depth or when listed with dams in the listed furrow not more than 16 feet apart, and in accordance with specifications recommended by the State committee and approved by the Director of the Western Division. $1.50 per acre.

O. Contour Strip Cropping and Fallow on Non-Irrigated Cropland.—1. Contour strip planting of any crops when width of strips of crop is not less than 9 feet nor the distance between strips more than 150 feet; Provided, however, that only the area planted to strip crops shall be considered in computing the acreage devoted to this practice. $1.00 per acre.

2. Combination of practices N and O-1. $2.00 per acre.

Part III, Section 1, is amended by adding item P as follows:

P. Cover Crops to Control Wind-Erosion.—Sudan grass or sweet sorghums when planted in rows not greater than 42 inches apart, or any sorghum or Sudan grass when close drilled or broadcast; provided, however, that no portion of the crop is harvested or pastured in any manner whatsoever. $2.00 per acre.

Part IV, Section 1, "first paragraph," is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. Range-Building Practices and Rates.—Payment will be made for carrying out on range land in 1937 such of the following range-building practices as are approved by the county committee for the ranching unit prior to their institution, provided that the range-building payment with respect to any ranching unit shall not exceed the range-building allowance for such ranching unit.

Part IV, Section 1, Practice F, is amended to read as follows:

F. Range Fences.—For building cross fences or drift fences, constructed as follows: (a) not fewer than three tightly stretched wires, attached to posts set not more than 20 feet apart, with corner posts well braced, or (b) not fewer than three poles, or rails, nailed, with nails not smaller than 40-penny spikes, to posts or jacks spaced not more than 18 feet apart; all posts, poles, rails, and jacks to be good and sound. $0.30 per rod.

Part IV, Section 1, is amended by the addition of the following range-building practices at the end thereof.

J. Natural Reseeding by Deferred Grazing.—Payment will be made for withholding range land from grazing for the period (from the start of forage growth to seed maturity) established by the State Committee, at the rate of 35 cents per full month of such period for each animal unit of that number of animal units, not in excess of 25 percent of the grazing capacity, which is the same percentage of the grazing capacity of the ranching unit as the acreage upon which grazing is deferred is of the total acreage of range land in the ranching unit. Payment will not be made for this practice if (1) the operator permits the remainder of the range land in the ranching unit to be grazed to an extent that causes deterioration of such range land, or (2) the deferred grazing is carried out on range land in the ranching unit which normally is not used for grazing during such period. $0.35 per animal unit for each full month.

K. Mountain Meadow Land Practices in Counties Designated under Section 2 of this Part IV.

1. Reseeding Mountain Meadow Land.—For reseeding mountain meadow land with good seed of adapted varieties of the following perennial grasses and legumes or mixtures thereof, brome grass, red top, timothy, alsike clover, meadow fescue, medium red clover, and such other perennial grasses and legumes, except alfalfa, or mixtures thereof as are recommended by the State Committee and approved by the Director of the Western Division. $0.20 per pound of seed sown, but not in excess of $2.00 per acre.

2. Earthen Dams for Erosion Control on Mountain Meadows.—For constructing, according to specifications recommended by the State Committee and approved by the Director of the Western Division, earthen dams for the exclusive purpose of diverting flood water of intermittent streams to prevent soil erosion on mountain meadow land. $0.15 per cubic yard of fill, but not in excess of $50.00 for each dam.

Part IV, Section 2, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 2. Range-Building Allowance.—The range building allowance for any ranching unit shall be equal to $1.50 times the grazing capacity thereof, plus, in the case of certain mountain counties designated by the Director of the Western Division, 40¢ times the number of acres of mountain meadow land in the ranching unit from which hay is normally harvested for feeding on the ranching unit to range livestock owned by the operator of the ranching unit. The mountain counties designated by the Director of the Western Division for the purposes of this section shall be those counties for which, upon the basis of the recommendations of the county and State Committees, he determines the mountain meadow land practices specified in Part IV of this bulletin to be necessary and effective in promoting land conservation. In determining the grazing capacity of any ranching unit with respect to which an acreage allowance for mountain meadow land may be made, the grazing capacity of such acreage of mountain meadow land shall not be considered.

Part VI, Section 8, Subdivision B, is amended to read as follows:

B. An application for payment may be made by an owner, share-tenant, share-cropper, ranch operator, or such other person as may be designated by the Secretary. In the event of the death, disappearance or legal incompetency of an applicant for payment, any payment which has not been received by such applicant prior to his death, disappearance, or legal incompetency and which would otherwise be made to such applicant, shall be made to the person who, under rules prescribed by the Secretary, is determined to be eligible to receive such payment.

Part VI, Section 4, Subsection A, is amended to read as follows:

A. If the 1937 acreage of soil-depleting crops, except cotton, on any farm is in excess of the general soil-depleting base for the farm, a deduction shall be made from the payment which otherwise would be made with respect to such farm in an amount computed by multiplying the number of such excess acres by the rate per acre determined on any non-diversion farm under section 1, part II; Provided, however, That if the general soil-depleting base for the farm is less than 20 acres, such deduction shall be computed only with respect to the 1937 acreage of soil-depleting crops, except cotton, in excess of 20 acres.

Part VI, Section 4, Subsection C, is amended to read as follows:

C. If the total acreage of soil-conserving crops on any farm upon which cotton is diverted for payment in 1937 does not equal or exceed the sum of (1) the normal soil-conserving acreage established for the farm, and (2) the acreage diverted for payment from the cotton soil-depleting base, a deduction shall be made from any payment which otherwise would be made with respect to the farm at the rate of $3.00 for each acre by which the total acreage of soil-conserving crops on the farm in 1937 is less than such sum.

Part VII, Section 3, is amended by adding the following at the end thereof:

E. The County Committee shall not establish a cotton soil depleting base for any farm which is no longer a cotton farm and shall adjust downward the cotton soil depleting base which might otherwise be established for any farm if it is determined that because of a change in the production practices on such farm the acreage adapted to the production of cotton is less than the cotton soil depleting base which might otherwise have been established for such farm.

F. 1. The normal yield per acre of lint cotton for the farm shall be designated by the appropriate community committee, subject to such adjustment by the county committee as is necessary in order that the weighted average yield for all cotton farms in the county or other area shall not exceed the yield established for such county or other specified area by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, unless a variance therefrom is recommended by the State Committee and approved by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

2. Each cotton farm covered by a work sheet shall be inspected by at least one member of the community committee, serving for the community in which the farm is located, who shall report his observations to the community committee before the yield is designated for the farm.

3. The normal yield designated for any farm shall be that yield, subject to necessary adjustments by the county committee which the community committee finds from available facts to be the yield which could have been reasonably expected from the land devoted to the production of cotton on the farm as an average yield during the 5-year period 1928–1937. Such findings shall be examined by the county committee in the light of all available facts and recommended or modified by it accordingly. In reviewing the yields designated by the community committee the county committee shall give due consideration to the trend of yields per acre, type of soil, drainage, irrigation, erosion, production practices, general fertility of the land, and abnormal weather conditions, but the weighted average yield for all farms in the county shall not exceed the limitations prescribed.

Part VII is amended by the addition of Section 6 as follows:

SECTION 6. Normal Soil-Conserving Acreage.—There shall be established for each farm for which a cotton soil-depleting base is established a normal soil-conserving acreage which shall represent the acreage of all soil-conserving crops grown on the farm under normal conditions. The sum of the normal soil conserving acreages, established for all cotton farms in the county, shall not be greater than nor less than their proportionate share of the total soil conserving acreage quota for the county. The state committee shall review the total normal soil conserving acreage established for all cotton farms in the county and shall, if necessary, recommend that further adjustments be made to properly correlate the recommendations of the county committee with available statistical information.

Part VIII, Section 1, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. Soil-Depleting Crops.—Land devoted to any of the following crops shall be regarded as used for the production of a soil-depleting crop for the year in which such crop would normally be harvested; except as provided in Section 2 of this Part VIII with respect to nurse crops, and green manure crops, and as provided in Section 3 of this Part VIII with respect to nurse crops, pastured winter cover crops, and emergency forage crops, and sorghums, Sudan grass or millets grown in 1937 on designated wind erosion acreage.

a. Small grains, including flax.
b. Corn (field, sweet, and popcorn).
c. Potatoes.
d. Sweet potatoes.
e. Sugar beets.
f. Peanuts.
g. Root crops grown for feed.
h. Hemp.
i. Cultivated sunflowers.
j. Mustard (commercial).
k. Rape.
l. Truck and vegetable crops and their seeds; melons and strawberries.
m. Grain sorghum, sweet sorghums, broom corn and Sudan grass, harvested for seed, grain, or hay; or pastured.
n. Millets.
o. Soybeans, field beans, canning beans, cowpeas, field peas, seed peas and canning peas, harvested for seed, or hay; or pastured.
p. Cotton.

Part VIII, Section 2, first paragraph, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 2. Soil-Conserving Crops.—Cropland devoted to any of the following crops in 1937 shall be regarded as used for the production of a soil-conserving crop, except that any land devoted to a soil-depleting crop in the same year (within the meaning of Section 1 of Part VIII) shall be regarded as having been used for the production of a soil-depleting crop for such year, and except as provided in Section 3 with respect to a poor stand of soil-conserving crops.

Part VIII, Section 3, is amended by adding item h to read as follows:

h. Sorghums, Sudan Grass, or millets grown in 1937 on designated wind erosion acreage in accordance with the provisions for carrying out approved wind erosion control practices on such acreage.

Part VIII is supplemented by the addition of Section 4 as follows:

SECTION 4. Soil-Building Practices Substituted for Soil-Conserving Crops.—Cropland devoted to the following soil-building practices in 1937 on non-irrigated farms for which a cotton soil-depleting base is established shall be regarded as used for the production of a soil-conserving crop within the meaning of Section 2 of this Part VIII:

A. Contour Listing, when carried out in accordance with the provisions of Practice J of Section 1 of Part III.

B. Controlled Summer Fallow, when carried out in accordance provisions of Practice J of Section 1 of Part III.

2. On each farm individually, determine the applicant's share of the soil-building allowance (without regard to the minimum soil-building allowance) computed in accordance with the provisions of Part III, Section 2, except that, item 2 in Subsection A of said Part and Section shall not be used in such computation.

3. To the amount obtained under item 1, above, add the amount obtained under item 2, above, and the result shall be the soil-building allowance for all farms owned or operated by the applicant in the county.

C. The amount obtained under Subsection A of this Section 4, not in excess of the soil-building allowance obtained under Subsection B of this Section 4 shall, subject to the applicable provisions of this Part XI, be the amount of the Class II payment to the applicant.

Part III, Section 1, Practice K, is amended to read as follows:

K. Plowless fallow.—First tillage to be completed by June 1, 1937, and subsequent tillage frequent enough to prevent weed growth. All tillage to be done by implements that leave the surface rough and planted growth near the surface. Approved implements to be field cultivator, lister, or one way disc, where one way disc is used only for initial cultivation. $1.00 per acre.

Part III, Section 1, is amended by adding the following Practice P.

SECTION 3. Determination of Class II Payments.—The amount of Class II payment to be made to any person for carrying out approved soil-building practices shall be computed on all diversion and nondiversion farms owned or operated by such person in the county as follows:

A. For each farm multiply the number of acres devoted to an approved soil-building practice by the rate specified for such practice; multiply this result by the percentage to which the applicant is entitled, and total the amounts thus obtained.

B. Compute the applicant's share of the soil-building allowance as follows:

1. Multiply the Class I payment to the applicant for diversion from the general soil-depleting base, determined in accordance with the provisions of Section 1, Subsection D, of this Part XI, by 66.7 percent.

2. On each farm individually, determine the applicant's share of the soil-building allowance (without regard to the minimum soil-building allowance) computed in accordance with the provisions of Part III, Section 2, except that, item 2 in Subsection A of said Part and Section shall not be used in such computation.

3. To the amount obtained under item 1, above, add the amount obtained under item 2, above, and the result shall be the soil-building allowance for all farms owned or operated by the applicant in the county.

C. The amount obtained under Subsection A of this Section 3, not in excess of the soil-building allowance obtained under Subsection B of this Section 3 shall, subject to the applicable provisions of this Part XI, be the amount of the Class II payment to the applicant."

VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION.

RULES GOVERNING THE SELECTION OF VETERANS TO COMPOSE THE VETERANS' CONTINGENT FOR EMERGENCY CONSERVATION WORK

[Supplement No. 6 to Rules Issued October 1, 1934]

CERTIFICATION AND NOTIFICATION

The instructions contained in sub-paragraphs 1 and 2 of Paragraph 11–B of Rules Governing the Selection of Veterans to Compose the Veterans' Contingent for Emergency Conservation Work issued October 1, 1934, are hereby cancelled, and in lieu thereof the following instructions are issued effective immediately.

Transient veterans desiring to enroll in the veterans' contingent of the Civilian Conservation Corps will submit application to the Manager having jurisdiction over the territory in which the applicant's permanent address as shown on the application, is located. These applications will be considered by the Manager concerned in connection with other applications received, and if the veteran is selected, appropriate notification will be forwarded to his permanent address.

Transient veterans may obtain applications (Form P–130) from any Veterans' Administration Regional Office or combined facility having Regional Office activities. The form should be prepared in duplicate, and both the original and duplicate forwarded to the Manager as designated above.

The Managers of Regional Offices and combined facilities are instructed to provide assistance to transient veterans who apply in person at their respective stations, in the preparation and forwarding of application forms, and to advise such veterans that it will be necessary for them to return to their permanent address to await notification. They should not, however, be given any assurance that they will be selected by the Manager concerned, but advised that their applications will be given due consideration under controlling instructions.

Those veterans who are domiciliary members of a Veterans Administration Facility or who are bona fide members of a Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, and who are actually present at such Facility or Home, may give the address of the Facility or Home as their permanent address when preparing their applications for enrollment. Their applications will be for the consideration of the Manager having jurisdiction in Civilian Conservation Corps matters in the State in which the Facility or Home at which the veteran is a member, is located. Such members should not be encouraged to seek enrollment in the Civilian Conservation Corps, and their applications should not be given preferential consideration.

These instructions make it incumbent upon transient veterans to return to their place of permanent address before they may be enrolled in the Civilian Conservation Corps, and accordingly veterans who seek enrollment therein should be encouraged to remain at their place of permanent address.

The instructions contained herein are also for application by the Chief of the Contact Division in Central Office, and accordingly veterans should not come to Washington seeking enrollment in the Civilian Conservation Corps. Subsequently only veterans who have an established permanent address in the District of Columbia will be enrolled in the Civilian Conservation Corps at Washington, D. C.

AUTHORIZING EXEMPTION FROM STAMP TAX ON PASSAGE TICKETS TO CERTIFIED PERSONS ATTENDING THE BOY SCOUT WORLD JAMBOREE IN THE NETHERLANDS

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

The Act of April 17, 1937 (Public No. 40, 75th Congress, 1st Session) provides, in part, as follows:

• • • That the Commissioner of Internal Revenue be, and he is hereby, authorized under such rules and regulations as he shall promulgate to remit the tax on steamship tickets to bona-fide Scouts and Scouters certified by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, attending this Jamboree. • • •

In pursuance of these provisions the following regulations are promulgated:

The stamp tax imposed by Schedule A–5, Title VIII of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended by section 442 of the Revenue Act of 1928, shall not apply to any passage ticket issued to any person who has been certified by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, as being a bona fide Scout or Scouter attending the World Jamboree to be held in the Netherlands during the months of July and August, 1937.

EXCESS PROFITS ON NAVY CONTRACTS

EXPENSES OF ADMINISTRATION—SELLING, BIDDING AND SERVICING EXPENSES AND SELF-INSURANCE

To Officers and Employes of the Treasury Department, the Navy Department, and others concerned:

Article 8 (g) of Treasury Decision 4723, relating to expenses of administration, is amended to read as follows:

(g) Expenses of administration.—Expenses of administration, usually termed "administrative overhead", which are treated in this article as a part of general expenses in determining the cost of performing a contract or subcontract (see paragraph (b) of this article) comprehend the expenses incident to and necessary for the performance of the contract or subcontract, which are incurred in the general administration of the business, such as—

(1) Compensation for personal services of employees.—The salaries of the corporate and general executive officers and the salaries and wages of administrative clerical employees and of the office services employees (telephone operators, janitors, cleaners, watchmen and office equipment repairmen).

(2) Selling (including bidding) and servicing expenses.—In lieu of direct charges for selling expenses (including bidding expenses) or for servicing expenses incident to delivered or installed articles, there may be allocated to the cost of performing a contract or subcontract the proportions of such expenses which by reference to all the pertinent facts and circumstances reasonably constitute a part of such cost. For the purposes of this method of treating selling and bidding expenses, the total of such allowable expenses which may be the basis of an allocation to the cost of performing a contract or subcontract shall include all expenditures in connection with preparing and submitting bids or other work incident to a prospective contract or subcontract.

(3) Other expenses.—Miscellaneous office and administrative expenses, such as stationery and office supplies, postage, repair and depreciation of office equipment, employees' welfare expenses, premiums and dues on compensation insurance; employers' payments to unemployment, old age and social security Federal and State funds not including payments deducted from or chargeable to employees or officers; pensions and retirement payments to administrative office employees and accident compensation to office employees (as to self-insurance, see the following subparagraph); but including no items which are not incidental to activities necessary for the performance of the contract or subcontract.

Subject to the exception stated in this subparagraph, in cases where a contracting party assumes its own insurable risks (usually termed "self-insurance"), losses and payments will be allowed in the cost of performing a contract or subcontract only to the extent of the actual losses suffered or payments incurred during, and in the course of, the performance of the contract or subcontract and properly chargeable to such contract or subcontract. If a contracting party assumes its own insurable risks (a) for compensation paid to employees for injuries received in the performance of their duties, or (b) for unemployment risks in States where insurance is required, there may be allowed as a part of the cost of performing a contract or subcontract a reasonable portion of the charges set up for purposes of self-insurance under a system of accounting regularly employed by the contracting party, as determined by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, at rates not exceeding the lawful or approved rates of insurance companies for such insurance, reduced by amounts representing the acquisition cost in such companies, providing the contracting party adopts and consistently follows this method with respect to self-insurance in connection with all contracts and subcontracts subsequently performed by him.

Allowances for interest on invested capital are not allowable as costs of performing a contract or subcontract.

Among the items which shall not be included as a part of the cost of performing a contract or subcontract or considered in determining such cost, are the following: Selling expenses, including compensation of employees engaged in selling, operation and maintenance of sales offices, commissions, advertising and demonstrations, depreciation of sales equipment, and gratis service, which do not constitute proper charges (1) as direct costs or (2) as provided in paragraph (g) (2) of this article; entertainment expenses; dues and memberships other than of regular trade associations; donations; losses on other contracts; profits or losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets; extraordinary expenses due to strikes or lockouts; fines and penalties; amortization of unrealized appreciation of values of assets; expenses and depreciation of idle plant; increases in reserve accounts for contingencies, repairs, compensation insurance (except as above provided with respect to self-insurance) and guarantee work; Federal and State income and excess profits taxes and surtaxes; cash discount earned up to one percent of the amount of the purchase, except that all discounts on subcontracts subject to the Act will be considered; interest incurred or earned; bond discount or finance charges; income from royalties; premiums for life insurance on the lives of officers; legal and accounting fees in connection with reorganizations, security issues, capital stock issues and the prosecution of claims against the United States (including income tax matters); taxes and expenses on issues and transfers of capital stock; losses on investments; bad debts; and expenses of collection and exchange.

In order that the cost of performing a contract or subcontract may be accounted for clearly, the amount of any excess profits repayable to the United States pursuant to the Act should not be charged to or included in such cost.

Excessive or unreasonable payments whether in cash, stock or other property ostensibly for salaries, bonuses or other compensation for personal services, may not be included in the cost of performing a contract or subcontract.

This Treasury decision is prescribed pursuant to the provisions of section 3 of the Act of March 27, 1934, 48 Stat. L. 505 (U. S. C. title 34, sec. 496), as amended by the Act of June 25, 1936, 49 Stat. L. 1926 (U. S. C. Sup. II, title 34, sec. 496).

The notes of Series A–1942 will be dated June 15, 1937, and will bear interest from that date at the rate of 1¾ percent per annum, payable on a semi-annual basis on September 15, 1937, and thereafter on March 15 and September 15 in each year. They will mature March 15, 1942, and will not be subject to call for redemption prior to maturity.

3. The notes shall be exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation (except estate or inheritance taxes, or gift taxes) now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority.

4. The notes will be accepted at par during such time and under such rules and regulations as shall be prescribed or approved by the Secretary of the Treasury in payment of income and profits taxes payable at the maturity of the notes.

5. The notes will be acceptable to secure deposits of public moneys, but will not bear the circulation privilege.

6. Bearer notes with interest coupons attached will be issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000 and $100,000. The notes will not be issued in registered form.

III. SUBSCRIPTION AND ALLOTMENT

1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve banks and branches and at the Treasury Department, Washington. Banking institutions generally may submit subscriptions for account of customers, but only the Federal Reserve banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies. Others than banking institutions will not be permitted to enter subscriptions except for their own account. Subscriptions from banks and trust companies for their own account will be received without deposit but will be restricted in each case and for each series to an amount not exceeding one-half of the combined capital and surplus of the subscribing bank or trust company. Subscriptions from all others must be accompanied by payment of 10 percent of the amount of notes applied for. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to close the books as to any or all subscriptions or classes of subscriptions at any time without notice.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject any subscription, in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount of notes applied for, to make allotments in full upon applications for smaller amounts and to make reduced allotments upon, or to reject, applications for larger amounts, or to adopt any or all of said methods or such other methods of allotment and classification of allotments as shall be deemed by him to be in the public interest; and his action in any or all of these respects shall be final. Allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment, and the basis of the allotment will be publicly announced.

IV. PAYMENT

1. Payment at par and accrued interest, if any, for notes allotted hereunder must be made or completed on or before June 15, 1937, or on later allotment. In every case where payment is not so completed, the payment with application up to 10 percent of the amount of notes applied for shall, upon declaration made by the Secretary of the Treasury in his discretion, be forfeited to the United States. Any qualified depositary will be permitted to make payment by credit for notes allotted to it for itself and its customers up to any amount for which it shall be qualified in excess of existing deposits, when so notified by the Federal Reserve bank of its district.

V. GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve banks are authorized and requested to receive subscriptions, to make allotments on the basis and up to the amounts indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Federal Reserve banks of the respective districts, to issue allotment notices, to receive payment for notes allotted, to make delivery of notes on full-paid subscriptions allotted, and they may issue interim receipts pending delivery of the definitive notes.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, prescribe supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing the offering, which will be communicated promptly to the Federal Reserve banks.

CHANGE OF NAMES OF VESSELS

By virtue of the authority conferred by section 2 of the act of February 19, 1920, the following regulations are established for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of that act, providing for the change of names of vessels:

1. The name of a documented vessel shall not be changed except with the consent and approval of the Director of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, under penalty of forfeiture.

2. The application for change in name shall be executed under oath by the owner of the vessel, addressed to the Director of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, and submitted in duplicate to the collector of customs at the home port of the vessel.

3. The application must state the change desired, the reasons therefor, place and date of build, official number, rig, gross tonnage, and the name or names of the owner of the vessel. It must state in detail a list of all liens, mortgages, etc., on record against the vessel; and the consent of the mortgagee or other beneficiary under each lien or mortgage must be submitted in writing with the application.

4. Certificates, Commerce Form 1330, from the collectors at each port where the vessel has been permanently documented must also be submitted. If an abstract and certificate of record of title, Form 1331, from each port of permanent documentation since the passage of the Merchant Marine Act of 1920 is on file with the collector at the home port, such collector may issue Form 1330, noting that Forms 1331 are on file.

5. Application under the new name for approval of the home port must also be submitted in the case of change of ownership or change of home port only.

6. In transmitting the application the collector shall note the date and place of last inspection. In case the vessel is not usually inspected, the local inspectors are authorized to make special examinations and to furnish necessary certificate of seaworthiness.

7. The collector shall see that there has been compliance with these preliminaries and thereupon forward the application with his recommendation, giving any reasons within his knowledge for or against the change.

8. If the application is approved by the Director of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, the collector shall collect the fee prescribed in the statute, deposit it as a navigation fee, inserting in Customs Form 1008 the old name of the vessel, her gross tonnage, and the amount of the fee collected. Permission for change of name is not effective until the fee is paid.

9. The order for the change in name must be published in some daily or weekly paper at or nearest to the port of documentation, in at least four consecutive issues.

10. The cost of procuring evidence and of advertising must be paid by the applicant.

11. Copies of the newspaper in which the advertisement appeared, together with the receipt for the payment of the cost thereof, shall be furnished by the applicant to the collector of customs and by him forwarded to the Director of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation with a copy of the new document issued.

12. An accurate index of changes of names of documented vessels under old and new names, with dates of authorization, etc., should be kept by the collector.

13. A vessel formerly documented, sold to the United States, and resold to citizens, shall be redocumented under the old name and official number; but a vessel never before documented and sold by the United States to citizens may be documented under any name.

8. (a) Adequate samples shall be drawn by the inspector from the lot of canned shrimp identified by each code mark to determine whether or not such lot conforms to all requirements of the Federal Food and Drugs Act, amendments thereto, and regulations thereunder.

(b) The packer shall destroy for food purposes, under the immediate supervision of the inspector, any lot of canned shrimp condemned by the inspector as not complying with regulation 7 (a), or as filthy, decomposed, putrid, or unfit for food.

Labeling

9. (a) Labels on canned shrimp packed and certified under these regulations shall bear the mark "Production supervised by U. S. Food and Drug Administration", with or without the official establishment number. Such mark shall be plainly and conspicuously displayed in type of uniform size and style on a background of strongly contrasting color, and shall appear on the principal panel or panels of the label so as to be easily observable in connection with the name of the article.

(b) Two proofs or eight specimens of each label intended for use on inspected canned shrimp or on or within the cases therefor, shall be submitted to the Food and Drug Administration for approval. If proofs are submitted, eight specimens of the label shall be sent to the Administration after printing. The Food and Drug Administration is hereby authorized to approve labels for use on canned shrimp inspected under these regulations if such labels when so used comply with the provisions of the Food and Drugs Act, amendments thereto, and regulations thereunder. The Food and Drug Administration is also authorized to revoke any such approval for cause. The Administration shall not approve labels for canned shrimp intended for export under the provisions of regulation 10 (d).

(c) No commercial brand appearing on any label approved under (b) of this regulation, and no label simulating one so approved, shall be used thereafter on any canned shrimp other than that which has been inspected under these regulations: Provided, that this paragraph shall not apply to any packer's label after termination of inspection as provided in regulation 14, or to any distributor's label after three months' written notice by the owner thereof to the Food and Drug Administration that its use on inspected canned shrimp has been discontinued and will not be resumed.

(d) Canned shrimp labeling authorized by or approved under (a) or (b) of this regulation shall be used only as authorized by these regulations. Unauthorized use of such labeling renders the user liable to the penalties prescribed by the Food and Drugs Act, as amended.

Certificates of Inspection, Warehousing and Export Permits

10. (a) After finding any parcel of labeled canned shrimp identified by code marks to conform to all requirements of the Food and Drugs Act, amendments thereto, and regulations thereunder the inspector shall issue to the packer thereof a certificate showing that such parcel so conforms. The certificate shall specify the code marks to which it applies, the quantity of the parcel so marked, the size of the containers, and the commercial brand appearing on the labels.

(b) Certificates shall be issued only for canned shrimp which bears labeling approved under regulation 9 (b).

(c) Any packer who desires to move unlabeled canned shrimp for storage in any warehouse elsewhere than on the premises where such shrimp was packed shall make application for warehousing on a form supplied by the Food and Drug Administration. Such application shall give the name and location of the warehouse in which such shrimp is to be stored, and shall be accompanied by an agreement signed by the owner or operator of such warehouse that inspectors shall have free access at all times to any such shrimp, and that conditions which will preserve the identiy of each lot of such shrimp shall be continuously maintained pending compliance with the provisions of (e) of this regulation. If such application is approved and it appears to the inspector that any parcel of canned shrimp complies with regulation 7 (a) and is neither adulterated nor slack filled, the inspector or other appropriate officer of the Food and Drug Administration shall issue to the packer of such shrimp, on his request, a warehousing permit covering such parcel. Such permit shall specify the code mark to which it applies, the size of shrimp in the containers, the size of such containers, the quantity of the parcel so marked, the type of pack, and the place from which the shrimp is to be moved. When any provision of the agreement is violated, the Administration may revoke any permit so issued, and may also revoke its approval of the application of the packer for warehousing.

(d) The proviso of section 2 of the Federal Food and Drugs Act declares that no article shall be deemed misbranded or adulterated within the provisions of this Act when intended for export to any foreign country and prepared or packed according to the specifications or directions of the foreign purchaser when no substance is used in the preparation or packing thereof in conflict with the laws of the foreign country to which said article is intended to be shipped. Application for an export permit based on an order from a foreign purchaser for unlabeled canned shrimp or canned shrimp bearing or intended to bear labels which fail to comply with sections 8 and 10A of the Federal Food and Drugs Act, as amended, or regulations thereunder, only because of the absence of descriptive or informational declarations required thereunder, shall be made to the inspector. The application shall be accompanied by the order from the foreign purchaser and, if so required by the Food and Drug Administration, shall state whether or not such shrimp complies with the laws of the foreign country to which it is to be shipped. The inspector shall be directed to issue to such packer an export permit if such canned shrimp complies with the laws of the foreign country to which it is intended to be shipped and if the inspector finds that it complies with the provisions of these regulations regarding wholesomeness and sanitary conditions and that it accords with the specifications and directions of the foreign purchaser. If such order specifies labeled canned shrimp, six specimens of the label to be used thereon shall accompany such application. Such permit shall show the inspector's findings, the code marks on such shrimp, and the quantity thereof. The cases of such canned shrimp shall be plainly and conspicuously marked "For Export." The inspector shall not issue a certificate on such canned shrimp nor shall the packer distribute it within the jurisdiction of the United States. The packer shall furnish the inspector documentary evidence showing exportation of all such shrimp. No canned shrimp packed under the provisions of this paragraph shall be stored in any warehouse in the United States elsewhere than on the premises where such shrimp was packed, except on written permission of the Chief of the Food and Drug Administration Station within whose territory such warehouse is located.

(e) No canned shrimp shall be moved from an inspected establishment, except for destruction for food purposes under the immediate supervision of the inspector, or for storage authorized under (c) of this regulation, or for export authorized under (d) of this regulation, until a certificate for such shrimp has issued. No canned shrimp stored under the authority of (c) of this regulation shall be moved from the warehouse where stored, until a certificate or export permit therefor has issued.

Access of Inspectors to Establishments and Shipping Records

11. Inspectors shall have free access at all times to all parts of any establishment to which they are assigned and to freight and fishing boats and other conveyances supplying shrimp to such establishment. The packer shall keep for at least one year a record of shipments from each lot of canned shrimp identified by a code mark, and upon request of the inspector shall furnish the shipping records thereon.

Assignment of Inspectors and Periods of Inspection

12. (a) Except as provided by (b) and (c) of this regulation an initial assignment of one or more inspectors shall be made to each establishment granted inspection under these regulations. Thereafter the Food and Drug Administration shall adjust the number of inspectors assigned to any establishment, or to any organization formed under the authority of (c) of this regulation, to the number required for continuous and official inspection.

(b) Upon the agreement of packers operating two or more neighboring establishments of small output to receive shrimp and operate such establishments at different specified times, and with the approval of the Food and Drug Administration, one inspector may be assigned to such establishments. The agreement shall bind each packer party thereto not to receive or handle any shrimp in his establishment except when an inspector is present in such establishment, and to be jointly and severally liable for the fees required by regulation 13. Applications for such joint inspection shall be submitted by each packer party to the agreement and shall be accompanied by a signed copy of such agreement, which shall specify the time each such packer will operate his establishment. For the purposes of regulation 13 the packers party to such agreement shall be regarded as one packer with one establishment.

(c) Upon the organization of packers operating a group of establishments in any locality under an agreement for cooperative inspection, and with the approval of the Food and Drug Administration, any number of inspectors requested by such organization may be initially assigned to such group of establishments. Applications for such cooperative inspection shall be submitted by each packer party to the agreement and shall be accompanied by a signed copy of such agreement, which shall designate an officer of the organization who shall be solely responsible for the apportionment of inspection service in the establishments of members of the organization. Such officer shall furnish means for any necessary transportation of inspectors between establishments. The agreement shall bind each packer party thereto not to receive or handle any shrimp in his establishment except when an inspector is present in such establishment, and to be jointly and severally liable for the fees required by regulation 13. For the purposes of regulation 13 each organization formed under the authority of this paragraph shall be regarded as one packer with one establishment.

(d) Applications by two or more packers for inspection of one establishment to be jointly or severally operated by them shall be accompanied by an agreement signed by such packers binding each to be jointly and severally liable for the fees required by regulation 13. For the purposes of regulation 13 the packers party to such agreement shall be regarded as one packer.

(e) Inspection shall be continuous for the entire inspection period; except that, upon application by the packer or by any organization formed under the authority of (c) or (d) of this regulation, and with the approval of the Food and Drug Administration, any inspection period may be divided between one continuous subperiod in the fall season and one continuous subperiod in the spring season.

(f) The initial inspection period shall be for six months. In order to allow for the preparation of necessary facilities and the employment of competent personnel to maintain an adequate and efficient inspection service all initial inspection periods shall begin not later than September 15 of any year. All inspection periods or extensions of such periods shall terminate not later than June 30 of each year.

Inspection fees

13. (a) The packer shall pay to the Treasurer of the United States a fee of five cents for each case of canned shrimp packed by him during the initial inspection period; but in no case shall the payment be less than $100 for each month of such period.

(b) An initial payment of $300 shall accompany the application for inspection, or renewal thereof, as provided by regulation 1. A second payment of $300 shall be made immediately after packing 5,000 cases, but in no event later than two months after the date specified in the application for the beginning of inspection: Provided, That if the Department of Agriculture is not prepared to begin inspection until after the date specified in the application, the second payment of $300 shall be made not later than two months after the date on which inspection is begun.

(c) When any packer desires extension of the inspection period in any establishment beyond six months, but in no case beyond June 30 of any year, he shall apply therefor on a form provided by the Food and Drug Administration. The packer shall pay to the Treasurer of the United States a fee of five cents for each case of canned shrimp packed by him during the extended inspection period; but in no case shall the payment be less than $100 for each month's extension desired. Application for an extended inspection period shall be accompanied by a payment to the Treasurer of the United States of $100 for each month's extension desired: except that when such extension is for a period of three or more months, payment of one-half the prescribed fee may accompany the application; payment of the second half shall then be made immediately after packing 2,000 cases, but in no event later than one month after the date specified in the application for the beginning of such extension: Provided, That any excess fees paid under (d) of this regulation remaining to the credit of the packer at the time an extended inspection period is approved may be applied, upon a written request by the packer, to the payments required for extension: Provided further, That if because of curtailed production, or for other cause, the fees prescribed in this paragraph, together with the fees collected under (a) of this regulation and any available sum appropriated by Congress toward the expense of this service, are not sufficient to defray the costs of the inspection service during the extended inspection period, the Department of Agriculture, after due notice to the packer, may require such increase as may be deemed necessary in the minimum monthly fee and the fee for each case of canned shrimp packed during the extension period.

(d) The packer shall make advance payments of any additional fees required under (a) of this regulation whenever necessary to prevent arrears in payment of such fees. Each such payment shall be not less than $250 unless the Food and Drug Administration on an estimate of probable output authorizes payment in other amount. The Treasurer of the United States will refund to the packer, after termination of the inspection period, any excess payment so made.

(e) If unlabeled canned shrimp is stored and expense is thereafter incurred in the final inspection of such shrimp for the purpose of issuing a certificate or export permit thereon, the packer shall pay to the Treasurer of the United States a fee to cover all expenses for salary, travel, or subsistence, incurred in such inspection, in accordance with the regulations of the Department of Agriculture.

(f) All payments required by these regulations shall be by New York draft, certified check, or cashier's check, drawn to "Treasurer, United States." All such drafts or checks, except for the fees required by regulation 1, shall be delivered to the inspector for transmission to the Treasurer of the United States.

(g) For the purposes of this regulation a case of canned shrimp shall be 48 No. 1 cans (211 x 400), or the equivalent thereof.

Suspension and Termination of Inspection

14. (a) The Food and Drug Administration may suspend and the Secretary of Agriculture may withdraw inspection in any establishment (1) upon failure of the packer to comply with any provision of these regulations, or (2) upon the dissemination by the packer or his agent of any representation which is false or misleading in any particular regarding canned shrimp packed under the inspection service provided by these regulations.

(b) When inspection is suspended or withdrawn in any establishment under authority of (a) of this regulation, the Treasurer of the United States will not refund any balance of advance fees paid for such establishment, nor will the Department of Agriculture, in case of suspension of inspection, lengthen the inspection period to compensate for time lost while the suspension is enforced.

(c) The packer, on or after June 30 of any year, but before the resumption of packing thereafter, may terminate inspection under these regulations by giving written notice of such termination to the Secretary of Agriculture.

AMENDMENTS OF ALLOCATIONS OF FUNDS FOR LOANS

JUNE 8, 1937.

I hereby amend Administrative Order No. 10, dated August 11, 1936, by reducing the allocation of $118,000 for project, Georgia 34 Carroll to read $106,540. This action is being taken because it was found unnecessary to use the entire funds originally allotted.

I hereby amend Administrative Order No. 79, dated April 2, 1937, by rescinding the allocation of $75,000 for project, Iowa 45G Jackson and also amend Administrative Order No. 78, dated March 31, 1937, by rescinding the allocation of $20,000 for project, Iowa 45G Jackson. This action is being taken because it is not possible to execute a loan contract in the remaining period. It is expected that allotment will be made out of next year's appropriation as soon as this appropriation is available.

I hereby amend Administrative Order No. 79, dated April 2, 1937, by rescinding the allocation of $115,000 for project, Pennsylvania 13G Tioga. This action is being taken because it was not found necessary to use this money for a generating plant since the project has found a satisfactory source of power.

United States of America—Before the Securities and Exchange Commission

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 8th day of June, A. D., 1937.

IN THE MATTER OF AN OFFERING SHEET OF A ROYALTY INTEREST IN THE GULF-W. M. JOHNSON TRACT, FILED ON FEBRUARY 17, 1937, BY W. M. JOHNSON, RESPONDENT

ORDER FOR HEARING (UNDER RULE 340 (B)) AND ORDER DESIGNATING TRIAL EXAMINER

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and therefore alleging, that the offering sheet described in the title hereof and filed by the respondent named therein contains an untrue statement of a material fact, or omits to state a material fact which is required to be stated therein (for the omission of which no sufficient reason is given in the offering sheet) and which is necessary to make the statements therein not misleading, to wit:

In that it is believed the tract involved is subject to an oil and gas lease covering 1280 acres of land, the terms of which lease provide, in effect, that all rentals and royalties accruing from said 1280 acres shall be paid to the various owners in proportion to their ownership of the whole of said land, and that no owner of a segregated portion thereof shall be entitled to all of the royalties accruing from developments on such segregated tract; that no disclosure of this provision is made in the offering sheet, and that by its omission the information given is misleading;

It is ordered, pursuant to Rule 340 (b) of the Commission's General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that an opportunity for hearing be given to the said respondent for the purpose of determining the material completeness or accuracy of the said offering sheet in the respects in which it is herein alleged to be misleading, and whether the effectiveness of the filing of the said offering sheet shall be suspended; and

It is further ordered that Charles S. Lobingier, an officer of the Commission be, and hereby is, designated as Trial Examiner to preside at such hearing, to continue or adjourn the said hearing from time to time, to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, consider any amendments to said offering sheet as may be filed prior to the conclusion of the hearing, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law; and

It is further ordered that the taking of testimony in this proceeding commence on the 22nd day of June, 1937, at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon, at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. IN THE MATTER OF AN OFFERING SHEET OF A ROYALTY INTEREST IN THE GENERAL-BABCOCK-GRAVES TRACT, FILED ON JUNE 1, 1937, BY T. S. HOSE, RESPONDENT

TEMPORARY SUSPENSION ORDER (UNDER RULE 340 (A)) AND NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY FOR HEARING

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe and, therefore, alleging that the offering sheet described in the title hereof and filed by the respondent named herein is incomplete or inaccurate in material respects, or includes untrue statements of material facts, or omits to state material facts necessary to make the statements therein contained not misleading, or fails to comply with the requirements of Regulation B of the General Rules and Regulations promulgated by the Commission under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, in the respect or respects, hereinafter enumerated, to wit:

(1) In that Division II, Item 2 (f), requires that the number of lessees of record be stated, whereas the information given in this item pertains to the number of leases of record;

(2) In that the gross production of water from the tract involved is not set forth in Division II, Item 16 (a) (iii), in percentages by months;

(3) In that the gross production of oil and water from the tract involved is not set forth in Division II, Item 16 (a), for the months of March and April, 1937; that the failure to set forth this information constitutes an omission to disclose a material fact required to be stated to make the information contained in the offering sheet not misleading;

(4) In that the legend contained in Exhibit A is incomplete by reason of the fact that the symbol for "abandoned well" is omitted;

(5) In that the estimate of recoverable oil, as given in Division III of the offering sheet, is incomplete and misleading by reason of the fact that it fails to consider the effect of water encroachment on the tract involved because of its structural position;

NOTE.—In explanation of the above, it is pointed out that at the present rate of production of approximately 5000 barrels per month, it would require twelve years to produce the 734,894 barrels estimated as future recoverable. In view of known water conditions in the vicinity of this lease, an estimate of the approximate date when this property will be completely flooded by advancing water should be made.

(6) In that the respondent named herein is in fact a dealer, and as such is not registered as required by Section 15 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended;

It is ordered, pursuant to Rule 340 (a) of the General Rules and Regulations promulgated by the Commission under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that the effectiveness of the filing of said offering sheet be, and hereby is, temporarily suspended pending a final hearing thereon for the purpose of determining whether said offering sheet is incomplete or inaccurate in any material respect, or includes an untrue statement of a material fact, or omits to state any material fact necessary to make the statements therein contained not misleading, or fails to comply with any requirements of Regulation B of such Rules and Regulations in the respect, or respects, hereinbefore enumerated; and

It is further ordered that respondent be, and hereby is, given notice that respondent is entitled to a hearing before the Commission, or an officer or officers of, and designated by, the Commission, for the purpose of determining such matters; that upon receipt of a written request from respondent, the Commission will, for the purpose of determining such matters, set the matter for hearing at a place to be designated by the Commission, within twenty days after receipt of such request; and that notice of the time and place of such hearing will thereupon be promptly given by the Commission.

CUSTOMS REGULATIONS AMENDED

VESSELS—ENROLLMENT AND LICENSE—COASTING TRADE AND FISHERIES

JUNE 3, 1937.

To Collectors of Customs and Others Concerned:

Pursuant to the authority contained in section 161 of the Revised Statutes (U. S. C., title 5, sec. 22), the Customs Regulations of 1931 are amended as follows:

Article 23 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Vessels engaged exclusively in the "cod fishery" should be so licensed. Vessels engaged in taking fish of any other description should be licensed for the "mackerel fishery". Vessels engaged in the whale fishery should be licensed for the "whale fishery". Vessels which engage in both the coasting trade and the fishery (other than the "whale fishery") may be licensed for the "coasting trade and mackerel fishery". Vessels engaged in taking out fishing parties are not fishing vessels and should be licensed for the coasting trade unless they intend to proceed to foreign ports, in which case a certificate of registry is required (art. 22). See article 65 for vessels on the Great Lakes.

Article 65 (a) is amended by the addition of a new second sentence to read as follows:

Vessels so documented operating on the Great Lakes and their connecting and tributary waters may, without change in the form of enrollment and license engage in the taking within such waters of fish of every description.

Article 202 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) The master of a vessel licensed to carry on the fisheries which is about to engage in a fishing voyage, must, if the vessel intends to touch or trade at a foreign port or place, obtain from the collector at the port from which the vessel is to depart, a permit (commerce Form 1379) for such purpose. On return to the United States he must make regular entry, surrender the permit to touch and trade, and in all respects conform to the regulations prescribed for vessels arriving from a foreign port. A permit to touch and trade for the purpose of touching at a foreign port or place may not be issued to a vessel licensed for the "coasting trade and mackerel fishery" which is departing on a voyage to engage exclusively in trade. In such a case, the vessel must secure a certificate of registry and obtain clearance for the foreign port or place.

Insert R. S. 4321 (U. S. C. (1934 ed., supp. II), title 46, sec. 263) as marginal reference opposite articles 23 (b), 65 (a), and 202 (a).

This is a proceeding under the Commodity Exchange Act which was instituted by the Secretary of Agriculture by a complaint on May 13, 1937.

In the complaint it was alleged that Henry J. Order

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to provisions of said act, that the registrations of Henry J. Novotny be, and the same are hereby revoked.

SR—B-101—Amendment 3

1937 AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM—SOUTHERN REGION

BULLETIN 101—AMENDMENT 3

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, Southern Region Bulletin 101, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

I

Section 14, Sugarcane for Sugar, is amended by striking out the period at the end of the first paragraph thereof and inserting in lieu of such period a comma and the following:

provided an acreage of cropland on the farm equal to not less than 30 percent of the 1937 sugarcane base for the farm is devoted to soil-conserving crops in 1937. If the acreage of soil-conserving crops on cropland on the farm in 1937 does not equal or exceed 30 percent of the sugarcane base for the farm, the payment with respect to sugarcane for sugar shall be the percentage of the payment which otherwise would be made with respect to sugarcane for sugar that the acreage of soil-conserving crops on cropland on the farm is of 30 percent of the sugarcane base for the farm.

II

Section 17, Minimum Acreage of Soil-Conserving Crops, is amended by striking out the period at the end thereof and inserting in lieu of such period a comma and the following:

provided, however, that if a sugarcane base is established for the farm in 1937 the acreage on which such deduction is computed shall not exceed that acreage by which the minimum acreage of soil-conserving crops, computed pursuant to this section 17, exceeds 30 percent of the sugarcane base for the farm.

III

Section 32, Soil-Conserving, is hereby amended by adding the following new subsection (h):

(h) For any farm in the State of Florida for which a sugarcane base is established in 1937 one and one-half acres of land which meets the requirements specified below may be substituted in lieu of an acre of soil-conserving crops:

(1) On which the top soil is combustible;
(2) from which no soil-depleting crop is harvested in 1937; and
(3) for which adequate facilities (ditches, pumps, and other necessary equipment) have been maintained (whether constructed or installed in 1937 or earlier) for flooding the land during the 1937 fire hazard season as a protection against the destruction of such top soil by fire.

The facilities required to constitute adequate protection against fire for the purposes of this provision are as follows:

A. An area containing a definite acreage shall be set aside by the producer which meets the requirements set forth in (1), (2), and (3), above. The producer shall furnish the legal description of the land in the area upon which he proposes to carry out the provisions of this subsection (h).

B. Such area shall have constructed thereon lateral ditches, or canals, at least one to every one-half mile, not less than 10 feet in width and in which at all times the water level shall be maintained within 3 feet of the surface of the land. These canals or ditches shall be kept clean of weed growth and free from obstructions in order that they may function properly. The system of lateral canals or ditches shall be connected with main canals of the drainage district in which the property is located. Locks and gates shall be provided to control the water level in the lateral ditches or canals.

C. The banks or dikes on the lateral ditches or canals shall be such as to separate the area upon which fire control is undertaken pursuant to this subsection (h) from other land and thus permit flooding of such area.

D. At all times a sufficient amount of water and sufficient facilities are to be available in order to provide within a period of forty-eight hours at least one inch of water over the whole area or at least three inches of water over any portion of the area between canals or dikes.

E. A fireguard around the area to be controlled shall be provided by disking or plowing a strip not less than 30 feet wide on the outer margin. Such fireguard is to be maintained from the time of the first killing frost until the end of the 1937 fire hazard season.

There may be substituted for such fireguard:

(a) On all or any portion of the area the practice of maintaining the water level within 18 inches of the surface of the soil from the time of the first killing frost until the end of the 1937 fire hazard season; or

(b) portable pumping outfits, one to each 1,000 acres or fraction thereof in the fire control area, such portable pumping outfit to consist of a pump of at least 500 gallons per minute capacity, engine to drive same, and at least 1,500 feet of pressure hose not less than 5 inches in diameter.

F. As a condition of performance in case fire occurs within the protected area in the 1937 fire hazard season, the producer shall submit evidence to the County Committee as to what use was made of the facilities of the kinds prescribed above together with a full report of the circumstances and conditions pertaining to such fire.

If the County Committee finds reasonable precautions have been taken by the producer to keep fire out of the area during the 1937 fire hazard season or in case fire has broken out in the area in such period and reasonably prompt and effective use of such facilities and equipment was made to control and extinguish the fire, it shall approve the producer's application for payment, provided the other conditions of Southern Region Bulletin 101 applicable in such case have been met.

In testimony whereof, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, has hereunto set his hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed in the City of Washington, District of Columbia, this 11th day of June, 1937.

It is therefore ordered, That the order herein made December 23, 1936 to become effective July 1, 1937 in so far as it promulgates Paragraph 4 of Part I of the Appendix to the Report of the Commission, Division 5, which paragraph in substance requires a report by every motor carrier of certain information concerning every driver employed by such carrier to be furnished within 60 days after the effective date of said order and the same kind of information within 20 days of the employment of a new driver, and includes a form entitled, "Driver Identification Form", be, and hereby is, vacated and said paragraph is hereby eliminated from the Motor Carrier Safety Regulations, and

It is further ordered, That in all respects except as in this order provided the Motor Carrier Safety Regulations and the order of December 23, 1936, herein shall remain in full force and effect.

By the Commission, Division 5.

I hereby rescind the allocation of funds ($30,000) for the project, Alabama 9G Clarke Washington, made by Administrative Order No. 86, dated April 14, 1937. IN THE MATTER OF AN OFFERING SHEET OF A ROYALTY INTEREST IN THE CONTINENTAL ET AL-JANSSEN "B" TRACT, FILED ON MAY 20, 1937, BY W. E. COOK, RESPONDENT.

ORDER FOR HEARING (UNDER RULE 340 (B)) AND ORDER DESIGNATING TRIAL EXAMINER

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and therefore alleging, that the offering sheet described in the title hereof and filed by the respondent named therein contains an untrue statement of a material fact, or omits to state a material fact which is required to be stated therein (for the omission of which no sufficient reason is given in the offering sheet) and which is necessary to make the statements therein not misleading, to wit:

In that the information contained in Division II, Item 16 (a) (iii), of the offering sheet, relative to the gross production of water from the tract involved, is not correct and is, therefore, misleading;

It is ordered, pursuant to Rule 340 (b) of the Commission's General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that an opportunity for hearing be given to the said respondent for the purpose of determining the material completeness or accuracy of the said offering sheet in the respects in which it is herein alleged to be misleading, and whether the effectiveness of the filing of the said offering sheet shall be suspended; and

It is further ordered that Charles S. Lobingier, an officer of the Commission be, and hereby is, designated as Trial Examiner to preside at such hearing, to continue or adjourn the said hearing from time to time, to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, consider any amendments to said offering sheet as may be filed prior to the conclusion of the hearing and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law; and

IN THE MATTER OF AN OFFERING SHEET OF A ROYALTY INTEREST IN THE CARTER-MABEE-MAGNOLIA-SMITH TRACT, FILED ON JUNE 4, 1937, BY GENERAL INDUSTRIES CORP., LTD., RESPONDENT

TEMPORARY SUSPENSION ORDER (UNDER RULE 340 (A)) AND NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY FOR HEARING

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe and, therefore, alleging that the offering sheet described in the title hereof and filed by the respondent named herein is incomplete or inaccurate in material respects, or includes untrue statements of material facts, or omits to state material facts necessary to make the statements therein contained not misleading, or fails to comply with the requirements of Regulation B of the General Rules and Regulations promulgated by the Commission under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, in the respect, or respects, hereinafter enumerated, to wit:

(1) In that the information given in Division II, Item 18 (a), concerning the number of wells drilled, does not appear to be correct by reason of the fact that other portions of the offering sheet indicate that there are nineteen oil wells and one gas well on the tract involved; (Note: Although no value is claimed in the offering sheet for gas, the information relative to the gas well should be given in this item.)

(2) In that no statement is made in Division II, Item 18 (i), relative to the gas well located on the tract involved. However, it is believed that to make the information contained in the offering sheet not misleading, an explanation should be given in this Item as to the disposition of all gas produced from such gas well;

(3) In that the figures set forth in Division II, Item 20 (d) for the months of May, June and August, 1936, and February and March, 1937, are not believed to be correct;

(4) In that in Division II, Item 20 (e), the actual net monthly pay-off for the smallest interest offered is required to be given, whereas it appears that the pro rata portion of the taxes to which such interest is subject has not been deducted from the amounts set forth;

(5) In that one of the signature forms required to be included as a part of the offering sheet is omitted;

(6) In that the legend required to be given as a part of Exhibit "A" is incomplete by reason of the fact that the symbol for "abandoned well" is omitted;

(7) In that Exhibit "B" is incomplete by reason of the fact that the proposed instrument of conveyance, attached to the offering sheet as such Exhibit, does not disclose the smallest fractional interest proposed to be conveyed.

It is ordered, pursuant to Rule 340 (a) of the General Rules and Regulations promulgated by the Commission under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that the effectiveness of the filing of said offering sheet be, and hereby is, temporarily suspended pending a final hearing thereon for the purpose of determining whether said offering sheet is incomplete or inaccurate in any material respect, or includes an untrue statement of a material fact, or omits to state any material fact necessary to make the statements therein contained not misleading, or fails to comply with any requirements of Regulation B of such Rules and Regulations in the respect, or respects, hereinbefore enumerated; and

It is further ordered that respondent be, and hereby is, given notice that respondent is entitled to a hearing before the Commission, or an officer or officers of, and designated by, the Commission, for the purpose of determining such matters; that upon receipt of a written request from respondent, the Commission will, for the purpose of determining such matters, set the matter for hearing at a place to be designated by the Commission, within twenty days after receipt of such request; and that notice of the time and place of such hearing will thereupon be promptly given by the Commission.

(1) In that the smallest fractional interest offered, as set forth in Division II, Item 1, of the offering sheet, is not believed to be correct;

(2) In that some of the information contained in Division II, Item 13, may be inaccurate by reason of the fact that it is not believed that the number of producing wells in the Oklahoma City Field is correctly stated, nor is it believed that the statement made relative to the date upon which the discovery well was "plugged back" is correct;

(3) In that one of the signature forms required to be included as a part of the offering sheet is omitted;

48. Competitors present punctually.—Competitors must be present at the firing points punctually at the time or in the order stated on their score cards. In team matches only the first pair need be present at the hour set for firing to begin. No application on the part of a competitor for an alteration of his assignment will be entertained, except that in team matches team captains may change the order of firing of the members of their teams if they so desire.

The squads of competitors will be stationed on the benches in rear of the firing point where each competitor must remain until called by the score keeper or range officer to take his position at the firing point.

49. Competitors in rear of firing points.—No one except the officials of the range, the competitors on the firing points, and scorers and others on duty will be permitted in front of the benches without special permission of the officer in charge, except that in team matches when coaching is permitted a coach may take his place on the line and between the men of the pair firing. He cannot shift his position nor shift the position of the men of the pair firing for the purpose of forming a windshield for the firer. He must confine himself to the normal position of a coach and his activities to those normally expected of a coach. The coach will not assist the firer in any manner in loading his piece.

The team captain and one assistant may be seated in front of the line of benches but not in advance of the line of scorers. The team captain may coach, but only if he withdraws his coach from the line or is himself actually on the line as coach. No expressions must be uttered loud enough to be heard at the firing point.

50. Competitors called in advance.—In slow-fire stages of individual matches the competitor next to fire will be called to the firing point when the competitor firing has five remaining shots to fire. A competitor failing to answer when his name is called and then promptly to take position at the firing point will forfeit his right to fire, provided the time shown on his score card for him to appear has passed. The next competitors present assigned to the target then in order have the option of entering immediately or of waiting until their scheduled time.

51. Time limit.—In individual slow fire, competitors may fire with the deliberation they deem necessary, provided that the time limit allowed for one relay at the particular range is not exceeded.

Competitors will take their places promptly on the firing line. Time will begin when they are ready to fire. However not more than 3 minutes will be allowed for preparation.

In individual slow-fire matches it is impracticable to keep an accurate check on the time allowance used by the firer and the target operator in the pit. In the absence of specific protest to the range officer by the firer prior to the completion of the score, and in ample time to enable the range officer to check the time used by each, it will be assumed that the target is being satisfactorily operated. If protest is made by the firer, the range officer will check the time used by the firer and by the target operator and make such decision and adjustments as in his judgment are warranted. The firer may appeal from the decision of the range officer to the chief range officer, whose decision shall be final, except on written appeal to the executive officer submitted to the statistical officer before 9 p. m. of the day of the occurrence.

The time for a relay begins at the time stated on the original score card. If the time stated on the original and duplicate score cards does not agree, adjustment will be made by the statistical officer and the chief range officer.

52. Time limits. The time limit for slow-fire rifle competitions is one minute per shot at ranges up to and including 600 yards. At ranges over 600 yards the time limit is one and a half minutes per shot.

In rapid fire the time limit at 200 yards is one minute for ten shots, the competitor to be in a standing position when the target starts to appear.

At 300 yards the time limit is one minute ten seconds for ten shots, the competitor to be in a standing position when the target starts to appear.

In team matches a total team time is allotted for each stage. The time is arrived at by adding the total number of shots at each stage, computing the time as indicated above, and adding three minutes for each change of relays.

The time will be taken from the command to "Commence firing" to the firing of the last shot required at each range; no time credit will be carried back from one range to another. When the firing of a stage is to be interrupted by an intermission, the executive officer may decide what portion of the competitors will fire before the intermission and may assign the time proportionately.

53. Extensions of time.—If an accident to the target, difficulty in operating the same, or any other reason over which the competitor or team has no control causes delay, such time credit as the range officer may decide will be allowed and immediately entered on the scoreboard and score card, the effect of which will be to extend the time limit by that amount.

54. Shots fired after expiration of time scored misses.—All shots fired after expiration of the time limit will be recorded as marked, but circles shall be drawn around any such shots, and notation shall be made on the score card of such shots as may be fired after the expiration of the time limit, and such shots shall be considered as having been misses.

55. Loading arms.—No arms shall be loaded except at the firing point, the muzzle of the rifle or pistol being kept in the direction of the target until the arm is either discharged or unloaded. When not at the firing point and in the act of firing, rifles shall be carried at all times with chambers open. When not at the firing point and in the act of firing, pistols will have their magazines withdrawn and the slides pulled back.

56. Drawing targets.—In the national rifle team matches targets will be drawn for each half day's firing or whenever firing has been interrupted and the pits unsealed. This drawing will take place in rear of the center target of the first range in the order of fire for the particular half day, one-half hour before the time set for firing to begin. The team captain or his representative will be present and draw for his team. In all other team matches targets will be assigned by lot in advance by the statistical officer and the assignment announced at the firing point of the first range 15 minutes before the time set for firing to begin. The drawing of targets will not take place nor the assignment of targets announced until after all parties who are to enter the pits have passed out of sight behind the butts.

57. Coaching.—In team matches coaching by any member of the team will be permitted.

58. Gun sling, pads, gloves, positions, etc.—a. The gun sling may be used at all ranges, except 200 yards standing, as an auxiliary to steady the piece, in connection with one arm only. No knot will be tied in the sling and the sling itself will not be added to or modified except that an empty cartridge case or small article that does not mutilate the sling in any way may be used between the keepers for the purpose of adjustment. The use of a hook or small roll on the sleeve of a shooting coat or shirt to keep the sling in place on the arm is prohibited.

b. Pads of moderate size and thickness may be worn on both elbows, on the right or left shoulder, and on the right or left upper arm. Shoulder pads so designed as to aid materially in retaining the rifle butt in the firing position against the shoulder are prohibited. Pads of such size or thickness as to form artificial support are prohibited.

c. No gloves may be worn which in any way form an artificial support.

d. The authorized positions are standing, kneeling, sitting, and prone, and are defined as follows:

(1) Standing.—Erect on both feet. No other portion of the body receiving artificial support.

The gun sling may not be used, and shall be adjusted to what is known as the "parade" position.

The forward hand shall be extended, so that the arm will be entirely free from touching or resting against the body.

Including the sling within the grasp shall be optional.

(2) Kneeling.—Weight of body supported on right knee and foot and left foot, or left knee and foot and right foot; no other part of the body to touch the ground.

Sitting on the side of the foot instead of the heel will be permitted.

The rifle will be supported by both hands and one shoulder only. The point of the elbow supporting the piece will be approximately on or just inside the point of the knee.

The elbow of the hand engaged in operating the trigger must be free from all support.

(3) Sitting.—Weight of the body supported on buttocks and feet. No other portion of the body to touch the ground.

Rifle to be supported by both hands and one shoulder only.

The left hand (or in the case of a left-handed shooter, the right hand) must not rest on leg or knee.

Legs to be apart or crossed at the option of the firer.

(4) Prone.—Body extended on the ground, head toward the target. No portion of the arms below the elbow shall rest on the ground or any artificial support.

e. The method of assuming any position will be optional with the firer.

f. The making or use of elbow holes is prohibited.

59. Field glasses and wind flags.—a. Field glasses, use of.—Competitors may use field glasses or telescopes. They may also use a watch, a micrometer, small individual score book, pencil, and shooting bag.

b. Wind flags.—For purposes of instruction in practice and in the matches, two streamers will be put up over each target pit. The executive officer of the matches is authorized to lower these flags during the Infantry match.

60. Challenges.—If a competitor desires to challenge his shot just fired for alleged incorrect marking, he must pay a fee of one dollar to the range officer.

The range officer will receive the dollar, go to the telephone, call the pit officer on the target and say "Re-mark Target No. —, it is challenged."

The pit officer will call the nearest available pit officer and both will carefully recheck the target and cause it to be remarked. If the competitor's challenge is sustained and it is shown that the marking is incorrect, the money will be returned to him immediately; otherwise it is forfeited. Repeated challenges of the same shot are not permitted.

In no case will the value of a hit be changed after the next shot has been fired except by a message from a pit officer in charge of the target.

Range officers will deliver all challenge money collected to the chief range officer before leaving the range. The chief range officers will deliver all challenge money to the executive officer who in the case of the National Rifle Association matches will deliver it to the National Rifle Association.

If a competitor desires to challenge the correctness of any official bulletin, he must pay one dollar to the chief statistical officer. If the challenge of the competitor is sustained and it is decided that the bulletin in question is incorrect, the money will be returned to him immediately, otherwise, the money paid will be forfeited and will be disposed of as directed by the executive officer.

If for any reason a competitor's target is not re-marked when challenged, his money will be retuned to him immediately and will not be permitted to fire over.

61. Protests.—Protests and objections must not be directly submitted to the executive officer but to the range officers of the firing point concerned. In case a competitor considers the decision of the latter unwarranted by the facts presented, he may appeal to the chief range officer and then to the executive officer, in writing, before 9 p. m. of the day of the occurrence. Appeals from the decisions of the executive officer must be made in writing and forwarded through that officer to the appeals board, which will consist of those members of the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice, not less than 3 in number, who are present at the national matches at the time of the protest. The decisions of this appeals board will be final.

62. Ammunition, unauthorized.—Any competitor having any ammunition in his belt or about his person when he takes his place at the firing stand, other than that authorized, may be immediately debarred

63. Firing, unauthorized.—No firing except at the targets in prescribed competition or practice will be allowed. Any violation of this rule will disqualify the offending competitor for the period of the matches.

64. Piece, unserviceable.—An unserviceable or disabled piece is a rifle or pistol which is pronounced by a range official as unsuitable for match competition.

65. Cartridge, defective.—A defective cartridge is one which bears the mark of the firing pin on the primer and which, when tried under the direction of a range officer in the same rifle, still remains unfired.

TIES

66. Ties in the national individual rifle match will be decided—

a. By the highest score at the longest range.

b. Any competitor—

(1) Who shall fire in a name other than that under which he entered, or who shall fire twice for the same prize, or

(2) Who shall be guilty of any conduct considered by the executive officer to be discreditable, or

(3) Who shall be guilty of falsifying his score or being accessory thereto, or

(4) Who shall offer a bribe of any kind to any employee or other person, or shall, upon the offense being proved to the satisfaction of the executive officer, be disqualified from competing in the matches and shall not be entitled to have any prize won by him at the time of the competition awarded him.

72. Badges and medals awarded by National Board.—Distribution of medals and qualification insignia won in the national rifle and pistol matches for which are awarded the national trophies, medals, and other badges will be made at the office of the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice at the national matches during the time such office is open at Camp Perry, Ohio, and thereafter at that office in Washington, D. C., with which all correspondence concerning such medals and other badges will be conducted. Any person applying for a medal or badge at the office of the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice in either place, before receiving it, must be identified both as to himself and his signature.

73. Strength of Rifle teams.—The strength of authorized rifle teams at National Matches, 1937, is fixed as follows:

74. Pay, allowances, travel, and subsistence.—a. Members of authorized rifle teams as listed in paragraph 6*b* of this bulletin will receive pay, allowances, and travel for the period while attending the national matches. This period will include the time consumed in traveling the shortest usually traveled route from their homes to Camp Perry, Ohio, and return to their homes.

b. The enlisted members of the rifle teams listed in paragraph 6*b* of this bulletin will be entitled to a subsistence allowance of $1.50 per day while traveling from their homes to Camp Perry, Ohio, and return to their homes, and while at the national matches to $1.20 per day for not to exceed 21 days from August 22 to September 11, 1937.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS TO SCORERS AND THEIR DUTIES

75. Scoring.—Scorers at mid and long ranges will be supplied with field glasses.

76. Scorers must confine their language to their strict duties.—They must not enter into disputes with competitors or others. If any question arises, the scorer promptly calls: "Range officer number ------", stating the number of his target.

77. In individual matches as soon as he receives the score cards, the scorer will enter on the scoreboard the names of all competitors in the order of the relays, placing the number of the relay before each name and leaving blank spaces on the scoreboard when there are vacancies in the relays.

78. Team and individual competitions.—a. In team competitions two competitors will occupy a firing point and fire alternately on the target, the competitor on the right firing first. A shot fired out of turn shall be scored a miss. When in his opinion it is necessary, a range officer may require a left-handed firer to be on the left of a pair.

b. In individual competitions 1 competitor may be required to complete his score before the next competitor begins to fire, or 2 competitors may be required to occupy a single firing point and fire alternately, the competitor on the right firing first.

79. In team matches the scorer will enter on the scoreboard the names of the members of the team in the order in which the team captain desires that the competitors fire and will change this order at any time at the request of the team captain.

80. When a competitor is not present when it is his turn to fire, or when his name is called, or when competitors arrive after their relays are due and have been called, the scorer will report the fact to the range officer.

81. When a competitor finishes his string, the scorer places the total on the scoreboard and announces thus "(Title, name); total score, 92." He then enters the total on the score card, signs it, and in individual matches exhibits it to the competitor who will verify and sign the card in the space provided.

82. When a competitor is going to and leaving the firing point, if the chamber of his rifle is closed, the scorer will require him to open the bolt.

83. If a scorer or a competitor desires a target disked, redisked, or reexamined, the scorer must call the range officer.

84. A scorer is not permitted to make any erasures, corrections, or changes on the score card. If a correction is necessary, it must be made and initialed by the range officer who signs the card.

85. Scores on the blackboard must not be erased without orders from a range officer. The scores must be exhibited to public view during the continuation of the match or until the range is closed.

86. The scorer writes upon the scoreboard the value of each hit as soon as he announces it, and then, unless the shot is challenged, he enters it upon the score card.

87. Upon the completion of the scores at any range, score cards should be verified, signed, and collected by the range officers and by them delivered to the range statistical officer at the earliest practicable moment.

88. Care must be taken to enter the slow-fire scores in exactly the order in which the shots were fired because ties are decided by order of the hits.

89. In slow fire, if more than one hit is found on the same target after a competitor has just fired from the firing point assigned to that target, that competitor will receive the highest value, and no record will be made of the other hits.

90. In slow fire the score is announced thus: "(Title, name); first shot for record a 5."

91. In rapid fire the score is announced, for example, thus: "Target number ------ (title, name), 1 five, 2 fives, 3 fives, 4 fives, 5 fives; 1 four, 2 fours, 1 three, 1 two, 1 miss." The score is recorded on the blackboard in the same fashion as in slow fire.

92. When a target is marked the scorer must announce the score in a tone sufficiently loud to be heard by the firer and the bystanders.

The firer may request that the scoreboard be turned so he can verify the correctness of his score as the shots are recorded. No alteration will be made in the recorded score after a succeeding shot has been fired except on notification from the pit.

93. When a competitor has fired and the target has not been pulled, the scorer may call to the telephone, "Mark number ------", but must call the range officer when a message to disk, redisk, reexamine, or any other message is to be telephoned.

94. When the target is improperly operated or in case of a misfire, disabled piece, or any other unusual occurrence, the scorer will promptly report the facts to the range officer.

95. All shots fired count.—All shots fired by the competitor after he has taken his piece at the firing point will be considered in his score, even if his piece is not directed toward the target or is accidentally discharged.

No exception to this rule may be made for any reason except as provided in paragraph 96. A shot fired out of turn shall be scored a miss. A shot fired by a competitor after taking his place upon the firing line and before the order "commence firing" is scored a miss.

96. Target withdrawn while firing.—In slow fire, if the target is withdrawn from the firing position just as the shot is fired, the scorer at that firing point will at once report the fact to the range officer, who, if satisfied upon investigation that the case is as represented, will direct that the shot fired be not considered, that the competitor fire another shot, and that credit be given for time lost.

97. Hits on the wrong target are scored as misses.

98. In rapid fire any unfired cartridges count as misses, except that in case of a defective cartridge or a disabled piece the score is not recorded and another string may be fired.

99. In rapid fire, if a competitor fires less than the prescribed number of shots through his own fault, and there should be more hits marked on his target than he fired shots, he shall be scored the number of shots of highest value equal to the number he fired and a miss for each unfired cartridge.

100. If in rapid fire there are more than the proper number of hits on a target, the score is not recorded and another string is fired, except that if all the hits are of equal value the competitor assigned to that target shall be scored with 10 hits. See paragraph 120.

101. In an individual match when a competitor has made a possible record score in slow fire he will continue to fire until he has made a hit with less than the highest value. Each extra shot will be scored on the board and on the face of the score card, beginning under the first record shot.

102. Use of the telephone.—a. Messages on the telephone must be brief and explicit.

b. "Mark" a target means that the firer at the firing point has fired and the target has not been pulled.

c. "Disk" or "redisk" a target means that the target must be disked or redisked without being pulled. It is not necessary to call the pit officer to the target.

103. During matches no communications will be transmitted to the pit from anyone except range officers or other officers of the match, except that scorers may send messages to mark a target, but not to disk or redisk.

104. Use of the telephone must be confined strictly to necessary business.—No other conversation or information of any kind whatsoever is permitted.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS TO MARKERS AND THEIR DUTIES

105. Pistol fire.—In pistol fire, using pits, in order to prevent the markers from knowing who is firing, the name of the competitor is omitted and the number of his target will be called, thus: "Target number --------, fifth shot a 10."

106. All targets will be operated single-target fashion.—If the same kind of a target is used on the rear carrier as a counterbalance, it will be faced to the rear.

107. A shot hole whose leaded edge comes in contact with the outside of bull's-eye or figure or the rings or lines of a target receives the higher value as if it had struck inside the line.

108. Ricochets.—A hole made by a ricochet bullet does not count as a hit and will be marked and scored as a miss. A bullet that keyholes is not necessarily a ricochet. If there is doubt as to whether a hole is caused by a ricochet bullet, the pit officer must be called.

109. A target is said to be at "half-mast" when the front and rear targets are at the same heights, or if there is a counterbalance instead of a target on the rear carrier when the bull's-eye or figure is opposite the marker's head.

110. The firing line will notify the pits to place the targets at half-mast when not in use, so that the markers will not be required to watch those targets. When targets are at half-mast the marker must remain at his station ready to serve the target immediately.

111. "Secure" a target means that the target is no longer needed for service. The target should be pulled (or placed at half-mast if double targets are on the carriers), the spotters removed, and all shot holes pasted.

112. Use of spotters.—In marking targets, 3-inch and 5-inch spotters will be used except that upon request of a firer a larger spotter may be used for subsequent shots.

113. Marker must watch the target attentively.—When the target is hit the marker pulls it down and removes the spotter from the old shot hole and places it on the new shot hole. If the hit is in or touching the bull's-eye, the white or red side of the spotter is shown. If not a 5, the black side is shown. The hole from which the spotter is removed is pasted, the target raised and disked, placing the center of the disk showing the proper value over the center of the spotter. In lieu of disks, semaphorers may be used.

114. In slow fire if more than one hit is found on a target spotters are placed in each hole. The hit of the highest value is signaled and the pit officer is called, who will cause a report to be telephoned to the firing line.

115. Before a miss is signaled the edge of the bull's eye, the rings, and the numbers are carefully examined by moving the fingers over them, and a pit officer is called to inspect the target. Red flags for signaling misses will not be provided markers, but to pit officers, who will personally signal all misses.

116. No attempt will be made in marking misses to indicate on which side of the target the miss was made, or whether the shot was high or low. The red disk or flag will be moved across the middle of the target in the same manner in every case.

117. Rapid fire.—The target is marked after each string.

118. In matches the target will not be pasted until orders to paste are given, so that the firing line will have an opportunity to challenge the marking.

119. One blast of the whistle or stroke of the gong indicates "stand by"; two blasts or strokes indicate "up" or "down."

120. In case of more than the proper number of hits on a target the fact will be reported to the range officer and telephoned to the firing line and the target will not be marked, unless all hits are of equal value. See paragraph 100.

121. In disking, care must be taken to place the center of the disk accurately over each shot hole. Spotters are not used in rapid fire. Fives are disked first, then fours, then threes, then twos: each miss is signaled, and the target is then withdrawn. Each target is placed at half-mast as soon as it has been pasted.

GRAZING REGULATIONS FOR THE NAVAJO AND HOPI RESERVATIONS

Authority.—The Secretary of the Interior has the authority to regulate the grazing of livestock on tribal lands within Indian reservations so as to prevent overgrazing and the destruction of the soil through erosion. The following statutory authority is cited:

Act of June 30, 1834 (4 Stat., 738); 25 U. S. C. 9.
Act of March 3, 1849 (9 Stat., 395); R. S. Sec. 441; 5 U. S. C. 485.
Act of March 3, 1865 (13 Stat., 563); 25 U. S. C. 192.
Act of July 4, 1884 (Sec. 1) (23 Stat., 94); 25 U. S. C. 195.
Act of August 15, 1894, Sec. 1 (28 Stat., 305); 25 U. S. C. 402.
Act of June 30, 1919 (41 Stat., 9); R. S. Sec. 2138; 25 U. S. C. 214.
Act of February 15, 1929 (45 Stat., 1185); 25 U. S. C. 231.

The General Grazing Regulations approved on December 28, 1935, by the Assistant Secretary of the Interior, authorized the Commissioner of Indian Affairs to regulate the grazing of livestock on Indian lands under conditions set forth therein. In accordance with this authority and that of the Grazing Committee of the Navajo Tribal Council acting in accordance with a resolution of the Navajo Tribal Council dated November 24, 1936, the grazing of livestock on the Navajo and Hopi Reservations shall be governed by the following regulations.

Objectives.—It is the purpose of these regulations to aid the Navajo and Hopi Indians in the achievement of the following objectives:

1. The preservation of the forage, the land, and the water resources on the Navajo and Hopi Indian Reservations, and the building up of those resources where they have deteriorated.
2. The protection of the interests of the Navajo and Hopi Indians from the encroachment of unduly aggressive and anti-social individuals who may or may not be members of the tribe.
3. The adjustment of the livestock numbers to the carrying capacity of the range in such a manner that the total economy of the tribe will be preserved.
4. The improvement of livestock through better breeding practices, the establishment of buck pastures and the maintenance of a sound culling policy.

Regulations.—The following grazing regulations are hereby made effective as of July 1, 1937, for the Navajo and Hopi Indian Reservations, including all land held in trust by the United States for the Navajo and Hopi Tribes, and all lands hereafter added to the Navajo and Hopi Reservations, but not including individually owned lands; provided, that only such part of these regulations shall be enforced on the Hopi Reservation as are not in conflict with provisions of the constitution, by-laws, and charter of the Hopi Tribe heretofore or hereafter ratified or any tribal action authorized thereunder:

1. The Commissioner of Indian Affairs shall establish land management districts within the Navajo and Hopi Indian Reservations, based upon the social and economic requirements of the Indians and the necessity of rehabilitating the grazing lands.
2. The Commissioner of Indian Affairs shall promulgate for each land management district the carrying capacity for livestock.

Instructions.—Carrying capacities shall be stated in terms of sheep units year-long, in the ratio of, mules and horses 1 to 5, cattle 1 to 4, goats 1 to 1. The latter figure in each case denotes sheep units. Animals six months of age or older shall be counted against the carrying capacity. Carrying capacities shall be determined in accordance with the methods now in use by the Navajo Service and approved by the "Inter-Agency Range Survey Committee for the Southwestern States." Grazing surveys and other land management planning concerning land used exclusively by Hopi Indians will be made by the Land Management Division of the Navajo Service. Pursuant to the Constitution of the Hopi Tribe or Section 6 of the Act of June 18, 1934, the direct responsibility for carrying out all land management plans for District Six of the combined Navajo-Hopi Reservations, as indicated on the attached map,[1] shall be that of the Superintendent of the Hopi Indians.

3. The Superintendent shall keep accurate records of ownership of all livestock.

Instructions.—In order to obtain true records of ownership, the head of each livestock-owning family group shall personally appear at the dipping vat with his or her sheep and goats, together with the sheep and goats belonging to members of his or her family group. Should the head of the family group be unable to appear personally he or she shall designate a representative to act for and in his or her behalf. The sheep and goats will be dipped and recorded in the name of the family head, as defined in Section 8. Ownership will be established on the basis of such dipping records and of round-ups, counts, and other methods for determining the true number of livestock Grazing permits will be issued for that number of stock plus the issue of such animals, including those which exceed the six-months age during the year, which the family group will be permitted to graze during the rehabilitation period. Grazing permits issued to family heads owning sheep and goats shall include all classes of livestock. Numbers of cattle, horses, mules, and burros belonging to each family group will be determined by round-ups or other methods of counting stipulated by the Superintendent. For the purpose of maintaining accurate records of ownership, all stock will be branded or marked as the Superintendent may specify. The Superintendent shall prepare and keep current a register containing the names of all family heads using the range, the number of each kind of stock grazed, the carrying capacity of each land management district, and the periods during which grazing should be permitted in each part thereof. An annual stock census will be taken to insure that the carrying capacity is not being exceeded. Duplicate records will be kept in the offices of the District Supervisors.

4. The Superintendent shall reduce the livestock in each district to the carrying capacity of the range.

Instructions.—Necessary reductions will be made by districts. In order to make these reductions, the Superintendent should determine the total stock in each district in sheep units; calculate the total required reduction by subtracting the carrying capacity from this figure; and specify by how much each family group should reduce to accomplish this total reduction. The sale of non-productive, unserviceable and cull animals (including excess horses, scrub cattle, wether sheep and goats, and old ewes) shall be encouraged before reductions are made in breeding herds. For the purpose of effecting the widest and most equitable distribution of stock ownership and range privileges, recognized family groups will be considered as the units of ownership and reductions so far as practicable will be made so as to place the burden on those stock-owning family groups who are best able to bear the burden. To this end maximum limits and base preference numbers will be established for each land management district by the Superintendent. Reductions will be made, so far as possible, among those families having more than the maximum limit. No increases during the rehabilitation period will be permitted to any family group, except that groups owning less than the base preference number may be permitted to increase their holdings after the livestock in the district has been reduced to carrying capacity, provided there is a proportionate decrease by owners of more than the base preference number. During the rehabilitation period, no new stock-owning families or heads of families will be granted grazing permits unless warranted by unusual circumstances. (See Section 8 for definitions of terms used in this section.)

5. The Superintendent is authorized to assess and collect trespass fees and, with the consent of the tribal council of the Navajo Indians, he may also assess and collect grazing fees upon all stock owned in excess of the base preference number and upon all non-productive stock owned below the base preference number. The tribal authorities of the Hopi Indians may also assess and collect similar grazing fees in accordance with the terms of the constitution and by-laws and charter of the Hopi Indians.

Instructions.—Trespass fees which equal the value of the forage consumed, damages to property injured or destroyed, and salaries and expenses of employees incurred in investigation, report, and prosecution of the case should be sought in addition to the penalty prescribed by law for unauthorized use of the range or failure to remove a stipulated number of unpermitted stock from the range by the date specified by the Superintendent or his authorized representative. All grazing fees on the Navajo Reservation must be paid to the District Supervisor or to the Superintendent and deposited in accordance with the fiscal regulations. All grazing fees shall be payable on or before December 1st, which shall be considered as the beginning of the permit year. All grazing fees on the Hopi Reservation shall be collected and deposited in accordance with the provisions of the constitution, by-laws and charter after the organization of the Hopi Indians has been completed. Until the tribal organization has been completed the grazing fees shall be collected and deposited as on the Navajo Reservation.

6. The Superintendent shall require to be dipped, restrict the movement of, or prevent the introduction of, livestock where necessary to prevent the spread of contagious or infectious diseases or where necessary in the economic interest of the Navajo or Hopi Indians.

Instructions.—Livestock shall be dipped annually, when in the opinion of the Superintendent such dipping is necessary to prevent the spread of contagious diseases. These annual dippings shall be completed on or before September 1st of each year. Livestock may, however, be dipped at other times when necessary. No stock shall be brought on the reservations from outside without a permit from the Superintendent, in order to safeguard Indian livestock from infectious and contagious diseases and insure good quality sires and breeding stock. The Superintendent may also hold annual roundups of cattle, horses, and mules in each district for the purpose of vaccinating, dehorning, castrating or branding.

7. The Superintendent shall regulate the fencing of range and agricultural lands.

Instructions.—Written authorization from the Superintendent or his authorized representatives must be secured before any fences are constructed. The Superintendent may require the removal of any unauthorized existing fences, if in his judgment such fences interfere with proper range management or an equitable distribution of range privileges. All inclosures fenced for the purpose of protecting agricultural land shall be kept to a size commensurate with the needs for protection of this agricultural land.

8. The Superintendent shall regulate the construction of all dwellings, corrals and other structures within one-quarter mile of government developed springs or wells.

Instructions.—Written authorization from the Superintendent or his authorized representatives must be secured before any dwellings, corrals, or other structures may be constructed within one-quarter mile of government developed springs or wells.

9. Definitions:

Family Group.—A single home economic unit, living closely associated in one or more grouped hogans or houses, which shares its livestock and agricultural income in common and recognizes one individual as the family head.

Family Head.—The person who exercises control of a family group either because of the responsibility placed on him by blood relationship, moral or economic obligations, or otherwise.

Rehabilitation Period.—That time which is required under proper range use and administration to effect range recovery great enough to make possible a readjustment of livestock numbers to a higher carrying capacity of the range.

Navajo Service.—The integrated activities of the Soil Conservation Service and the Indian Service as they apply to the Navajo and Hopi Reservations under the provisions of the "Unified Navajo Program".

Base Preference.—That number of livestock which each stock-owning family group within a district would own if the carrying capacity of the district range were equally distributed among them.

Maximum Limit.—That number of livestock to which all of the larger family groups in a district would have to reduce their herds in order to eliminate the livestock grazed in excess of the carrying capacity of the district. (See chart on page 1025 for further explanation of the meaning of this term.)

Hopi Reservation.—For the purpose of these regulations District 6, as now established by the Navajo Service, shall constitute the Hopi Reservation until such time as the boundaries thereof are definitely determined in accordance with Article I of the Constitution and By-laws of the Hopi Tribe.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING EDUCATION OF INDIAN CHILDREN UNDER CONTRACTS WITH STATE OR TERRITORIAL GOVERNMENTS IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE PROVISIONS OF THE ACT OF JUNE 4, 1936 (49 STAT. 1458)

MAY 27, 1937.

For convenience, the State or Territory contracting for education of Indian children in accordance with the terms of these regulations will be referred to herein simply as the "State."

1. When in the opinion of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs it is to the advantage of the Indians, he may enter into negotiations with the authorities of any State for education of Indian children residing therein under a contract in accordance with the terms of the act of June 4, 1936, above cited.

2. Education for Indian children in the public elementary schools, public secondary schools, junior or senior colleges, special schools, vocational or trade schools of a State contracting for education of Indian children, shall be provided upon the same terms and under the same conditions as to all other citizens of the State.

3. The State shall secure regular attendance of Indian pupils in public schools in accordance with the law of the State in the same manner and to the same extent as with children of other races in accordance with any regulations promulgated by the Secretary of the Interior under the act of February 15, 1929 (45 Stat. 1185), which provides:

That the Secretary of the Interior shall permit the agents and employees of any state to enter upon Indian tribal lands, reservations, or allotments therein for the purpose of making inspection of health and educational conditions and enforcing sanitation and quarantine regulations or to enforce compulsory school attendance of Indian pupils as provided by the law of the state, under such rules, regulations, and conditions as the Secretary of the Interior may prescribe.

No Indian children shall be debarred from any school by reason of race, personal condition, condition of health, or delinquency, except in accordance with State laws as applied in cases of citizens of any other race.

4. The State shall provide in all schools having Indian pupils adequate standards of educational service, such standards to be not less than the highest maintained by the State in respect to professional preparation of teachers, school equipment and supplies, text and library books, and construction and sanitation of buildings, in accordance with the provisions of the act above cited.

5. The Federal Government retains the right to cooperate through Superintendents, Education Field Agents, and other officials; and schools where Indian children are enrolled shall be open to visits of observation and consultation by duly accredited representatives of the Federal Government. Any designation of state employees or employment of state or Federal employees for specific attention to problems of Indian education must be determined in consultation between the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and the designated representative of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

6. When mutually so agreed and stated in the contract, the Indian Service may provide the services of one or more local representatives to be charged with duties agreed upon and made a part of the contract. Such representatives will be maintained on the Federal payroll, their salaries, or a part thereof, to be deducted from the amount of the contract or to be in addition thereto, as provided in each individual contract.

7. Superintendents of agencies, education field agents, and other Indian Service officers will be instructed to cooperate with the State and its agencies in its program of Indian education.

8. Money paid by the United States under the terms of this contract shall be used and expended only for obligations of the fiscal year covered by the contract except with approval of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. Expenditures shall be in accordance with the provisions of a budget prepared on forms provided by the Indian Service, submitted by State officials, prior to approval of the contract, and approved by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs showing educational needs of the several districts enrolling Indian children, to provide a suitable education program to meet the needs of white and Indian children enrolled. No item of the approved budget shall be increased more than ten per cent (10%) without prior authority of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. Prior to March 1 of each succeeding year, there shall be submitted by the State to the Indian Office a report for the first half of the school year, showing the enumeration of Indian children of school age, and the number of Indian children enrolled in each class of school by counties or other convenient geographic division, or by school districts if practicable, in schools where federal aid is extended. At the close of each fiscal year the State Superintendent of Public Instruction shall submit a report for the entire school year showing the enumeration of Indian children of school age, number of Indian children enrolled in each class of school, as provided for the first half of the year, and also showing the average daily attendance for the year in schools where federal aid is extended. There shall also be submitted a financial report in which all expenditures for the year shall be set forth in comparison to the budget estimates for each of the specific items of the budget. With this report shall be submitted a budget estimate showing the needs for the next ensuing fiscal year. In addition to the statistical report there shall be submitted a narrative report of the general conditions of Indian education.

9. The State may provide educational facilities contemplated by these regulations by appropriate agreements with local school units or by directly establishing, equipping, and maintaining schools independently of existing local school units, whichever in the judgment of the State education officials seems best.

10. Any Indian schools within the State, maintained by the Federal Government, may be exempted from the provisions of the education contract when so provided in the contract.

11. Payment shall be made to the official designated by the State under the terms of the contract to receive payment for the State, in the amount agreed upon. Payment may be made in three or nine equal payments, as provided for by the terms of the individual contract, except as provided by section 12. Payments for the fiscal year shall not aggregate more than the amount of the contract. Where three payments are to be made, they shall be for periods ending approximately November 30, February 28 and May 31. When nine payments are to be made they shall be for periods ending approximately September 30, October 31, November 30, December 31, January 31, February 28, March 31, April 30 and May 31.

12. In areas in which summer activities on behalf of Indian children are conducted, payments may be made during the months of July, August and June upon presentation of vouchers properly certified covering expenses involved, which will include salaries of teachers paid on a twelve (12) months' basis and expenses of administration which continue during the summer.

13. Payments will be made at the end of each specified period in accordance with the provisions of the contract on vouchers, in duplicate, submitted through the State Superintendent of Indian Education or his designated representatives, or through the official designated by the contract, and the original of such voucher must be certified to by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction or his designated representative, evidencing that services have been rendered in accordance with these regulations and the true intent and meaning of the contract. All contracts made under the provisions of these regulations shall be subject to funds being appropriated to meet the amount involved.

14. No Federal property may be used for state school purposes unless covered by a specific permit applied for by the School Board of Directors through the State Department of Education and approved by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

15. When non-expendable government property is turned over to public school authorities under the terms of these regulations, a bond will be required to insure proper care of such property. The bond shall be filed by the person having custody of the property with the responsible local representative of the Indian Service and shall be in such an amount as will properly safeguard the interests of the government. The bond shall run in favor of the United States and shall be furnished at no expense to the Federal Government.

16. The State shall include in its budget for operation of the school suitable amounts for maintenance of Federally owned school buildings which may be made available for its use in reasonable repair, but will not be required to assume the cost of remodeling, rebuilding, or of major improvements thereto not customarily coming within the scope of ordinary repairs, unless otherwise provided for in the contract.

17. The appointment of personnel in schools predominantly Indian and supported in the major amount of their budget by funds provided under this contract, shall be approved by the authorized representatives of the State and Indian Office.

18. By mutual consent of the parties thereto any contract made hereunder may be changed, altered, modified, amended, or abrogated in whole or in part.

19. In accordance with Section 3737 of the Revised Statutes (Section 15, Title 41, U. S. Code) the State shall agree not to transfer any contract made pursuant hereto, or any interest therein; any violation of this provision will automatically terminate all obligations on the part of the government thereunder.

20. No Member of or Delegate to Congress, resident commissioner, officer, agent or other employee of the Government shall be admitted to any share or part in any contract made hereunder or derive any pecuniary benefit therefrom, but this restriction shall not be construed to extend to any such contract made with a corporation or company for its general benefit.

21. All contracts made pursuant hereto amounting to $2,000 or over shall be subject to approval by the Secretary of the Interior.

Alaska Game Commission.

REGULATIONS OF THE ALASKA GAME COMMISSION RELATING TO GUIDES, POISONS, AND RESIDENT TRAPPING LICENSES

By virtue of the authority conferred upon the Alaska Game Commission by the act of January 13, 1925 (43 Stat. 739; U. S. Code, title 48, secs. 192–211; as amended by the act of February 14, 1931, 46 Stat. 1111; U. S. Code, Supp. title 48, secs. 192–207), entitled "An act to establish an Alaska Game Commission to protect game animals, land fur-bearing animals, and birds in Alaska, and for other purposes", the following regulations for the protection of game animals, land fur-bearing animals, and birds in Alaska are made and published, to take effect July 1, 1937:

REGULATION A. EMPLOYMENT OF GUIDES BY NONRESIDENTS HUNTING IN ALASKA

No nonresident of the Territory shall take game animals or black bears or polar bears for sport or for trophies in Alaska unless accompanied by a registered guide duly licensed by the Commission, except that nonresident Federal officials engaged in investigations in Alaska upon securing a special permit from the Commission shall not be required to employ licensed guides when taking game animals, or said black or polar bears: Provided, That no registered guide shall accompany more than one nonresident hunter in the field, except that he may accompany a nonresident man and or wife and/or minor child when such additional persons are duly licensed.

No nonresident shall pursue or disturb a large brown or grizzly bear for the purpose of photographing such animal unless accompanied by a registered guide.

REGULATION B. QUALIFICATIONS OF GUIDES

Only a resident citizen or a resident native Indian or Eskimo who is the holder of a valid registered guide license shall act as guide for a nonresident taking game animals or black or polar bears for sport or for trophies in Alaska. Any person desiring to be registered with the Commission and granted a guide license for guiding nonresident hunters shall file with the Commission an application on a form issued by the Commission, which shall be subscribed and sworn to by the applicant before a person authorized to administer oaths. Such application shall state applicant's citizenship and resident status, his permanent address, and the regions in which he desires to guide nonresident hunters. Each applicant for a registered guide license shall have been a resident of Alaska for 5 years immediately preceding his making application for such license and shall be required to undergo a written and oral examination given by a member of the Commission or by such person as the Commission may designate, to determine his qualifications to guide, and his knowledge of the Alaska game law and regulations.

If, in the opinion of the Commission, an applicant for guide license does not possess sufficient field experience, but meets all other requirements of the regulations, an assistant guide license may be issued to the said applicant limiting his guiding privileges until such time as the Commission is satisfied that he is qualified for a regular guide license.

No registered guide license shall be issued unless the applications therefor shall have been approved by the Alaska Game Commission at a regular or special meeting: Provided, That in cases of emergency the executive officer may, after due investigation and being satisfied of the applicant's qualifications, issue a special guide license upon an application properly completed and accompanied by the required fee, authorizing the licensee to guide certain specified nonresident hunters, who shall be named in the application for such license: Provided further, That the extension of guiding privileges authorized by such licenses or the renewal therefor shall be made only upon compliance with the requirements first above stated.

A registered guide license must bear the signature of the chairman of the Commission and be countersigned by one other member of the Commission. Each license shall expire on June 30 next succeeding its issuance, shall be revocable at the discretion of the Commission, and shall not be transferable.

Each licensed guide shall submit to the Commission immediately upon completion of a hunting trip, a report containing the name and address of each nonresident in each hunting party for which he acted as guide, the period covered by his services rendered each hunting party during the open season, the number and species of animals taken by each nonresident guided by him, the number and species of animals wounded but not secured by each nonresident hunter guided by him, and the numbers and localities of each species of big game animal observed by him and members of the hunting party, and such other information as the Commission may require.

REGULATION C. USE OF POISON

No hunter or trapper, including native Indians or Eskimos, shall have in possession any poison compounds of strychnine, arsenic, phosphorus, antimony, barium, the cyanides, corrosive sublimate, or any other poison capable of being used for killing fur-bearing or game animals. Possession shall include presence of such poisons in camps, cabins, buildings, or boats occupied by hunters, trappers, native Indians, or Eskimos.

REGULATION D. RESIDENT TRAPPING AND/OR HUNTING LICENSES

After July 1, 1937, no resident of Alaska over sixteen years of age, except a native-born Indian, Eskimo, or half-breed, who has not severed his tribal relations by adopting a civilized mode of living or by exercising the right of franchise, shall take or attempt to take land fur-bearing animals in Alaska without first having obtained a resident trapping license.

After July 1, 1937, no resident of Alaska over sixteen years of age, except a native-born Indian, Eskimo, or half-breed, who has not severed his tribal relations by adopting a civilized mode of living or by exercising the right of franchise, shall take or attempt to take animals (other than fur-bearing animals) or birds included in the terms of the Alaska game law, without first having obtained a resident hunting license: Provided, That a person who is the holder of a resident trapping license shall be entitled to the privilege of hunting without a hunting license.

On and after July 1, 1937, all former regulations of the Alaska Game Commission relating to guides, poisons, and resident hunting and trapping licenses shall be and are hereby, revoked.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hands and caused the official seal of the Commission to be affixed in the City of Juneau, Territory of Alaska, this 16th day of March, 1937.

Statement of the Western Union Telegraph Company

A. Special Emergency Stations:

The station proposed herein is to be used to replace existing wire systems in the event that due to emergency conditions wire systems become inoperative. Although used for public service no specific charge will be made for the use of this station, the rates being the normal rates as set forth in the published tariffs of applicant for the various points concerned.

The stations are desired in order to provide more efficient telegraph service during periods of wire prostrations due to floods, hurricanes and other Acts of God. During the recent flood in the Ohio and Mississippi Valley sections wire systems of applicant were inoperative over areas ranging in distance from 15 to 20 miles. This is to be one of several stations, the equipment for which is to be stored at strategic locations and in the event of an emergency this station with others will be set up to supplement prostrated wire systems for the period of emergency.

B. General Experimental Stations:

The station proposed herein is to be used to replace existing wire systems in the event that due to emergency conditions wire systems become inoperative. Although used for public service no specific charge will be made for the use of this station, the rates being the normal rates as set forth in the published tariffs of applicant for the various points concerned.

The stations are desired in order to provide more efficient telegraph service during periods of wire prostrations due to floods, hurricanes and other Acts of God. During the recent flood in the Ohio and Mississippi Valley sections wire systems of applicant were inoperative over areas ranging in distance from 15 to 20 miles. This is to be one of several stations, the equipment for which is to be stored at strategic locations and in the event of an emergency this station with others will be set up to supplement prostrated wire systems for the period of the emergency. An exception is sought under Rule 320 which will permit a general message traffic to be conducted enabling the applicant to obtain information and data in order to determine if the ultra high frequencies will be useful during emergencies.

Nature of Experimentation:

(a) To develop equipment that will supplement wire service during periods of prostration and to develop the application of printer equipment to radio service.

(b) Through the use of experimental frequencies in the ultra high frequency region, applicant expects to develop equipment suited to the needs of an emergency service. The equipment to be designed to be thoroughly portable and readily welded into a wire system in time of stress.

(c) Applicant's Engineers have carried on research and developmental work in connection with cable and wire systems, some of the principles of which it believes are applicable to radio problems. Applicant has had an Electronics Laboratory located at Water Mill, L. I., for a period of over 10 years which laboratory has been devoted to the problem of keeping applicant informed of radio progress and the developments therein that were applicable to cable and wire line problems.

(d) At the Water Mill Laboratory, there is a staff of graduate engineers who have had experience along lines mentioned in (c) above and many of whom personally have had experience in commercial, amateur and reserve forces of the Army and Navy.

20. What carriers now serve these industries, and to what extent.

21. Whether the chief support of the line to be constructed or acquired would come from the general community or from some particular industry or industries, located or to be located. In the latter case, give facts concerning such particular industry or industries and applicant's contractual or financial relation thereto.

22. Whether the proposed new line of railroad would be built primarily for a direct profit from railway operation, or for the advantage of any other industry or business. If for the latter, state what industry or business would be so benefited, what such advantages would be, and the applicant's contractual or financial relation to said industry.

23. If the line to be constructed or acquired is an extension of an existing railroad, or a branch, connecting track, or cutoff, the extent to which it is expected to be directly profitable in itself, and the extent to which it is expected to be justified by its effect on the business of the existing line.

24. If the line of railroad to be constructed, acquired, or operated is to be a connecting link between existing railroads, the kind and volume of traffic, expressed in tons or carloads, that probably would be interchanged, and the economies that would be effected by such interchange.

29. An estimate, in detail, of the character and volume of traffic expected and the gross revenue to be derived therefrom, covering each of the first five years of operation, together with an estimate of the annual gross revenues expected after the first five years. The detailed estimate required for the first five years should show the amount of each class of traffic, the mean length of haul, the rate per unit, and the revenue to be derived, also chief points or territories of origin and destination.

30. The estimated gross revenue, operating expenses, net revenue, and net railway operating income, corresponding with the estimates of traffic under paragraph 29. By "net railway operating income" is meant the excess of the credits over the debits to income, as reflected by the operating revenue, operating expense, railway tax accrual, uncollectible railway revenue, equipment rent, and joint facilities rent accounts.

31. The part of the estimated traffic which will constitute net additional business developed or created by the construction of the proposed new line of railroad, and the part that will be diverted from existing railroads.

Exhibits Required

In the case of applications for authority to construct, there shall be filed with the return to the questionnaire the following exhibits: (copies of return need not contain any exhibits except E and F).
